A terrific cyclone swept over Topeka, Illinois, at 4 o'clock Sept. 16. The storm cloud came up from the southwest, and approached so rapidly that before any one expected it, the storm burst in all its fury, creating destruction and consternation in its wake. The Catholic church steeple and the building was undergoing repairs and the men working 100 feet above the ground were barely time to descend when the seafoed was caught up by the wind and crushed into kindling wood. The fragments were scattered about for more than one hundred rods.

THE ODD FELLOWS.

Meeting of the Sovereign Grand Lodge in Boston.

BOSTON, MASS., September 20.—At 2 p. m. yesterday 300 St. Louis delegates to the Odd Fellows' convention arrived by regular trains.

From that hour until midnight smaller parties arrived at the different depots by regular trains. At 12:15 this morning the first section of the Chicago special reached the Pittsburg station in this city.

The second section arrived shortly after 3 o'clock, and others of the ten sections forming the mammoth excursion came rolling in later in the morning. The last section is due at 11:30 a. m. to-day.

The visitors in all the sections are from Chicago and points west and north, many of them coming from Texas, and some from San Francisco. Among the party are 7 car loads from Denver and 17 car loads from Minneapolis and St. Paul.

In addition to these sections there are 7 sections due at the Pittsburg station during the forenoon points west of Chicago, and a station or two from New York state. The indications up to midnight were that there would be not less than 5,000 passengers over the Hoosac Tunnel line before noon.

This being the largest number of excursionists from so great a distance and the last section of the schedule limit, it now seems probable that the total number of visitors who, up to this evening have arrived, will not be far from 40,000. The celebration to be held during this week will, undoubtedly, be the grandest affair of the kind ever held in this country.

The principle feature of the occasion will be the parade on Wednesday. Through the programme will be of great interest to Odd-Fellows. The grand lodge convened in Odd Fellows hall at 9 a. m. for a secret business session. This evening a banquet will be tendered the sovereign grand lodge by the grand lodge and grand encampment of Massachusetts.

The caterer, who lay tables for 500, Governor Robinson, Mayor O'Brien and other prominent citizens have been invited to be present. On Tuesday the sovereign grand lodge will again meet and elect officers and transact other business. In the evening a past grand representatives will be held. There will be music and speeches from distinguished members of the sovereign grand lodge. On Wednesday the grand parade will occur. On Thursday the sovereign grand lodge will probably attend the performance at the Hallis street theatre by special invitation of manager Rich. Friday will be "ladies day," and an excursion will be given to Wesley college, on the invitation of the president, Mrs. Durant. Hummel and also be visited.

On Saturday the sovereign grand lodge will hold its closing session in Odd Fellows hall and adjourn. In conjunction with the regular order of business several amendments to the constitution of the sovereign grand lodge are to be acted upon. The first amendment proposed to strike out all of section 4 of article 11, and insert in lieu thereof the following: "Section 4: Appeal from the decision of a state, district or territorial lodge or encampment to the sovereign grand lodge may be taken as a matter of right to hear and determine grievances of individual members of lodges, but such appeals shall be subject to such general regulations as the grand lodge may adopt, and in all cases, the decision appealed from shall stand until reversed by the sovereign grand lodge, on a direct appeal from such decisions."

The next amendment provides for biennial sessions of the sovereign grand lodge instead of annual sessions as at present. The third amendment provides that in "Australia, New Zealand, and other countries not on the continent of North America. The qualification in regard to the age of members shall be left to local lodges. Another proposed amendment also provides that, in the same countries the qualifications of members as to age and color shall be left to local legislation. It is also proposed that representation to this sovereign grand lodge shall be confined to one representative from every state, district or territorial grand lodge or encampment. Another subject of considerable importance is the question of the permanent location of the sovereign grand lodge. Altogether, the session here will be one of more than usual importance.

The 62d annual session of the sovereign grand lodge I. O. O. F. was called to order at 9:20 A. M. to-day. An address of welcome was made by the grand master of Massachusetts, Mr. Hill, and was responded to by Henry P. Gray, of Maryland, grand sire, Grand Secretary Theo. A. Ross reported that during 1885 the net gain was 11 lodges and 1,080 members, 13 encampments and 119 members, 115 Rebekah degree lodges and 3,082 members. The available assets of the sovereign grand lodge are $22,286.40 in cash and $55,800 in government bonds, making a total of $78,086.40. The appointments to a large number of the session being devoted to the presentation of business.
