GOLDSBORO, N. C. THURSDAY, -- -- JULY 15, 1886.

CLEANINGS HERE AND ELSEWHERE.

—Mrs. G. G. Lynch, of Enfield, is critically ill.

—The North Carolina Teachers' Association, colored, is in session at Kittrell's, N. C.

—Thus far the private subscriptions to the Durham graded school aggregate $3,122.

—The bank of Oxford has increased its capital stock from forty to sixty thousand dollars.

—A daily paper has been started at Wilmington in the interest of the Knights of Labor.

—New machinery is being received for the Beaver Creek cotton factory, Cumberland county.

—Between Newport, Carteret county, and Goldsboro the crops in many lowlands are under water.

—Mecklenburg does not instruct its delegates to the Congressional, Judicial and State Conventions.

—It is estimated that the annual cost for picking the cotton crop of the Southern States is $40,000,000.

—This season Wilmington has received 102,142 bales of cotton, an increase of 7,051 over last season.

—William R. Wilson, an engineer on the R. & D. R. R., died of heat prostration at Greensboro Saturday.

—The convention of the 7th judicial district is to be held in Fayetteville, July 20th. Some of the papers have it otherwise.

—The next few months will witness a great outflow of idle capital into industries and into building enterprises in the South.

—Harnett county has instructed her delegates to the Judicial Convention to vote for Clark for Judge and Galloway for Solicitor.

—Gov. Seales has appointed Mr. Alexander Owen's of Powell's Point, N. C., Commissioner of Wrecks in Currituck county.

—Rev. L. R. Seroggs has been appointed to fill the vacancy in the Winston Methodist church caused by Dr. Bagwell's suspension.

—The old Cornwallis house at Charlotte has been sold for $19, and will be removed to the farm of the purchaser to be used as a barn.

—Elder William Woodard, of Wilson, N. C., will preach in the Primitive Baptist church in this city Saturday and Sunday and Sunday night next.

—Our window attracts considerable attention this week by the exhibiting of a spring turnip weighing 16½ lbs. grown by Mr. Southerland of New Hope township.

—Gov. Seales has commuted the sentence of Lee Summers, of Swain county, convicted of murder and sentenced to be hanged August 6th, to life imprisonment in the penitentiary.

—When the Governor of South Carolina learned that the Governor of North Carolina had allowed Raleigh to go for prohibition, he at once secured an appointment in Washington.

—The North Carolina insane asylum, in Raleigh, has now within its walls 260 patients, which fills it to its utmost capacity, and there are 200 applications for admission on file at this time.

—Under a recent act of Congress a reduction of the fee for money orders of denominations less than five dollars from eight to five cents will go into effect on the 20th inst. Every little helps.

—We learn from Mr. J. P. Mewborn, a promising young law student of Snow Hill, that one of the ten best harvests from five acres 108 bushels of wheat. Mr. Mewborn is off on a trip to Washington this week.

—We are pleased to learn that Johnston county is solid for Capt. Galloway for Solicitor; though on the first ballot in the Judicial Convention, she will vote for her talented young son, Mr. Pou, for that position.

—Mr. Will B. Edmondson has accepted an offer to represent the extensive tobacco house of Messrs. Beard, Roberts & Co., in the sale of their goods in this city. He will also sell for a large grocery house in New York. Rock bottom figures guaranteed.

—Raleigh Chronicle: Major C. D. Heatt, chief of police, tells us that there was not a drunken man to be seen in Raleigh last Saturday, and that the grand house was minus a single prisoner Saturday night. This speaks well for our first Prohibition Sunday.

—Maj. F. W. Foster of the Wilmington Review, left for Salem, N. C., where he will leave his family for the present and proceed to Washington, D. C., to join the delegates of the Grand Army of the Republic to their annual convention, which will be held this year in San Francisco.

—Mr. J. T. Patrick, Commissioner of Immigration, has been in Craven county, where he has prospecting for a suitable place to establish a Northern winter resort. He has not made a selection yet, but will go shortly to the Albemarle section and make further observations.

—Mr. J. H. Caldwell left at our office two large and well filled bunches of grapes fairly turned towards ripening. He reports his vineyard in excellent condition with prospects of several tons of grapes. Mr. Adam Hergenrother also shows grapes as far advanced and promising.

—A superstitious subscriber, who found a spider in a copy of his MESSENGER, wants to know if it is considered a bad omen. Nothing of the kind. The spider was merely looking over the columns of the paper to see what merchant was not advertising, so that it could spin its web across the store door.

—Oak Ridge Institute, which had an enrollment last year of over 200 students seems to be entering upon a new era of prosperity. It has become one of the permanent institutions of the State. New buildings and fittings have been recently added, and no pains are spared to place the school in the front rank of our schools. It has two nicely furnished literary halls and a good library and reading room well supplied with the choicest periodicals and newspapers. It is situated in the healthiest part of the Piedmont section, near Greensboro, with pleasant surroundings. Those in search of a good school, not too expensive, will do well to write Messrs. Holt. See advertisement.

—The Mount Olive High School is advertised in this issue. We are glad to note its continued success. Prof. Seroggs is a professional teacher and has a strong corps of assistants, and the school is a deservedly popular. Mount Olive is an intelligent community, and the religious and social advantages are all that could be desired. A good school.

—The North Carolina horticultural society will hold its annual fruit fair at Fayetteville, August 4th and 5th, in William's Hall. It will be the largest and best display yet made. All fruit for the fair will be shipped without cost to the exhibitor, provided it is put up in packages of forty pounds or less. There are five classes of exhibits. Apples, peaches, grapes, canned fruits, preserves, pickled fruits, jellies, dried and evaporated fruits, flowers, &c., to be shown.

The county jail is crowded with prisoners, the number increased being over thirty, we understand. This is too many people to be confined in close quarters, especially with imperfect sewerage, and it occurs to us that the authorities should relinquish the care of the New Hanover county prisoners.

The freight runs tri-weekly, leaving Greensboro for the east on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, at 5 a. m., arriving at Goldsboro at 6:25 p. m. Going west, it leaves Goldsboro on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays, at 5:30 a. m., and arrives at Greensboro at 6:30 p. m.

THE list of contributors to the Graded School fund has been of rather slow growth for the past few weeks. There are yet many names that we would like to see added to this column. There are many more in our community who are able to contribute and we hope that they will lead their assistance towards perpetuating an institution which has been of such advantage to the best interests of the city.

THE NEXT FAIR

Of the Eastern Carolina Fair and Stock Association.

It is nearly three months to the third annual exhibit of the Eastern Carolina Fair and Stock Association, November 3d, 4th and 5th being the appointed days, and our special object in introducing the subject at this time is to impress upon our farmers and upon our ladies the importance of their earnest co-operation in making the Fair a success—and it is designed to make the next Fair, not only a success, but the most successful of this entire section.

The prime benefit of these annual gatherings is to advertise by the exhibition of stock, the agricultural resources of the section in which they are held. Of course, we refer to agricultural communities, as is ours. This being true, a stranger is apt to form an unfavorable impression of these resources, and very reasonably so, when he attends our Fairs and finds the agricultural department presenting a meagre voice-become appearance, as if we lived in a country where either fertility of soil is lacking or where indifference to making known our natural advantages prevails.

The exhibit of farm products at the Fairs of the Eastern Carolina Fair and Stock Association have never fully represented the resources of this county and section. Indeed, truth compels us to say that they have fallen far short of doing so. And this will continue to be the case until the farmers themselves can be brought to realize how important a factor is their co-operation in obtaining the best results. And by best results we do not mean solely the pecuniary success of the Association, but more particularly in reference to carrying out what we have denominated the prime benefit to be obtained by the Association, viz.: to advertise, by the exhibition of specimens, the agricultural resources of our section.

We want to see our farmers take a lively interest in this matter and it should be both their pride and their pleasure to do so. Many of our farmers would be benefitted by selling a part of their land to progressive farmers of other sections, who would make clever neighbors, and a very effective means of bringing to notice the value of their lands would be the exhibition of the superior products of those lands at our annual Fairs.

Now, let the farmers of Wayne and adjacent counties determine that the display in the agricultural department this year shall exceed anything ever shown in this section. The Association earnestly desires this help from our farmers and we hope that it will be cheerfully accorded.

Now a word to the ladies, without whose aid the Fair cannot be, in the highest sense, a success. Several of the fair sex have from the very organization of the Association given their best efforts. To these we tender sincere acknowledgment and earnestly invoke their continued co-operation. We want to see this circle of valued and valuable helpers enlarged and to this end we cordially invite all the ladies of this entire section to lend their assistance in making the display in Floral Hall at our next Fair surpass any yet shown. Send specimens of your plain and fancy needle work, painting, drawing, preserves, pickles, canned fruits and vegetables, and of the thousand and one things that woman's hand finds to do for the comfort, convenience and admiration of mankind.

The managers of the Fair are resolved to put forth strenuous effort to make the coming exhibition a grand success, and yet these efforts must fall unless they are supported by the people. So, again we urge upon all, and especially the ladies and the farmers, to give unstinted co-operation in bringing about this greatly desired result.

MAKE IT KNOWN.

The Baltimore Manufacturers' Record calls attention to a matter of importance to those in the South who have property here for sale. "Owing to the attention that Southern investments are now attracting in the North," it says, "and even in Europe, may propertyholders in the South imagine that all that is necessary to secure a purchaser is simply to offer their property in the Northern markets. While it is true that there are a good many people disposed to buy Southern properties, their number is not so great that every piece of property offered for sale will be at once picked up. It is with property as with merchandise, it must be advertised to be sold, and landowners in the South who desire to sell their property to Northern investors must be willing to spend some money to do so." There seems to be force in this suggestion.

THE SHERIFFALTY.

Mr. M. J. Best Recommended for the Position.

Editor Messenger:—In an issue of the Goldsboro Argus of last week, there was a communication nominating Mr. M. J. Best for sheriff of Wayne county. You will please allow me through your columns to recommend the nomination of Mr. Best. In my opinion, no better selection could be made in the county. Mr. Best is a young man of good business qualifications, and beliked by everybody, and would carry the full strength of the Democratic party, and the friends of "reform" would be pleased to see him receive the nomination at our coming county convention.

GOLDSBORO TOWNSHIP.

DUPLIN COUNTY, N. C. July 13. Editor Messenger:—In Monday's "Messenger," "C. W. H." writing from Washington, gives to the 3rd district the record of our representative, Hon. W. J. Green. He states that the Hon. W. J. Green is entitled to the credit of establishing in Duplin county, the following postoffices: Sarceta, Purgatory, Chinquepin, Lyman, Humphrey, and Sloan and the mail route embracing them, were established by the efforts of a citizen of the county, through the postoffice department at Washington, and that Col. Green is not entitled to credit for them.

They were established under the Republican administration, before the election of Cleveland, and Humphrey is named for Col. W. W. Humphrey, a leading Republican, and Lyman for Assistant Postmaster General, Lyman also a Republican. Sarceta is an old postoffice revised, and no such postoffice as "Mattie" has been heard of. If "C. W. H." is as badly mistaken about other parts of the district, as he is about Duplin, his calculations ought to be divided by about seven.

DUPLIN.

A MATCHLESS BOOK.

Of Hitchcock's Analysis of the Holy Bible we have sold over one hundred copies in and around Goldsboro, and will continue our canvass in this county until the 1st of September, 1886. We return many thanks to the citizens of this county for their liberal patronage, and hope to obtain a similar success in the following testimonial from Elder Daniel Davis, Pastor of several churches of the Original Free Will Baptists of North Carolina.

"After having nineteen years experience in the study of the Bible, I can say that Hitchcock's Analysis of the Bible is one of the greatest aids to the study of God's Word that I have ever seen. It cannot be too highly praised. I have subscribed for it and earnestly treat all desiring a better knowledge of the Word to avail themselves of the opportunity of getting it now."
