that Prosperous Neighborhood

Walter, N. C., Oct. 28.

Mr. Allison Sasser of your city, was a visitor here Sunday, the guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Becton. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Howell of your city were pleasant visitors at Oak Glen last Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. Fred Cox from South Side et Neuse, was here last week visiting her sister, Mrs. Jesse Crocker, and her father Mr. Joshua A. Hines.

Miss Lela Benton, of Princeton, was lending her charms to the home circle of Misses Annie Belle and Cora Rose Saturday night and Sunday.

Mr. Henry Hood from near Mt. Olive spent Saturday night and Sunday here, with Mrs. Heod and the boy, at Mrs. Heod's mother Mrs. M. C. Swin-

Rev. J. M. Carraway filled his regular appointments at Pine Ferest and before the season is much further ad-Ebenezer last Sunday, and preached vanced. to good sized congregations at both places.

Mr. and Mrs. George Davis and children spent Saturday night and Sunday here, where they were visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs William Smith.

A match game of baseball was played at Rosewood academy last Saturday afternoon, between Rosewood and Oakland, resulting in a score of 13 to 9 in favor of Resewood.

Mr. Andrew Gurley and sister, Miss Viola Gurley, from the Buck Swamp section, spent Saturday night and Sunday in our community, the guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Rose.

His many friends will regret to know that Mr. Toby Howell has been quite sick at his home here, for several days. His condition is somewhat improved today, and we hope seen to see him fully restored to health.

Prof. Edgar N. Thorne, of Siler City, principal of Rosewood Academy has arrived and will open school next Wednesday. He is a man of most pleasant address, and is not long in winning the esteem and regards of all and is making a fine impression on the patrons of the school, as one eminently qualified for the work in which he is engaged. The community extends him a most cerdial welcome.

On the circular which is being distributed here and elsewhere through the county the name of "Wm. Smith" appears, and we have been requested to say that it is not Mr. Wm. E. Smith, who lives near Ebenezer, who most of his friends thought, but another man who lives near the stock-law gate. We gladly make the statement for Mr. Smith, as we do not like to see a man accused for another's doings, even if they are known by the same name.

"Aunt" Chelly Edwards died last night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Neal, and will be buried today at 11 a. m. She has been a patient sufferer for several months and her death was demand for cotten goods is increased not unexpected. As long as we can remember she has made her home at Mr. W. H. Neal's, Mrs. Neal being her sister, where she has made many friends who tenderly regarded "Aunt" Chelly, and will miss her warm welcome and the unaffected and genuine kindness of her generous disposition and warm unselfish heart. She was truly a good woman, in whom there was no guile, and has gone to enjoy her reward for a long and faithful service here. She was also a sister of Mr. W. T. Edwards, of Princeton, and besides numerous triends, leaves many relatives who are saddened by her death, though realizing that she had about spent her allotted time on earth, and that "of such is the kingdom of heaven." She was a faithful member of Ebenezer and died in the full triumph of taith.

NEWS FROM FARO.

or Inc.

The farmers in this section are holding their cotton for higher prices. The farmers say that they are only making about one half of a crop.

The farmers in and around Faro are erganizing a Farmers Union, to be held at Faro. They met last Monday night. We hope them success.

We had a protracted meeting at Yelverton's church last week, which was a Rev. Bridges was highly appreciated.

On Oct. 17 Ex-Gov. Aycock delivered an elegant address at Eureka, in which he discussed the issues of the Democratic party. It was a great and interesting talk, and those who turned out to hear him were made stronger and firmer Demecrats.

We see that our government crop reports all agree this season, that the outlook for a big crop is extremely dismanaged to keep prices down by letting prices alone, but all of them are times which indicate that advance in cotton is close at hand and will arrive

COTTON GINNED.

Over Six And a Quarter Millien Bales up to October 18.

Washington, Oct. 26.-The number of bales of cotton ginned up to Oct. 18, totalled 6,283,781 bales, counting round bales as half bales.

Up to same date last year 4,420,248

The amount ginned between Septem ber 25 and October 18, was 3,701,092 as against 2,887,656 same date last year.

THE COTTON MOVEMENT.

In his report for October 15 Col. Henry G. Hester, secretary of the New Orleans Cotton Exchange, shows that the amount of cotton brought into sight during 46 days of the present season was 3,394,925 bales, an increase et 681,133 bales over the same period last year. The exports were 1,141,609 bales, an increase of 411,754 bales. The takings were, by Northern spinners, 272,689 bales, an increase of 118,918 by Southern spinners, 285,525 bales, a decrease of 57,398 bal s.

THE COTTON SITUATION.

The rapid picking of cetton is affectng prices. The dry warm weather not only hastened the maturity of cotton, but it facilitated the picking of the crop, and the cotton belt is today full of cotton bales. In such a tide of bales there is necessarily a great deal of distress cotton, and the marketing of it affects the price of cotton in these days of reduced consumption. As soon as the cotton of those whose obligations compel them to sell is out of the way prices may be bet er, especially if the

as the season advances. In other words, those who can hold back cotton will perhaps seeure later on a satisfactory price. It is reasonably certain that cotten will not ge below 8 cents. The crop is by no means a large one. It seems the part of prudence on the part of those who care to and it assuredly will if the mills reseive orders at all comparable to those of recent years.

The Hains case has reached the demurrer stage. Six more sections of the trial, each occupying as many months as the defendants have meney, are due before the "fail to agree" jury verdict is reached.

It is reported that Tatt is getting jots of cheers in the campaign, which, by the way, are by no means satisfactory substitutes for the votes he needs to pull him through.

(Special to the ARGUS.)

Auburn, N. Y., Oct. 23 .- The strange case of Andrew J. White came up for a hearing today before the Federal Commission. The commission is trying to solve his identity.

White says he is George A. Kimmell, who robbed the bank at Arkansas City, Kansas, in 1898 and disappeared. The insurance company in which Kimmell had $25,000 is trying to preve that he is Kimmell. Kimmell's mother and sister say that he is not Kimmell. The man is now in Auburn prison for a petty crime. He has been in Matteawan asylum.

His case has puzzled New York lawyers, judges and juries for four years.

It may seem difficult to see how Demogratic business man who is still teeling the Republican panic of Octoser, 1937, can reach the conclusion that the election of Mr. Taft is necessary in order to keep off business troubles. Yet that is what he is doing in perhaps every State. He is preferring the party that fathered Dingleyism and has promoted trusts and that gave birth to the October panic to the time-honored party of the people. Outside of such business men, however, the party is remarkably knit together in this campaign. Hoke Smith, Hilary A. Herbert, Judson Harmon and David R. Francis, all members of Mr. Cleveland's cabinet, recently advocated the election of Bryan and Kern. Richard Olney and John G. Cartisle are also supporting the ticket. These six men are the living members of Mr. Cleveland's first and second cabinet, and all are loyal to the ticket.
