GOLDSBORO, N. C. MONDAY, JULY 19, 1886.

CLEANINGS HERE AND ELSEWHERE.

North Carolina now has about 150 newspapers of all kinds.

Real Estate Mortgages and Deeds for sale at the MESSENGER office.

The officers of the N. C. State Fair are making preparations for racing this year on a large scale.

Miss Minnie C. Raynor, of Grant-ham's township, has returned from a visit to relations in Fayetteville.

Senator E. J. Hill, of Duplin county is at Morehead City, where he will take a needed rest for one week.

Pay up your subscription to January 1st next, and secure a copy of our beautiful picture—20 Confederate Commanders.

In this paper appears an advertisement of Seven Springs to which we direct the attention of seekers after health and pleasure.

Pay up your subscription to the MESSENGER to January 1887, and a copy of the "Portraits of twenty famous Confederate leaders" will be sent free. Read extraordinary offer in this paper.

The banana trees of Mr. C. A. Mege, at Salem, yielded a fair return of fruit this year. One plant contained a bunch of 50 or more. The flavor was good, but is said not to be as rich as the tropical growth.

B. W. Cobb, our Soliciting agent, will be at Cumberland Court, Fayetteville, July 26, 27, 28; at Columbus Court, Whiteville, August 2, 3, 4. Subscribers to the MESSENGER may secure the 20 Portraits of Confederate officers from Mr. Cobb. Come to Court prepared to pay up and get the picture.

If you are not a subscriber to the MESSENGER send $2.00 and get it for one year and with it the Souvenir plate of portraits of twenty confederate commanders. See notice elsewhere. The MESSENGER is well worth $2.00 alone. Now you can get both the $2.00 picture, and the MESSENGER for the price of one alone.

Our job office facilities have been greatly increased and improved. In quality of work and cheapness of price, we propose to compete with any office south of the Potomac. Tax receipts, Clerks Blanks, Registers Blanks, Court Dockets, Marriage License and all blanks used by Magistrates and Attorneys supplied at short notice.

Professor Joseph Kinsey, of La Grange, has opened a first class well equipped school for girls and young ladies in the village of LaGrange and possesses many advantages for properly training the gentler sex in a school perfectly free from the obnoxious influences offered to mixed schools. See his advertisement in another column and send to him for his Circular Prospectus for the coming session.

Farmers and Fruit growers of Eastern Carolina should not forget that the N. C. Horticultural Society (5th Annual Fruit Fair) will assemble at Fayetteville, August the 4th and 5th, with a grand exhibit of the products in that line, which is expected to surpass in extent any former similar occasion. George M. Rose, Esq., will deliver the address of welcome and Hon. Octavius Coke, the annual address.

The Catalogue of officers, faculty and students of Kingston College, Dr. Richard H. Lewis, Principal, is on our table. It is an attractive pamphlet and sets forth the history, privileges, advantages, discipline and program of the Institution with a list of students for 1885-'86. We advise our readers who have not fixed on a school for their children for the coming session to send for the catalogue. See advertisement in another column.

The attention of our readers is directed to the advertisement of the King's Mountain High School. In receipt of the catalogue of instructors and students for 1885-'86, and it gives evidence of prospects and liberal patronage, from North Carolina and South Carolina with a few representatives for the other Southern States. Last years the school carried on its roll, 160 students 121 of whom were cadets. The location of the school and the Piedmont region of North Carolina and only thirty miles from Charlotte and two and a half miles from the historic King's Mountain.

In the next issue of the MESSENGER we will publish a letter from our correspondent now in London, giving an account of his visit to Birmingham, the great Manufacturing centre of England, and its environs, with a description of the great fire-arms manufactory and a lively picture of the Witsundale holiday—visit to Warwick Castle built in 913—Stratford-on-Avon, the birth-place of Shakespeare—Oxford the city of Colleges for the last one thousand years, and on to London. Our correspondent travels on a bicycle and sees and tells all of interest on his route.

Bro. Jones of the Charlotte Observer announces his willingness to go to Congress in the following card: "The undersigned, in response to hundreds of solicitations, and for which he feels a grateful appreciation, hereby announces himself as a candidate for representative in the Congress of the United States from the Sixth Congressional District of North Carolina.

In due time he will make an announcement of his views on public questions, and he proposes to canvass every square mile of the District, and meet the people face to face.

Very Respectfully, CHAS. R. JONES."

We were shown last week by Mr. William McKinney an old Deed which is quite a curiosity. It transfers ninety acres of land in Duplin county near the camping grounds of Lord Cornwallis during the Revolutionary war, by the State of North Carolina through Richard Caswell, Esq., Governor, Commander in chief and Captain General to David Dodd, in consideration of the sum of fifty shillings for every one hundred acres. It bears date at Kingston, December 17, 1779, the third year of our Independence. The paper has been frequently handled. The Deed is numbered 143 and is a printed blank only the name of the purchaser, signature of Governor and date, being in writing the balance printed and is an excellent specimen of good typography, press-work and printing ink.

The county of Haywood, has in the town of Waynesville three court houses. The first one was built in 1810, the second in 1820, and the third, which is one of the finest in the State, in 1885.—Asheville Advance.

The first is doing service in the capacity of a barn, the second has been remodeled into one of the neatest storerooms in town, and has dwelling apartments attached. The third and last will serve the county for years as durably as any county temple of justice in the State.—Charlotte Chronicle.

THERE were some fine native water-melons on the market Saturday.

MISS KATE MILLARD is at home from the Johnston Teachers' Institute.

MISS MITTIE POPE, of Lenoir, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Muscoe Wilson.

MISS MATTIE ROGERS, of Lillington, is visiting friends at the New Arlington.

MR. O. H. ALLEN, of Duplin, is on a visit to Mr. Allen's mother, Mrs. W. A. Allen.

CAPT. H. S. HAZELL has returned from a visit to McRae's Store, in Alamance county.

MRS. L. D. GULLEY gave a pleasant party to her young lady visitors last Friday evening.

The Portis string band of this city will go to Black Mountain for the balance of the summer season.

TICKETS to the Judicial Convention, at Smithfield, will be sold at $1.35 for the round trip from this city.

A PARTY of our young people had an enjoyable soiree at Mrs. N. R. Grainger's, last Thursday evening.

MR. H. Y. MOORE, of the insurance firm of Moore & Lindsey, is on a visit to relatives and friends in Kenansville.

CAPT. T. J. NEWSOME and wife passed through this city Friday evening of last week en route to Morehead City.

MR. W. H. SMITH is on a trip North and West in the interest of the extensive hardware house of Smith & Yelverton.

DR. M. E. ROBINSON, Messrs. Geo. W. Dewey, Frank Borden, Herbert Finlayson and Paul Humphrey spent Sunday at Morehead.

THE Interior of the store of Messrs. Hood, Britt & Hall presents a new appearance since the manipulations of the painter's brush.

If you want a cheap trip to the seashore, go on Hollowell & Peterson's dollar excursion to-morrow. The train will return Wednesday evening.

MR. GEO. T. JONES, left last Thursday on a trip to the western part of the State. He will return to this city before leaving for his home in Florida.

A YOUNG cyclone visited the northern part of the city last Thursday afternoon. No damage was done, however, beyond tearing up a few trees by the roots.

MISS KATE BORDELY, of Baltimore, an experienced milliner and popular young lady, who has been with Mr. C. G. Perkins for several seasons, left for home last Thursday.

MR. D. W. HURTT moved last week into the new and commodious dwelling on George street, opposite the Presbyterian manse, which he recently purchased from Mr. Will N. Hanft.

WE are glad to see that our friend, Prof. E. W. Kenneday, one of the foremost educators of the State, has been re-elected Superintendent of the Durham Graded School. Miss Besse Fanning was also re-elected to a position in that school.

ALL resident and visiting gentlemen, whether young or old, regardless of denominational tendencies, are cordially invited to attend the prayer meeting that is held at the Baptist Church every Monday evening, especially and exclusively for males.

THE Judicial Convention for this District will be held at Smithfield on Thursday. It is a foregone conclusion that Judge Clark and Solicitor Galloway will be nominated. It is possible that arrangements will be made to convey the delegates from Selma to Smithfield over the new "Short-cut."

WE learn that Prof. E. A. Alderman is more than meeting the high expectations of the people of Asheville, as Superintendent of the Normal School at that place. Prof. Alderman has few, if any, superiors in the State, as an active, progressive educator, and in whatever position he is placed reflects credit upon himself and upon the Goldsboro Graded School.

In our excess of delight at the bare possibility of an editor falling heir to a trip to California, we last week jumped at a consultation, and sent our esteemed friend and co-worker Major Foster, of the Wilmington Review, to San Francisco. We had already pictured him in his palace car sweeping across the plains and over the rockyes when lo! here comes the Review to our table and our joy is turned to sorrow that it was Colonel and not Major that it was Colojel and not Major and then not our Foster but another man the pleasure of whose acquaintance we have not. Col. Foster will no doubt forgive us and as to the Major, we owe him one, and will, on the first good opportunity, send him to the Legislature or to Congress.

A GOLDSBORO correspondent of the Greensboro Patriot says that Mr. W. E. Murchison's new boy is named Walter Clark Swift Galloway Murchison.

On account of the inclement weather the soiree to have taken place at Maj. H. L. Grant's, on Thursday evening, was deferred to Friday evening. We return thanks to the ladies for their remembrance of the writer's fondness for acrobatic things.

"GREEN GOODS."

One of our subscribers hands us a circular letter addressed to him through the post office at Goldsboro, from Terry Haute, Ind., from which we make free to give the enterprising projector some free advertising and respectfully call the attention of the post office department to the following:

"Very fine imitations of Uncle Sam's greenback's in 1, 2, 5 and 10's also the $10 and $20 silver bill. You can get them at $10 for $100 or $300 for $25 and $1,000 for $75. * * * I advise you to raise all the money you can and send it on at once.

B. C. DONOWAY, 134 N. 7th St., Terre Haute, Ind."

In other words you send on $10 and upwards and get in return a package of sawdust or worthless paper.

How long are these fellows going to find dupes to make it profitable to carry on their barefaced swindles?

We thought when Holland killed The Davis, the king of the sawdust swindlers, in New York, the publicity would forever stamp out the "old game" or at least make the rogues devise some new scheme. "Gentlemen of speculative dispositions" had better not send their money to be so easily Don-o-way.

NOTIFICATION AND ACCEPTANCE.

CLINTON, N. C., July 1, '86.

Hon. E. T. Boykin.

DEAR SIR—At a convention of the Democratic party, of the Sixth Judicial District, held in the town of Goldsboro on the 30th of June, 1886, you were unanimously nominated by acclamation as the candidate of said party for the position of Judge of said District, and the undersigned were appointed a committee to notify you of your nomination. In discharging the pleasant duty thus confided to us, we wish respectfully to tender you our individual congratulations upon the complimentary manner in which the nomination was bestowed.

Very Respectfully,

CLINTON, N. C., July 11, '86.

DEAR SIRS—Your letter informing me that the Democratic Convention of the Sixth Judicial District had unanimously nominated me for the office of Judge of the Superior Court, has been received. I accept the nomination, gratefully remembering the flattering manner in which it was bestowed as well as the kind words employed by you in notifying me of it.

I am very truly yours,

E. T. BOYKIN.

THE OXFORD FEMALE SEMINARY.

We invite the attention of our readers to the advertisement of this school in another column. Its location is unsurpassed. Oxford is in the hill country of North Carolina, and has long been noted for its healthfulness and for the culture and refinement of its social life.

The Oxford Female Seminary is in a highly prosperous condition, its last catalogue containing the names of 137 students representing every section of North Carolina, besides several other States. In consequence of the continuing increase of patronage, several thousand dollars will be expended during the summer in enlarging the already spacious buildings. When completed they will have a capacity of 75 to 100 boarding students, and possess the special feature that all the class and music rooms are on the first floor. This arrangement removes the necessity of going up and down stairs so often, which all physicians argue is detrimental to the health of girls.

The faculty for the next session is an unusually able one. The following leading schools of the world are represented in the corps of teachers by their graduates: The University of Virginia, Dr. Lauver's Amherst School of Languages, the Stuttgart Conservatory of Music of Germany, the Cincinnati Conservatory and the Cooper Union Art School of New York.

KIND WORDS.

The editor's absence from the sanctum caused the omission to note the fact that the Goldsboro Messenger, the largest newspaper in North Carolina, and the most widely circulated, has entered on a new volume. It gives employment to 22 men. It is a credit to Southern journalism and the CHRONICLE is glad to note its continued prosperity.—State Chronicle, July 15th.

(Thanks Bro. Daniels, we appreciate your kind words and note them with special pride, coming from one who is pressing us so hard in the strife for public favor.)

ANOTHER ENDORSEMENT.

BESTON, N. C., July 17, '86.

Editor Messenger:—As a voter of New Hope township I would like to second the endorsement which appeared in your last week's issue of Mr. M. J. Best for Sheriff. A man of the finest qualities, a man of most upright character there is no one, in my judgment, of a humble voter, who would fulfil the duties of the office to more satisfaction. If the people of the county wish to bestow the honor upon the deserving one's claims can be said to be ahead of this popular gentleman's. I feel very confident that if his name goes before the convention he will receive one of the largest followings from this township.

New Hope.

SOUND SENSE.

Cornelius—Why, Tom, you must be fixing to get married soon, to buy as many goods at this dull season of the year?

Tom—No idea of it yet, as Nellie told me I can't have her till Xmas but you see M. Summerfield & Co. are advertising their clothing out sale, and I have had advantage of it and bought these goods for my few dollars; the best investment I ever made.

THE PRESIDENT ON OFFENSIVE PARTISANSHIP.

WASHINGTON, July 14.—The following executive order was issued by the President this afternoon:

EXECUTIVE MANDATE.

WASHINGTON, July 14, 1886.

To the Heads of Departments in the Service of the General Government:

I deem this a proper time to especially warn all subordinates in the several departments, and all officeholders under the general government against the use of their official positions in attempts to control political movements in their localities. Officeholders are agents of the people—not their masters. Not only is their time and labor due to the government, but they should scrupulously avoid in their political action, as well as in the discharge of their official duty, offending by a display of obtrusive partisanship their neighbors who have relations with them as public officials. They should also constantly remember that their party friends from whom they have received preferment have not invested them with the power of arbitrarily managing their political affairs. They have no right as officeholders to dictate the political action of their party associates or to throttle freedom of action within party lines by methods and practices which pervert every useful and justifiable purpose of party organization. The influence of Federal officeholders should not be felt in the manipulation of political primary meetings and nominating conventions. The influence of these officials of their influence to compass their selections by delegates to political conventions, is indecent and unfair, and a proper regard for the property and requirements of official place will also prevent their assuming active conduct of political campaigns. Individual interests and activity in political affairs are by no means condemned. Officeholders are not forbidden nor prohibited the exercise of political privileges, but their duties to their party increased to pernicious activity by officeholders. Just discrimination in this regard between things a citizen may properly do and the purposes for which public office should not be used is easy in the light of a correct appreciation of the relation between the people and those entrusted with official place and consideration of the necessity under our form of government of political action free from official coercion. You are requested to communicate the substance of these views to those for whose guidance they are intended. GROVER CLEVELAND.

DIED.

In Bentonsville township, Johnston county, N. C., on Friday, July 2, 1886, Mrs. JULIA G. FLOWERS, wife of W. T. Dupree.

A meek and quiet spirit, awaited the beckoning smile of the Great Judge of the quick and the dead. Gradually but surely did the monster fever, born here; but the bore her affliction with christian fortitude and resignation. Deceased had connected herself with the Baptist church at long creek, and as yet would that they should do unto you. No sorrow seemed to great nor labor too arduous for her to undertake for her parents or friends. Weep not, dear friends, "she is not dead but sleepeth" and we shall meet her again on the thousand dollars will be expended during the summer in enlarging the already spacious buildings.
