ADDING THE NEW STAR.

Arrangements Have Been Already Made For the Change in the Flag.

The Forty-sixth or Oklahoma Star Be Placed at the Lower Right-hand Corner of the Blue Field of the Flag.

(Special to THE ARGUS.)

Washington, Nov. 16.—Another star was added to the American flag this morning, when President Roosevelt signed the proclamation admitting Oklahoma to the great family of States. According to promise, Secretary Loeb immediately sent a telegram upon the signature of the document to the governor of the State of Oklahoma, announcing the fact and the exact moment of signature. The people of the new State had made preparations in advance to celebrate the occasion.

The proclamation itself was sent by special messenger to the Department of State, where it was placed among the archives of the United States government. Notwithstanding its importance, it is by no means an imposing document in appearance, being written with a stub pen, upon one large double sheet of plain white paper, stamped with the great seal of the United States.

Though Oklahoma's sovereignty as a State dates from today, the ensigns of the army and navy will not actually display the forty-sixth star until July 4, according to the regulation adopted in such cases. The law governing the subject is contained in an act of Congress approved April 4, 1816, and embodied in section 1792, Revised Statutes. That act provides as follows:

"On the admission of a new State into the Union one star shall be added to the union of the flag; and such addition shall take effect on the fourth day of July then next succeeding such admission."

Arrangements have been already made for the change in the flag by which the number of stars representing sovereign States is increased from forty-five, the present number, to forty-six. The existing arrangement of stars has obtained since July 4, 1896, on which date a star was added to the flag to mark the admission of Utah to the Union in the preceding March.

The rearrangement of the stars to meet the case of Oklahoma was made last summer by a joint board of army and navy officers, of which Admiral Dewey was the chairman by virtue of his rank. The decision of that board, which was afterward approved by the Secretaries of War, Navy and the President in turn, was that the forty-sixth or Oklahoma star be placed at the lower right hand corner of the blue field of the flag. The problem solved by the board was as to the best method of adding the new star with the least possible disturbance of the existing arrangement, and at the same time obtain a symmetrical design.

SERIOUS SYMPTOMS.

Mrs. Annie Hamilton, Stetsonville, Wis., developed serious symptoms, as a result of some form of female trouble from which she suffered.

A letter, in which she describes these symptoms and tells how, by the Cardui System of Home Treatment, she finally managed to cure herself, may prove of value to you, if you are suffering as she did, from ailments peculiar to women.

She says: "When I was suffering from female trouble, I could not sleep, eat, or stand on my feet without pain. I could not work, and could not stoop on account of pain in my side. I took medicine from three doctors without benefit, and the last one said I was in a critical condition, and going down hill. At last I took Cardui and in two days time I was a different woman. Now I eat good, work good, and feel better than I ever did, in all my life. Cardui is a good medicine and it all poor sick ladies knew of it there would be less suffering."

THE WHEEL OF TIME.

Stray Topics From Little Old New York.

Picked Up by a Careful Observer for the Entertainment of a Reading Public The Nation Over.

Special to the ARGUS.

New York, Nov. 16.

It looks as though the old fashioned birch rod would be restored to New York's public schools. Moral suasion has been found insufficient in dealing with the lusty spirit of young America, and the Board of Education, at the instigation of the teachers in contemplating a return to the sterner methods of our ancestors. The school principals are almost unanimous in their demand for the rod, but fond parents and dotting relatives have raised such a volume of protest, that the Board of Education will have to consider the matter most carefully before taking definite steps. However, those who are in closest touch with the situation believe that the old motto: "Spare the rod and spoil the child," will win out.

Society folk turned out en masse to attend the eighth National Automobile Show in Madison Square Garden, and in spite of the stringency in the money market there seemed to be a host of prospective buyers. Autos of every description were on exhibition, from the heavy trucks and delivery wagons to the most palatial touring cars. Not the least interesting of the exhibits was an amphibious auto cart, invented by a Frenchman. It is an automobile, that the inventor claims, will go with equal facility on land or water. In appearance the new automobile is very similar to a large life boat, set on axles, with rubber-tired wheels attached. It is covered like a canoe, however, with an opening in the center to contain the operators.

For some years past the lower east side of New York has been almost exclusively inhabited by Jews, and no one has moved in to disturb their possession. In fact to a stranger it would seem impossible for many more people to squeeze within the narrow confines of what is known as the Ghetto. However, for some time the Italian immigrants have been settling in great numbers within a stone's throw of this district just across the Bowery. Nevertheless, the Bowery has been a definite dividing line between these two peoples as the Chinese wall. In the past year, however, the Italians have begun to seek new homes, with the result that a few have crossed the Bowery and settled in the Ghetto. There is every indication that more will follow. The inevitable result will be that the Jews will move farther up town and leave the Italians to themselves, as the two races find it impossible to live together.

Bridge bids fair to be as popular as ever the coming winter. At all the leading clubs it seems to have taken precedence over all other forms of amusement. Many of those who have become proficient in the game have set themselves up as experts, and are kept busy from morning till night giving instruction. The best instructors are charging ten dollars an hour for their work, and even at this figure are obliged to turn away a great many applicants. One of the best known of these experts is said to have cleared by giving instruction and playing himself, forty thousand dollars last year.

The law of supply and demand has begun to get in its work with the owners of the large apartment houses on Washington Heights in the neighborhood of 140th street. Last year there were no apartments for rent, but the agents are telling a different story this fall, and while it has been customary in the past to give leases only from October to October, the owners in a great many cases are willing to rent for just the winter months. This does not mean that fewer people are living in apartments, but rather that the building has been carried on so rapidly, and many of the houses so poorly arranged and constructed that only the better and more convenient ones are in demand.

Twenty years ago two small Italian boys entered New York Harbor in an immigrant ship, with all their worldly possessions bundled in a red bandana handkerchief. They entered the New York public schools a few days later, and now both of them occupy high positions in the school world. One of these boys, Angelo Patri, is principal of one of the largest schools in the city, and the other, Anthony Pugliese has passed a successful examination, and will be a principal as soon as there is a vacancy. Of several hundred who took the examination for principalship, Patri stood second on the list. Both men stand very high in the school world, and were very successful as class teachers before rising to their present positions.

Of course the one most talked of event in New York society at present is the approaching wedding of Miss Vanderbilt to Count Laszlo Szechenyi. Owing to the uncertainty as to the exact date of the wedding it has been impossible for New York's society leaders to make definite plans either as to going away or for home engagements. In fact the majority of the dates that have been marked on the social calendar have been tentative. However, it is now believed that the wedding will occur early in January instead of December, as the first reports had it. Incidentally the society leaders are having some difficulty in pronouncing the Count's name correctly. They find Szechenyi a difficult combination to twist the tongue around properly. They feel it will be nothing short of a social breach to give it anything but the absolutely correct pronunciation.

(Special to THE ARGUS.)

Guthrie, Okla., Nov. 15.—Before the sun sets tomorrow Oklahoma will be a State of the Union. On the receipt of the news that the President of the United States has issued his proclamation conferring on Oklahoma the right of self-government, cannon will echo in thunder the voice of the people's joy; rifles will crack in chorus; the thrille of every steam whistle will shriek out approbation; all the bells will uproariously proclaim the glad tidings, and every private citizen will add to the medley whatever manifestations of joy he can devise.

At noon Governor Charles N. Haskell and other officers of the new State will be inaugurated with jubilee and ceremony, and then Oklahoma shall have taken her place among the symbolic stars on the corner of the American flag. The inauguration ceremonies will be conducted on a scale appropriate to the occasion. Visitors are already arriving from all parts of the new State and the indications are that the crowd will be by far the largest ever seen here. The business section of the city is already gay with flags and bunting. In the afternoon, following the inauguration, a big barbecue will be given for the visitors. At night the festivities will conclude with an inaugural ball and a grand display of fireworks. According to reports received here Admission Day will be joyously celebrated not only in Guthrie but in every city and town of Oklahoma.

FAVORS CANTEN RESTORED.

"Uncle Joe" Delivers Himself in Favor of Drink in the Army.

(By Special Wire to the ARGUS.)

Chicago, Nov. 15.—Uncle Joe Cannon in a speech at a banquet here last night, unfavorably criticized "the good sisters and good brethren" who conducted the campaign before Congress which abolished the canteen in the army. In vigorous language Mr. Cannon championed the restoration of the canteen by the next session of Congress. He was cheered by the banqueters, who toasted him over sparkling glasses.

Weak Kidneys

Weak Kidneys, surely point to weak kidney nerves. The Kidneys, like the Heart, and the Stomach, find their weakness, not in the organ itself, but in the nerves that control and guide and strengthen them. Dr. Shoop's Restorative is a medicine specifically prepared to reach these controlling nerves. To doctor the Kidneys alone, is futile. It is a waste of time, and of money as well. If your back aches or is weak, if the urine is dark, or is dark and strong, if you have symptoms of Bright's or other distressing or dangerous kidney disease, try Dr. Shoop's Restorative a month—Tablets or Liquid—and see what it can and will do for you. MONUMENT TO MR. JACOBI.

A State Monument Inaugurated by Salem Lodge of Odd Fellows to Honor the Memory of a Worthing Brother.

The Monument Should be Erected Here.

At a regular weekly meeting of Salem Lodge No. 36 I. O. O. F. held in the city of Winston-Salem this week a movement was started for the erection of a monument to the memory of the late Mr. Nathaniel Jacobi, father of the Odd Fellows' Orphans' Home at Goldsboro.

Without a dissenting vote a resolution was passed by the lodge to contribute a sum of money toward the erection of the memorial. Mr. Jacobi died at his home in Wilmington last week, the burial being last Wednesday. He was not only the father of the Orphans' Home, one of the greatest institutions of its kind in the South, but was a most enthusiastic Odd Fellow and one of the most prominent business men of the State.

The splendid work of the institution at Goldsboro is well known to all the least bit familiar with Odd Fellowship in North Carolina. The Home has grown from year to year and many homeless and friendless children have been taken in, cared for and equipped for life's service. The records made by the children from the institution have been enviable ones.

Several members of the Salem lodge made enthusiastic speeches in which they eulogized the life and character of the father of the Home.

The following named were appointed as a committee to draft suitable resolutions regarding the action of the lodge and forward copies of them to the press of the State: Messrs. Eugene P. Albee, W. E. Beck, W. F. Keith, the latter being the first individual contributor to the monument fund.

The movement for this monument is eminently proper and will culminate speedily in success; and the place for the monument to be erected is on the beautiful campus of the Home, so dear to the good man's heart, here in Goldsboro, where the children who are therein cared for, as the generations come and go, may look upon it daily and have the lesson of his noble life ever before them to inspire them to emulation of his virtues.

Yes, this is the place for the monument to be erected.

IN MEMORIAM.

A Tribute of Respect by Neuse Lodge No. 6, I.O.O.F. to our late Brother Nathaniel Jacobi of Cape Fear Lodge No. 2, Wilmington, N. C.

On November 5, 1907, full of years and honors, Nathaniel Jacobi, of Cape Fear Lodge, No. 2, I.O.O.F., Wilmington, N. C., fell on sleep, and like a full sheaf, ripe for the harvest, was gathered into the garner of the Lord.

Neuse Lodge No. 6, I.O.O.F., numbering among its members more than a score of personal friends, who honor Brother Jacobi as the father of our Orphans' Home, an institution that we love and cherish so dearly, wish to offer the following testimonials of their esteem for our departed brother.

Resolved: That in the death of Brother Jacobi, the I.O.O.F. have lost a valued and zealous member, and the State a high-toned, honorable and charitable citizen, who delighted in going about doing good.

Resolved: That we recognize Brother Jacobi as the father of our Orphans' Home, the pride and glory of our beloved order, where the little ones bereft of parent are reared and cared for with the tenderness of a father. Erecting for himself in the hearts of the people, a monument more durable than brass or marble, tells the story of his deeds for sweet charity's sake.

Resolved: That we deplore his passing away, and tender our sympathy to his bereaved loved ones. He leaves for our example the priceless heritage of a good name, and we commend his virtues, worthy of our emulation.

Resolved: That these resolutions be spread on the minutes of our lodge, and a copy sent to the family of the deceased, and published in the Home paper. Fraternal submitted,
CHAS. DEWEY,
