KAISER AS KING'S GUEST

Upon Arrival the Emperor and Empress will Proceed at once to Windsor.

The Visit of Emperor William to England Next Month is Fraught with the Greatest Interest, Both Personal and Political.

(Special to the Argus.)

London, Oct. 18.—The visit of Emperor William to England next month is fraught with the greatest interest, both personal and political. For years there has been a barrier of prejudice between the two countries, but this has been considerably lowered by the diplomacy of King Edward and his ministers. It is hoped that the barrier will entirely disappear as a result of the coming visit of the Emperor.

Upon their arrival the Emperor and Empress will proceed at once to Windsor, where they will stay during the whole of their sojourn, except for a state visit to London, where they will be officially welcomed by the Lord Mayor. It is expected that the breakfast that will be served at the Guildhall on this occasion, together with the street decorations, will cost not less than $20,000.

The duty of extending a welcome to their Majesties will fall to Sir John Bell, who is soon to take office as Lord Mayor of London. The address of welcome will be contained in a costly gold box. The ceremony will take place in a large pavilion to be erected by galleries for the accommodation of privileged spectators.

The Emperor will have at least three days' shooting in Windsor park, accompanied by King Edward and the Prince of Wales. A command theatrical performance will take place in the Waterloo chamber, while there will be a State concert, and also a State banquet in St. George's hall. The apartments at Windsor Castle to be occupied by the imperial visitors have been lavishly decorated and renovated under the personal direction of the King.

INTEREST IN TRUST CONFERENCE.

The Advisability of Amending the Sherman Anti-Trust act will be Exhaustively Discussed.

(By Special Wire to the Argus.)

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 18.—Widespread interest is being manifested in the conference on industrial combinations, to be held in this city next week, under the auspices of the National Civic Federation. The attendance will include delegates named by the governors of every State and Territory of the Union and representatives of national labor, financial, economic, agricultural, manufacturing, trade and shippers' organizations, chambers of commerce and boards of trade.

The first day of the conference will be given over to a discussion of the problems involved in the controversies between State and Federal government, representing jurisdiction over interstate commerce, now pending in Minnesota, Missouri, Alabama, Arkansas and North Carolina.

The corporation will be the subject for consideration on the second day, and on the third and fourth days there will be discussions of the just and practicable limit of restriction and regulation, Federal and State, of combinations in transportation, production, distribution and labor. The advisability of amending the Sherman anti-trust act will be exhaustively discussed.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 16.—Prominent army officers and other representatives of official society in the capital thronged St. Margaret's Episcopal church at noon today at the wedding of Miss Mary Aston Overshine, daughter of General and Mrs. Samuel Overshine, and Captain Guy Stevens Norvell of the Eighth Cavalry.

POLITICS AND POLITICIANS.

Ambitions and Prospects of Men Strutting and Fretting Their Hour on the Stage.

(By special wire to THE ARGUS.)

Washington, D. C., Oct. 18.

Vice President Fairbanks is to spend the last week of October in the South, filling engagements to speak in Dallas, Atlanta and other leading cities.

A meeting of Taft supporters for President of the United States will be held in Wisconsin some time this month.

Washington, D. C. has been selected by William J. Bryan as the place at which he will make an important political announcement on Nov. 25, on which date he is to speak before the Society of Political Science of Georgetown University.

Col. Dan M. Swab, a millionaire mine owner, has announced his candidacy for Congress against Representative Brownlow of the First District of Tennessee. Col. Swab was a Republican candidate for railroad commissioner in the last State election.

William J. Bryan will open his speaking campaign in Wisconsin on Nov. 11, at a dinner party to be given in Milwaukee by the Jefferson Club of that city in celebration of the club's 21st anniversary.

Only half a dozen of the forty-five governors in the Union are to be elected this year and two of these are in New England, where Massachusetts and Rhode Island will ballot for chief magistrates. Both of these States retain the system of annual elections, which have disappeared everywhere else. Of the other States to elect this year, Kentucky, Maryland and Mississippi choose their governors for four years and New Jersey for 3 years.

WHISKEY WAS NOT THE CAUSE.

Fairbrother in Everything.

A young man named Ben Taylor, living near Asheville, filled himself full of whiskey and his friends seeing his helpless condition started to take him home. They took him most all the way and left him to continue the journey. When near his home he fell across the tracks of the railway and a passing train cut him into pieces.

Taylor was one of the young gentlemen who could drink or leave it alone. Generally speaking, however, he never left it alone, and finally when death came it caught him loaded.

Pretty hard lines for a young man to be cut into pieces by a locomotive—but harder yet to know that it was caused because he was so drunk he couldn't walk. But he never blamed the booze. He always could drink or leave it alone, and that is the case with all the young men we know today.

Radium Effaces Birthmarks.

New York Times.

Two of the foremost physicians of Paris, Drs. Wickham and Degrais, have created a sensation at the Academy of Medicine by a report on their discovery of a method of removing birthmarks by the action of radium. Such marks have hitherto been believed to be indelible. The new method has proved equally successful in the case of adults and children.

The marks are effaced by the simple application of a plain surface covered with varnish containing radium. The action is regulated by the length and frequency of the application.

A series of watercolors exhibited at the academy showed the gradual disappearance of birthmarks subjected to the treatment until not the slightest trace of the disfigurement remained. The application is absolutely painless, the treatment may be applied to an infant during sleep.

American Gas Institute.

(Special to THE ARGUS.)

Washington, D. C., Oct. 16.—The second annual meeting of the American Gas Institute assembled at the New Willard Hotel today for a three days' session. President Walton Clark, of Philadelphia, called the meeting to order. Rates charged for gas, operating expenses, the obligations imposed by a franchise, and a number of other topics are scheduled for consideration.

MAN AND HIS HAT.

The observations upon the relation between the character of the man and the revelation of that character by the way in which he wears his hat, which have been made in print recently by Professor Gross, of Leipzig, are especially interesting at this time, when the leaves are falling, admonishing man that at any moment the frost may nip the straw which even now has become, in outward appearance at least, a disreputable companion.

The German scientist's researches, it is true, were in the domain of criminal psychology, and he treated of the manner of wearing the hat and not of the character of the head cover, but suggests further research, which when it shall be extended may be expected to add even more to the world's entertainment if not to its stock of known facts.

Professor Gross declares that a hat worn perpendicular to the vertical axis of the head is a sign that a man is upright in character, but a pedant and sometimes a bore. Those who wear the hat a little on the right side are said to be amiable, gentle, and humane; those who wear it on the left are fond of games and sports, and usually of gambling. The hat on the back of the head is said to be a proof of recklessness and daring and usually of debt, and the further back it is the nearer the wearer is to bankruptcy or jail.

According to Prof. Gross, a hat that is worn well down on the forehead indicates the egotist or a man of sulky disposition, in which selfishness is the dominant trait. If the hat is worn lightly on the top of the head it means that the character of the man is fluctuating, variable and impressionable; if the hat is large and firmly adjusted it means a keen sense of business and energy of action; if the same hat slopes to the rear it means that the wearer is alive to all business opportunities and will miss none of them.

The professor also has a chapter on boots. He has observed that a man who wears down the heels of his boots or shoes equally may be safely set down as an energetic man of business or a trustworthy official. Heels worn on the outer sides are said to reveal imagination, poetic instinct and an adventurous spirit. If they are worn down on the inner side it shows the wearer to be weak and undecided in character. Moreover, the professor adds, this last sign is more to be relied upon in the case of men than of women, as the high heels of the latter "often divert whatever physical significance they might otherwise have."

A wide field for speculation is opened when we shall begin to inquire why the man wears a hat of a certain sort and of uncertain age. Wider, perhaps, because at this point there is ushered in the correlation of the sexes which may have, in some instances at least, important bearing upon the question.

Given the sum of the man's income and the cost of the headgear of the women which must be brought therefrom, we should be able to ascertain with reasonable accuracy why he should be wearing the sort of hat he is and, perhaps, in the opinion of the curious but not wholly informed, he should not be.

There may be found, too, an intimate connection between the contents of the man's stomach, which in the interest of science might perhaps properly be determined by analysis, and the sort of hat he was wearing. In view of the present price of eatables and drinkables, it is very likely that there shall be.

The Great State Fair is in full swing. Notwithstanding the fact that the Jamestown Exposition has drawn heavily from the State, and other big attractions are being held in other places of the State, great throngs of merry visitors were on the grounds yesterday taking in the exhibits and enjoying the races and other attractions.

The most complete exhibit and the one that has called forth more universal commendation and deserved praise is the furniture exhibit of the Royall & Borden Furniture Company, which is in charge of the genial and courteous Mr. Miles Goodwin. It is composed of articles of every kind for the furnishing, beautifying and ornamenting the home, office or the club room.

For ten consecutive years Royall & Borden's furniture exhibit has won the gold medal over all other exhibitions of every kind and this is a matter of great pride to the proprietors and managers, and attests the real worth and character of the goods they exhibit and sell.

The progressive Royall & Borden Furniture company have recently occupied the new and handsome store and show room, 127 Fayetteville street, and it is worth a trip to Raleigh to pay them a visit and let them show you their magnificent array of house furnishings of every description.

They carry a very superior class of goods and are one of the few furniture dealers in the South who send a special furniture expert to Grand Rapids and the other furniture markets to select a class and assortment of furniture and other ornaments and decorations, suitable to all classes of the most discriminating purchasers.

While in Raleigh during the Fair you are cordially invited to visit their store and exhibit.

BURNS RELIC COMING TO AMERICA.

His Admirers Regret That Another Relic of Robert Burns is to Depart for America.

(By special wire to THE ARGUS.)

London, Oct. 17.—Admirers of Robt. Burns have learned with regret that another relic of Robert Burns is to depart from British shores to America.

R. G. Knowles, the American comedian, has purchased from the collection of the late Prof. Kirkpatrick, of the Edinburgh University, the famous Burns' mug and will take it home with him to the United States. The mug was inherited by the late professor, and it is an authoritative fact that it was the favorite drinking vessel of the great Scotch poet. It is made of block wood, encircled with three brass bands, and has a wooden handle. The capacity of the cup is about a quart.

PE-RU-NA RECEIVES PRAISE

For Relieving Such Symptoms as Debility, Backache and Headache.

THERE are a great many phases of woman's ailments that require the assistance of the surgeon. But by far the greater number of such cases are amenable to correct medicinal treatment.

No surgeon in the world has relieved so many women from the different phases of ailments peculiar to woman-kind as Dr. Hartman through the use of Peruna.

He receives many letters from all parts of the country relating to subjects of vital interest to womankind.

Of the vast multitude of women Dr. Hartman cures annually, only a small per cent. of them consider it necessary to write to the Doctor at all.

Not one in a thousand of these fortunate women report their success. Of those who do write testimonials, only a very small per cent. are ever used in public print.

While it is not affirmed that Peruna will cure every case of this kind, it is certainly the part of wisdom for every woman so afflicted to give Peruna a fair trial. Her chances of relief are so many that any woman would be doing herself an injustice to neglect such an opportunity of relief.

Mrs. EMMA E. GILDNER

Mrs. Emma E. Gildner, 729 Santafe Ave., Denver, Col., Financial Secretary Germania Order der Haragari, writes:

"Peruna has been a great blessing to me. I suffered agonies with severe headaches and a weak back and could hardly drag myself around."

"A friend who was visiting me was taking Peruna for the same trouble and induced me to try it. I soon found that I was being helped and in less than three weeks I felt like a different woman and in four months I was well. Peruna certainly gave me strength. I consider it an ideal woman's remedy."

Very Precarious Condition.

Mrs. Lottie Ward, 617 Tracy Ave., Kansas City, Mo., writes: "A few years ago my health was in a very precarious condition, the result of womb trouble and general debility."

I suffered a great deal and was glad to try Peruna when it was recommended to me so highly. I found it very beneficial. In a short time the pains greatly decreased and in two months I was completely restored.

"I am pleased to endorse Peruna."
