His plurality over the two Republican candidates is about 2,000.

R. D. Wood & Co., who have iron mills at Camden, N. J., Millville, N. J., and several other places, have given notice that they will never employ any Knights of Labor again. They have been on a strike, but are inclined to return to work, and the firm made this condition. Some of the men say the mills will never start up if the notice is not rescinded.

A bill in equity to foreclose a mortgage to recover $1,100,000 was entered in the United States Circuit Court at Savannah against the Bacon and Brunswick Railroad Company, the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia Railroad Company and the Central Trust Company of New York by the trustees for the holders of the second mortgage bonds of the first named road.

Messrs. Armour & Co., Swift & Co., Hammond & Co., Fairbank & Co., and Samuel W. Allison, manufacturers of oleomargarine and butterine, have made protest against the report of the committee of agriculture claiming that it is unfair, and asserting that their products are pure and in no way deleterious to health. In support of this they quote the certificate of the Illinois state board of health.

It is claimed by the Greeks that they captured two Turkish positions, 20,000 cartridges and two prisoners in their encounter with troops on the frontier yesterday. Later in the day the Turkish general in command explained that the firing was due to a mistake on the part of his subordinates. He further assured the Greek commander of his pacific intentions, after which the firing ceased all along the line.

Dr. Dio Lewis gave the following instructions regarding the disposition of his body: "Although I am averse to the somewhat unpleasant notoriety which as yet cremation causes, my very strong conviction is that it is the right disposition of the dead. I leave directions that my body shall be cremated, and that the ashes shall not be put in an urn, but in the earth, over which my wife may lovingly plant for get-me-nots."

BISHOP C. B. GALLOWAY.

The Sympathetic Pastor and Brilliant Pulpit Orator.

From the New Orleans Times-Democrat we glean the following sketch of the life of one of the newly elected Bishops of the M. E. church South, Rev. Dr. Chas. B. Galloway, of Mississippi, cousin of our townsman, A. J. Galloway, Esq. The Doctor is the editor in chief of the New Orleans Christian Advocate, and is the fourth editor of that paper who has been promoted to the Episcopate. Since Dr. Galloway's visit to our city, Sunday before last, he has been held in high esteem and affectionate remembrance by a large number of our people, who received the tidings of his election with very great pleasure. The Times-Democrat says:

The Rev. Charles Betts Galloway, D. D. was born in Kosciusko, Miss., in 1849. His ancestry for several generations were Methodists of remarkable piety. He spent most of his boyhood in Canton, and entered the University of Mississippi, together with the Rev. B. Carradine, of this city, in 1865, and there graduated. During the last year of his term at this institution, after several promises of openings for the practice of law had been presented to him, he chose that of minister of the gospel. His first charge was Sharon Circuit, Mississippi, and afterward was sent to the churches at Black Hawk and Yazoo City. In the sixth year of his ministry he became pastor of the Methodist Church at Jackson, Miss., where he served the full pastoral term of four years. During this period of his ministry he became the editor of the Tennessee Banner, since which time he has taken an active part in temperance work, being now the Chairman of the Executive Committee of the Temperance Society of the State of Mississippi.

At the conclusion of this pastorate he was placed in charge of the church at Vicksburg, where he has also remained four eventful years, for it embraces the time of the disastrous epidemic. Dr. Galloway, true to his principles, refused to leave the scene, but stood by his people. Soon, however, he was stricken by the disease and his life despaired of. So great was the affection of the people of Mississippi for this courageous man that public prayers were offered for his recovery from almost every pulpit in the State. From Vicksburg he was returned to Jackson, his former charge. After serving this church with great acceptability for two years he was unanimously elected editor in chief of the New Orleans Christian Advocate to succeed Rev. Linus Parker, D. D., who had been elected bishop in May, 1882. Having commenced a new church edifice at Jackson, he continued his pastoral relation at that city until it was finished.

Dr. Galloway entered upon the duties of editor with a popularity rarely equalled by his predecessors. His course for four years in this capacity has increased the number of his admirers. His style as a writer is clear, graceful and vigorous, original in his conceptions, and gifted in the copious flow of words.

He has recently compiled the memoirs of the late Bishop Linus Parker, D. D., in which he has exceeded the most hopeful expectations of his admirers.

As a pastor Dr. Galloway is tender, sympathetic and abounding in tact, while as a pulpit orator he is earnest, impassioned and eloquent, yet always within the line of argument and reason. In his family relation he is one of the most affectionate and gentle, both as husband and father. Early in life he selected a charming lady as his wife, who has proved to be a helpmeet indeed.

Although Dr. Galloway enters upon the duties of bishop younger than many of this denomination, yet none have possessed in a more eminent degree the many characteristics that are requisite for the responsibilities of this important office.

WILL THEY FIGHT.

Gordon and Bacon Canvassing for the Georgia Governorship.

ATLANTA, May 20.—There is some apprehension that the personalities which are being indulged in between General Gordon and Major Bacon in their rival canvasses for the Governorship may result in a personal encounter. In one speech General Gordon insinuated that Bacon resigned from the Ninth Georgia Regiment to avoid bullets during the war. Bacon retorted that any one who accused him of resigning a public trust when he was physically able to serve was a scoundrel. He then intimated that General Gordon resigned from the U. S. Senate because he preferred to make money rather than serve his State. Gordon and Bacon spoke from same platform at Sparta Tuesday. Bacon repeated his insinuation as to his opponent's resignation from the Senate. Gordon, when speaking in reply, accused Bacon of showing sickness to escape duty at a time when the country needed his services. Bacon responded that he would stamp such an insinuation as a lie if it cost him his life. He spoke of Gordon as his competitor, adding: "I will never allude to him as my friend again." General Gordon interposed, "I hope not." Bacon went on to say that it did not matter in the mouth of one who placed gold above official duty to criticize another. Both men are of reputation for courage, and serious results are feared.

A BEAUTIFUL ENGRAVING

REPRESENTING

20 TWENTY 20 PORTRAITS 20

OF THE MOST FAMOUS

Confederate Commanders.

THE ENGRAVING IS

Magnificently Executed and Tastefully Wrought in 6 Colors.

The portraits of the commanders are clear and striking, accurate and life-like. They were produced by eminent artists from photographs furnished by the surviving heroes, and by the relatives and friends of those deceased. The engraving is superb in the display of art, clear and vivid in outline, and the grouping of the portraits at once convince the mind that the artist possessed an originality of conception never before equalled.

The Historic Gray Uniform, the Gold Buttons, Stars and Braid on Collar, (denoting rank), stand out in bold relief from the beautiful background, each portrait is made in imitation of a large Imperial Cabinet Photograph (4 x 6 inches,) distinct in every respect from the portraits surrounding it, yet so superior in conception, execution and harmony of colors that it defies criticism.

The Commanders represented on the engraving are:

- Robert E. Lee, T. J. (Stonewall) Jackson, G. T. Beauregard, Fitzhugh Lee, Joseph E. Johnston, A. S. Johnston, Stirling Price, J. A. Early, J. B. Hood, R. S. Ewell, James Longstreet, Wade Hampton, W. J. Hardie, A. P. Hill, J. E. B. Stuart, Braxton Bragg, E. Kirby Smith, J. C. Breckinridge, Leonidas Polk and Admiral Raphael Semmes.

Only a few of these great heroes are now living, and all of them were great, as Commanders of the Armies of the Confederacy, and they thus became endeared to the hearts of the people of the South. Every Confederate Veteran served under one or more of these Gallant Leaders, and they and every true Southern Patriot should possess one of these elegant souvenirs. The engraving is appropriate for the parlor, library, hall or office, and will compare favorably with the finest paintings. The Portraits are Printed on one sheet of Heavy Plate Paper, beautifully Tinted (ready for framing), size, 22 x 29 inches, and will be sent to any address on receipt of Price, $2 00.

READ THE FOLLOWING TESTIMONIALS.

The portraits represented on your engraving, are regarded as the best, of the Confederate Generals, which have been issued. Very respectfully, WADE HAMPTON. The likenesses are good.—G. T. BEAUREGARD. The portraits of the Confederate Leaders represented on your engraving are good.—JAMES LONGSTREET. The likenesses are excellent.—FITZHUGH LEE.

Having secured the exclusive control of the above beautiful engraving for the Southern States, by purchasing the whole edition, we have decided to present a copy to each of our subscribers, until the edition is exhausted, in the following order:—First, we will send out one copy to every subscriber now on our books whose account is paid up in full to January 1st, 1887, or beyond that date. We owe this to our subscribers who have by prompt payments and liberal support in the past, made possible the great success of the MESSENGER. Second, we will send out one copy of the Engraving to each of our present subscribers who will between now and July 4, 1886, settle their subscription accounts to at least January 1, 1887. We will inform any of our friends whose account with the MESSENGER is behind, just how much is due up to next January. Third, to all new subscribers who will send us in two DOLLARS for one year's subscription to the MESSENGER, in advance, we will present a copy of the engraving free. We will not guarantee any pictures beyond July 4, 1886. Address,
