The total number of convicts is now over 1,200. About 300 are in the penitentiary; the others are at work on five railroads, at one quarry, and on two farms.

The sheriff says those who have not paid their taxes for 1885 had better give the matter prompt attention, as he must settle with the county and cannot indulge them any longer.

The Governor has commuted the death sentence of the negro Mathew Noble, convicted in Pitt Superior Court on the charge of burglary, to ten years imprisonment in the penitentiary.

Wilmington Star: It is understood that the prisoners who were in jail here will be removed to Goldsboro for safe keeping, except the United States prisoners, who will be carried to Whiteville.

Owing to the short notice given the organization of the Wayne county farmers club was deferred until Saturday the 10th of April, when a meeting is to be held in the court house for that purpose.

Rev. Dr. Deems lectured finely on "Trifles," in Charlotte, Thursday night, and the Observer says the amount realized over and above all expenses was $100, which amount goes to Tryon St. Methodist church.

Under a recent order, only the duplicate certificates are to be returned to postmasters making their quarterly deposits at the Raleigh office. The originals are to be sent direct from Raleigh to the department.

The Department of Agriculture, having its calculations on the beds thus far examined and worked, estimates that the phosphate supply in two counties, to wit: Sampson and Duplin, to exceed 50,000,000 tons.

The condition of Mrs. Mary Bayard Clark, of Newbern, who was paralyzed some time ago, is extremely critical, and her death is hourly expected. Her mind has failed and she has nearly lost the power to speak.

A meeting of the Directors of the Wilmington & Weldon and Wilmington, Columbia & Augusta Railroads was held Friday, at which we learn from the Star, that a committee was appointed to look after the rebuilding of the railroad offices and warehouses recently destroyed by fire. The committee appointed consists of the President, General Manager, General Superintendent, and the two Wilmington Directors, Messrs. DeRosset and MacRae.

Mrs. Judge Avery died at her home in Morganton Thursday morning from protracted sickness and great suffering. The Judge had left her in an apparently improved condition on Sunday evening that he might open court at Dallas the next morning, and was greatly shocked when the wires brought the news of her death. An important suit was just then commencing, but, as a matter of course, court was at once dismissed. Mrs. Avery was a sister to Mrs. S. H. Hill, and a Christian lady of fine social qualities.

We publish elsewhere the twenty-sixth annual statement of the Equitable Life Assurance Society. This is one of the best and most reliable institutions in the country and the company recommends itself to all who may seek safe and trustworthy insurance. The surplus capital of the Equitable is larger than that of any other life assurance company, and all losses are paid promptly and without the delay of sixty or ninety days. Col. Geo. T. G. White, a pleasant and courteous gentleman, who thoroughly understands the features of life insurance, is the General Manager of the Company for the South. Read the annual statement elsewhere in this paper.

Regular monthly meeting of the Eclipse Steam Fire Company, Thursday night, at the Mayor's office, at 8 o'clock sharp. Business of importance. R. W. CRATON, Sec'y.

Attention is directed to the new advertisement of Messrs. Borden, Jones & Co., in this paper. This excellent firm does the largest buggy business in North Carolina and guarantees satisfaction to all who buy their vehicles. They will sell you low for the cash, or on time adding only legal interest. If you need a new carriage or a buggy or a wagon give Borden, Jones & Co., a call and our word for it, you will not regret it.

We notice in the case of D. C. Haywood, of Raleigh, for forgery, on an appeal before the Supreme Court, there is error, and a new trial is ordered; and in the case of Miller, from Raleigh, also, heavily fined by Judge Clark for keeping a gambling house; the motion for certiorari is denied, which motion for the same writ was also denied in the case of Gooch & Smith, from Wake, convicted of the murder of Mr. John Cheatham.

Wilmington Review: On Thursday afternoon last a tarklin which was being burned on the plantation of Mr. P. Montague, near Long Creek, Pender county, burst and the fire communicated to the surrounding forest and spread with great rapidity. There was a brisk breeze blowing at the time and before the flames could be subdued a large portion of Mr. Montague's turpentine trees were destroyed, besides the tarklin, a large amount of fence and three houses, the latter, however, being on an adjoining plantation.

We are gratified to learn that Miss Clara Jones has sufficiently recovered from her recent illness to resume her duties at the Graded School.

MR. SOL. EINSTEN has returned from the Northern cities, where he purchased a nice line of dry goods and clothing for the Spring trade.

We learn that Mr. Alex. Hanif, of New Bern, will permanently locate in our city. We extend him a cordial welcome, with best wishes for prosperity.

The discourse of Rev. Marx Moses, at the Synagogue on Friday night, subject: "The American Boy," is pronounced excellent by many who heard it.

The Directors of the Eastern Carolina Fair and Stock Association are requested to meet at the office of the Secretary, Mr. F. L. Castex, to-morrow evening, at 7:30 o'clock.

ATTENTION, Graded School pupils! On and after to-day the exercises will begin a half hour earlier than heretofore, and the tardy bell will ring at 8:30 o'clock, a. m., instead of 9.

The celebration by Neuse Lodge of the sixtieth anniversary of American Odd-Fellowship will be a grand affair. We learn that the banquet will be given at the New Arlington Hotel.

MESSRS. SLOCUMB & BAIN have the contract for painting the roofs of several buildings for Messrs. H. Weil & Bros. They completed last week a large contract from Col. L. W. Humphrey.

The Spring races, on the 26th and 27th of May, will be given under the supervision of the Goldsboro Jockey Club, who have secured the grounds of the Eastern Carolina Fair and Stock Association for the occasion.

SOME persons were guilty of rude conduct at the Baptist Church last night, by rushing from the gallery while the benediction was being pronounced. We hope that reflection has brought shame for such behavior in the house of God.

The meetings at the Baptist Church are attended by large congregations and the interest is so abundant to continue the services this week. Rev. J. B. Hutson, who is assisting the pastor, Rev. Dr. Theo. Whitfield, will remain during the week.

The many friends of Dr. Daniel Cogdell will regret to learn that he is suffering from a relapse. It was our pleasure, on Friday, to meet the Dr. on our streets, but that night he was again taken seriously ill. We trust that he will soon rally from this second attack.

CAPT. W. T. HOLLOWELL received a letter on Friday last, from Gen. H. C. Dwight, announcing his safe arrival at home—Hartford, Conn.—and expressing the great pleasure of himself and wife upon their visit to the South. They extend warm thanks to the people of Goldsboro for their hospitality upon the occasion of the flag reception.

Mrs. Betsy Eason, 78 years old, is now living with her son in this city, Maj. J. C. Eason. A few days ago we were shown a well preserved pair of old-time silk hose owned by the Major's father, the late Col. John Eason, of Johnston county, on his wedding day, 59 years ago.

The registration books for the May city election are now open. Let it be borne in mind that this is an entirely new registration. The qualifications are a residence of twelve months in the State, ninety days in the city and thirty days in the ward, previous to the day of election.

We were in error in stating that the marriage of our young friend, Mr. J. D. Farrior, to Miss Annie Applewhite took place at the residence of the bride's father. The ceremony occurred in the Methodist Church at Stantonburg, and was performed by Rev. Dr. L. S. Burkhead, of this city.

It is probable that the citizens of Goldsboro township will tackle the local option question on the first Monday in June. We learn that petitions were circulated asking the County Commissioners to order the election. To secure a vote the signatures of one-fourth of the voters of the township must be obtained.

It is rumored that the gauge of the Atlantic & N. C. Railroad will be changed about the 1st of May, in conformity with the standard recently adopted by most of the Railroad corporations in the South. The change will prove a great convenience during the trucking season, as transfer at this point will be avoided.

The next attraction at the Opera House is on the 16th of April, when the charming Miss Blanche Curtisse will appear here in her great play "Only a Farmer's Daughter." The company played in Charleston on Tuesday last and the News and Courier speaks well of Miss Curtisse and of her entire excellent support.

The Evening Chronicle is the name of a sprightly little daily which made its appearance in Charlotte last week. Mr. W. S. Hemby, is editor and proprietor. Our good friend Mr. Jas. A. Robinson, is the city editor, which assures a bright and spicy local department. We wish the Chronicle success commensurate with its merits.

In connection with the Spring races, and upon the second day of the week, Thursday, May 27th a tournament will be given, and in addition to the pleasure of crowning the Queen and Maids of Honor, the four successful knights will be awarded prizes valued at $125.00. There will, of course, be a big ball that night. The tournament will, doubtless, prove a very attractive feature of the occasion.

The youngest subscriber to the Messenger was in the city on Saturday. It is our little friend Miss Betty Parks, daughter of the late Capt. Betty Parks. She is only 4 years old but her name has been on our books ever since she was born. Her esteemed father was a subscriber to the Messenger ever since the first issue of the paper appeared, over 13 years ago, and little Miss Betty became his successor soon after his death. She is a bright little girl.

In reply to the suggestion of the Argus that the Primitive Baptist Church "is, perhaps, the only church in the city that is out of debt," we are requested to say "that the Missionary Baptist Church has no debt. Its property is well assured and insured. The money made by the ladies in their occasional efforts has been given away in benefactions to the poor and needy or appropriated to building purposes. The amount now in their treasury will be used in building a Sunday school class room in the near future."

Mrs. M. O. HUMPHREY, who, for nearly five years has filled, in a most acceptable manner, a position in the primary department of the Goldsboro Graded School, has been selected as one of the faculty of the Elizabeth City Normal School to be held during the Summer, upon which selection the Board of Trustees are to be congratulated. Mrs. Humphrey has also been invited to attend the Teacher's Assembly at Black Mountain, June 23d, where she is to give a series of lectures on "The First Step in Teaching."

FACTS ABOUT EASTER.

This year Easter falls on the latest date on which it can possibly fall, that is to say April 25, or nearly a month after the beginning of the second quarter of the year. Such a case has not happened in this century, and will not recur again. In the present century, the twentieth Easter fell on April 25 in 1943. If we turn back to previous centuries, we find that such a late date for Easter occurs only once in each century, that is—1734, 1666, 1546, 1451; the fourteenth century goes without such a late date; 1204, 1109, 1014, 919. The earliest day for Easter, March 22, has occurred only once in this century, in 1818, and it will not recur before A. D. 2,000. This earliest day for Easter has occurred in 1763, 1698, 1573, 1478, 1383; the thirteenth century is passed over; 1136, 1041, 946. It is interesting to note how Easter will distribute itself up to A. D. 2,000. In the present century Easter will fall only twice more in March, on the 29th in 1891, and on the 25th in 1894. Of this remaining twelve years of this century five Easter days fall in the first week of April (in 1888 on April 1, 1893 on April 2, 1898 on April 3, 1899 on April 6), three in the second week (in 1887 on April 8, 1892 on April 10, and 1895 on April 14), and four in the third week (in 1900 on April 15, 1892 on April 17, 1897 on April 18, 1889 on April 21. As indicated above, the last week of April, with the exception of 1886, is not represented again in this century by an Easter day.

WELL DONE.

The Raleigh Chronicle says: When Judge Clark fined Miller $2,000 for keeping a gambling house there were those who thought it unreasonable and excessive and who said it would do no good. In Wake county this week a man was indicted for keeping a house in which gambling was allowed. In the evidence it was shown that since Miller's conviction he had not allowed gambling. He confessed to having stopped on account of Miller's conviction. He was a poor fellow and Judge Connor fined him only fifty dollars and the costs. A righteous judgment we think. The only way to break up these halls is for a cry of "well done" to be raised by the law. Mr. E. L. Castex, Judge and Connor's and Solicitor Galloway's example.

INSULT HURLED BACK.

A Breezy Shirt Editor Rebuked.

"In 1863 a company of North Carolina traitors in a fight with loyal Union soldiers, lost their rebel colors. They were captured by the 27th Massachusetts. The traitors have recently been very much pleased by the return of their emblem of treason and they banqueted the ex-soldiers who took pains to go to North Carolina to carry it to them. It seems decidedly unpatriotic to return to traitors their emblems of treason. The rebellion of the slaveholders was treason in its most horrible form and was attended by the killing of thousands of loyal men and the traitors are not worthy of the return of their traitorous colors. When the banquet was at its height the chairman should have given as a toast 'Andersonville' and should have called upon the northern ex-soldiers to have responded. It might have brought them to a realizing sense of their position. Had they shut their eyes they might have easily imagined the grim ghosts of the victims of the Southern prison pens gazing at the feast. They might also have heard the echoes of the sobs of sorrow from the widows and mothers of dead Union soldiers. Their traitor flags had better been burned to ashes than to be borne back to them to be kept by them as a precious relic of their days of treason. There are Union soldiers who would not be present at such occasions. Treason should not be forgiven or forgotten."—Editorial in Holyoke Transcript.

Mr. Editor.—A newspaper addressed to the Goldsboro Rifles was received here a day or two since, called the Daily Transcript, published at Holyoke, Mass., sent by the editor, I presume, to show the members of the Company to what a depth of meaness and infamy a man can descend. The article is an editorial under date of March 20, 1886, which I append above. I venture the assertion that the writer of the editorial never faced a southern man in battle or heard the whizz of a bullet, for brave men are not revengeful, and never vilifiers. In an army, he was a bummer, following in the rear, plundering and frightening women and children, and fear now if it be a depth of meaness to return captured banners that the bummers should be expected to disgrace their stolen articles also. That editor no doubt thinks himself a leader or maker of public opinion, which I deny; for I am loathe to believe that public opinion in Massachusetts is so debased, mean and malignant, as the editorial would indicate. Twenty-five years after the war is over, when good men of all parties are united in a common effort to bind up the bleeding wounds and memories of the war, an editor can be found in the State of Massachusetts so vile, so low, that upon any and every effort to restore good feeling and community of interest between the sections, he can only smear his slime and intrude his loathsome and debased sentiments upon the good sense, manliness and kindly feeling of the country. If the editor of the Transcript could have his way no doubt he would exterminate the men, women and children of the South and not allow us to till the soil, raise breadstuffs and cotton and thus to contribute to the general welfare of the country.

It would afford comfort to his loyal soul (if by any stretch of the imagination he can be supposed to be possessed of such an article) to thus punish us and then his loyal soul might retire within the circumference of a mustard seed, and have room to rattle there through all time.

Respectfully, JOHN H. POWELL.

NEW ROAD TO THE SOUTH.

It is reported that A. J. Cassatt and William L. Scott, of Erie, have purchased the North Carolina Central railroad, extending from Wilmington, N. C., to Charlotte, in the same State. The New York, Philadelphia and Norfolk Central, reaching Atlanta and other prominent Southern points in that way. This can be done after June 1, when the gauges of Southern lines will be made to conform to those in the North.

The low rates made at the "Malthby House," Baltimore, for members of the T. P. A., and others traveling on business with its excellent accommodations, is making that Hotel deservedly popular.
