GIVES UP HER HUSBAND. That He May Marry Another.

Remarkable and Unusual Scene at New York Pier Where Ferdinand P. Earl, Artist and Socialist, Bids Good-bye to His Wife and Little Son, Who Sail for France, Where Mrs. Earl Will Procure Divorce That He May Wed Another Woman Who He Declares is His Affinity--A Righteous Aftermath.

[By special wire to THE ARGUS.]

New York, Sept. 5.—A scene more suggestive of an up-to-date play than of real life was enacted on board the steamer Ryndam yesterday afternoon when Mrs. Ferdinand P. Earl, of Monroe, N. Y., sailed for her native home in France to obtain a divorce in order that her husband, an artist and socialist, may marry another woman whom he declares, he has found his affinity. Mrs. Earl acquiesced in the plan by which she renounced her husband to another woman, it she did not voluntarily enter into the agreement to give him his freedom, and faced a group of reporters and curious persons on the steamer with a smile which gave no hint of any regret on her part in the strange domestic drama in which she is taking the leading role.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl left their home in Monroe together and drove past curious crowds of townspeople to the railroad station. There was a little hissing as Mr. Earl boarded the train, but it is doubtful whether Mr. Earl heard it above the other noises. Mrs. Earl, with her little son, Howard, aged 2 1/2 years, who will share her exile, reached the steamer in advance of Mr. Earl and went at once to her stateroom. Mr. Earl arrived soon afterward and together they appeared on deck to meet the reporters. They posed together for a photograph, both smiling and apparently content with the odd twist that fate has given to their lives. Mrs. Earl declined to make any statement concerning it, but her husband, who seemed highly pleased at the attention he was receiving, said:

"Mrs. Earl is bearing up bravely, under the ordeal. This notoriety is worth five years work to me. We part with a full understanding and Mrs. Earl is as much agreed to it as I am. I believe it is the right thing to do."

Mr. and Mrs. Earl then went to her stateroom and bade each other good-bye. The aftermath, righteous, though severe, followed this morning, when Prof. Earl's neighbors congregated, and after discussing the disgusting episode, proceeded to drag him from his carriage and horsewhip him severely. Some of the more impetuous wanted to hang him, but the opportunity was not favorable. As it was, he was dragged through the muddy streets and unmercifully beaten before the police could rescue him.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect it.

Prevalency of Kidney Disease.

Most people do not realize the alarming increase and remarkable prevalence of kidney disease. While kidney disorders are the most common diseases that prevail, they are almost the last recognized by patient and physicians, who content themselves with doctoring the effects, while the original disease undermines the system.

What To Do.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes.

You may have a sample bottle and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention this paper and don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y.

SENATOR DANIEL'S 65th BIRTHDAY.

In Public Life Nearly Forty Years.

(By special wire to THE ARGUS.)

Lynchburg, Va., Sept. 5.—Senator John W. Daniel, who a host of Southern Democrats would like to see nominated for the Presidency next year, was sixty-five years old today and was reminded of the fact by receiving numerous congratulations from his fellow townsmen and from friends and admirers in all sections of the country. Senator Daniel was born in Lynchburg and has always made his home here.

It is now nearly forty years since Senator Daniel began his political career as a member of the Virginia house. In 1881 he was defeated as Democratic candidate for governor by W. E. Cameron, and returned to law practice. He went to Congress in 1886, and the following year succeeded General Mahone in the United States Senate.

There is one interesting chapter in the life of Sen. Daniel with which the general public is not familiar. His father was Judge William Daniel of Lynchburg, a man of prominence and wealth. Although his fortune was considerably impaired by the war, he still had a lucrative practice, and during the ten years which succeeded he was among those who foresaw the great commercial development of the country, and interested himself in numerous speculative enterprises. But he was sanguine to the point of being visionary. Everything seemed to him promising, and it was his habit first to subscribe to $10,000 worth of stock and then to ask what was the nature of the enterprise.

In 1873, when he died, it was found that his estate was hopelessly insolvent. There were claims by creditors over and above the assets amounting to more than $100,000. These claims the son John assumed. He had been practicing law in his father's office, but there was no obligation on him or a moral or legal character. The schemes and speculations had been entered into without his knowledge or advice. The bankruptcy law afforded a wide door for escape. He could have wiped the slate clean and started the world anew. But he chose otherwise. To him it seemed that the only honorable course was to pay his father's debts in full and with interest, if it took all the earnings of his life to do it. Accordingly he notified the creditors of his intention and began upon the herculean task.

That was nearly thirty-five years ago, and during almost the entire time that has elapsed since then Senator Daniel has paid over the greater part of his income to his father's creditors. He has lived on less than $2,000 a year. When in Washington he has lived at the cheaper hotels, and although crippled and dependent on crutches he hardly knows what it is to ride in a cab. But at sixty-five years of age he has the satisfaction of knowing that he has discharged his father's old obligations in full.

SHORT IN HIS ACCOUNTS.

William Drinkard, Manager of Brewing Plant, Lives High on the Company's Funds and When Caught Up With Skips.

(Special to THE ARGUS.)

Winston-Salem, Sept. 7.—Mr. Wm. Drinkard, who has been manager of the local plant of the Virginia Brewing Co. for three years, has departed for parts unknown, and Mr. C. Geison, of the home office, in Roanoke, has been sent here to take temporary charge of the plant. Mr. Drinkard is short in his accounts, but just how much is not given out yet. Rumors say that he embezzled $900 of the company's money, which is not doubted by the people here who are cognizant of the way he has been living for the past few months. Mr. Geison has received a letter from Drinkard stating that if he was short in his accounts that he would make up the deficiency.

Mr. Thomas, the traveling auditor of the company, who comes here once a month, arrived a few days ago and asked for a settlement with Drinkard. Drinkard put him off saying that he had no settlement to make with him. Mr. Thomas then communicated with the home office and Mr. Geison was sent to check up the books. Mr. Geison says that as soon as he ascertains the full facts in the case he will give out a statement, but until then he does not care to make a statement. Living beyond his means is responsible for Drinkard's actions.

SAID TO BE A LIE.

Canal Zone Conditions Are All That Can Be Desired.

(By special wire to THE ARGUS.)

New York, Sept. 7.—The lie is today given to the sensational stories brought to this country some months ago by a self constituted clerical inspector who visited that territory.

Rev. H. H. Bryan, canon of the Cathedral of the incarnation, Garden City, L. I., who was sent by the bishop presiding, to investigate the conditions, and especially the religious needs of the people in the Panama canal zone, has just returned, and he reports moral conditions in the zone remarkably good, and with very little crime. There have been only three murders in three years, and two convictions followed.

Intoxication and brawls are the most frequent offenses. There are only three saloons in the zone and they pay $1,100 license.

A few Chinese merchants sell liquor on the sly.

Sanitary conditions in the zone are good.

ROSH-HASHANAH.

The Hebrew New Year Begins Tomorrow at Sunset.

It Will be the Beginning of The Year 5663 of the Hebra Calendar, which is Traditionally Supposed to Count From The Creation of The World.

(Special to THE ARGUS.)

New York, Sept. 7.—At sunset tomorrow evening the Jewish people throughout the world will begin the celebration of Rosh Hashanah, or the festival of the new year. It will be the beginning of the year 5663 of the Hebra calendar, which is traditionally supposed to count from the creation of the world. The celebration of the New Year's festival is more generally observed by the Jews than any other of the numerous feasts and fasts in their calendar, with the single exception of Yom Kippur or the Fast of the Day of Atonement, which follows close upon it.

Among orthodox Jews, whose numbers in this city have been greatly increased in recent years by immigrants from Russia and Poland, the ceremonies in connection with Rosh Hashanah extend over two days. With what is termed the reformed element, those who have accepted the modern interpretation of the scriptures, while the celebration of the festival is as strictly observed as among the orthodox, it is confined to one day. The religious observance of the festival enjoins entire abstention from business and all labor, and the attention upon the religious services at the synagogues.

A prominent feature of the services in the synagogues is the blowing of the ram's horn or shofar. The reason for blowing the horn can be traced back to the beginning of the Jewish race and is supposed to remind the children of Israel that the time for repentance is at hand and they should realize that they have committed sins which should be atoned for. After the blowing of the horn special services and prayers are held to commemorate the occasion.

In addition to the regularly established congregations worshipping all the year round in places of worship owned or regularly rented by them, the need of many improved synagogues is imperative owing to the great number of Jews, on the East Side especially, who do not belong to any established congregation, but who desire to take part in the celebration of the festival. To fulfil this need every available hall and place of public meeting on the East Side, many in Harlem and a number in the Bronx, have been fitted up as temporary places of worship. The seats in these improvised synagogues are bought by those who desire to worship at these places, but there is always a provision made for those who cannot afford the expenditure, so that no one desirous of taking part in the service is turned away.

MIRACULOUS ESCAPE.

Seaboard Passenger Train Leaps Into Creek and All Passengers Come Out Alive.

Special to THE ARGUS.

Helena, Ga., Sept. 7.—One of the worst wrecks that ever occurred here happened last night, when the Seaboard passenger train, No. 72, jumped the track and the entire train plunged into Wilcox creek.

The track is still blocked, at ten this morning, with debris.

Many passengers were injured but all miraculously escaped death. That there were none killed is the marvel of all who look upon the scene today.

The injured are as follows:

Clair Wilson, express messenger, crushed about the head, probably fatally; W. L. Seigler, baggage-master, right arm badly hurt; two negro railway mail clerks, seriously injured; three negro passengers less seriously.

The injured were brought to a house and medical attention was given them. The train fell into the creek and was practically demolished, except the locomotive and the last passenger coach. Thirty-five passengers were on the train, the white ones in the coach that remained on the track.

LIGHTNING DEALS DEATH.

Many Workmen Killed in Chatham County.

(By Special Wire to THE ARGUS.)

Raleigh, Sept. 4.—Owing to the fact of the wires being down it has been difficult to get particulars of a fatal explosion at the Phoenix Company's plant at Buck Horn, Chatham county, late last night, at the company's offices here. No details could be learned till after 12 o'clock today.

It is now definitely learned that seven men were killed and about 20 injured.

Lightning struck a cement house in which the men had gone to seek shelter from a rain. This house is some distance from the main plant of the company, but no names are yet obtainable.

HEMORRHOIDS SORES AND ECZEMA

Accompanied by Terrible Itching—A Complicated and Most Distressing Case—Well-known Remedies Failed to Cure—Doctor Thought an Operation Necessary—Then

CUTICURA PROVED ITS WONDERFUL EFFICACY

"I am now eighty years old and one morning, three years ago, I was taken with a hard pain in my right side. In two days I had an attack of piles (hemorrhoids), bleeding and protruding. The doctor gave me some medicine and an ointment for them which helped me some but I had to keep using them all the time. Then I changed to the P— remedy; but if I did not use it every day, I would get worse. The doctor said the only help for me was to go to a hospital and be operated on. At this time, about a year ago, I went to using the S— remedies. I tried them for four or five months but did not get much help for my piles. During this time sores would come on a fleshy part of my body. They bothered me all the time. I would get one healed and another would come. These sores changed to eczema, accompanied by a terrible itching. It seemed as if I could not keep my hands from tearing my flesh. This and the pile trouble brought on an inflamed condition. Then I got the Cuticura Remedies. I washed the affected parts with Cuticura Soap and warm water in the morning, at noon, and at night, then used Cuticura Ointment on the irritated surfaces and injected a quantity of Cuticura Ointment with a Cuticura Suppository Syringe. I also took Cuticura Resolvent Pills three times a day. It took a month of this treatment to get me in a fairly healthy state and then I treated myself once a day for three months and, after that, once or twice a week. It is fortunate that I used Cuticura. The treatments I had tried took a lot of money that I would have saved by using Cuticura Remedies sooner, but I am wiser now. I am supplied with a full set of the Cuticura Remedies and would not feel safe without them. J. H. Henderson, Hopkinton, St. Lawrence Co., N. Y., Apr. 26, 1907."

Complete External and Internal Treatment for Every Humor of Infants, Children, and Adults consists of Cuticura Soap, (5c.) to cleanse the skin; Cuticura Ointment, (50c.) to heal the skin, and Cuticura Resolvent Pills, (50c.) to purify the blood. Also the Cuticura Suppository Syringe (5c.). Sold throughout the world. Puter Drug & Chem. Corp., Sole Importers, Boston, U.S.A.
