Items of Interest in and Around the City.

Miss Nannie Dall, a popular young saleslady in the store of D. W. Cobb & Co., is confined to her home with fever, her young friends will regret to learn.

The bottom has dropped out of the bean market, and as a result some of our local buyers have lost very heavy sums in the last few days on car load shipments.

The little 18 months old son of Mr. E. W. Harris, was badly burned about the face yesterday morning with carbolic acid, which the little fellow secured from a closet.

We see from the Greene county papers that Capt. Swift Galloway is a candidate for the house of representatives. The people of Greene will make no mistake in electing him.

A handsome lot of pressed brick, to be used in the front of the Odd Fellows building, has just arrived. The committee desires us to state, for the benefit of questioners, that they were made in Washington, D. C.

Our tax listsers say they did not know there were so many poor people in Goldsboro. From the number that are listing taxes it would seem that the County Commissioners will have to take steps to enlarge the county home.

There will be a temperance meeting of Woodland C. E. Society, at Woodland, Sunday, June 17th, at 3 o'clock. Rev. W. P. Constable, of St. John church, will deliver an address. Everybody cordially invited.

Our young friend and townsman, Mr. Doyle B. Privett with this issue becomes an annual advertiser in the Argus. He shows fine business sagacity at this juncture of his career, which we hope may prove long and eminently successful.

Fussell Bros. the well known excursion managers, of R. Hill, N. C., will run their first excursion of the season, from Mt. Olive to Wilmington, Tuesday, June 28th. Round trip fare $1.00. Train will leave Mt. Olive on the morning of the 28th, at 7:30 o'clock.

The white man J. B. Faulkner, who was bound over to court yesterday morning for stealing, was subsequently given bond for his appearance, was delivered up to the authorities this morning by his bondsman, Dr. W. S. Walker, and was placed behind the bars.

The regular annual meeting of the North Carolina State Board of Dental Examiners for the examining of applicants will be held in High Point, June 18, 19 and 20. The thirty-second annual meeting of the North Carolina Dental Society will be held in High Point, June 20 to 23.

The remains of Mrs. M. Pearson, who was thrown from a buggy in Kinston Friday, as reported in Saturday's ARGUS, and who died in consequence, were brought to this city yesterday, accompanied by her husband, and interred in the Hebrew section of Willow Dale Cemetery, Rabbi Meyerberg officiating.

Rev. J. Waldo Woody, a Friends' minister, will hold services at the Holiness church under the auspices of Centre Quarterly meeting of the Society of Friends, at 11 a. m. and p. m. each Sunday for the next two months, the friends having rented the church for that length of time. The Friends of this quarter and the public generally are cordially invited.

In Mr. C. F. Herring's timely article in yesterday afternoon's ARGUS, in reference to a new court house, where it is stated that "a cent per hundred on $7,586,494" should have read, "11 cent per hundred on $9,314,908, and where it is stated that "the interest on the bonds would be $120,000," should have been "$1,200,000."

Albert Grandy, colored, who was brought here Saturday night from Kinston and placed in jail, had $7000 taken from him by another prisoner Sunday night. He reported the matter to Sheriff Stevens, who had officers Joe Warrick and Henry Grady institute a search for the stolen money. After a search of about an hour when they were about to give up in despair, Mr. Grady found the money a five-dollar bill and two silver dollars in the heading of a cot.

Mr. J. M. Wood, who besides being a good farmer and all round good fellow is one of the most delicately thoughtful and generously considerate of men. In appreciation of their always cheerful and efficient service he treated the young ladies of the telephone exchange to some luscious ripe peaches to-day, from his own orchard—and the first of the season. The ARGUS is the abiding friend of the young ladies of the telephone exchange and we are glad they are so deservingly appreciated by Mr. Wood and were so generously remembered by him.

An interesting and singular "blind tiger" case was tried before the Mayor this morning. It seems that J. B. Faulkner had been playing the part of detective, assisting officer Faughan in establishing a case against a colored woman, by the name of Frances McCoy. When the case came up for trial Frances not only established her innocence and was discharged, but proved conclusively that Faulkner had himself been rebelling whiskey, in the Little Washington section, by the drink from a jug, and a warrant was issued against him, and he was tried and bound over to court in a one hundred dollar bond.

A white man by the name of William Warrick, created quite a commotion over in Edmondsonton yesterday afternoon, and as a result of his misadventure, the whole neighborhood was thrown into an intense state of excitement. Warrick, who was drinking, started out by whipping his wife and mother-in-law, cursed out several neighbors, and in fact wanted to whip everybody with whom he came in contact, and when remonstrated with, secured a reputation for not getting tired, but his wife's brother, and would have done so but for the timely interference of a friend. He then tried to shoot another man, who took the gun away from him and ran with it, with Warrick in hot pursuit. Seeing he was about to be overtaken he made the gun succeed in breaking it and taking out the shells then he threw it down. Warrick picked it up and leveling on him tried to shoot, but of course the gun snapped. During the melee, Warrick was struck over the head with a stick and several times in the face, and when, after he had been notified by phone, he arrived on the scene, he was still raving and was covered with blood which had run over his face, head and shirt bosom, and he was a frightful sight to behold. He was given a hearing this morning and bound over to court in a $200 bond, which he could not give and was locked up.

Mr. Doyle Burket Privett has opened up a Wholesale and Retail Grocery business, in the store formerly occupied by the W. H. Winsted Insurance Company, where he will keep at all times a complete line of groceries, haggard and fresh, and he is prepared to meet competition in everything carried in stock. The store has recently been overhauled and repainted both inside and out, and is now an attractive appearance. Mr. Privett opened up for business Tuesday morning, and he and his able corps of clerks are now busy unpacking and displaying goods. We hope for that a liberal share of public patronage, and wish him the same successful business career as was enjoyed by his father, the late Mr. B. M. Privett.

The sudden death of Mrs. J. M. Adkins, widow of Section 10, in this city, occurred at her home on the corner of William and B streets, on Sunday morning, June 17th, at 11 o'clock. She had just finished a fine dinner, when she complained of a sick headache, and she fell across the foot of the bed and one of the children rushed out and summoned several neighbors, who hastened to her side, just in time to see her breathe her last. Mrs. Adkins was 32 years of age, and leaves behind a devoted and hearty-behind her husband, five small children, the oldest 10 and the youngest two years of age. The remains will be taken to Kinston, their old home, to-morrow morning for interment.

An alarm of fire was turned in this morning about 4:30 o'clock, which was promptly responded to by the fire department. Upon investigation the fire was found to be in South George street, in the Little Washington section, and was under full headway when the firemen arrived. The cause of the fire was under investigation, but it is thought that they were powerless to save the building, a two-story structure, which was entirely consumed, leaving nothing but the hull. An adjoining home belonging to a colored man, also caught on fire, and the firemen did some heroic work in saving this as well as other adjacent property. The building burned belonged to a colored woman by the name of Matilda, whose home is in Fayetteville, and her loss is estimated at about $50, but no insurance.

The negro fugitive, Paul Johnson, who murdered Henry Miller, in the Little Washington section last Monday night, and who up to this time has successfully evaded arrest, was seen by several parties, in the north-west part of the city yesterday afternoon, near Mr. J. M. Grantham's late residence. He had on a clean white shirt, with his coat on his arm, and was walking leisurely along. He was going in the direction of the city fair grounds, where he is thought to be camping, and was soon out of sight. Officers were at once notified and a posse of armed citizens joined them and a general search was instituted. An old negro housewife, by the name of the Widow Davis' farm, where he is said to have been keeping himself, was surrounded by the posse, and enter d, but he was not there. They then searched the country around but failed to find him. Returning from the chase none the better, Johnson, so it is reported, says there is a colored woman about town that he proposes to kill and then he is going to leave these parts. His coming into town yesterday afternoon was a bold and defiant act.

AGAINST THE SOUTH.

A Per Capita Tax That Means Hostility to the Development of this Section.

The pending immigration bill in Congress is sectional, because it is an assault upon the growth and development of the south. The cities and sections and interests that are gorged with immigrants propose to suit themselves regardless of the south, which sorely needs white labor, and particularly white farmers.

Just when the south is in a way to get what it wants a proposition is made to exclude immigrants by applying at the ports an educational qualification and a headship tax of five dollars. Both are blows aimed at the south.

The educational test will keep out many Italians and other south-of-Europe immigrants and it is particularly unwelcome. They desire to come here in order to better their condition, and just as soon as they can do that they will give their children educational advantages.

The long and short of the matter is, the congested north proposes to rob the south of the opportunities it has had to the full limit of its capacity. The entire southern vote should be lined up against the bill. It means that a white south is to be rendered impossible. It means that a five-dollar head tax is more than the development of the cotton industry. It is exclusion, which is unwise. It does not refer to the undesirable at all, for desirable immigrants from the south of Europe often cannot read and write, and many of them cannot pay a five-dollar head tax. When we invite a man to come here to grow up with the country we should not slap a tax of five dollars on him. It was not done while the north needed immigrants, but now when the south needs them it is proposed to a bill that the steps are taken to keep out the south vote is rendered impossible.

ALMOST A CENTENARIAN.

Death of the venerable Dr. H. P. Clingman in This City.

At the lovely home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Hollowell, in this city, last night at 8 o'clock, a quiet but beautiful and impressive wedding was solemnized, in the presence of a fashionable and joyous courtier of the fair bride's immediate relatives and special friends, the contracting parties being Miss Hattie G. Hollowell, who is so universally admired by all who know her, for her beauty of person and sterling worth, and Mr. Howard S. Byers, a popular and prosperous young wholesale merchant of Harrisonburg, Va.

The happy event had been preceded, on the evening previous, by a hospitable reception to the bride party, which was an occasion of social entertainment and enjoyment, leading up to last night's mystic linking together of two souls with but a single thought, two hearts that beat as one.

The spacious north parlor of the home was transformed by loving hands into a bower of beauty for the sacred ceremonial, and here, within an arching avenue of green plants, trailing vines and nodding flowers, and shimmering lights, the officiating minister, Rev. F. W. Farries, of the Presbyterian church, spoke the solemn marriage vows, the bridal couple standing under a flower-bedecked wedding veil, and gracefully and reverently kneeling upon a white cushioned elevation for the prayer and blessing.

The bridal attendants were Miss Nell Hollowell, sister of the bride, Maid of Honor, gowned in white net over green tulle; First Maid, Miss Kathryn Johnson, of Greensboro, with Mr. O. H. Salyman, of Greensboro; Second Maid, Miss Elizabeth Parker, of Newbern, with Mr. Chas. W. Byers, of Fort Defiance, Va.; Miss Mabel Stanley, of this city, preceded the bride, who came in with her Maid of Honor, and the groom came in with his "best man," his brother, Mr. Robert McGuffey Byers, of Beaufort City, Va.

The bride wore a lovely creation of liberty silk over white tulle and carried a large shower bouquet of pearls and diamonds, the gift of the groom, and the bridesmaids were gowned in princess dresses of white silk and carried white carolans and ferns.

The beautiful galaxy of bridal presents attracted the admiration of all the assembly, and embraced substantial and useful articles, consisting of silver and cut glass table service, china, carving and chafing dish outfit, table and toilet linen, etc., attesting to the substantial popularity of the happy young couple among their many friends, near and far.

Immediately after the ceremony the newly wedded and radiantly happy young couple took the north bound train for Richmond; thence to the home of the groom's parents in Fort Defiance, where they will spend their honeymoon, and then go to their own home in Harrisonburg, taking with them the abiding good wishes of hosts of friends for happiness, always, prosperity and length of days.

DOVER'S $7,000 FIRE.

Scarcely a Third of This Amount Was Covered by Insurance.

Kinston, N. C., June 6.—Fuller particulars of the fire which broke out in the upper story of the colored boarding house of Church Cobb, at Dover Monday night, burning seven or eight stores, states that the losses might foot up to about $7,000, the insurance amounting to scarcely a third of that amount. The origin of the fire is still unknown. The flames were confined to the block of buildings in which they were discovered.

The individual losses follow:

W. O. White & Bro., stock $2,000, and the building, which belonged to their mother, $1,000; insurance $1,800.

Cindy Cobb, restaurant, $300.

E. E. Daughtry, no stores, worth about $1,000, and stock valued at $1,200, badly damaged; insurance $300.

W. J. Brothers, store, $250.

Church Cobb, stock and furniture, $300.

Sheriff Lon Taylor, of Trenton, store building $300.

John Best, cold drink store, $50.

R. W. White, rest estate building $250.

G. L. Dillahun, colored restaurant, stock and fixtures, $100.

Statehood Report.

Washington, June 7.—The leader of the minority, Mr. John Sharp Williams, (Miss.) told the House today that the minority had no filibuster during the past few weeks, but had only resorted to the constitutional privilege under the rules to call for the yeas and nays, to refuse unanimous consent and to have a quorum present. But should the Speaker and the controlling element of the House refuse to grant a vote on the separate provisions of the statehood conference report then would come a real filibuster. He did not use these words, but it is what he meant.

"It still appears that we are to be forced to swallow to conference in gross, either to vote against it altogether, without an opportunity being extended to the House to express its opinion on the question then we will resume the policy of demanding that every constitutional requirement shall be complied with before any legislation is carried on by this body."

This remark of Mr. Williams was justly applauded by the Democrats.

Beautiful Home Wedding in This City Last Night.

A NEW COURT HOUSE.

Chairman Herring of the Board of County Commissioners Makes Some Feasible and Pertinent Suggestions.

EDITOR ARGUS.—Several years ago the citizens of the county, and especially the county officers, saw that a larger and better jail was necessary, and the Grand Jury at each term of court, seeing the same necessity, recommended that it be enlarged at once. The Commissioners proceeded to build one of the best, if not the very best prisons in Eastern North Carolina, and by prudent management of the county finances it was built without any extra tax being levied and collected for that purpose.

Now the Grand Jury is, at every court, recommending the enlargement of the Court House square, and the question to consider is how much money should be expended on the Court House building, and how should the money be raised, and will the tax payers approve of such?

In order that we may have an expression of opinion on this subject, I submit the following figures taken from last year's tax list:

Value, real and personal property,	7,586,494
Value rail road property,	1,436,311
Banks,	225,943
Corporate excess,	76,160
Total,	$9,314,908

Number polls last year 5,228.

If you want to spend $500,000 on the Court House grounds, the easiest way to raise the money would be to issue bonds for that amount. The interest on the bonds would be $120,000 per year, and to provide for that and for the sinking fund necessary, would require an extra tax to be levied on the property and polls, and a very simple calculation will show that a 4 1/2 cent per hundred rate on $7,586,494 will raise $1,399,241, and 4 1/2 cents on $9,314,908 will raise $235,366, making an amount of $1,634,607, probably a sufficient amount for the interest on the bonds and for a sinking fund. And we may carry this calculation a little further by way of illustration. If a man lists for taxation $1,000.00 real estate property his tax at the above rate would be increased 15 cents on property and 4 1/2 cents on polls, making his total increased 19 1/2 cents per year, or should you want to spend only $2,000.00 on Court House, then only two-thirds of the above amount would be necessary.

I take it that the present or any succeeding Board of Commissioners will be governed by the wishes of the people in taking up a matter of this kind, and I make the above statements because it will be necessary to spend considerable money in enlarging the vaults for the Clerk's and Register's offices, which are now entirely too small, and so badly crowded that the papers and records cannot be properly cared for, and are being damaged for lack of space and better ventilation.

C. F. HERRING.

FOR CLERK.

Editor ARGUS: I am aware that it is the usual custom, when one announces himself a candidate for office, or reluctantly yields to the importunities of his numerous friends, that his claims of recognition, at the hands of his party, are brought to bear, as though the object in view would be but a fair compensation for past loyalty to principle. But that which stands out prominently, is the unmitigable fitness of the aspirant for the office, and the ease and accuracy with which he will perform the duties thereof. Among the aspirants for clerk, there is a man who will measure up to the requirements of both, past loyalty to his party, and present qualifications for the office, and that man is A. B. Hollowell. He is fully qualified, and coupled with this fact, are those traits which have ever characterized him as a courteous, kind, gentleman, who are required in carrying out an ideal office. He would perform the duties of the office with care, and should he get the nomination, in this honoring him, I am sure the party would not compromise its wisdom in selecting, faithful, efficient, and competent men to discharge the duties of this responsible position.

SICKNESS IN GOLDSBORO.

More Cases of Illness This Spring Than in Former Years.

Physicians and druggists say there are more cases of illness in Goldsboro this Spring than in former years. Perhaps there is not so much serious sickness, but Spring Lung, loss of appetite, headache, sleeplessness, back-ache, weakness and debility, indigestion and other ailments that result from indigestion or in some work-stomach, are more common than they have been for some years past. This has resulted in an unusual demand for Mc-O-Na stock each week at J. H. Hill & Son's. Before they felt that they could recommend this remedy, they tested it rigidly in many cases of heart-burn, indigestion, wind on the stomach, debility, and other troubles that result from a weakened digestion, with the greatest success.

In fact, Mc-O-Na has been so uniformly successful in curing all stomach troubles that J. H. Hill & Son give a signed guarantee with every 50 cent box to refund the money if it does not cure.

Chronicle of a Week's Events in That Thriving Neighborhood.

ARGUS BUREAU
WALTER, N. C.
June 13, 1906.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Carr of your city, were here Sunday visiting relatives.

Mr. Will Yelverton, of Fremont, spent Sunday with his father, Mr. Geo. Yelverton.

Mr. Hugh Edwards is at home from Trinity, where his many friends are greeting him cordially.

Mr. and Mrs. Wright Lynch were in our community one day last week visiting Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Smith.

Miss Alice Yelverton returned to Fremont with her brother Will, where she goes for several days visit.

Mr. David Edgeron and Miss Ophelia Carr and Mr. Geo. Rose and Miss Erna Swinson, attended church at Nahunna Sunday, and were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Mills of Aycock.

Mr. Roland Boston and sister, Miss Lizzie, attended the recital given in your city Friday night by Miss Chas. Sloan's class, of which Master Floyd, little Miss Margaret and Mary Lewis Sasser, children of Mr. and Mrs. D. Sasser, are members, and whose progress in music has been highly satisfactory.

Just about the time our truckers were getting well into a picking, the bottom dropped out of the market, and yesterday they could not give them away. This is the way with trucking, and if we had to depend on it or gamble in futures for a living, the only advantage the trucking has—it can be consumed if prices do not justify shipping, while futures can't.

We have been sick in bed since Sunday, and feel to-day worse than thirty cents, or the trucker who got eleven cents in stamps for 50 baskets of beans. But the general tone is steady, and we anticipate an advance of several points, although the fluctuations are comparatively narrow and irregular, but we trust an upward tendency will soon bring us back to the top.

Mr. Phil Crawford and Mr. Horace Hodges, of Kinston, spent Sunday with Dr. and Mrs. Will Crawford, having made the run in an automobile, in a little over two hours. Mr. Hodges the owner of the machine is a practical mechanic, and thoroughly understands the most intricate parts of his auto, and is a most excellent gentleman. When we learn as much about them as he knows we may change our opinion, but until then we prefer old "Tom" and a buggy.

FAILS TO RESPOND AS WITNESS IN GRAFT TRIAL.

Washington, June 8.—Subpoenas sent to Chicago and to Valparaiso, N. Y., to secure the presence of former First Assistant Postmaster General Perry S. Heath as a witness at the trial of former State Senator George E. Green of New York, and W. D. Lottens, on charges growing out of the sales of postage stamp machines to the government, have been returned without having been served. When the trial was resumed to-day, Herbert J. Truesdell, who was on the stand when court adjourned yesterday, took the stand. He dealt with reference to the prices fixed for the sales of the machines, the first being $150 and second $225, that the first machines were not so well made. Asked as to the contract price paid by the Department of Justice for the machines, he said that he could not say how many were made, but that there were some that were not made.

While Mr. Baker was questioning the witness Mr. Stanchfield, of counsel for the defense, remarked that the witness was here under a written promise of immunity.

Asked by Mr. Baker when Beavers was paid, the witness said there was no specified time, but that when the machines were paid for Beavers got his money.

He testified that on the first lot of 100 machines there was no specified amount that was to be paid to Beavers, but on the second the amount to be paid Beavers was $25 on each machine.

9 Foot Cotton Stalks in Virginia

Among the many strong evidences of the great value of "Cerealite" we cut the following from the "Graphic" the local paper of Franklin, Va. The only other Fertilizer used under the cotton was "Home Fertilizer."

From the Franklin, Va., "Graphic."

Mr. Albert Sidney Johnson, who is not only a good peanut buyer, but an expert farmer, for this latter fact is fully demonstrated by an exhibition of his cotton crop at "The Graphic Office" this week. There were two stalks, one 9 ft. high with 60 bolls, and the other 5 feet 10 inches with 126 bolls, many additional blooms on either stalk. Who can beat this? The fertilizer used was "Cerealite Top-Dressing," one bag, 167 lbs to the acre.
