GENERAL LEE BEAD.

The Last Lieut.-General of the Confederacy Gone.

After an Illness of Seven Weeks, He Passes Over the River, to Rest Beneath the Shade of the Trees.

(Special to The ARGUS.)

Vicksburg, Miss., May 28.—General Stephen D. Lee, the last lieutenant-general of the Confederate army, died this morning, at his home here, after a sickness of seven weeks.

General Lee was commander of the United Confederate Veterans Association, and the most popular of the old Confederate officers of the South, and ever since the war had been giving all his available time to the upbuilding of his State. He was president of the Mississippi Industrial and Agricultural College. He had also large planting interests in Columbus, Miss.

He was a most interesting personality and had made friends all over the nation.

A favorite saying of his was that "No soldier of the Lost Cause", which General Lee always believed to be right, "should ever hang his head with shame." "The memory of the old Confederate soldier," said he, "is a peculiar trust committed to the living Confederate soldiers."

LIST OF BISHOPS COMPLETE

(By Special Wire to the ARGUS.)

Baltimore, Md., May 27.—The Episcopal election of the Methodist Episcopal General Conference is now a matter of history, the selection of the eight and last bishop having been made yesterday.

The new bishops, in the order of their election and the number of votes each received on the electing ballot, are as follows:

Rev. Dr. D. F. Anderson, of New York; Secretary of the Board of Education Freedman's Aid and Sunday Schools, 548 votes; Rev. Dr. J. L. Nuelson, professor in Nast Theological Seminary, Berea, Ohio, 540 votes; Rev. W. A. Quayle, pastor of St. James church, Chicago, 719 votes; Rev. Dr. Charles W. Smith, editor of the Pittsburg Christian Advocate, 511 votes; Rev. Dr. Wilson S. Lewis, president of Morningside College, Sioux City, Iowa, 524 votes; Rev. Dr. Edwin H. Hughes, president of De Pauw University, Green Castle, Ind., 511 votes; Rev. Dr. Robert McIntyre, pastor of the First Church, Los Angeles, Cal., 514 votes; and Rev. Dr. F. M. Bristol, pastor of the Metropolitan Church, Washington, D. C., 493 votes. The last named was the pastor's intimate friend, and often, it is said, adviser of the late President McKinley.

The bishop-elect will be consecrated at a special service, which will be held on Sunday afternoon at the Lyric.

TO-DAY'S NAVAL TEST.

Unique Warfare in Chesapeake Bay.

(By Special Wire to the ARGUS.)

Fort Monroe, May 27.—The mimic battle in Chesapeake Bay today will be conducted under all the conditions of actual warfare.

Six naval vessels and one army torpedo planter stood out early this morning from Old Point for the open bay. The Monitor Florida is the boat chosen for sacrifice on the altar of naval knowledge. Her sister ship, the Arkansas, will fire on her with 12-inch guns.

Other boats, the torpedo boat Morris, the cruiser Montgomery, the torpedo planter Rain Bow and one naval tug.

The test is a unique one in naval annals, and will be witnessed by all the prominent naval officials of Washington and probably by the President.

It is expected that this will be a thorough and satisfactory test of the new armour plate.

UNIQUE SOCIAL EVENT.

An Occasion at Edenton Relating to The Early History of North Carolina.

Edenton, N. C., May 27.—An event of unusual interest in Edenton social life was the tea given by Miss Margaret Bond on May 21st, to commemorate the one hundred and fiftieth anniversary of the building of her house and its continuous occupation by her family for almost as many years. This residence, commonly known as the "Cupola House," stands on Main street. As you enter the old-fashioned garden, shut in from the gaze of the curious by a high board fence, you feel that you have left the twentieth century world behind you and stepped back into another age. This illusion is not dispelled as you enter the rose embowered porch and are ushered through the wide hall into the presence of the charming old hostess, now in her eighty-eight year, who, sitting erect in her chair, her face framed by white curls and a white rose in her hand, makes a fitting subject for the painter's brush. She receives her guests with the stately courtesy of olden times, and displays with pride the many relics of the past, which she has preserved with reverent care. The room is full of handsome old furniture and portraits, but the most prized object is the portrait of Mrs. Penelope Barker, the great aunt of the hostess, who made herself and Edenton famous by presiding over the Edenton Tea Party.

Assisting Miss Bond in gracious hospitality to their guests are her cousin, Mrs. Skinner, and her niece, Miss Tillie Bond, the latter attired in a dire-toire gown of rich brocade, which was worn by her great-grandmother more than a hundred years ago, and is still in an almost perfect state of preservation. In the dining-room, across the hall, the lovers of the antique can again feast their eyes. The room is in itself a curio, with its high wainscoted walls, old-fashioned mirrors, massive mahogany sideboard and grandfather's clock, the latter purchased 130 years ago by Parson Pettigrew, while on a trip to Europe, for Dr. Dickinson, the grandfather of the present owner.

The only modern things about this room are the sprays of crimson rambler trailing over mirrors and banked everywhere, and the coterie of lovely girls, who dispense cake and sandwiches and serve tea from the exquisite old china tea service brought from England in 1777. Among the delicacies served are tea cakes made by the hostess herself from a recipe, which made her grandmother's tea drinkings famous a century ago.

About 150 people registered in the guest-book during the afternoon, among whom we note the following out-of-town, who were returning from the diocesan council of Eastern Carolina: Rev. Walter Smith, Charlotte; Rev. George Lay, Raleigh; Rev. T. P. Noe, Mr. and Mrs. Calden, Mrs. and Miss James, Wilmington; Mr. Geo. C. Royall and Miss Sue Collier, Goldsboro; Major B. R. Huske, Fayetteville; Rev. W. T. Gordon, Mrs. Gordon, Miss Gordon, Mrs. Dennis Pigg, Williamston; Mrs. Gibble, Miss Ruth Windsor and Mr. R. R. Cotton, Cottontails.

A Hair Dressing

Nearly every one likes a fine hair dressing. Something to make the hair more manageable; to keep it from being too rough, or from splitting at the ends. Something, too, that will feed the hair at the same time, a regular hair-food. Well-fed hair will be strong, and will remain where it belongs—on the head, not on the comb!

Today's Passing Events Boiled Down For Busy Readers.

(Special to the ARGUS.)

Raleigh, May 28.—Full returns from Wake county give majority against Prohibition 743.

Washington, May 29.—The national gas works is still in operation, but will likely close down some time next week.

Springfield, O., May 18.—A fire of unknown origin is burning up the town of Hillsboro, near here, today. The loss, so far, is placed at $100,000.

Raleigh, May 27.—Governor Glenn, tired and worn from the long prohibition campaign, returned to Raleigh today from Winston-Salem, the happiest man, he says, in North Carolina, over the result, and in fine spirits.

Chicago, May 27.—Former Chief of Police John Collins, and former Police Attorney Frank Comerford, charged with conspiracy growing out of the mayoralty campaign of Judge Dunn and Mayor Busse, were acquitted today.

Washington, May 28.—The senate will probably pass the emergency currency bill this afternoon and then congress can fix a day to adjourn. The request for the removal of pulp and paper duty is unfavorably reported by the committee.

Philadelphia, May 27.—Rear Admiral A. S. Crowningshield died in a Hospital here today, after an operation for polyposis. He was chief of the bureau of Navigation in the Spanish war and up to his retirement, a few weeks ago, since which time he had steadily failed.

Washington, May 27.—The jury to try Gaston Phillips, a rich young New York clubman charged with stabbing Frank McAboy, a cabman, will probably be completed this afternoon. Eleven men were in the box at noon. A hundred and five witnesses have been examined altogether.

Jersey City, May 28.—Theodore Whitmore, accused of killing his wife on last Christmas eve and throwing the body in Lampblack Swamp, behind this city, is expected to take the stand today, when, according to his lawyer, he will be able to establish a perfect alibi.

Washington, May 28.—It is rumored here today that General Luke E. Wright, of Memphis, former Governor-General of the Philippines, has been offered the War secretaryship. Wright, though a Democrat, is a close friend of Roosevelt, and this is regarded here as an effort of the President to break the solid South.

New York, May 29.—The jury should have the case of Theo. S. Whitmore, charged with killing his wife in Lampblack Swamp, the night before Christmas, some time this afternoon. Lawyer Simpson, for Whitmore, spent most of the day summing up for his client and showing the weakness of the circumstantial case against Whitmore. He claimed not a witness produced to show that Whitmore was in New Jersey during the hours when the woman met her tragic end.

Raleigh, May 29.—Gov. Glenn today granted five pardons and refused ten applications. Pardons are granted to Anzie Helms, Mecklenburg county, for manslaughter, sentenced to 12 months on the roads. He was a young man of very good character, Joseph Dudley, Bertie county, sentenced to two years, for carnal knowledge of child. The governor believes on testimony that the man is innocent. C. W. Hyams, Mecklenburg county, sentenced to 12 months, for larceny. Hyams was once a professor in the A. and M. College, Raleigh, and took books from lawyers. Many ask to give the man a chance. Jack Palmer, Wilson county, for store breaking, three years. The man has consumption and will die if kept in jail, and is too weak to work. George Rhyme, Gaston county, larceny, six months. Pardons refused—Sam Watson, Chatham county, murder in second degree, 25 years; Ed. Causey, Guilford county, larceny, two years; W. J. Arohbell, Beaufort county, six months, assault with deadly weapon; Warren Perkins, Mecklenburg county, murder in second degree, 12 years.

UNINSTRUCTED DELEGATES.

Strong Movement to Send Southern Committeemen Unfettered to Denver Convention.

(Special to the ARGUS.)

New Orleans, May 29.—Bryan can get more delegates and fewer votes than any presidential candidate in the history of National elections, "is the way a leading Louisiana Democrat sums up the chances of the Nebraskan, which condition, in a large measure, explains why Louisiana is strongly inclined to go to Denver with an uninstructed delegation. In fact, the hue and cry for unfettered delegations is spreading rapidly through the Independent Democracy of the South, and while Alabama is the latest addition to the Bryan fold, the eleventh-hour fight put up by the Johnson supporters was, in its way, a revelation of surprising strength on the part of a candidate whose appearance before the South is of such recent occurrence.

Business men, who have had to bear the first brunt of erratic national administration are advising their friends and correspondents in the interior to "go slow" and not to pledge themselves or their States in advance, but to give Johnson or any other candidate a chance to be heard, before they tie themselves up to a policy which might prove even more erratic than that of the present administration, or bind themselves to a politician whose ability to get delegates, but not votes, has twice been discovered, to the disastrous defeat of the Democratic party.

Governor Johnson, it is stated will make a fight before the Denver convention, such as will stir the blood of those Southerners who love to see a game fight battle for his laurels, and take victory or defeat with equal generosity. Johnson will bring to Denver an unbroken record of victories over Republicanism in his own State. His successful tilt with James J. Hill and the railroad combines, the abolition of railroad passes, the two-cent railroad fare, his even-handed justice to labor and capital alike, and his progressive and valuable assistance to the agricultural and manufacturing interests, have marked him as a man big enough to do bigger things in a big way, should he become the occupant of the White House; while his firm belief in the supremacy of the Caucasian race, his opposition to the "force bill" and his conviction that the people of the South should solve their own problems in their own way, has created an extremely friendly disposition wherever his strong pro-Southern sentiments are known.

"On to Denver uninstructed; let the best man win," is the fast-growing conviction North as well as South, and with a fair field and no favor, the Minnesotan will enter the fray as a "fighting candidate", who has an uninterrupted string of victories behind him, and who, his supporters aver, can capture votes, if not delegates, and if nominated will prove for Democracy the long-desired "candidate who can win".

TEMPERANCE CONGRESS.

The First Temperance Society in History Was Organized in 1808.

(Special to the ARGUS.)

Saratoga, N. Y., May 29.—Advices that are being received daily indicate that the World's Temperance Centennial Congress, which assembles here next month, will be the most notable gathering of its kind ever held. The first temperance society in history was organized in 1808 in the town of Moreau, in this county, and it is in celebration of the centennial of this event that the coming congress is to be held.

The sessions of the congress will be held in Convention Hall and will last nearly two weeks. They will be participated in by representatives of temperance societies in the United States, Canada and Europe.

Governor Hughes has consented to deliver the address of welcome, and the responses will be made by Oliver W. Stewart, of Illinois, former chairman of the Prohibition National Committee, and Seaborn Wright, author of the prohibition law in Georgia.

MYSTERIOUS DEATH.

A Rich Boston Leather Dealers Was Found Dead at the Hoffman House This Morning.

New York, May 29.—The police today are investigating the mysterious death of Chas. M. Homs, a rich Boston leather dealer, at the Hoffman House last night. They have arrested four persons, including two women, suspected of having had something to do with the affair.

The women are Clara Moore, at whose house Homs is said by a cabman to have called, and Josephine Wells, a maid at the Moore house.

Detectives who helped the cabman carry Homs into the hotel, where he died later, heard only these words, "This is awful."

No clues yet that Homs was assaulted for money. The women say he had vertigo.

NEW YORK'S FIRST GOVERNOR.

The People of the State Today Joined in a Tribute of Respects to the Memory of George Clinton.

(Special to the ARGUS.)

New York, May 28.—There was a brief pause today in the strenuous routine of business and pleasure in the metropolis, while city officials and the populace generally joined in a tribute of respect to the memory of George Clinton, Revolutionary soldier, Vice-President of the United States and first governor of the State of New York.

The remains of Governor Clinton were recently disinterred in Washington, where they rested for nearly a century, and will be reburied Saturday at Kingston, which was the old home of Governor Clinton and the place where he took the oath of office as the first chief executive of the empire State.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for the office of treasurer of Wayne county, subject to the action of the Democratic County Convention.
JOHN E. HILL, JR.

RESPECTS PAID TO MEMORY OF CLINTON.

One of the Heroes of the American Revolution, First Governor of the State of New York and Twice Vice-President of the United States.

(By special wire to THE ARGUS.)

Washington, D. C., May 27.—The body of General Geo. Clinton, one of the heroes of the American Revolution, first Governor of the State of New York and twice Vice-President of the United States, which was exhumed last week, after resting nearly a century in the Congressional Cemetery of Christ church parish, was honored with a notable military and civic escort today on its departure from this city for New York. The body will be reburied next Saturday in Kingston, N. Y., Governor Clinton's native town, and where he took the oath of office as first governor of the State in 1777.

The Marine Band headed the procession as the casket was borne through the streets to the railway station today. A squadron of cavalry, two batteries of field artillery, a large detachment of marines and a number of civic societies made up the procession.

The remains are to reach Jersey City tonight and tomorrow morning they will be transferred to the Battery in the revenue cutter Mohawk and will lie in state in New York City for 24 hours before being taken to Kingston for reburial.

George Clinton, whose memory is being thus honored, died April 20, 1812. He was born in Orange county, N. Y., July 26, 1739. He was a delegate to the second Continental Congress and was elected Governor of New York in April, 1777. He was Vice-President under Jefferson during his second term and continued in that office after Jefferson's retirement and while Madison was President, and died in that office.

The monument that marked the grave here has been taken apart and will be raised in Kingston. It weighs 19 tons, and was erected by the grandchildren of the Governor.

BOY TORTURED BY AWFUL HUMOR

Almost Covered with Eczema—No Night's Rest for Nearly a Year—Feared Lifelong Disfigurement—All Treatments Failed and Limit of Endurance Seemed Near.

PERFECT RECOVERY IS DUE TO CUTICURA

"With the exception of his hands and feet, my son Clyde (thirteen years old) was almost completely covered with eczema. Physicians treated him for nearly a year without helping him any. While they were very kind and did all in their power, yet nothing seemed to relieve him. And I had tried many remedies sent to me by kind friends but they all failed. His head, face, and neck were covered with large scabs which he would rub until they fell off. Then blood and matter would run out and that would be worse. Many a time he looked as if his ears would drop off. Friends coming to see him said that if he got well he would be disfigured for life.

"When it seemed as if he could possibly stand it no longer, I decided to try Cuticura. I bought a cake of Cuticura Soap, a box of Cuticura Ointment, and a bottle of Cuticura Resolvent. I used them in the evening and that was the first night for nearly a year that he slept. This may sound exaggerated to you, but in the morning there was a great change for the better. In about six weeks you could not have told that he had ever had anything wrong with him. I treated him twice a day for six months and at present he has a fine complexion and not a scar on his body. This story may seem overdrawn, but neither words nor pen can describe Clyde's suffering and how he looked. Our leading physician, Dr. recommends the Cuticura Remedies for eczema. Mrs. Algy Cockburn, Shiloh, O., June 11, 1907."

Frequent shampoos with Cuticura Soap and weekly dressings with Cuticura stop falling hair, remove crusts, scales, and dandruff, destroy hair parasites, soothe irritated, itching surfaces, stimulate the hair follicles, supply the roots with nourishment, loosen the scalp skin, and make the hair grow upon a sweet, wholesome, healthy scalp, when all other remedies fail.

Complete External and Internal Treatment for Every Humour of Infants, Children, and Adults consists of Cuticura Soap (25c) to Cleanse the Skin, Cuticura Ointment (50c) to Heal the Skin, and Cuticura Resolvent (50c), (or in the form of Chocolate Coated Pills, 50c per vial of 60) to Purify the Blood.
