

Goldsboro Messenger.

GOLDSBORO, N. C.

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 13, 1879

See the new advertisement of Dr. J. F. Miller.

JAS. R. HINSON, charged by the coroner's jury with the killing of Jacob Smith, is still at large.

The County Executive Committee will meet at the Court-house at 11 o'clock to a full attendance is desired.

The County Board of Education will meet in the Court-house on Tuesday next. See official notice elsewhere.

A BLIND lady, a member of the society of friends, has been conducting a series of interesting meetings at Nahanta meeting-house in this county.

DELINQUENT tax-payers will find it to their interest to heed the last call of Mr. E. A. Wright, town tax collector, published in this paper.

The Senate bill making it a penal offence to carry concealed weapons, was passed Thursday. The fine is not more than $50 or thirty days imprisonment.

We are pleased to see in town, and in good health, our old friend, Captain W. C. Bryan, formerly a well-known citizen of this county, but now a resident of Pamlico county.

The enterprising firm of B. M. Privett & Co., now offer the largest stock of goods ever offered in Goldsboro. Country dealers and farmers buying supplies, will find it to their interest to give them a call.

ST. VALENTINE'S DAY is once more upon us, and to-morrow valentine mis- sives of every sort will fly around house promiscuously. A good supply of them may be found at the MESSENGER book store.

The attention of our readers is directed to the new advertisement of Mr. I. B. Fonville, announcing that his stock is complete and always fresh. "Quick sales and small profits" is Mr. Fonville's motto and he conducts his business on that line.

In Petersburg, Va., a most lively discussion has been going on between Bishop Keane, of the Roman Catholic Church, and Dr. Witherspoon of the Presbyterian. As is usual in such a discussion, the discussing parties do not enjoy the most harmonious understanding of each other.

REV. E. A. YEATES, D. D., of the N. C. Conference, for several years the beloved Presiding Elder of the Newbern District, now pastor of the Front Street Church, Wilmington, was in town a few moments yesterday, on his way to Raleigh, looking well and glad to greet a number of his friends here.

MISS IDA FAIT, about 44 years old, was conveyed to the Poor-house last week, and her condition is truly a sad one. She has recently become insane, and at times is so violent that she requires constant watching to prevent her from harming herself. We hope that our county authorities may be able to procure her speedy admittance to the asylum.

In Congress, on Tuesday, the 4th inst., ex-Gov. Brogden presented the memorial of more than 1,000 citizens of Craven and adjoining counties, praying Congress to grant an appropriation for the improvement of Neuse and Trent rivers. Gov. Brogden supported the petitions in a very patriotic speech, which, we regret, we have not the space to-day to lay before our readers.

During the recent cold spell, a negro boy was found frozen to death on the road in Pikeville township. His name was Emus Coley. Dr. Kirby held an inquest, and the jury rendered a verdict accordingly. The boy was subject to fits. There were evidences also that he had been drinking, and he must have fallen on the roadside in a helpless condition, where he lay during the night and froze to death.

The Washington Press learns that some day last week, Mr. Ed. Laughinghouse, of Swift Creek, in Pitt county, was so unfortunate as to lose his two-story dwelling by fire. Mr. Laughinghouse had been considering the propriety of having his house insured, but before effecting it, it was consumed. We also learn that at about the same time Mr. J. J. Nobles, of Marlboro, Pitt county, had two houses burned; he, however, was insured.

OUR townsman, Mr. Stephen H. Denmark, has taken the Goldsboro agency for the sale of B. D. Sea Fowl guano and Bradley's super phosphate of lime. These well-known brands stand in the lead of the commercial fertilizers, and deservingly. The analysis made recently at Chapel Hill Experiment Station, puts the commercial value of the B. D. Sea Fowl at $36.64 per ton, while the selling price is only $35. The super-phosphate is also rated at 26 cents per ton more than the selling price.

The Raleigh Friend of Temperance, of a recent date, says: "Mr. L. M., the faithful and efficient Representative from Duplin, has introduced a bill in the House asking for convict labor to drain Angola Bay, which lies in Duplin and Pender counties, and which covers 70,000 acres of the public lands. No money is asked for, but simply a few of the convicts with which to do the work. If drained, these lands would be worth tens of thousands of dollars to the school fund of North Carolina, as they would at once come into the market at high prices.

We regret to see that the river and harbor appropriation bill, as concluded by the committee at Washington, recommends only $15,000 for the Neuse. We hope Senator Ransom may again be able to do for us as he did last session, and succeed in having the amount doubled, otherwise there is danger that the good work will be interrupted for the lack of funds. The committee recommends for the Cape Fear river, $25,000; Neuse, $15,000; French Broad, $5,000; North Landing, $25,000; Norfolk harbor gets $50,000; Mississippi gets $50,000; Charleston harbor, $100,000. The total appropriation is $5,786,000.

Paper Window Shades, cheaper than ever; also, Furniture of every description, at very low prices, at Puchler & Kern's Furniture Store.

MR. JAMES H. FOYLES, mailing clerk of the MESSENGER in 1871, and who left for Texas about six years ago, after trying that State for that length of time, came to the conclusion that there were no better lands or fairer prospects for an industrious man to make a fortune than was afforded in the old North State, and last week he passed here on a wagon en route for Beaufort county, having wagoned his family all the way from Texas. He says that thousands of people have emigrated from other States into Texas that would now be glad to get back to their old tramping grounds. We wish friend James God speed on his return to the old North State.

The Newbern Nutshell learns that one day last week a colored woman named Pollock, living near Trenton, Jones county, went out to get some wood, leaving her three small children in the house, near a large fire burning on the hearth, and on her return, shortly afterwards, she found the remains of her oldest child, a daughter of about 10 years, lying out in the yard, burned almost beyond recognition. It is supposed her clothing were ignited at the hearth, and she rushed out in the yard to call for assistance, when the breeze fanned the flame and consumed her clothing almost instantly.

Two negroes named Leath and Brown, who were getting out shingles near Mr. Macon Fosse's place, in Jones county, took a hankering for fresh meat last week, and went for one of Mr. Fosse's fine porkers. Mr. Fosse missed his hog, tracked the thieves to Leath and Brown's camp and, with Sheriff Smith, made a tour of inspection, when a portion of the hog was found concealed under water near the negroes' camp. Other evidences of their guilt being found, they were arrested and committed to jail to await next term of Jones Court.

DUPLIN COUNTY.

Death of The Late Joel Loftin and Capt. Knight—Sickness—Preparation for Spring—Schools—The Legislature—No Increase of Jurisdiction Wanted, &c.

[From Our Regular Correspondent.] The last two weeks have been sad days to many of our citizens. Death has taken from our midst some of our best and noblest. Mrs. Mary J. Grimes, of Kennansville, a lady of rare qualities in every respect, who, through a wife and the mother of three little children, devoted her time to the training of the young in the school room to the entire acceptance of her numerous patrons and friends, and whose life was a shining exemplification of the holy religion she professed in her devotion to the Church and to the cause of virtue and benevolence, died on the 1st inst., of typhoid pneumonia. She had been a member of the Baptist Church for the greater part of her life. It is a great bereavement to the Church and to the community, but inexpressibly great to her husband and sweet little children. Heaven comfort and sustain them!

On the 2d inst., the Bear Marsh community was called upon to mourn, with its bereaved family, the loss of Joel Loftin, Esq., who died in his bed that morning of heart disease. It is no fulsome eulogy to say that one of the noblest, the best, the most generous and most useful has fallen. He was one of nature's memorial—an honest, just man—an humble devoted Christian gentleman. Our entire county mourns the sad bereavement. He had for many years been a member of a Baptist Church, and his family have the consolation which the Gospel gives. He will be sadly missed by his Church, by the community, by the poor of the neighborhood, and this county, which he has served publicly as well as privately.

In this connection we cannot fail to say how deeply our people, and particularly along the railroad, mourn with your community, the death of Captain Knight, whom we all respected, admired and loved. In him, the public, as well as the Railroad Company, has suffered an irreparable loss. Captain Knight was a true gentleman, a noble and faithful man, and a Christian, we believe.

Severe colds prevail to an alarming extent, some cases developing into pneumonia. There is some activity at some of our depots on the railroad in the gardening and trucking business.

The school at Warsaw is receiving encouraging patronage. There are eleven boarders in the institution and forty-five pupils in attendance. The teachers are doing faithful work, and giving entire satisfaction. Other students are expected. The town has received acquisition in the family of Kedar Bryan, Esq., whose excellent lady knows how to keep a household at that point for a long time. He has taken the old hotel property, and will doubtless inform the public of his intentions. The merchants are displaying more enterprise, and they say patronage is increasing. Altogether, the prospects for the place are decidedly brighter than for years past. There is no reason why this should not be one of the most thriving and prosperous villages on the railroad south of Goldsboro. It is in the midst of a good farming section and the people of the surrounding country are intelligent and prosperous.

Section (th) of the Legislature has been in session thirty days, and though a great deal has been done, yet much that is most needed remains to be done. While some salaries and fees ought to be reduced, there are others which will not bear any reduction. Every Democratic Legislature has acted in the interests of the people by reducing such expenses as it was thought would best bear reduction, consequently the present General Assembly is only moving on the old Democratic line in this matter, but no hue and cry or desire for popularity should lead our party to such an extent in this matter as to lower the dignity of the Commonwealth or to injure the public service. The salaries of our Judges will bear no reduction, nor do our people wish their Chief Magistrate to hold his high office without a sufficient salary to maintain its dignity. Our party has never been derelict in this matter, and all the people desire its reform and re- trenchment in these offices which will not suffer detriment thereby.

One of the most vital matters, if not that of most importance, pertains to the administration of justice. It is very certain that the move to enlarge the jurisdiction of Justice of the Peace is a great mistake. Instead of doing so, their jurisdiction ought to be curtailed—every one of any experience must admit this. Yet, something ought to be done. What is best? Will the Inferior Courts meet the demands? We think not. One of our best and purest Judges told your correspondent recently that the Superior Courts had as much criminal matters on their dockets in those counties in which the Inferior Courts were held as in those in which no such courts were held. For whose benefit then are these Inferior Courts held? Certainly not for that of the people. The Superior Courts still have the same jurisdiction and as much criminal matters, and there is the same clashing of jurisdiction with civil cases as without them. Will the adoption of the old County Courts meet the requirements of the case? We think not. It would still be the same thing. We need a separation of the criminal and civil jurisdictions, so there will be no clashing of interests, and civil suitors may have an opportunity of having their cases tried without ruining them with costs, a large portion of which is accumulated, while they are waiting from day to day to see when the State docket will be over. It may be that the Inferior Court law may be so amended as to meet the case. The several county governments ought, at least, to have the privilege of creating a court for such counties as desire it of exclusive criminal jurisdiction, with a competent Judge chosen from that or any adjoining county, at a small salary, with appeals only directly to the Supreme Court, and all jurisdiction to try and determine all criminal matters ought to be taken from Justices of the Peace and given to it; and all criminal jurisdiction taken from the Superior Courts in those counties adopting such courts, so that they will try and determine only civil issues. The administration of justice would be much more speedy and certain, and crime thereby prevented, and it would be much more economical. If a competent lawyer could not be found in any county to hold such a court in that county, one could be obtained from a neighboring county at a small salary, and he could still practice in all other courts, and do any other county. This much at least could be done, if it is thought inexpedient to take all criminal jurisdiction away from Superior Courts and create circuits of exclusive criminal jurisdiction. Notwithstanding the opinion of your correspondent Z., expressed in a recent issue, that we are mistaken in our idea that Inferior Courts are sham, and the old County Courts humbugs, we still have the same opinion. That those counties which adopted them have not abolished them, we think, not because of their efficiency, but because something is confessedly needed and nothing better is offered. As to the efficiency of Judge—manly as a presiding Judge—we make no question, but even in his court, the public interests cannot be effectually served because of defects of the system. Make his court such as we have suggested, and Craven county will be blessed with the speedy, certain and effectual administration of justice in all its departments at a great saving to the citizens, and every other county in the State which desires can have the same.

DR. CROSS, Presiding Elder of the Newbern District, M. E. Church, announces the following appointments for his second round: March 1—2, Wilson. 3—4, Swift Creek. 5—6, Newbern. 7—8, Carteret at Adams' Creek. 9—10, Neuse, at Smith's Creek. 11—12, Beaufort. 13—14, Straits. 15—16, Jones, at Hopewell. 17—18, Craven, at Lane's Chapel. 19—20, Kingston. 21—22, Snow Hill. 23—24, LaGrange. 25—26, Goldsboro. 27—28, Mt. Olive. 29—30, Wayne.

BISHOP LYMAN, of the Episcopal Church, announces the following appointments for the sections in which the MESSENGER largely circulates: March 14, Friday, LaGrange. 15, Saturday, Kingston. 16, Sunday, Holy Innocents, Lenoir county. March 20, Thursday, Swift Creek Bridge. March 21, Friday, Beaufort. 22, Sunday, Newbern. 23, Tuesday, Stoneville. 24, Thursday, Snow Hill. 25, Friday, Marlboro. 26, Sunday, St. John's Pitt county. April 1, Tuesday, Durham's Creek. 2, P. M., Aurora. 3, Wednesday, South Creek. 4, Friday, Zion Church, Beaufort county. 5, Saturday, Bath. 6, Sunday, Pantego. 7, Tuesday, Makeyle's Hide county. 8, Tuesday, P. M., Swan Quarter Hyde county. April 9, Wednesday, Fairfield, Hyde county. April 10, Thursday, St. George's, Hyde county. April 13, Easter Day, Washington. 15, Tuesday, Trinity Church, Beaufort county. April 17, Thursday, Greenville.

If your Baby is restless while teething, get Dr. Bull's Baby Syrup; a dose of it will relieve the little sufferer at once. Only 25 cents a bottle.

Powell's well known Fertilizer may be bought of Dr. J. D. Spicer, at $12.00 per ton and freight added, for cash, or $15.00 if paid in the Fall. feb10-1f

An extra fine 4-Button Ladies' Kid Glove, at $1.25, at STROUSE'S.

Ladies will find the new style Bon Ton visiting Cards and Boxed Papers at Kirby & Hill's Drug Store.

A full line of Black Alpaca and Cashmere always to be found at STROUSE'S.

Call and see the new improved Light-running Sewing Machine, at M. E. CASTEE & Co.'s.

Are Savings Banks Secure? This is a question of vital importance to the industrial thrif of our country; and while our legislators are pondering the question, we would earnestly advise every one to take Hall's Balsam for Coughs and Colds. Warranted to cure.

Seed Rice! Cape Fear "Golden Chaff." And Large White Seed Rice can be obtained by applying to E. A. KEITH, Wholesale and Retail Dealer in Rice, at Col. J. J. Baker's or Dr. Kirby & Hill's stores. Goldsboro, Jan. 9, '79.-1m

R. M. FREEMAN & Co. have just received 100 sacks of the celebrated Fine Island Guano, which is highly recommended as a truck fertilizer. feb4

MARRIED. At the residence of Jos. Kinney, February 9, 1879, by the Rev. J. L. Britt, Mr. WILLIAM MURRILL, son of Sheriff E. Murrill, of Onslow, to Miss ADDIE KINNEY, daughter of J. H. Kinney. May their days be full of joy and as placid as the waters of the beautiful Catherine Lake when she waits over her bosom the pleasant breeze of a beautiful Spring morning. NEMO.

At the residence of the bride's mother in Pamlico county, Feb. 9, 1879, by Rev. A. A. Hooker, Mr. JOHN E. DAVIS, of Wayne, to Miss ABIGAIL J. VENTERS. [We offer the happy couple our congratulations.—Ed. MESSENGER.]

OBITUARY. Departed this life suddenly, of Apoplexy on the morning of 10th inst., Mrs. TRIZA UZZELL, widow of Wm. Uzzell, in the 57th year of her life. Though the dark angel came at midnight and with little or no premonition of his dire approach, yet he found her ready to meet him, and burning with ready to obey his dread summons.

Mrs. Uzzell was a faithful member of the Primitive Baptist Church and her daily walk and conversation were conformable to her outward profession. The writer of this feeble tribute to her worth and memory has seen her much in the afflictions of her family, as also on her own person; and is a simple justice to her character to say that in all the relations of life as wife, mother and friend she discharged her duties faithfully and illustrated the beauty and strength of her Christian character.

Mrs. Uzzell was a member of the Primitive Baptist Church and her daily walk and conversation were conformable to her outward profession. The writer of this feeble tribute to her worth and memory has seen her much in the afflictions of her family, as also on her own person; and is a simple justice to her character to say that in all the relations of life as wife, mother and friend she discharged her duties faithfully and illustrated the beauty and strength of her Christian character.

Mrs. Uzzell was a member of the Primitive Baptist Church and her daily walk and conversation were conformable to her outward profession. The writer of this feeble tribute to her worth and memory has seen her much in the afflictions of her family, as also on her own person; and is a simple justice to her character to say that in all the relations of life as wife, mother and friend she discharged her duties faithfully and illustrated the beauty and strength of her Christian character.

Mrs. Uzzell was a member of the Primitive Baptist Church and her daily walk and conversation were conformable to her outward profession. The writer of this feeble tribute to her worth and memory has seen her much in the afflictions of her family, as also on her own person; and is a simple justice to her character to say that in all the relations of life as wife, mother and friend she discharged her duties faithfully and illustrated the beauty and strength of her Christian character.

Mrs. Uzzell was a member of the Primitive Baptist Church and her daily walk and conversation were conformable to her outward profession. The writer of this feeble tribute to her worth and memory has seen her much in the afflictions of her family, as also on her own person; and is a simple justice to her character to say that in all the relations of life as wife, mother and friend she discharged her duties faithfully and illustrated the beauty and strength of her Christian character.

Mrs. Uzzell was a member of the Primitive Baptist Church and her daily walk and conversation were conformable to her outward profession. The writer of this feeble tribute to her worth and memory has seen her much in the afflictions of her family, as also on her own person; and is a simple justice to her character to say that in all the relations of life as wife, mother and friend she discharged her duties faithfully and illustrated the beauty and strength of her Christian character.

Mrs. Uzzell was a member of the Primitive Baptist Church and her daily walk and conversation were conformable to her outward profession. The writer of this feeble tribute to her worth and memory has seen her much in the afflictions of her family, as also on her own person; and is a simple justice to her character to say that in all the relations of life as wife, mother and friend she discharged her duties faithfully and illustrated the beauty and strength of her Christian character.

Mrs. Uzzell was a member of the Primitive Baptist Church and her daily walk and conversation were conformable to her outward profession. The writer of this feeble tribute to her worth and memory has seen her much in the afflictions of her family, as also on her own person; and is a simple justice to her character to say that in all the relations of life as wife, mother and friend she discharged her duties faithfully and illustrated the beauty and strength of her Christian character.

Mrs. Uzzell was a member of the Primitive Baptist Church and her daily walk and conversation were conformable to her outward profession. The writer of this feeble tribute to her worth and memory has seen her much in the afflictions of her family, as also on her own person; and is a simple justice to her character to say that in all the relations of life as wife, mother and friend she discharged her duties faithfully and illustrated the beauty and strength of her Christian character.

Mrs. Uzzell was a member of the Primitive Baptist Church and her daily walk and conversation were conformable to her outward profession. The writer of this feeble tribute to her worth and memory has seen her much in the afflictions of her family, as also on her own person; and is a simple justice to her character to say that in all the relations of life as wife, mother and friend she discharged her duties faithfully and illustrated the beauty and strength of her Christian character.

Mrs. Uzzell was a member of the Primitive Baptist Church and her daily walk and conversation were conformable to her outward profession. The writer of this feeble tribute to her worth and memory has seen her much in the afflictions of her family, as also on her own person; and is a simple justice to her character to say that in all the relations of life as wife, mother and friend she discharged her duties faithfully and illustrated the beauty and strength of her Christian character.

Mrs. Uzzell was a member of the Primitive Baptist Church and her daily walk and conversation were conformable to her outward profession. The writer of this feeble tribute to her worth and memory has seen her much in the afflictions of her family, as also on her own person; and is a simple justice to her character to say that in all the relations of life as wife, mother and friend she discharged her duties faithfully and illustrated the beauty and strength of her Christian character.

Mrs. Uzzell was a member of the Primitive Baptist Church and her daily walk and conversation were conformable to her outward profession. The writer of this feeble tribute to her worth and memory has seen her much in the afflictions of her family, as also on her own person; and is a simple justice to her character to say that in all the relations of life as wife, mother and friend she discharged her duties faithfully and illustrated the beauty and strength of her Christian character.

Mrs. Uzzell was a member of the Primitive Baptist Church and her daily walk and conversation were conformable to her outward profession. The writer of this feeble tribute to her worth and memory has seen her much in the afflictions of her family, as also on her own person; and is a simple justice to her character to say that in all the relations of life as wife, mother and friend she discharged her duties faithfully and illustrated the beauty and strength of her Christian character.

Mrs. Uzzell was a member of the Primitive Baptist Church and her daily walk and conversation were conformable to her outward profession. The writer of this feeble tribute to her worth and memory has seen her much in the afflictions of her family, as also on her own person; and is a simple justice to her character to say that in all the relations of life as wife, mother and friend she discharged her duties faithfully and illustrated the beauty and strength of her Christian character.

Mrs. Uzzell was a member of the Primitive Baptist Church and her daily walk and conversation were conformable to her outward profession. The writer of this feeble tribute to her worth and memory has seen her much in the afflictions of her family, as also on her own person; and is a simple justice to her character to say that in all the relations of life as wife, mother and friend she discharged her duties faithfully and illustrated the beauty and strength of her Christian character.

Mrs. Uzzell was a member of the Primitive Baptist Church and her daily walk and conversation were conformable to her outward profession. The writer of this feeble tribute to her worth and memory has seen her much in the afflictions of her family, as also on her own person; and is a simple justice to her character to say that in all the relations of life as wife, mother and friend she discharged her duties faithfully and illustrated the beauty and strength of her Christian character.

Mrs. Uzzell was a member of the Primitive Baptist Church and her daily walk and conversation were conformable to her outward profession. The writer of this feeble tribute to her worth and memory has seen her much in the afflictions of her family, as also on her own person; and is a simple justice to her character to say that in all the relations of life as wife, mother and friend she discharged her duties faithfully and illustrated the beauty and strength of her Christian character.

Mrs. Uzzell was a member of the Primitive Baptist Church and her daily walk and conversation were conformable to her outward profession. The writer of this feeble tribute to her worth and memory has seen her much in the afflictions of her family, as also on her own person; and is a simple justice to her character to say that in all the relations of life as wife, mother and friend she discharged her duties faithfully and illustrated the beauty and strength of her Christian character.

Mrs. Uzzell was a member of the Primitive Baptist Church and her daily walk and conversation were conformable to her outward profession. The writer of this feeble tribute to her worth and memory has seen her much in the afflictions of her family, as also on her own person; and is a simple justice to her character to say that in all the relations of life as wife, mother and friend she discharged her duties faithfully and illustrated the beauty and strength of her Christian character.

MISCELLANEOUS. HAVING purchased all the patterns and the patterns belonging to the Patterson Iron Works, we have now on hand a large stock of patterns for all the machinery that may be desired, and with such facilities for making and repairing patterns as to promise the same at short notice and low prices. Stationary and Portable Engines, &c. feb4

TO FARMERS. Who intend to use "Home made Fertilizers" this year, offer great inducements in the purchase of the Chemicals necessary for their manufacture. We have on hand a large stock of all the ingredients of which they are composed, and have several formulas for making them, and will find it to their advantage to see my prices. feb4

Also, a full stock of Garden Seeds, including the entire crop of the popular FAIRCLOTH COLLARD SEED. feb28-1f J. D. SPIGEE.

KIRBY & HILL, Wholesale and Retail Druggists & APOTHECARIES. Are daily adding to their already large stock of Pure Drugs and Medicines, by purchasing direct from the manufacturers of the Highest Standard, they are enabled to offer to the public the purest Medicines from first hands and at prices as low as such goods can be sold. They also keep a full line of Toilet Articles! feb4

Binford, Loeb & Co., Importers of Salt, Molasses, &c., and Wholesale Grocers, WILMINGTON, N. C. Keep always in stock, Sugars, Coffee, Flour, N. C. Bacon, D. S. Sides, and all light goods kept by first class grocers. March 21, '79-1f

THE NEW YORK SUN FOR 1879. The Sun will be printed every day during the year to come. Its purpose and method will be the same as in the past, to present all the news in a readable shape, and to tell the truth though the heavens fall. The Sun has been, and will continue to be independent every day, and will not be influenced by the truth and its own convictions of duty. The Sun has been, and will continue to be independent every day, and will not be influenced by the truth and its own convictions of duty.

THE SUN was born, and will continue to be independent every day, and will not be influenced by the truth and its own convictions of duty. The Sun has been, and will continue to be independent every day, and will not be influenced by the truth and its own convictions of duty.

THE SUN was born, and will continue to be independent every day, and will not be influenced by the truth and its own convictions of duty. The Sun has been, and will continue to be independent every day, and will not be influenced by the truth and its own convictions of duty.

THE SUN was born, and will continue to be independent every day, and will not be influenced by the truth and its own convictions of duty. The Sun has been, and will continue to be independent every day, and will not be influenced by the truth and its own convictions of duty.

THE SUN was born, and will continue to be independent every day, and will not be influenced by the truth and its own convictions of duty. The Sun has been, and will continue to be independent every day, and will not be influenced by the truth and its own convictions of duty.

THE SUN was born, and will continue to be independent every day, and will not be influenced by the truth and its own convictions of duty. The Sun has been, and will continue to be independent every day, and will not be influenced by the truth and its own convictions of duty.

THE SUN was born, and will continue to be independent every day, and will not be influenced by the truth and its own convictions of duty. The Sun has been, and will continue to be independent every day, and will not be influenced by the truth and its own convictions of duty.

THE SUN was born, and will continue to be independent every day, and will not be influenced by the truth and its own convictions of duty. The Sun has been, and will continue to be independent every day, and will not be influenced by the truth and its own convictions of duty.

THE SUN was born, and will continue to be independent every day, and will not be influenced by the truth and its own convictions of duty. The Sun has been, and will continue to be independent every day, and will not be influenced by the truth and its own convictions of duty.

THE SUN was born, and will continue to be independent every day, and will not be influenced by the truth and its own convictions of duty. The Sun has been, and will continue to be independent every day, and will not be influenced by the truth and its own convictions of duty.

THE SUN was born, and will continue to be independent every day, and will not be influenced by the truth and its own convictions of duty. The Sun has been, and will continue to be independent every day, and will not be influenced by the truth and its own convictions of duty.

THE SUN was born, and will continue to be independent every day, and will not be influenced by the truth and its own convictions of duty. The Sun has been, and will continue to be independent every day, and will not be influenced by the truth and its own convictions of duty.

THE SUN was born, and will continue to be independent every day, and will not be influenced by the truth and its own convictions of duty. The Sun has been, and will continue to be independent every day, and will not be influenced by the truth and its own convictions of duty.

THE SUN was born, and will continue to be independent every day, and will not be influenced by the truth and its own convictions of duty. The Sun has been, and will continue to be independent every day, and will not be influenced by the truth and its own convictions of duty.

THE SUN was born, and will continue to be independent every day, and will not be influenced by the truth and its own convictions of duty. The Sun has been, and will continue to be independent every day, and will not be influenced by the truth and its own convictions of duty.

THE SUN was born, and will continue to be independent every day, and will not be influenced by the truth and its own convictions of duty. The Sun has been, and will continue to be independent every day, and will not be influenced by the truth and its own convictions of duty.

THE SUN was born, and will continue to be independent every day, and will not be influenced by the truth and its own convictions of duty. The Sun has been, and will continue to be independent every day, and will not be influenced by the truth and its own convictions of duty.

THE SUN was born, and will continue to be independent every day, and will not be influenced by the truth and its own convictions of duty. The Sun has been, and will continue to be independent every day, and will not be influenced by the truth and its own convictions of duty.

THE SUN was born, and will continue to be independent every day, and will not be influenced by the truth and its own convictions of duty. The Sun has been, and will continue to be independent every day, and will not be influenced by the truth and its own convictions of duty.

Make Your Fertilizers at Home. TO FARMERS. Who intend to use "Home made Fertilizers" this year, offer great inducements in the purchase of the Chemicals necessary for their manufacture. We have on hand a large stock of all the ingredients of which they are composed, and have several formulas for making them, and will find it to their advantage to see my prices. feb4

Also, a full stock of Garden Seeds, including the entire crop of the popular FAIRCLOTH COLLARD SEED. feb28-1f J. D. SPIGEE.

KIRBY & HILL, Wholesale and Retail Druggists & APOTHECARIES. Are daily adding to their already large stock of Pure Drugs and Medicines, by purchasing direct from the manufacturers of the Highest Standard, they are enabled to offer to the public the purest Medicines from first hands and at prices as low as such goods can be sold. They also keep a full line of Toilet Articles! feb4

Binford, Loeb & Co., Importers of Salt, Molasses, &c., and Wholesale Grocers, WILMINGTON, N. C. Keep always in stock, Sugars, Coffee, Flour, N. C. Bacon, D. S. Sides, and all light goods kept by first class grocers. March 21, '79-1f

THE NEW YORK SUN FOR 1879. The Sun will be printed every day during the year to come. Its purpose and method will be the same as in the past, to present all the news in a readable shape, and to tell the truth though the heavens fall. The Sun has been, and will continue to be independent every day, and will not be influenced by the truth and its own convictions of duty. The Sun has been, and will continue to be independent every day, and will not be influenced by the truth and its own convictions of duty.

THE SUN was born, and will continue to be independent every day, and will not be influenced by the truth and its own convictions of duty. The Sun has been, and will continue to be independent every day, and will not be influenced by the truth and its own convictions of duty.

THE SUN was born, and will continue to be independent every day, and will not be influenced by the truth and its own convictions of duty. The Sun has been, and will continue to be independent every day, and will not be influenced by the truth and its own convictions of duty.

THE SUN was born, and will continue to be independent every day, and will not be influenced by the truth and its own convictions of duty. The Sun has been, and will continue to be independent every day, and will not be influenced by the truth and its own convictions of duty.

THE SUN was born, and will continue to be independent every day, and will not be influenced by the truth and its own convictions of duty. The Sun has been, and will continue to be independent every day, and will not be influenced by the truth and its own convictions of duty.

THE SUN was born, and will continue to be independent every day, and will not be influenced by the truth and its own convictions of duty. The Sun has been, and will continue to be independent every day, and will not be influenced by the truth and its own convictions of duty.

THE SUN was born, and will continue to be independent every day, and will not be influenced by the truth and its own convictions of duty. The Sun has been, and will continue to be independent every day, and will not be influenced by the truth and its own convictions of duty.

THE SUN was born, and will continue to be independent every day, and will not be influenced by the truth and its own convictions of duty. The Sun has been, and will continue to be independent every day, and will not be influenced by the truth and its own convictions of duty.

THE SUN was born, and will continue to be independent every day, and will not be influenced by the truth and its own convictions of duty. The Sun has been, and will continue to be independent every day, and will not be influenced by the truth and its own convictions of duty.

THE SUN was born, and will continue to be independent every day, and will not be influenced by the truth and its own convictions of duty. The Sun has been, and will continue to be independent every day, and will not be influenced by the truth and its own convictions of duty.

THE SUN was born, and will continue to be independent every