The dynamite bomb which exploded in Chicago a few weeks ago was heard throughout the United States. Mingling with its echoes we hear a murmur of complaint against the foreign-born who came to our shores of his ducing people by lying and deception to come to this country to take the places of American citizens. The American-born citizen is no better or worse than the foreign-born citizen is no better or worse than the foreign-born citizen. The American you draw foreign blood, unless, indeed, you scratch a North American Indian, and as a genuine American we do not appear to take a great deal of pride in him. We have always welcomed the man who came to our shores of his two Commonwealths. Mr. C. B. Bird,

The people of foreign birth who live in the States named are not so desirable as they were at a not very remote period in our country's history. Not a great while ago we were inviting people from every land and clime to come to the United States and stay.
