Today's Passing Events Boiled Down For Busy Readers.

Raleigh, Nov. 10.—Henry L. Smith, of Varina, this county, committed suicide early this morning by shooting himself with a shot gun. He was agent for the Raleigh and Southport and the Southern Railway companies at that place, and was 23 years old. He was unmarried and lived with his mother. He shot himself in his room at home, and left a note saying he was dissatisfied with life.

Nashville, Nov. 10.—A special session of the grand jury has been called to investigate the killing of Senator Carmack. The preliminary trial will be held today. It is understood that both Coopers will waive examination and be bound over without bail.

New York, Nov. 10.—Pending a decision of the court as to whether he shall be admitted to bail or not Charles W. Morse summoned his lawyers to his cell today to confer with them about a bond. He is confident the court will grant him bail.

St. Louis, Nov. 10.—Dr. David D. Thompson, the Chicago author and editor, died here this morning from an automobile accident last night. He was here to attend the Methodist bishops' conference. He was a leader in church circles.

Freidrichshafen, Nov. 10.—Emperor William, accompanied by Count Zepelin, is on a balloon trip today. The ascent was made at 2 o'clock, and 20,000 people watched the giant gas bag start on its journey across Lake Constance.

New York, Nov. 9 The trial of J. J. Kinney, accessory to the murder of William E. Annis, was today set for Dec. 14 by Justice A. Spinnell, sitting in Supreme Court at Flushing.

Chattanooga, Nov. 9.—During last night four persons, who had been assaulted by thugs, were found unconscious in the city. One has since died. The victims had been both assaulted and robbed.

Vancouver, B. C., Nov. 9.—Two motorists were killed and 20 passengers injured in a trolley collision here today. The accident was caused by the negligence of a switchman who has disappeared.

Laparte, Nov. 9.—The case against Roy Lamphere for the murder of Belle Guinness and three children was called today. Six of the regular jury panel were excused, because they had said they would not see Mrs. Guinness is still living. It seems as if the State will have a hard time in securing a jury.

Washington, Nov. 9.—Secretary Elliot today formally dedicated the army war college. The college has been in operation for more than a year but had never been formally dedicated. The attendance was a distinguished one, including diplomats from nearly every country of the world, as well as Washington officials.

Washington, Nov. 9.—King Edward is 67 years old today. President Roosevelt sent him a congratulatory message.

BRYAN TO TAFT

Members Extend Ohio Wan Best Wishes For The Success of His Administration—President-Elect Addressed Women.

(Special to the Argus.)

Cincinnati, O., Nov. 6.—"Please accept congratulations and best wishes for the success of your administration." "W. J. BRYAN."

"I thank you sincerely for your cordial and courteous telegram of congratulations and good wishes."

"WILLIAM H. TAFT."

These messages were yesterday exchanged between Lincoln, Neb., and Cincinnati. The message from Mr. Bryan came while Judge Taft was addressing the general conference of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church. He received the message on his return to his residence and answered it at once. In his address to the women Judge Taft gave an enthusiastic commendation of foreign mission work. His experience in the far east, he said, had taught him the value of this work in uplifting those people, and he commented upon the elating effect of christianity upon these women. In the Philippines, Judge Taft asserted, the present degree of success in civilization and government was made possible through the influence of Christianity.

THE PASSING OF MOTHER.

Her Patient, Cheerful Face, Her Obsolete Notions, Her Thrift, Her Folded Hands When Resting and Her Genuine Piety Have all Gone Out.

Life. Where is the old-fashioned mother, who used to tuck us up in bed at night after we had said our prayers; who spanked us when we needed it, and then cried with us over the pain; whose charity for our faults was infinite, and who, as we came up more and more into a consciousness of life, was an unflinching receptacle for all our troubles?

Some of her is on an excursion to California; some of her is in Europe. Some is attending an afternoon session at the Woman's Club; some is besieging a modern intelligence office; some is drinking in the odor of cylinder oil at 40 miles an hour, and some is playing bridge.

Mother, while she lasted, was a good thing, but the necessity for her is now past. Her patient, cheerful face, her obsolete notions, her thrift, her folded hands when resting and her genuine piety have all gone out.

We realize now our mistake. She meant well, but she didn't know. We think of her with that kindness, that hearty sympathy, that broad-minded tolerance which we are ever ready to accord to sincerity, even though it is misplaced. And then it must be remembered that at the time she existed there was in reality a necessity for some one like her. We didn't know so much then as we do now. We were more or less dependent on mother, as crude as she was. Now, however, that we are educated so early, and there is so much enlightened method about everything, we really don't need help from home. The newly born infant will soon be able to rise from his crib and go himself to the nearest hospital, where he will have his tonsils removed, be properly vaccinated and inoculated with the latest serums, and go back to the push button and radiator all ready for business.

"CAROLINA."

Fine Attraction at Messenger Opera House Saturday Night.

One of the daintiest, dearest, most bewitching little pieces of femininity is "Carolina," a brand new comedy-drama of the Sunny South.

The play is fresh from the pen of Mr. E. R. Morton, under whose personal supervision it has been staged.

The story is bristling with surprises, and each curtain falls upon an audience astonished at the outcome and eager to see how the characters solve the problem.

Of course love triumphs eventually in spite of all obstacles and all depart amidst merry bursts of laughter.

No one who enjoys an evening of pure sentiment and unalloyed pleasure, should fail to see "Carolina," which will be with us on November 14th, at the Messenger Opera House.

The next step to be taken by the Government's attorney General Bonaparte will be to apply for a writ of certiorari in the Supreme Court in

SUDDEN DEATH

AT FREMONT.

Judge E. L. Becton Passed Away Saturday. Funeral Sunday.

Fremont, N. C., Nov. 9.—A very unexpected death occurred here about 3 o'clock Saturday morning. Mr. E. L. Becton had been teaching a public school a few miles from town, and on last Wednesday left his school and died as above stated.

The remains were interred in the cemetery here at 11 a. m., Rev. Bridges, pastor of the Methodist church, conducting the services. There was a large concourse of people present and many were the floral offerings.

Squire Becton was a highly respected citizen, and had a large connection and a wide circle of friends. He had been a public school teacher for many years, and was a magistrate at the time of his death. He was 54 years old. The widow and six children are left. Hugh, one of his sons, lives in New York, but was present at the funeral.

Judge Becton, as he was familiarly called, left two brothers and several sisters living in this county. Mrs. O. L. Yelverton, of this place, being his sister. He was held in high esteem by our people and the bereaved family have the sympathy of all.

FOOT BALL

Goldsboro wins out From New Bern by a Score of 16 to 0.

The New Bern High School team, large and sturdy-looking fellows, came up here Saturday morning after the "scalp" of our High School team, only to return that afternoon carrying with them the burden of an overwhelming defeat, by score of 16 to 0 against them, and the additional feeling that they were clearly out-classed by our splendid team of pigskin passers.

From the very first to the last of the game they were unable to advance the ball, and were equally unable to stop the steady gains through their line and around their ends, that Aycock, Rackley, Daniels and others were making. "Fatty" Dortch, our big centre, said: "It was not even a practice game for us—I just pushed my man back every time, and didn't even get tired."

Well, when Gaston Dortch, with all that fat to "tote" don't get tired, it certainly must be easy.

Every man on the team showed great improvement over the game with Wilmington. Not a fumble was made in Saturday's game.

We are putting up a game now that deserves better patronage than we are getting. The attendance Saturday was very small. Hereafter the games will, if possible, be played on some other day instead of Saturday, and we shall expect a much larger attendance.

AN SCROFULA INHERITANCE OF DISEASE AND SUFFERING

No truth is more forcibly manifested in physical life than the old saying "like begets like;" for just as the offspring of healthy ancestry are blessed with pure, rich blood, insuring health and strength, so the children of blood tainted parentage inherit a polluted circulation to burden their existence with disease and suffering. Swollen glands about the neck, brittle bones, weak eyes, pale, waxy complexions, running sores and ulcers and general poor health, are the usual ways in which Scrofula is manifested. In some cases the blood is so filled with the scrofulous germs and tubercular matter that from birth life is made miserable with suffering. Others who inherit the disease succeed in holding the trouble in check during young, vigorous life, but when the system has begun to weaken and lose its natural vitality, and especially after a spell of sickness, the ravages of the disease will commence, and in a great many cases terminate in Consumption. S. S. S. is the very best treatment for Scrofula. It renovates the entire circulation and drives out the scrofulous and tubercular deposits. S. S. S. is the greatest of all blood purifiers, and it not only goes to the very bottom of the trouble and removes the cause and cures the disease, but it supplies the weak, anemic blood with the healthful properties it is in need of. S. S. S. is made entirely of healing, cleansing roots, herbs and barks, and is an absolutely safe remedy for young or old. Book of the blood and any medical advice about Scrofula given free of charge.
