It seems to us that the person who shall read his presentment must realize how unwise the people of this esection should prove themselves to be should they not do all within their power to encourage the investor in railways and to further discourage those here, who sare inclined to be hostile to them.

Mr. Odell says that the roads in the South should be encouraged to lower their grades, double their Stracks and make betterments requiring the ex penditures within the next ten years of from one billion to two billions of dollars, and he shows us; clearly that unless we shall do this we shall cause the South to lag behind other sections instead of forginglahead as we should without great natural advantages.

Another paper is by W. J. Meany, o New York, an expert statistican and torm. historian. Mr. Meanymamong other matters treats of the construction of the Virginia Railway, the Carolinat Clinchfield and Ohio Railway and the Florida East Coast Railway. He says that these works rank with the highest achievements in American, Railroad engineering and geonstruction and shows how they may be expected to increase our wealth.

The other paper is by Charles E. Hellier, or Boston, president of the Big Sandy Company which owns 130,000 acres of coal lands in Eastern Kentucky. He also writes in a highly informing and interesting manner of the Virginian and Carolina, Clinchfield and Ohio Railways, saying that the former, which will evidently the a great trunk line to the West, must further develop Nortolk as a port of domestic and toreign commerce.

The writer says that the Carolina, Clinchfield and Ohio, through junction with the Chesapeake and Ohio at Elkhorn, Ky., will be a great short line from the Middle West to the sea at Charleston and Wilmington; that t will be the best passenger route to Cuba from the West and points out how it Of those corputies in your blood that shall be able to deliver coal in the manutacturing sections of the Carolinas and thereabouts at extremely low prices, just as the Virginian shall deliver it at Norfolk.

session eighteen hundred and ninety nine, be and the same is hereby reenacted in so far as it effected Wayne county. Section 3. That this act shall be enforced trom and atter its ratification. This bill if enacted into a law will not increase the fees of the Register of Deeds, but as a matter of fact will reduce them.

The bill applies only to short-form agricultural lienes and chattel mortgages combined. The tees allowed the Register of Deeds and Clerk of Court under the exciting law for the two forms in general use in our county is thirty cents to the Register of Deeds and ten cents to the Clerk of Court for one form and eighty cents to the Register of Deeds and twenty five cents to the Clerk of the Court for the other

The bill introduced by me provides that the fees on the particular forms o mortgages shall be thirty cents to the Register of Deeds and ten cents to the Clerk of the Court for the one form, and filty cents to the Register of Deeds and ten cents to the Clerk of the Court for the other form. I will say further, that I am advised that the form of agricultural lien and chattel mortgage combined used by nine-tenths of our people is the form which under the present law the Register of Deeds could charge eighty cents annd Clerk of the Court twenty-five cents; but this form was not brought forward in the Revisal and the purpose of the bill to e enact Chapter Seventeen of the Public Laws of 1899, which embodies the form used by the great majority of our people and provides that fees on same be thirty cents for the Register of Deeds and ten cents to the Clerk of the Clerk. Respectfully,

J. LANGHORN BARHAM.
