Christian Scientists' New Edifice.

Dedication of Handsome New Annex to their Church in Boston Yesterday.

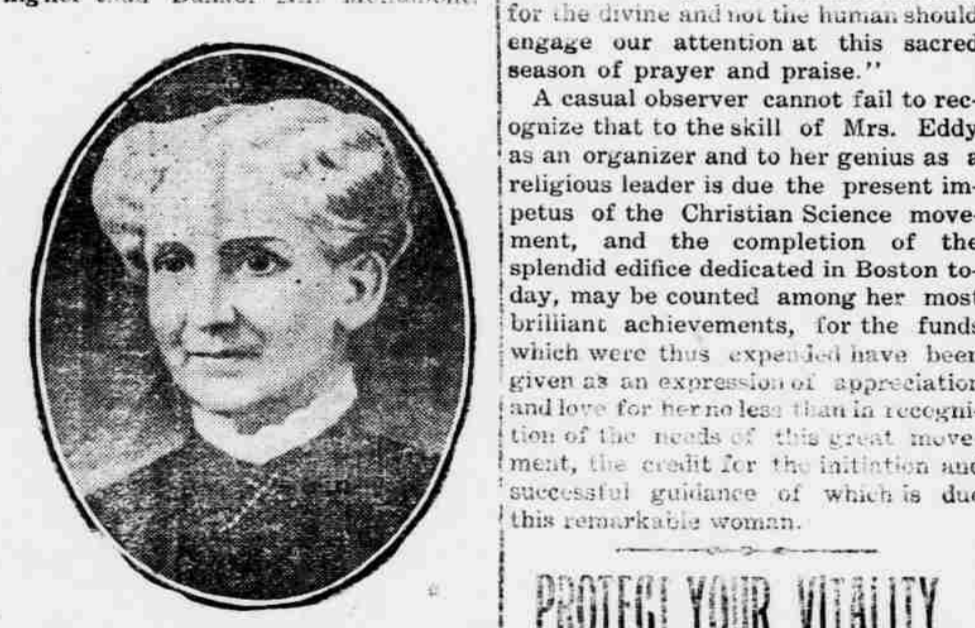

Boston, Mass., June 10th.—The dedication today of a magnificent new addition of the Mother Church of the Christian Science denomination...

Edification I have this to say: I have always believed that Christian Scientists should be law-abiding and actuated by this conviction...

Christian Scientists are particularly careful to deny the allegation that their attitude toward Mrs. Eddy is other than that of grateful and loving recognition...

A casual observer cannot fail to recognize that to the skill of Mrs. Eddy as an organizer and to her genius as a religious leader is due the present impetus of the Christian Science movement...

The dome is 82 feet in diameter and is covered with terra cotta to match the Bedford stone. The building presents a stately, dignified and impressive appearance...

On the other hand, if the stomach gives out, all the vital organs will soon become weakened and diseased. There will be headache, back-aches, pains in the sides and limbs...

roundly applauded. There was a very good representation from all the precincts in the county, and the meeting was harmonious throughout.

No other business appearing the Convention then adjourned.

Mr. F. A. Daniels, Chairman of the County Democratic Executive Committee, then called a meeting of the chairman of the different townships, for the purpose of electing a County Chairman and a Central Executive Committee.

Mr. Daniels stating that he would be able to serve any longer as County Chairman. This decision of Mr. Daniels is greatly regretted, but it is recognized that his reasons are such as to cause his party friends and workers to recognize that they must consider some suitable person to succeed him, and to this end the matter was left open for further conference.

His place will be hard to fill for he has the full confidence of the people of the entire county.

BRYAN GETS NEWS.

HEARS OF RESOLUTIONS FAVORING HIM.

As to the Possibility of His Nomination He Declares it Too Early to Speak of That Question.

Berlin, June 11.—"This is too sudden," said William J. Bryan with a laugh when he was told to-day of the adoption by recent State Democratic conventions of resolutions favoring his nomination for the presidency of the United States, in 1908.

"This is the first announcement of this news to me," Mr. Bryan continued. "I have been of the main caravan route for some time and have been absorbed in what I have been seeing and doing."

Mr. Bryan had been moving so rapidly since he left Vienna on Friday that letters and telegrams for him did not reach him until today.

As to the possibility of his nomination, he had little to say, declaring it is too early to speak of that question, but taking up the subject of the political requirements of the day he said:

"Before leaving home I tried to distinguish between Democracy and what can properly be called Socialism. Democracy recognizes competition as legitimate and tries to protect the competitive principle from attack. Socialism sees competition as an evil to be eliminated by public ownership and operation of all means of production and distribution.

While this distinction between Democracy and Socialism should not be overlooked, the Democratic platform must be one of progress and not merely of opposition to Republican policies or Socialistic ideas.

In our fight for the absolute elimination of private monopolies and for the regulation of corporations in general it is necessary that the party shall be free from any suspicion of alliance with the corporate interests that have been dominating American politics.

To this end campaign contributions must be limited to those who have the public interests at advance. I trust that public sentiment will require all parties to keep their books open so that hereafter no party will be under private obligations to shield corporate offenders."

Referring to conditions in the meat cases, Mr. Bryan said: "The beef trust is not different in character and methods from other trusts. The inevitable tendency of a private monopoly is to increase the price of a product and to lower its quality.

Why should any one expect anything else from a trust than the lowering of quality when a monopoly is established. Observe, I have used the words private monopoly, not public. In a private monopoly a private interest is set up against the interests of the whole people.

Quite a different principle comes into operation when the interest of all alone is in view."

A Gentleman of Our City Makes Some Pertinent Suggestions.

Mr. Jos. E. Robinson, Editor ARGUS, (Goldsboro, N. C.)

MY DEAR SIR: I have received from Dr. Richard H. Lewis, Secretary of the N. C. Board of Health, three very comprehensive and important pamphlets upon the cause and prevention of Tuberculosis, Typhoid and Malarial Fevers.

These pamphlets are so written that they can be easily understood by all our reading citizens.

Many of our own people are yearly taken off by the above scourges, and in a great many cases, could have been prevented. These pamphlets in question are issued by the State Board of Health for the benefit of our people, and can be secured gratis by dropping a postal card to Dr. R. H. Lewis, Raleigh, N. C., and requesting that same be mailed them.

It is absolutely necessary at this season of the year to properly care for premises and person, to prevent Typhoid fever. I therefore trust that all of our citizens will avail themselves of this opportunity to properly inform themselves on this very important subject. The reason for the spread of Tuberculosis, commonly known as consumption, and Typhoid fever, is ignorance of the cause and the best method of preventing it. The purpose of the State Board of Health is to dispel this ignorance by sending out these pamphlets. We have the "Best Town in the State" so let us also have the cleanest and healthiest.

ADDICKS IS BEATEN.

Delaware Sends Dupont to the Senate.

Dover, Del., June 11.—Col. Henry A. Dupont, of Wilmington, tonight defeated J. Edward Addicks in the contest for the vacant seat from Delaware in the United States Senate.

Mr. Dupont was selected to fill the vacancy by a caucus of the Republican members of the legislature which was in session several hours. The action of the caucus ends a contest that has continued for eleven years during which time Addicks was the candidate of the Union Republicans for United States Senator. The legislature will meet tomorrow in special session and each house will take a separate vote for United States Senator and the two houses will meet jointly on Wednesday to verify the vote.

There was a full attendance of members of both wings of the Republicans at the caucus tonight. There was a long discussion and when the vote was finally taken it stood: Dupont, 20; Addicks, 10; H. H. Ward, 1. Following the announcement of the vote Senator Connor, an Addicks supporter, made a motion that Dupont's re-election be made unanimous which was adopted.

The Democratic members of the legislature have criticized Governor Lea for calling an extra session of the legislature to elect a senator and they have declared they will take no part in the voting.

The North Carolina Ham. Raleigh Times.

"The North Carolina ham will now assume its old-time dignity," remarks The Wilmington Star. "No Chicago in that." And there isn't any finer ham, well cured, well seasoned and well cooked, than the North Carolina ham. The North Carolina ham, with a little brown gravy makes an ill man strong and hungry. It stands in the front rank with the North Carolina shad and the North Carolina possum and the North Carolina corn. They are distinctively Tar Heel products. The man who has a home of his own and who stands in with his wife is not deserving of pity if he fails to secure that which his system desires, and the rest of us must be satisfied with the neck of the ox which is served by the people who permit us to pay them a monthly stipend that we may save ourselves from starvation. When the hog is executed in the winter time there is a housewife near by to scold no such conditions prevail as in the stockyards. There is no demand for a Reynolds or a Neill. The rich, red meat is neatly trimmed and salted and then sent away to the smoke-house and the ashes. By and by it turns up on the table and hungry man carves it and chortles in his glee.
