David B. Hill says he wants to be investigated, but there are already so many on the waiting list that it's a case of first come, first served.

A good many New York society women rent their jewels, and thus pay for the privilege of shining in a false light.

The beef trust is trying to put it all on Mr. Garfield, as if he didn't already have troubles of his own.

Miss Roosevelt's gown is crowding out the political issue, which is pretty stale, anyway.

Some people seem to think that Marshall Field was the last of the honest millionaires.

The spanking of Castro should be alternated with that of the Annapolis mummies.

President Roosevelt is not alone in his determination to do little traveling since passes have been cut off.

It is a good thing that we have millionaires in this country. Poor people vent their spleen on them and are better to each other, it doesn't do the rich any harm to be abused, but it does the disgruntled element a world of good to abuse them.

Col. "Jack" Chinn of Kentucky made a speech the other day in which he denounced the "toting" and we thought all the time that Colonel "Jack" carried at least three "guns."

Secretary Taft has begun to use glasses. He needs them to see how much his weight is decreasing.

Philadelphia, Jan. 22.—The last body of the 18 persons killed last night in the panic in St. Paul's Baptist church (colored) in a crash following an alarm of fire, was identified today and claimed by relatives. Of the 35 injured taken to hospitals all have been discharged but four and they will leave the institutions in a day or two.

Washington, Jan. 22.—A cold wave from the West is crowding yesterday's record breaking warm wave, and by tomorrow, according to weather officials there will be cooling rains on the Atlantic coast and snow or rain in the Ohio valley and the lower lake country.

Nashville, Tenn., Jan. 22.—Parts of Huntsville, Ala., were flooded this morning by a cloud burst. Many houses were inundated, bridges washed away and electric railway traffic stopped. No loss of life is reported.

Greenville, S. C., Jan. 22.—Iron ore was exhibited in the city today, which was found in the mountains about Greenville, and analyses show that it contains not less than 63 per cent. The ore was exhibited by R. E. Johnston, of this city, who has options on the property. He says the iron vein extends across an entire ridge and is 14 miles in length. Mr. Johnston is one of the largest timber-land dealers in this part of the country.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Don't Know It.
How To Find Out.
Fill a bottle of common glass with water and let it stand twenty-four hours. Sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; if it stains your linen it is evidence of kidney trouble; frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

There is comfort in the knowledge as often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp Root, the great kidney remedy, fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in 50c. and $1. sizes. You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful discovery and a book that tells more about it, both sent absolutely free by mail. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

Accidentally Shot.

Oxford, N. C., Jan. 22.—Walter H. Neal, Jr., son of Judge Walter H. Neal, was accidentally shot by Thos. Howell while shooting partridges. The covey had been scattered on the edge of a pine thicket. One dog had been missing for some five minutes and knowing the dog was on a stand Howell started to search for him. He found the dog and thinking Neal in the bottom, flushed the bird and fired at it, the load taking Neal in the left side and face. Fortunately the load was bird shot and the wound is not serious.

NOVEL HILL ITEMS.
Jan. 23, 1906.

The farmers in this community are breaking ground for garden peas and Irish potatoes, and feel very much encouraged over present prices of cotton.

We still continue to have a good school at Novel Hill, conducted by our much esteemed teacher, Miss Pearl Thompson.

Our Sunday School still continues to be in a healthy condition and we are proud of it.

The measles and whooping cough are playing a heavy hand in our community just now, but glad to say all of the sick are improving.

Miss Nan Epps, of Goldsboro, spent Sunday with the Misses Hills.

Rev. Mr. Caraway preached an able sermon at Salem Sunday.

Almost all of our farmers in this section made their supplies for 1906, and now smile complacently.

LADY PARKER'S JEWELS
Detectives Believe Man is a Robber of International Reputation.

London Jan. 22.—That the man who robbed Dady Gilbert Parker, the wealthy American wife of the famous novelist, is an American hotel thief of international reputation is the conclusion of Scotland Yard detectives, and an official of the London police is now on his way to Florida, where a clue of the thief has been found.

Instead, however, to $75,000 worth of jewelry missing, as at the first reported, the value of the stolen property now dwindles to $3,000. It includes a gold handbag and gold purse, both studded with emeralds and diamonds, a gold watch and a gold cigarette.

Mrs. Parker, before her marriage to the English nobleman, was Miss Amy Valentine, a New York heiress and social belle.

196 MEN GO DOWN WITH BATTLESHIP

THE MINISTER OF MARINE, HIS STAFF, AND FOUR REAR-ADMIRALS WERE ALSO DROWN.

Brazilian Turretship Sinks Following Explosion in Magazine—Vessel Was Used for Accommodation of Superannuated Officers.

ONLY ONE OFFICER ESCAPED FROM BEING DROWNED

Rio Janeiro, Brazil, Jan. 22.—The Brazilian turret ship Aquidaban has been sunk at Port Jacarepagua, south of Rio Janeiro, as the result of an explosion on board. It is reported that three hundred of her crew perished and that only one officer was saved.

Four rear-admirals perished on board the Aquidaban which had been used for the accommodation of a number of superannuated officers and men attached to the flotilla escorting the cruiser Barroso. Those on the rear leaped over the prostrate forms of those who fell, and when the rush was over, 181 dead on the first floor and stairs of the building. Death in nearly every case was due to suffocation of trampling.

Baltimore Fire.
Baltimore, Jan. 22.—Fire occurred after midnight this morning in the plant of the Baltimore Chrome Works. Probably one half of the extensive plant, covering about a city block, has been destroyed. The loss will be very heavy, as much stock already for shipment was destroyed. The fire was still burning at 1:30 a. m., but is believed to be under control. It is impossible to estimate the money loss.

ITALIAN IMMIGRANTS.
The National Civic Federation as well as the Chattanooga convention favored the reception of Italian immigrants, and the sole regret is that they are landed in New York instead of New Orleans. It costs about $11 a head to bring them from New York to this district, and about $15 to carry them to New Orleans.

The need of immigration in the south is shown very plainly in the prices recently paid for the county convicts, all of whom are short-term convicts. The Tennessee company takes the Montgomery county convicts at $25.50 a month each, and it is reported that the Colbert county convicts were recently hired out at $29.50 a month. When county convicts command such prices it is plain that there is a serious lack of labor in this district.

Those who object to the reception of immigrants from Italy do not know the Italians well. On a single day of last week they sent home New York money orders aggregating $91,000. A people that remembers the home folks to that extent can not be wholly bad. They are thrifty, sober and industrious. The Christmas cheer they sent back on a single day from a single city is evidence that they are not decadent and worthless, as some would have us believe them to be.

The Italian is well understood in this district. Several thousands of them live here, and the only regret expressed here is that we have not more of them.

The Italian immigrant would be welcomed here, and if Congress would divert the stream from New York to New Orleans the problem quickly be solved. The south needs more white men, and Italy is the best source open to us from which to draw them.

Inflammatory Rheumatism Cured in 3 Days.
Mr. L. Hill of Lebanon, Ind.; "My wife had Inflammatory Rheumatism in every muscle and joint; her suffering was terrible and her body and face were swollen almost beyond recognition; had been in bed for six weeks and had eight physicians, but received no benefit until she tried the Mystic Cure for Rheumatism. It gave immediate relief and she was able to walk about in three days. I am sure it saved her life." Sold by M. E. Robinson & Bro., Druggists.

180 Died in Negro Church.

Philadelphia, Jan. 21.—A wild panic following a loud shriek of "Fire!" brought death to 180 colored persons and injuries to nearly two score of others to-night at St. Paul's Baptist church, on the west side of Eighth street between Poplar street and Girard avenue. The terrible rush to gain the street was of brief duration, and that more were not killed to the fact that the church was not crowded. Not more than 300 persons were on the second floor of the building, which, with the gallery, was capable of accommodating 600 to 700. The fire was a trifling one and was extinguished before the firemen arrived. The smell of smoke added to the panic, and despite the heroic work of the Rev. E. W. Johnson, the pastor of the church, who tried in vain to allay the fears of the frightened worshippers, the terrified people made a desperate rush to leave the church, only to be choked up on the narrow stairway. Those in the rear leaped over the prostrate forms of those who fell, and when the rush was over, 181 dead on the first floor and stairs of the building. Death in nearly every case was due to suffocation of trampling.

FRANCE'S NEXT PRESIDENT.
300 Senators and 589 Deputies of France met at Versailles and elected M. Fallieres, president of the Senate, President of the republic. He goes into office in February, and his term will cover seven long years. In France there is a bit of unwritten law springing up against a second term, but it is conceded that President Loubet could have been elected in spite of it.

The President-elect was supported by the radicals and socialists, and he will tread closely in the footsteps of M. Loubet, outrunning at times perhaps the peasant President. The election of M. Fallieres means that no reaction need be expected in France very soon.

M. Doumer, president of The Chamber of Deputies, stood for conservatism, if not reaction, but he was swept aside by the rising radical tide. He received the support of the more moderate republicans, but all the conservatism left in the republic could not accept of defeat.

M. Fallieres was elected on the first ballot. The attendance of the two houses must have been thinned out, some, because 419 votes were sufficient to elect, whereas is a full national assembly 445 votes would have been necessary.

The President of the French republic has but limited powers alongside an American President, but still his social power is great, and at times he wields no little political influence. He cannot veto a bill, although he may send a bill back to be voted on again. He never, however, exercises that power. The Premier and the rest of the ministers are practically selected by a majority of Parliament. In the recent election the radicals and socialists outvoted the moderate republicans and conservatism, and the glory is that of radicalism, be it much or little.

GUESSES VERSUS STATISTICS.
The estimate of acreage, condition and yield of the cotton crop made by the bureau of statistics of the department of agriculture have been investigated by the Keep commission. The commission finds there is nothing arithmetical in the making of those estimates—that they are in fact reached by "the exercise of judgment," which means that they are simply guesses. And yet 85,000 persons assist in the making of those guesses. The final guessers are, however, but four persons living in Washington, where no cotton is grown. Very likely the four never saw a cotton patch.

The Keep commission has little faith in the work of the 85,000, and it recommends that the entire business be transferred to the census bureau. This is the common sense of the situation. The entire army of individuals and town correspondents should be cut off, for they furnish nothing of value—nothing that is needed even at Washington.

"Not only," said the Keep commission, "should the acreage planted be determined by the census bureau by a process of enumeration, but the ginning statistics of the census should be the only government reports on the yield. By abandoning the early ginning statistics of the census bureau enough money can be saved to enable the census bureau to ascertain the acreage planted."

The Keep commission has simply recommended what all intelligent observers have long been convinced of, namely, that actual statistics gathered by the census bureau are far better than the guesses of the agricultural department, or of any other organization. The guess business is in disfavor, and the Keep commission has simply expressed public sentiment on that subject.
