BAR VOTES THANKS.

Lawyers Cheer Judge Parker's Masterly Address.

Special to THE ARGUS.

Hendersonville, N. C., July 12.—"The greatest speech of a great man," was the comment on the remarkable address of Judge Alton B. Parker, the eminent New York jurist before the North Carolina Bar Association today. At the conclusion of the address there was an unusual demonstration, the deafening applause continuing several minutes. Men cried "Parker, Parker," and the ladies waved their handkerchiefs. As Judge Parker rose to respond to the ovation there was another furor of applause and the entire audience rose to its feet.

The following resolution, offered by Hon. E. J. Justice, Speaker of the House of Representatives, was unanimously adopted by a standing vote and cheers filled the large court room from the lusty throats of enthusiastic lawyers, three ringing cheers being given for Judge Parker.

"Resolved, that the sincere thanks of this association be tendered Judge Parker for his lawyer-like and statesman-like and masterly call back to the constitution at this most opportune time for such utterances."

Attempt at Poisoning.

(By special wire to THE ARGUS.)

Raleigh, July 12.—A desperate attempt to poison the family of former Sheriff Jones, of this county, was revealed here today. The family live in the country. Arsenic was secretly placed in the coffee pot at supper time, and for several hours after supper several members of the family were in a dying condition, and are not yet out of danger.

Developments as to the perpetrator of the terrible deed are awaited with widespread interest.

Col. Bryan's Thanks.

(By special wire to THE ARGUS.)

Bartlesville, I. T. July 12.—William McKinley, the Pullman porter who, with Grover Cleveland, another porter, recovered Hon. William Jennings Bryan's lost night shirt, recently, and delivered it to Conductor Jeff Davis, today received the following letter from Col. Bryan. "I thank you for recovery of my underclothing, and I have noted with interest the peculiar combination of names of parties concerned. Please present my thanks to Mr. Jeff Davis."

LUNCHEON WITH ROOSEVELT.

This Looks Like There Is No War Cloud Lowering.

Special to THE ARGUS.

New York, July 12.—Japanese Ambassador Aoki, Admiral Yamamoto, Commander Kato and the entire party of Japanese officials and attaches, who are on a tour of sight seeing, were visitors at Oyster Bay to-day and lunched with the President, at his summer home.

It was purely a social visit, and was so regarded by all parties, hence there was no discussion of the idle rumors of the sensation-loving element as to war or any other public questions.

MARYLAND IN LINE.

Unwritten Law Recognized as Justifiable by Jury in That State.

Special to THE ARGUS.

Laplatte, Md., July 12.—Mrs. May Bowie and her son Henry were today acquitted of killing Hubert Posey, who had seduced the daughter of Mrs. Bowie under promise of marriage.

The "unwritten law" was the sole plea of the defendants, but the jury recognized it as justifiable and promptly rendered their verdict accordingly.

PROHIBITION MARCHING ON.

A State Bill For Georgia Passed The Senate To-day.

Special to THE ARGUS.

Atlanta, July 13.—The proposed State prohibition bill, that had been reported favorably from committee, passed the Senate today by the overwhelming vote of 33 to 7.

ROWLANDS INDICTED.

True Bill For Murder Returned By Grand Jury.

(Special wire to THE ARGUS.)

Raleigh, July 11.—At almost exactly five o'clock yesterday afternoon the grand jury filed into the Wake county Superior Court and handed to Judge Long several indictments among which was one charging D. S. Rowland and his wife, Lillie M. Rowland, with the murder of C. R. Strange, the former husband of the female defendant.

Although there were no formalities connected with the bringing of the bill and the result was one that was expected even by the most partisan of Dr. Rowland's friends, the incident caught and held the close attention of the bar as well as of the large crowd present.

Neither of the defendants were in court and the brother and brother-in-law of Dr. Rowland, who were present, neither gave any sign of emotion.

The defendants will probably be arraigned to answer the bill at this afternoon's session, since by an agreement reached between counsel for the Rowlands and the State later in the afternoon, Judge Long will be asked to pass on certain exceptions of the State to depositions taken for the defense in Memphis and Portsmouth before this is done.

In contending that an agreement to this effect be signed the attorneys for the defendants stated that their reason was that, if the depositions should for any reason be thrown out, they would resist a trial at this time; but that, if they were admitted in their material portions, they should desire a trial to be had.

The matter of the depositions will, therefore, be heard by Judge Long at chambers probably today. Dr. Rowland and his wife will then be arraigned and the question of whether this term of court will see the trial of the sensational case will doubtless depend upon the decision as to the admissibility of the depositions.

There are two principal depositions, one from Dr. E. E. Haynes, a reputable physician of Memphis, Strange's old home, who certifies that he prescribed for Strange in the spring of 1906 for "mitral insufficiency," a disease of the heart that usually causes sudden death.

The other deposition is that of a druggist in Portsmouth, who testifies that he frequently filled for Strange the prescription of Dr. Haynes, of digitalis, a heart stimulant, and that Strange told him he suffered from heart disease.

Dr. Rowland, who attended Strange in his sudden fatal illness certified the cause of death as "heart disease," when the burial grant was asked for.

If the depositions are admitted by Judge Long the trial will be set for next week; and if they are ruled out, doubtless an appeal will be taken, and certainly a continuance asked for.

BIG LEGAL BATTLE.

It Is Foreshadowed in the R. R. Rate Question Between State and Federal Courts.

(Special Wire to THE ARGUS)

Raleigh, July 13.—It is considered quite certain that the Wake grand jury this evening will return indictments against the ticket sellers of the Southern railway here for charging more than the 2-4 cent fare, established by the last legislature.

The Seaboard is charging the new rate and is not, therefore, affected.

This action is regarded as of grave moment, for it is the initial step towards an assured big fight between the State and federal courts over the limitations of their respective powers.

Later:—The grand jury have just returned a true bill against the Southern's ticket agent, Green, of this city, for exacting excess of 2-2 cents per mile in selling tickets over that road.

THE DAILY QUESTION.

"Hello, old man. Getting ready to retire from business life, eh?"

"Why, no, I'm not. What makes you say that?"

"I see you've stopped advertising in the newspapers."

And after thinking his reply over for an hour or two, the merchant went around and renewed his advertising contracts.—Philadelphia Bulletin.

ALMOST HUMAN

And An Expert That Is Hard To Beat.

Keeps Tab On Everything But Your Thoughts and Gets Mighty Near to Them.

There has just been placed in commission in the Goldsboro Shoe Store, by Mr. Frank M. Miller, system expert for the National Cash Register Company, of Dayton, Ohio, one of that company's very latest Cash Registers, which for marvelous mechanism and efficiency of detail in keeping accounts and tab on every business transaction of the day is so near to human that the more you study it "the more the wonder grows".

It were tedious, if not impossible to give in detail all the features of this wonderful machine, yet some of its leading characteristics will, we are sure, be of general interest. Here are some of them:

Cash sales of each clerk and total addition of same.

Charge sales of each clerk and total addition of same.

Goods sent out on approval by each clerk and total addition of same.

Goods returned, to whom returned and total addition of same.

Money paid out, what for and by what clerk, and total addition of same.

Number of customers waited on by each clerk and total addition of same.

Shows want list for stock. Shows total credits on ledger and adds the new day's work to it, thus giving at any moment the exact amount owing the firm.

Shows total cash and credit business each day, each week and month.

Shows number of cash and number of credit customers.

Shows number of times change was made for customers during the day and by whom made.

Keeps each clerk's cash and charge sales separate.

The Goldsboro Shoe Company bought this Cash Register in order to not only safeguard their own interests but that of their customers. No person can come in store and have transaction with any clerk or manager but what an absolutely correct record is made of same. It is impossible to make errors in accounts or charges when using this Register, and there can never arise any dispute about the return of goods, any question or seeming error can be traced to almost any hour or date of transaction.

This particular machine was built especially for the Goldsboro Shoe Company—featured, as above, to meet the requirements of this company's busy and varied trade; and so these machines can be constructed to meet the special requirements of any and many-featured business, and when so constructed, it is next to impossible to handle the machine dishonestly or carelessly without being detected. And thus the details of business are kept close tab upon and leaks and losses, that otherwise so surely sap profits, are readily detected, and, of course, the remedy follows.

It really would seem, after a thorough inspection of this marvelous machine, that, in this day and time, no up-to-date business establishment can well do without its assistance.

What They're doing in Kentucky.

Greensboro Record.

This temperance, prohibition business is getting pretty warm when the city of Louisville, Ky., puts on the lid good and strong so that not a drop of the ardent can be had on Sunday, yet this is what happened last Sunday. Governor Beckham is a prohibitionist; on account of some legal tangle all the city officials were ousted some time ago, leaving the governor to fill their places. This he did, then the ordinance relating to selling on the Sabbath was strictly enforced and they do say that for the first time in the history of that great city men were spitting cotton all day long. The greater part of Kentucky is dry, and year by year sees many of the cities following suit. It is even claimed that one of these days Louisville will go dry.

A thing well begun is better than a thing overdone.

TWO CENT FARE IN WISCONSIN

Exciting Scene When Bill Passed Final Reading—Now Before Governor For Signature.

(By special wire to THE ARGUS.)

Madison, Wis., July 12.—Governor Davidson is to-day called upon to sign the 2 cent railway rate bill, which was rushed through the legislature last evening, despite the threats of the Railroad Commission to resign.

The scene at the final vote on the bill was very exciting and beggars description.

At this hour the action of the Governor in regard to the bill has not been given out.

What Prof. Woltz's Home Paper Says of Goldsboro.

The Lenoir Topic, the home paper of Goldsboro's new superintendent of schools, in referring to Prof. Woltz's recent election to this position, says some very graceful and gracious things about our city that we all very sincerely appreciate. We copy its words as follows:

"Prof. A. E. Woltz has been elected superintendent of the Goldsboro graded schools. This is quite an honor, as no higher compliment can be paid to a school superintendent in the State. Among the former superintendents of these schools are Dr. E. A. Alderman, now president of the University, of Virginia, State Superintendent J. Y. Joyner, and J. I. Foust, of the State Normal and Industrial College at Greensboro. The fact that Prof. Woltz has been elected to the superintendency of the Goldsboro graded schools means that he is regarded as one of the best school men in the State."

GREENVILLE THE WINNER.

Raleigh News-Observer.

Greenville has won the location of the East Carolina Teachers' Training School after a long drawn out contest in which eight of the best towns in Eastern North Carolina participated. It was a contest worth winning, and that Greenville was chosen is proof that in Pitt county there is progress and prosperity, and a determination to succeed.

The decision came yesterday afternoon after the State Board of Education held a morning and afternoon session, and the news was heard with delight by Senator J. L. Fleming, ex-Senator F. G. James and County Superintendent of Public Instruction W. H. Ragsdale, who were here in charge of the interests of Greenville and Pitt county, the town having voted $50,000 and the county $50,000 to secure the location of the school. The good news was at once wired to Greenville and other places in Pitt. The representatives of the places which had lost stood defeat gamely, and are not sore over the result.

Richmond Directory.

The Richmond, Virginia, City Directory for 1907 has been placed by the Hill Directory Company, the publishers of it, in the reading room of the Keaton Hotel for the free use of the public. This Directory contains a full list of all the citizens of Richmond in addition to the business department where each line of business is classified so that it can be found easily. The yellow section in the middle of the book contains a concise write up of Richmond. From this information any one interested can secure a good idea of Richmond's wealth, energy, push and enterprise.

Richmond being the gateway to the South and being held in high esteem by all Southerners is rapidly pushing to the point when it will contain 200,000 people. We wish her all the success she deserves.

HABEAS CORPUS.

The Rowlands Are Suing For Freedom From Prison Cell.

[By special wire to THE ARGUS.]

Raleigh, July 13.—Judge Charles M. Cooke is hearing at chambers, in Louisville, this afternoon, the application of Dr. and Mrs. Rowland for release from jail on bond 'till September term of court.

The proceeding are through the writ of habeas corpus.

It is not probable that His Honor's decision will be announced today.

LATER: The writ of Habeas Corpus has been granted the Rowlands and made returnable before Judge Cooke in Raleigh next Friday for a hearing on its merits.

Big Handicap To-day.

Special to THE ARGUS.

New York, July 13.—The Brighton handicap, worth twenty thousand dollars, will be run this afternoon on the track by the sea, weather permitting. Fourteen of the best horses on the turf have entered for this race, and there is great interest in the result.

GIRL BABY'S AWFUL ECZEMA

Sight of Eye Destroyed by Disease—Tried Five Doctors but Grew Worse—In Agony Eight Months—Parents Discouraged, Until They Tried Cuticura Remedies

IN ONE WEEK ALL SORES DISAPPEARED

"Our little girl, one year and a half old, was taken with eczema or that was what the doctor said it was. We called in the family doctor and he gave some tablets and said she would be all right in a few days. The eczema grew worse and we called in doctor No. 2. He said she was teething, as soon as the teeth were through she would be all right. But she still grew worse. Doctor No. 3 said it was eczema. By this time she was nothing but a yellow, greenish sore. Well, he said he could help her, so we let him try it about a week. One morning we discovered a little yellow pimple on one of her eyes. Of course we phoned for doctor No. 3. He came over and looked her over and said that he could not do anything more for her, that we had better take her to some eye specialist, since it was an ulcer. So we went to Oswego to doctor No. 4, and he said the eyesight was gone, but that he could help it. We thought we would try doctor No. 5. Well, that proved the same, only he charged $10 more than doctor No. 4. We were nearly discouraged. I saw one of the Cuticura advertisements in the paper and thought we would try the Cuticura Treatment, so I went and purchased a set of Cuticura Remedies, which cost me $1, and in three days our daughter, who had been sick about eight months, showed great improvement, and in one week all sores had disappeared. Of course it could not restore the eyesight, but if we had used Cuticura in time I am confident that it would have saved the eye. We think there is no remedy so good for any skin trouble or impurity of the blood as Cuticura. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Abbott, R. F. D. No. 9, Fulton, Oswego Co., N. Y., August 17, 1906."

Complete External and Internal Treatment for Every Humor of Infants, Children, and Adults consists of Cuticura Soap (25c) to Cleanse the Skin, Cuticura Ointment (50c) to Heal the Skin, and Cuticura Resolvent (50c) (in the form of Chocolate Coated Pills, 25c per trial of 60) to Purify the Blood, sold throughout the world.
