THE Vienna newspapers say that Servia will seize the first opportunity for revenge on Bulgaria, notwithstand ing the treaty just concluded. These journals are probably inspired by the Government of Austria, and foment the ill-feeling in the former country for Austro-Hungarian ends.

JUST now some of the New York newspapers are pouting at Senator Evarta because he will not come out flat-footed against the silver dollar, and it has even been held that he ought to resign. To this criticism Mr. Evarts replies wittily that the provision allowing the Executive to veto separate items of an appropriation bill might perhaps be applied to a public officer. The Senator, who wishes to be obliging, suggests that he might resign as far as the silver question is concerned.

THE District Democrats are wroth because the President has gone out of the District of Columbia to find a Recorder of deeds. He gave the position to a colored lawyer of Albany, whom | 000. he knew personally. The man's name is Matthews, and he is a Democrat. The President's reason's are probably that as he had determined to give Fred Douglass a negro successor, it was colored votes count for something.

A REMARKABLE proof of the spread afforded by the vote in the House of Commons on Labouchere's annual mothat "an hereditary chamber of legislation is inconsistent with the princi ples of representative government." This motion, which in preceding Parliaments has had only a nominal support, was defeated this time by less than fifty majority, the vote standing 202 to 166. No wonder that there was a scene of excitement when the result was announced. It was one of the most significant events in modern English politics.

EVEN the most stalwart of his political enemies testify in favor of the President's faithfulness in the discharge of his duties. In the course of revenues for common schools. remarks upon the Educational bill in the Senate, Mr. Conger made grave charges against the past administration of law and government in Alaska, under the United States.
