

Goldsboro Messenger

GOLDSBORO, N. C.

THURSDAY, - JANUARY 28, 1886.

GLANZING HERE AND ELSEWHERE.

—Miss Clara Louise Kilgore is a native of Sumner, S. C.

—Mr. Alex H. Keaton offers to sell his valuable corner property. A good opportunity for investment.

—Mrs. Hammond, proprietress of the Hammond Hotel, Rocky Mount, died last week of heart disease.

—Read dissolution notice of S. D. Hanks & Co., Mt. Olive. Mr. Hanks will continue the business.

—Prof. M. A. George, who resides in this city, announces that he will give lessons in music. See his card in this paper.

—Prof. Johnson De Berniere Hooper died at Chapel Hill on Saturday last of heart disease. His remains were interred at Raleigh.

—The Henderson soap factory is about ready for operation. The capacity of the works will be from 3,000 to 5,000 pounds of soap per day.

—Messrs. H. McBride and F. B. Bizell killed two fine deer in New Hope on Thursday last week. Mr. Bizell has our thanks for the fine roast of venison sent us.

—Mr. J. S. Herring is canvassing this section for the Westbrook nursery and seed house, located at Faison. Such enterprising men as the Westbrooks ought to be encouraged.

—General Robert Ransom wants to know the whereabouts of Thos. Brown a colored laborer, who worked with the Neuse and Trent River improvement force in 1884-85. See advertisement.

—Some miscreant entered the stables of Mr. N. B. Strickland in Pikesville township, Saturday night, and cut a deep and quite serious gash, five inches in length, in the thigh of his horse.

—Mr. A. Hamblin, at Warsaw, is prepared to fill orders for machinery or labor saving farming implement of any sort at lowest prices and guarantees entire satisfaction. See his advertisement.

—It is not a very pleasant reflection to think of buying coffins and tombstones, but these things must be done, and hence it is in order to invite attention to the new advertisement of D. P. Haskitt & Son.

—The attention of our readers is directed to the new advertisement of that clever and enterprising grocery merchant, R. E. Pipkin, Esq. Mr. Pipkin keeps at all times a full stock of family groceries at lowest prices.

—Mr. T. M. Emerson, General Passenger Agent of the Atlantic Coast Line, announces that extra cars will be put to-day on the W. & W. R. R., train 48 to Goldsboro, returning on train 43. Reduced rate tickets are sold at all the stations.

The Board of Agriculture at its session last Friday indefinitely postponed the question of establishing the industrial school. Gov. Scales very sensibly opposed establishing it at present because the funds for that purpose were insufficient.

—Mr. Thos. W. Dewey, we regret to learn, finds it impossible to act as a member of the Finance Committee appointed by the County Board of Education. The position has been tendered to Col. Geo. W. Collier, who we hope will accept.

—Read the new advertisement of Messrs. Hood, Britt & Hall. By close attention to business and honest and square dealing this clever firm has built up a splendid patronage. They sell as cheap as any other house in town and invite all to give them a call.

—Cotton receipts at Raleigh to 21st January were 21,704 bales—a falling off of 6,703 bales. Goldsboro is only some 5,000 bales behind Raleigh, but fully up to last year's receipts. Indications are that the local sales in this market will reach 24,000 bales by September 1st.

—It is quite certain now that fully 100 people from Wilson will attend the Kellogg Concert to-night. Many, also, will come from Tarboro, Greenville, Whitakers, Snow Hill, Faison, Wallace, Kenansville, Selma, etc. A goodly number are expected from Kinston and LaGrange.

—Max Strakosh's Opera Company wanted to appear in this city on Tuesday night of next week, in Faust, but Mr. Bonitz could not entertain their proposition, because he had already for the week two excellent companies and that is already one more than he desires to engage in one week.

—The enterprising firm of Dewey Brothers announce that they have in stock a number of engines, new and second-hand, which they will sell on easy terms and at low prices. The firm has also one of the most complete machine shops in the State, and do all sorts of repairing and new work. Read the advertisement.

—The advertising patronage of a newspaper is generally considered a good indication of business thrift. It is so, Goldsboro has a fair outlook for the approaching spring trade. We judge from the large number of new advertisements that are presented in each issue of the MESSENGER. Our merchants and businessmen evidently mean trade.

—A new advertisement of the oldest, and by the way one of the most reliable wholesale grocery houses of this city, Messrs. B. M. Privett & Co., appears in this paper. Mr. Privett has made his establishment one of the fixed institutions of Goldsboro, and by close attention to his own business, letting others alone, he has earned prosperity and success, all of which he deserves.

—Wilmington Review: Many of the farmers of Duplin, Sampson and Pender counties will devote more attention this year to the cultivation of tobacco than they have ever done before. In fact this industry has never been attended to any extent in these counties in the years that have passed, the planters having devoted their attention mainly to corn and cotton. The corn acreage will continue to be as large as usual, but a large portion of the space that has heretofore been allotted to cotton will be utilized for tobacco. It will undoubtedly require a few years to make the culture of tobacco as successful as it has become in those counties where it has long been an established crop, but we doubt not that our farming friends will soon find that they have made a move in the right direction.

—The firm of Messrs. M. L. Lee & Co., is young in trade but we are glad to learn it is making rapid headway in building up a splendid patronage. Mr. Mat. Lee is popular and clever and his long experience in the wholesale trade enables him to guarantee satisfaction to all. See his advertisement in this paper and when you need anything in the grocery line, or in the way of farm supplies, give him a call.

—The field pea, bean and rice harvesters exhibited by Mr. B. O. Savage of Palmyra, N. C., at our recent fair, seems to be a machine alike remarkable for its novelty and utility. It meets a want long felt and the best farmers in our State are endorsing it. The increasing demand for them warrants a large sale the coming season. The machine managed by one hand gathers, thrashes and deposits in sacks as fast as a horse can walk.

—Health Officer Edison, of New York, seized several hundred boxes of frozen oranges on Friday and poured carbolic acid over them and dumped them at the offal dock. They had been frozen in transit from Florida. Frozen oranges are dangerous to health because of the mould between the segments of the pulp after the impregnation of the whole fruit with the essential oil of the skin.

—It pains us to announce the death of the estimable wife of Mr. Wiley B. Fort, of this county, who died of pneumonia, at their home in Pikeville township, on Monday last. Mrs. Fort was a member of the Episcopal church, and her life was exemplary in all that mother and a kind neighbor. She will be much missed in the neighborhood. The be-aved husband and children have our warmest sympathy in their afflictions.

—Wilmington Star: The British steamship Wyllo has just landed a cargo of 12,137 bags of Peruvian guano, consigned to Messrs. Smith & Gilchrist of this city. The Wyllo, on her return trip, will take a cargo of cotton. This is a matter of interest to all who have faith in the commercial future of Wilmington. Formerly, vessels coming here from foreign ports brought nothing but "ballast," but this season most of the sailing vessels arriving from European ports have brought cargoes of kauri or salt. We hope the time is not far distant when inward cargoes will be altogether the rule, not the exception.

GOLDSBORO JOTTINGS.

Personal Mention and Items of Interest at Home.

KELOGG to-night.

MRS. E. M. LEHMAN, we learn, is quite sick.

SEE-SAW caps are now worn by the little folks.

MR. F. K. BORDEN is on a business trip to Richmond.

MRS. J. R. DIXON, of Snow Hill, was in the city Wednesday.

DR. ADAM C. DAVIS, of La Grange, was in the city yesterday.

REV. GEO. W. SANDERLIN, of Boston, paid us a visit yesterday.

MRS. DR. THEO. WHITFIELD returned yesterday from a visit to Faison.

MRS. W. H. BORDEN is on a visit to her former home in Greene county.

MRS. Z. M. L. JEFFERIES left Monday evening on a visit to Florence, S. C.

MISS CARRIE MACDONALD left yesterday to visit friends in Florence, S. C.

MRS. C. M. HAWKINS, of Raleigh, is visiting her sister in this city, Mrs. I. F. Dortch.

MRS. DR. GEO. L. KIRBY has about recovered from her recent indisposition, and we are pleased to note.

MR. A. H. KEATON offers his store and dwelling for sale. For price and terms apply to him on the premises.

MR. JOHN R. SMITH and family, who have resided in the country for the past few months, have returned to the city.

GARDEN seeds are now displayed by dealers. Some people plant early and then later have the fun of planting again.

MR. FRANK STRAUSS, of Fayetteville, spent last Sunday in the city with his brothers, Messrs. Meyer and Ben Strauss.

We are told that you can get as much barbecue as you can eat for ten cents. And yet some people complain of hard times.

The members of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union are reminded of the regular meeting of the society this (Thursday) afternoon.

We regret to learn that our young friend, Mr. F. A. Daniels, has been confined at home by sickness for several days. Hope to see him out soon.

A SPECIAL train from New Bern will come up this evening, arriving here at 7 o'clock and returning immediately after the close of the Kellogg Concert.

MRS. B. E. SMITH left Monday night for Baltimore, where she will be treated for deafness. Her many friends sincerely hope that permanent benefit will result from the treatment.

OWING, probably, to the inclement weather, the attendance was rather small at the meeting of the Atlantic Baptist Association held in this city Tuesday and Wednesday of this week.

The California Minstrels failed to put in an appearance Saturday night. We learn that their exchequer became depleted at Norfolk a few days ago, and consequently they could come no further.

A NEW plate glass has arrived to take the place of the one in the Einstein building that yielded to the persuasive powers of a sky rocket on Christmas eve. Better luck to the new one!

We learn that there are efforts being made to organize another reading club. We would be more than pleased to see a flourishing institution of this character in our city, as both pleasure and profit would result therefrom.

RESERVED seat tickets, for "Col. Sellers" will be placed on sale at Kirby & Robinson's this morning. Price, $1.00. This Comedy will be rendered Thursday night of next week by the Thursday night comedian, John T. Raymond, supported by a strong company. General admission, 75 cents; gallery, 50 cents.

MRS. D. D. CARROLL died at her home in this city, on Monday night last, of paralysis in the first year of her age. The funeral took place from the Baptist Church, of which she had long been a member, on Wednesday morning. To the husband and children we extend sympathy in their great loss.

THE survivors of the Mexican war will learn with pleasure that there is now some prospect that the long deferred pension bill will pass by the 26th of April—the fortieth anniversary of the commencement of the war. These veterans have been often disappointed, but we hope that their present expectations will be realized.

THE city authorities have ordered a new pump for the "Mary Alice" steam fire engine and will provide harness for the Chemical so that it may be drawn by horses. In this connection we are pleased to record a revival of interest in the fire department on the part of the members. This is due, in part at least, to the energetic efforts of the present efficient chief of the department, Mr. J. J. Robinson.

We are requested to announce that there will be a meeting of the stockholders of the Eastern Carolina Fair and Stock Association, on next Tuesday evening, at 7 o'clock, at the office of Mr. F. L. Castex, Secretary. The members are urged to note the fact, and to bear it in mind, that it will be a meeting of the stockholders, and not simply of the directors. A full attendance is desired.

MISS CLARA LOUISE KELLOGG and Company passed through our city Tuesday en route from Wilmington to Raleigh. They returned from the latter place Wednesday morning and left here about 1 o'clock on a special train for New Bern, where they appeared last evening. They will arrive in this city (Thursday) morning and tonight will appear before one of the largest audiences ever assembled in the Opera House.

INDICATIONS are that every one of the 460 opera chairs on the lower floor of the Opera House, will be reserved by to-night. There are only a few now not taken, but there will be comfortable seats on settees and chairs to seat 150 more. These are open to the general admission price, one dollar. The gallery will probably be graced by the most select audience it has ever contained. The three rows immediately fronting the stage are being reserved for 75 cents each, and quite a number of ladies have availed themselves of these desirable seats. The side galleries are open to all at the $1 admission price of 50 cents each.

It is reported that a certain Goldsboro young gentleman went to his place of business one morning recently attired in evening dress and to avoid criticism upon his costume kept on his overcoat during the entire morning. Where he may have been meanwhile is unknown, but at a late hour that night he arrived at the residence of a young lady with the intention of calling. The inmates of the house, however, had retired and the sound of footsteps at that hour convinced one member of the household that burglars were trying to enter. Her friends were soon aroused, and a search began; but as all the doors were found securely locked and the sounds had ceased, the unloaded revolver was returned to its place, the candle extinguished, and once more the hush of night reigned throughout the dwelling.

HER soft eyes seemed to look her soul beneath the glance of his dark eyes strange.

And the pedlar said, 'Dot is pure gold' As he handed her back her change.

The bow of promise appears for another house of worship in our town. The Disciples are making active preparations for the erection of a church here.

A young lady received the following epistle, remarkable for the tender gush of originality on love and letters in this too-too age of culture:

Dear Miss _____ Have you forgotten me, I have not forgotten you, I love you a Thousand times better then when I last seed you. And my love is still growing. Please send me your Photo, also a Small piece of your heart I would Lack to have it very much. Write to yore tru lover, It is Gitting very Late I must Retire. I will say Good Night.

ASPHALT PAINT.

The improvement noticed in the appearance of Mr. Chas. Dewey's residence is owing to the coat of Armitage Asphalt Paint with which Messrs. Hess & Wright have just covered the roof. You will also find the same excellent material on the roof of Dr. Geo. L. Kirby's residence, and on business buildings belonging to Mr. W. F. Korngay.

FOR THE CHILDREN!—Basket Flannels in Pink, Blue and Red. Also Jerseys in Brown, Blue and Garnet, at SOL EINSTEIN & Co.

Goat Sulkies, Wagons, Shoe-Flys, Velocipedes, Hobby Horses, Doll Carriages, Writing Desks, Doll Furniture, at M. E. CASTEX & Co's.

A FEW SPECIALTIES.—Silk Umbrellas, Russian Leather Satchels, Mela's Fine Shoes, and the Favorite Shirt, at SOL EINSTEIN & Co.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT.

DIALECTIC HALL, CHAPEL HILL, N. C. January 23rd, 1886.

WHEREAS, God has seen fit to remove from our midst our honored instructor and fellow member, PROF. J. DEBERNIERE HOOPER, a devoted Christian, a true patriot, and our Society have suffered a great loss.

Resolved, That we feel sure that his well earned reputation and Christian character will prove a great consolation to his family in their bereavement, and that we take this means of showing our grief and sympathy.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to his family and also to the GOLDSBORO MESSENGER, Charlotte, Charlotte Observer, Wilmington Star, Statesville Land-Owner, and other papers of the State with a request that they be published.

WAYNE SUPERIOR COURT.

A Busy Term and Many Recruits For the Pen.

The January term of Wayne Superior Court continues in session. His Honor Judge Gilmer presides with his characteristic affability and fairness while Capt. Galloway pushes the criminal docket with all possible dispatch and to the great discomfort of evildoers.

The court does not present a gratifying exhibit of lawabidingness. The grand jury has already been in session for nine days and have not yet concluded their labors. The efficient deleitor has drawn so far over 100 presentments. The following convictions have been passed upon: Henry Macy, larceny, 2 years; Seabury Sasser, larceny, 2 years; James Lang, false pretense, 1 year; Wiley Grady, larceny, 18 months; Hardy Best, larceny, 3 years; Bill Harris, larceny, 3 years; Wash Smith, false pretense, 1 year; John Harris, larceny, 10 years; Levi Ruffin, larceny, 10 years; Dave Jones, larceny, 10 years; John Burgwyn, larceny, 1 year. All but Long and Harris are colored. The negro Ruffin is also charged with burglary and it is quite likely that he will be also tried for his life.

The grand jury has inspected the county poor house and find it in good condition and the patients well cared for. They have examined the jail and report its capacity insufficient to accommodate the large number of prisoners cared for. They also recommend that the sanitary condition be improved, and especially the sewerage system.

The court will hardly get through with the State docket by Saturday.

LAGRANGE ITEMS.

John F. Wooten, Esq., of Kinston, was in town Tuesday.

The atmospheric powers are as variable as a drummer's toilet—that is a Chicago drummer.

That splendid field of intellectual training, the Davis School, is receiving new students every week.

Rhetoric says, every letter, not insulating, merits a prompt reply. There are many who are not at all rhetorical if this is true.

Mr. Jerry Fields may be found by his friends at Mr. J. K. Driver's, while Mr. Ed. Dawson holds Mr. Fields' old position at Mr. Burke's.

The musical proclivities of our town seem to be declining. This is indeed much to be regretted. A coterie of our band members should meet regularly for mutual improvement.

LaGrange is a little dull. There is a desolation down her streets, and around her corners. She mourneth for her 'dood', there is none to take his place. She had crowned him with his 'dood-hood,' but he departed, and she weareth her loneliness.

He stood like the hero of a song In beauty's monarchy of man, Her heart was beating loud and strong As he tenderly laid the ring in her hand.

Her soft eyes seemed to look her soul Beneath the glance of his dark eyes strange.

And the pedlar said, 'Dot is pure gold' As he handed her back her change.
