MRS. BRADLEY'S TRIAL WEDNESDAY.

No Murder Case in Years Has Excited Such Deep Interest.

The Dragging In Of The Name of Mrs. Annie Adams, Mother of Maude Adams, the Actress, Has Also Whetted the Public Appetite for Further Details of the Case.

(By Special Wire to the ARGUS.)

Washington, D. C., Nov. 11.—Criminal Court No. 1 of the District of Columbia was filled to overflowing with spectators, among whom were numerous women, when Justice Stafford took his seat on the bench this morning and the bailiff rapped for order. The presence of the crowd of idle on-lookers was due to the fact that the first case on docket was that of Mrs. Annie M. Bradley, whose trial for murder, in connection with the death of former Senator Arthur M. Brown, of Utah, last December, will undoubtedly be the staple of conversation in Washington for some weeks to come. An eminent array of counsel for both sides were on hand ready to proceed with the famous case. Judge Powers, of Utah, appeared as principal counsel for the defense, assisted by Attorney George B. Hoover of this city. Assistant District Attorney Givens, with several assistants, was on hand to conduct the prosecution. But on opening court, it was announced that owing to the death of Judge McComas, court would take a recess until Wednesday, when the Bradley trial will begin.

No murder case here in years, none, in fact, since the famous murder trial of Mrs. Beaunisme nearly a decade ago, has excited such deep interest as has been excited in the trial that has now commenced. The wealth and prominence of the victim and the double romance of his life are responsible in a large measure for the public interest in the case. The dragging in of the name of Mrs. Annie Adams, mother of Maude Adams, the actress, has also whetted the public appetite for further details in the case. Mrs. Adams is expected to be one of the principal witnesses. She has told friends that she was anxious to testify, if for no other reason than to clear the name of the dead Senator, to whom it is said she was engaged. She admitted as much when she came here to see the body of the Senator after the tragedy, before it was taken West by his children for burial. It is said that Mrs. Bradley first learned of the engagement between the Senator and Mrs. Adams a few days before the killing.

It is now nearly a year since the tragedy occurred in the Hotel Raleigh, where the Senator was shot in his apartments by Mrs. Bradley after a stormy interview. At the Emergency Hospital, where he lingered between life and death for several days, Senator Brown steadfastly refused to talk and refused all the importunities of the police to make a statement of the affair.

Mrs. Bradley claims to have found letters in Senator Brown's apartments showing that he had an appointment to meet Mrs. Adams in New York. Whether this entered as a motive in the evidence is brought out at the trial, although at the time of the murder Mrs. Adams expressed deep sympathy for Mrs. Bradley, and declared that if only she could have met her before the tragedy she might have helped to prevent it.

Noted Baker Dead.

(Special to The ARGUS.)

Raleigh, Nov. 11.—Charles Bretch, Raleigh's leading baker, and a well-known citizen, is dead from an attack of heart trouble. He was widely known throughout the State and conducted a large business with many towns in North Carolina. Funeral this evening.

KEYS LOST—A bunch of keys on ring. Finder will please leave with M. E. Bizzell.

AWAITING THEIR FATE.

Army Officers Who Failed To Take The Test Ride Now On Anxious Seat.

(Special to THE ARGUS.)

Washington, D. C., Nov. 12.—Twelve army officers, a part of the total number who failed to take the test ride recently prescribed by the President, were summoned before a retiring board at Washington barracks today to undergo an examination to determine their fitness to continue to discharge the military duties they at present perform. Because of the sweeping effect of the alleged determination of the President to restrict the active list of the army to officers of sound and vigorous constitutions there is naturally considerable apprehension on the part of a large number of officers, who, while fully able to attend to their routine duties under existing conditions, are conscious of their inability to stand the rigors of prolonged service in the field, even in time of peace.

It is not generally believed, however, that the President intends to make any wholesale retirements. The understanding at the War Department is that if an officer is physically able to discharge the duties upon which he at present is engaged, he will be retained in the service, although he may be unable physically to ride a horse fifteen miles over a battlefield. It is freely declared that only a very small proportion of high ranking officers—line and staff—could pass the mildest kind of a physical examination. Among the officers of high rank in poor health holding responsible positions with credit are Major General Bell, chief of staff; Major General Ainsworth, adjutant general, and Major General Weston, who is to succeed Gen. Wood in command of the troops in the Philippines. They are generally recognized as among the ablest and most efficient officers in the army, but it is questionable if any one of the three could withstand the hardships of a real campaign.

HONOR ROLL.

For Month of October of Goldsboro Public Schools.

At the end of each school month, the Goldsboro Public Schools will publish an Honor Roll. This will be a list of all the pupils in the school who have made an average for the entire month of 95 per cent, or over, on all studies and including attendance and deportment; provided that no pupil who makes below 90 per cent on any study, attendance or deportment shall have a place on the Honor Roll. A high average has been required so that a place on this roll will be an honor, indeed, for the pupil who wins it.

It has been thought wise to do this, in as much as wherever it has been tried it has stimulated the pupils to greater effort, better deportment, and more regular and punctual attendance all of which are indispensable to a good school system. The parents are requested to encourage the pupils to try for the Honor Roll, and thus aid the teachers in making the school better.

The following are the names of the pupils who made the required average during the month of October:

- Tenth Grade—Lawrence Morgan.
- Seventh Grade—A—Julia Allen, Rebecca Green.
- Seventh Grade—B—Alfred Thompson
- Sixth Grade—B—Debbie Arment.
- Fifth Grade—B—Sadie Wrenn, Naomi Pate.
- Fourth Grade—A—Virginia Allen, Moseley Parker.
- Third Grade—A—James Ipeck, Bryan Thompson.
- Third Grade—B—Ralph Malone, Junaid Smith.
- Second Grade—A—Henry Bizzell.
- Second Grade—B—Robert Suggs.
- First Grade—B—Robert Lane.
- First Grade—C—Floyd Hollman.

A. E. WOLTZ,
Superintendent.

Wednesday's issue of the Raleigh News & Observer, 84 pages, illustrated, and dealing with the industrial progress and inviting resources of North Carolina, was the best of its kind ever printed in the State. It was a truly great paper, and brings the entire State under obligation to it for the splendid showing it makes of her industrial achievements, resources, advantages and possibilities.

CONFEDERATE VETERANS.

Augusta is Alive With Veterans and Other Visitors.

The Occasion Is the Ninth Annual Reunion of the Georgia Division of United Confederate Veterans and Annual Reunion of the State Organization of Sons of Confederate Veterans.

(By special wire to THE ARGUS.)

Augusta, Ga., Nov. 12.—Augusta is alive with Confederate veterans, sons of Confederate veterans, and other visitors from all quarters of the State. The occasion is the ninth annual reunion of the Georgia division of the United Confederate Veterans and the annual reunion of the State organization of Sons of Confederate Veterans. The advance guard of visitors put in an appearance last evening, and all trains coming this way this morning were crowded with visitors—veterans, their sons and daughters and sight-seers.

The city is extending a hearty welcome to the veterans. Everywhere are flags and bunting.

The reunion of the veterans was called to order at the court house this morning by Gen. Andrew J. West, commander of the division. Tomorrow will come the annual parade, which will be made notable by the presence of Gov. Smith of Georgia, Gov. Ansel of South Carolina and other distinguished visitors.

PARIS AUTOMOBILE SHOW.

Is Comprehensively Displayed at the Tenth Annual Show of the Automobile Club de France.

(By special wire to THE ARGUS.)

Paris, Nov. 12.—The progress made in the manufacture of motor-propelled vehicles in France during the past year is comprehensively displayed at the tenth annual show of the Automobile Club de France, which opened today in the Grand Palais. In its representative character and the number and high class of its exhibits the show eclipses all of the exhibitions of previous years. It will continue to attract the public during the remainder of this month.

BEST OF PROOF

That Hyomei will Cure All Forms of Catarrhal Diseases.

Testimonials should be printed by the thousands, many of them from Goldsboro and nearby towns, that Hyomei is an absolute cure for all catarrhal troubles, and the best proof of its unusual curative powers is the guarantee that J. H. Hill & Son give with every outfit they sell. "Money back if Hyomei does not do all that is claimed for it."

Hyomei is not a secret remedy. Its formula is given freely to physicians who want to know what they use when they prescribe Hyomei. It is guaranteed under the Pure Food and Drug Law by serial No. 1418.

By breathing Hyomei, the healing medication goes directly to every nook and corner of the air passages where the catarrhal germs may lurk, and disinfests and heals. To be convinced of this you have only to give it a trial, remembering that if it does not cure, J. H. Hill & Son will refund your money. The complete Hyomei outfit costs but $1.00, and in most cases is sufficient to cure the diseases, making it not only a scientific treatment but one that is highly economical. Get an outfit today from J. H. Hill & Son if you have any catarrh.

TO "UNCLE BEN."

Mount Olive Tribune.
The world moves on and mid the busy needs
Of traffic and its maddening grasp for life,
The individual motives, aims and deeds
Lie hidden 'neath the turmoil and the strife.
So Uncle Ben, the sham of worldly fame
May never seek to sound your plaudits loud.
Your greatness lies not in the world's acclaim,
'Twas richer things with which you were endowed.
The painter's brush may ne'er your visage trace,
Nor history's page record your past career.
Your friends, too, may forget your kindly face,
Who on your grave have sadly dropped a tear.
Too soon those little deeds of kindness told,
Too soon those little loving thoughts conceived
Will fade from mortal memory's fickle hold;
And mortal man forget what you've achieved.
But beams of sunshine sent from your pure mind
Are painted on the canvass of our souls,
And records greater than historian's pen
Can trace to God's all seeing eye unfold.
Why care you aught for any earthly praise?
Why deem of note friend's forgetful care?
Your work is done. Angelic voices raise
Their songs of welcome mid Heaven's treasures rare.
—JOHN D. LANGSTON.

DIES AT WASHINGTON.

J. N. Seale, District Manager of Southern Railway, Succumbs to Paralysis.

(By Special Wire to the ARGUS.)

Washington, D. C., Nov. 11.—Jesse Newton Seale, manager of the north-east lines of the Southern Railway, who was stricken with paralysis at Salisbury, N. C., last Saturday, and brought here on his special car, died at the George Washington University Hospital today. On his arrival here symptoms of pneumonia were discovered. He was unconscious from early this morning until late this afternoon, when he died.

Mr. Seale was born in Mississippi in 1862; was employed by the Associated Press in New Orleans in the early eighties, and had held various positions in the railroad and telegraph service, including superintendent of transportation of the Mobile and Ohio, and superintendent of transportation of the Southern. Mr. Seale was a member of the Jackson, Tenn., lodge of Elks.

PARDONS TO-DAY.

A Number Granted—a Number Refused.

(By Special Wire to the ARGUS.)

Raleigh, Nov. 11.
At the Governor's office to-day the following pardons were announced: William Raper, Forsyth County, assault with intent, sentenced to 15 years; has served nine years; H. H. Blanton, New Hanover, sentenced to four months on the roads; to be released on account of ill health, when fine of $100 is paid; Tobias Handy, Wilkes county; John Henry Mills, Halifax county; John Blackwood, Gaston county; W. E. Burnett, Vance county. Pardons were refused to George Nash, New Hanover, and six others who had applied.

CARD OF THANKS.

EDITOR ARGUS:
Will you please allow me space in your paper simply to acknowledge the indebtedness of myself and children to the good people of this city. I cannot give expression to our thanks, neither can I enumerate their many and un-falling kindnesses to me and mine in our ordeal of sickness and in the death of my dear boy. God alone knows of them, and He will repay. We are all truly grateful and shall be abidingly thankful. With inexpressible gratitude I am

Respectfully,
Mrs. W. F. FOLSOM.

STATE OF OKLAHOMA.

Next Saturday Witnesses Inauguration of Its First Governor.

New Governor Refuses to Associate Officially With Retiring Executive: Jim Crow Law's Novel Enforcement.

(Special to the ARGUS.)

Guthrie Oklahoma, Nov. 12.—The new State's first Governor-elect, Haskell, Democrat, gives notice that he will not ride in the carriage with or on horseback in company with the retiring Republican Territorial Governor, Frantz.

It is therefore, more than probable that Haskell will walk in the procession on his inaugural day, next Saturday, with the members of the legislature.

The Jim crow law, too, goes into effect in Oklahoma on Saturday, and at the big popular barbecue on inauguration day it has been decided to separate the races, the negroes being made to wait for "Second Table."

TO-DAY'S MARKET.

(By special wire to the ARGUS.)

New York, Nov. 12.—The Stock market opened irregular, but with general gains with the exception of some fractional recessions.

The cotton market opened buoyant, influenced by strong cables from Liverpool and unseasonably cold weather in the far South.

Nov. 10-20, Dec. 10-68, Jan. 10-29, March 10-33.

Local market—Strict to good middling closed at 10.50.

Chicago, Nov. 12.—The wheat market opened higher 1-4 to 3-8 cent, but offerings being abundant, prices soon fell. Liverpool was up 1, 3-8, and Berlin 2-3-8. Weekly crop summary more favorable.

December wheat 103 1-3, Corn 58, Oats 51 1-4, Ribs 70, Lard 8.22, Pork 13.20.

PERMANENT PACIFIC FLEET.

That is What is Thought Is the Purpose of the Administration.

(Special to the ARGUS.)

Brooklyn, N. Y., Nov. 12.—From information learned through a careful inquiry made among the officers of the battleships at the Brooklyn navy yard as to form the Pacific fleet soon to sail, it is learned that there is no doubt but that the real purpose of the Washington administration is to maintain a permanent naval fleet in Pacific and Asiatic waters.

December 9th is still the date fixed for the mobilization of the warships in Hampton roads, where President Roosevelt will review them, and, just before their starting for the Pacific will deliver to Admiral Evans his final instructions, which it is believed will contain some very important information that has not been given out to the public.

Serious Symptoms.

Mrs. Annie Hamilton, Stetsonville, Wis., developed serious symptoms, as a result of some form of female trouble from which she suffered.

A letter, in which she describes these symptoms and tells how, by the Cardui System of Home Treatment, she finally managed to cure herself, may prove of value to you, if you are suffering as she did, from ailments peculiar to women.

She says: "When I was suffering from female trouble, I could not sleep, eat, or stand on my feet without pain. I could not work, and could not stoop on account of pain in my side. I took medicine from three doctors without benefit, and the last one said I was in a critical condition, and going down hill. At last I took Cardui and in two days time I was a different woman. Now I eat good, work good, and feel better than I ever did in all my life. Cardui is a good medicine and it all poor sick ladies know of it there would be less suffering."

MISS MILDRED KELLER.

RESTORED TO HEALTH. THANKS TO PE-RU-NA

Friends Were Alarmed—Advised Change of Climate.

Miss Mildred Keller, 718 13th street, N. W., Washington, D. C., writes: "I can safely recommend Peruna for catarrh. I had it for years and it would respond to no kind of treatment, or if it did it was only temporary, and on the slightest provocation the trouble would come back."

"I was in such a state that my friends were alarmed about me, and I was advised to leave this climate. Then I tried Peruna, and to my great joy found it helped me from the first dose I took, and a few bottles cured me."

"It built up my constitution, I regained my appetite, and I feel that I am perfectly well and strong."—Mildred Keller.
