

LIMIT IN FIENDISH CRIME.

According to reports from Rockwood, Tenn., two men have confessed having attempted to wreck a passenger train on the Southern railway last Tuesday for the purpose of robbing the dead.

While the attempt did not succeed, it appears that the fiends placed dynamite on the track on a trestle one hundred feet high. It is scarcely possible to conceive of a more horrible crime—that of deliberately blowing up a whole passenger train on a high trestle. Had the plot succeeded no doubt most of the passengers would have been instantly killed or seriously injured, and many of them terribly mangled.

It is these two men did plan the work, as stated, they both deserve to be executed, whether or not anybody was killed or injured. There should be no place in this country for any man who would attempt a crime of this sort. He should be put where it will never be possible for him to do so again; this, in the interest of public safety, if nothing else.

Vice-President Fairbanks says he did not say in his speech at Chattanooga that the late General Wheeler told the late President McKinley that he (Wheeler) fought against the United States flag under a mask. That settles it, even if General Wheeler did not need vindication.

Mr. E. H. Harriman is reported to have purchased another railroad. At least he got possession of it, and the former stockholders will probably have to grit their teeth and make the best of the deal.

No doubt a source of humiliation to the respectable citizens of San Francisco is the contemplation of its chief magistrate transacting the municipality's business from behind prison bars.

Then again it appears that Mayor Schmitz, of San Francisco, got at least a part of what was coming to him. Even in a city steeped in corruption, a notorious grater is apt to come to grief sooner or later.

In contemplating war with the United States the Japanese are said to have their eyes on the Philippines. Are the Japs hunting for trouble in bunches?

It is reported that Walter Wellman will be ready to sail for the pole about August 15. Meantime he might get busy on his explanations of why he didn't get there.

Philadelphia is promised filtered water in a few weeks. That city has for years been almost as badly in need of filtered water as of disinfected public morals.

William Dean Howells' statement that it is a crime for poets to accept pay for their poems suggests that a good many chronic bards would make more by accepting pay not to write.

Those Central American countries appear to have formed the habit of going to war almost any day before breakfast to get up an appetite.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. THE CASE THICKENS.

The Rowland's Committed to Jail Without Bail.

Defendants' Attorneys Preparing to Sue Out a Writ of Habeas Corpus, in the Hope of Securing Admission to Bail.

[By special wire to THE ARGUS.]

Raleigh, N. C., June 18.—The Rowlands' lawyers today are preparing to take the case before some Supreme or Superior Court Judge on a writ of Habeas corpus, hoping thereby to secure release from jail of both doctor Rowland and wife, whose commitment last night by the coroner astounded the people here, many of whom expected that both would be released.

The coroner's hearing was entirely ex parte and defendants had no show to introduce evidence, nor even to cross examine the State's witnesses.

There was evidence enough to show probable cause, and that was all the coroner needed to hold the Rowlands, but this may not be strong enough to convict either on trial before a jury.

AGGUS BUREAU WALTER, N. C. June 19 1907.

Miss Pearl Woodard, who has been in Whitakers attending school, returned home Saturday, where her many friends are glad to see her.

Mr. Lawson Neal, who has a position as engineer on the road of the lumber company at Princeton, spent Sunday here with his family.

Mr. Henry Hood, of the Mt. Olive section, spent Saturday night and Sunday in our community on business of special interest.

The slump in prices of beans has caused our truckers to wear longer faces than usual. But our limited experience in trucking has brought us to the conclusion that when one enters the field of trucking he had as well prepare for anything that comes. He may make on a few shipments and then lose more than he ever made by the market going to pieces, when he has the most goods to deliver.

Among the visitors at Ebenezer last Sunday afternoon were Mr. and Mrs. Richard Johnson, of Goldsboro, and Mr. and Mrs. George Johnson, of Macon, Ga., shaking hands with old friends and relatives in their home neighborhood.

Since the weather has gotten to be more spring-like, although it is the good old summer time, all but the weather, the crops are looking better and the farmers seem encouraged and are hard at work just as if they were guaranteed a big crop, and a bigger price. They are the most hopeful class of men in the world, anyway, and mostly optimistic in the full sense of the term.

The Children's Day exercises at Ebenezer last Sunday afternoon were attended by the largest gathering of people seen there in some time. The exercises were highly entertaining, some of the recitations being of a class that would reflect credit on older heads, and more carefully trained minds. The singing was, as usual, very good, and the entire programme was one of interest, calculated to make us feel proud of our community, and stimulate us to still higher and more earnest endeavor in promoting the moral and religious welfare of the hearts of the children, which will insure them both temporal and eternal reward.

Capt. J. E. Peterson and son Henry, of your city, were visitors at Ebenezer Sunday, where the genial Capt. in his usual happy style, addressed the vast throng, after the children's exercises were over, which contributed very much to the enjoyment of the occasion. He is an entertaining speaker, with a heart always in accord with any measure which has for its purpose the betterment of his fellowman, and especially in the advancement of church and Sunday school work. We were glad to have him with us, and feel assured, that his remarks were not only enjoyed by all present, but were good, and soon upon good ground.

Mr. Norman Hood, one of Bill Thompson's neighbors tells it on him, that the hail and continued unfavorable weather had given Bill a pretty bad case of the blues. So much so that he had lost part of his usual jovial and happy disposition. But, on last Friday when the sun shone out, and the weather warmed up, so as to make cotton look a little greasy, in plowing near by, he heard something, and upon investigation found that the gentle rays of the summer sun, so long delayed, had not only had the desired effect upon growing crops, but also had attuned Bill's lips to sweetest song.

Messrs. W. H. Huggins and Geo. Baker, of your city, were out here fishing last Friday, and when they left the river about three miles above here, their horse walked off and left them, and when he found he was out of their reach, he ran away and was not stopped till he reached Oak Glenn. Mr. Herbert Howell headed him off, and strange to say, he had not broken the buggy, though running a cart path a good part of the way and having turned the buggy over in a gully, and dragging it some distance. Herbert says the horse was not hard to stop, in fact, he thinks he was mighty glad somebody stopped him, as he was nearly run down.

There are numerous mocking birds around our humble home, and every day their sweet notes can be heard from the old apple tree; on the corner of the barn; or from the old mimosa, which shades the dust of our sleeping loved ones. And not only in the day time, but also at night, this sweet songster gives forth notes of sweetest melody. One night last week in the extreme "wee sma hours," while a death like stillness hung over sleeping nature, and not a whisper of the slightest zephyr could be heard among the stately oaks, on the old apple tree near the barn, his little throat was attuned to sweetest minstrelsy, and he seemed to join the myriads of twinkling stars, as they looked down on him from their far away pathway in the skies, in proclaiming, "The Hand that Made us is Divine." If such a scene as this, at such an hour, listening to such music from one of nature's sweetest minstrels does not appeal to our inmost soul and cause the chords of our hearts affections to vibrate with responsive melody, and draw us nearer to nature's God, we are indeed unfortunate in not being susceptible to the higher influences which are brought to bear upon our lives to point us to the higher life.

It is a pleasure to his many old friends hereabouts to see back here, on a visit to relatives, Mr. Ben Murphey, older brother of Mr. George Murphey, and who left here some 12 years ago to make his home in Florida, where he is prospering in fruit and truck growing.

The Board of Trustees in session yesterday afternoon decided to locate the new high school building on the corner of Konegway and Walnut streets. The board purchased an entire square of over four acres, which, when beautified, will make one of the most attractive pieces of property in Goldsboro.
