NEW EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT.

Congress is to be asked by the President to create another executive department. Washington had five cabinet officers—a secretary of state, secretary of the treasury, one of war, a postmaster general and an attorney general. We now have nine executive departments, and if Congress adds a department to take charge of insular affairs the number at the starting of the republic will be doubled.

The proposed minister for the colonies would relieve the war department of the care of the Philippines, the state department of Porto Rico, and the navy department of Guam. What would be the nature of the control in that case of the canal zone does not seem to be determined.

RUSSIA'S POLITICAL UPHEAVAL.

The industrial organizations of Russia, made up of operatives are not "unions" in an American sense of the word, but still they constitute an organization and hence of action. Beyond all things, however, the impulse comes from the men who are consoling against the autocracy. The working men, lend a ready ear to the revolutionary agitators, and the latter hold out promises of all sorts of relief to the oppressed toilers in the factories or on the railroads.

The new constitution and its domain are not at all satisfactory to the socialists and other advocates of popular government. They want manhood suffrage, direct voting and a responsible ministry, and possibly Russia cannot escape bloodshed and violence unless all these are granted.

The Emperor and his clique of court officers seem to be willing to grant the establishment of a cabinet. The premier is to be Count Witte, and Count Witte can be trusted to grant as speedily as possible freedom of meeting and freedom of speech—the right of free thought and political action. This would give the world a new Russia, and the question now is, can a new Russia be ushered in without bloodshed? Count Witte is the man of the hour, and he may be able to pull his country through the difficult crisis.

He recently told a delegation of Russian workmen that freedom is rarely found in this world. He told them it did not exist in America, for the masses are oppressed here by capital which is each year becoming more concentrated and powerful. To some extent this is true, but the eminent statesman should have had the candor to tell his auditors that speech is free in this land, and that the press is sometimes yellow, and that voting is direct and becoming more and more pervasive each year Count Witte should cultivate candor.

RECORD OF CONFEDERATE NAVY.

The operations of the Confederate navy are coming to be considered an honor to the entire nation. Students of the civil war have long assigned the Confederate navy a high place, and the presentation in the annual report of the superintendent of library and war records of the navy department on the work of the Confederate ships will bring the subject before the masses of the people. Superintendent Charles W. Stewart of the navy department, who presents the report, says "the records, which include the construction, equipment and performance of ironclads, cruisers, torpedo boats and torpedo boats, stand as a monument to the energy, skill and daring of Confederate officers and soldiers."

For the first time in history the operations of the Confederate navy will be presented in the forthcoming annual report. The time is fast coming when the entire country will speak with unqualified praise and admiration of the Confederate ships and of their achievements under the most discouraging circumstances. Those ships had as a rule no base—at least no secure base, and yet they were felt throughout the war and throughout the world.

The forthcoming report of Superintendent Stewart will be awaited with interest. It will command attention in all parts of the country. It is believed that it will present the glorious record fully and truthfully.

Sin's Consequences.

Innocent Indulgence Often Brings Trouble. J. H. Hill & Son offers Means of Escape.

The consequences of violating physical law are often as unpleasant as the breaking of a moral rule. The innocent indulgence of over-eating brings consequences that amount to real suffering. Indigestion is not natural; it is not right; it should not be. J. H. Hill & Son offers a means of escape in Mi-o-na tablets that is simple and practical.

These simple tablets are composed of such valuable medicinal agents as Huge Task.

It was a huge task to undertake the cure of such a bad case of kidney disease as that of C. F. Cherokee, but Electric Bitters did it. He writes: "My kidneys were so far gone I could not sit on a chair without a cushion and suffered from dreading backache and depression. In Electric Bitters, however, I found a cure, and by them was restored to perfect health. I recommended this great tonic medicine to all with weak kidneys, and am satisfied it is guaranteed by J. H. Hill & Son druggist, price 50c.

A Warning to Mothers.

Too much care can not be used with small children during the hot weather of the summer months to guard against bowel troubles. As a rule it is only necessary to give the child a few doses of castor oil to correct any disorder of the bowels. Do not use any substitute, but give the old-fashioned castor oil, and see that it is fresh, as some of the substitutes are full of arsenic and gripes. If it does not check the bowels give Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and the disease may be checked in its incipency and all danger avoided. Be certain and this remedy should be procured at once and kept ready for instant use as soon as the first indication of any bowel trouble appears. This is the most successful treatment known and it can be relied upon with absolute confidence even in cases of cholera infantum. For sale by—Higgins Drug Co.
