

Goldsboro Messenger

GOLDSBORO, N. C.

MONDAY, -- SEPTEMBER 27, 1886.

COUNTY CANDIDATES: FOR THE SENATE: W. F. KORNEGAY, J. A. BRYAN, FOR THE HOUSE: J. B. GARDNER, C. F. R. KORNEGAY, FOR SHERIFF: BENJ. P. AYCOCK, FOR TREASURER: JOHN H. EDWARDS, FOR REGISTER: W. T. GARDNER, FOR CLERK: W. W. SLOCUMB, FOR CORONER: DR. THOMAS HILL, FOR SURVEYOR: MARSHALL HOWELL.

CLEANINGS HERE AND ELSEWHERE.

We learn that the railroad bridge at Kinston was destroyed by fire Saturday night. The Atlantic Hotel property at Morehead City is to be sold. See advertisement in this paper. Watch the advertising columns of the MESSENGER. These now form an interesting feature of the paper. Dr. M. W. Harper offers valuable farming lands for sale in a rich and fertile section in Johnston county. Mr. J. B. Whitaker, Jr., is improving and enlarging his bookstore with a view to increasing his stock. Messrs. Jones & Yelverton call upon all indebted to their late firm to make speedy settlement. See advertisement. Mr. Geo. D. Miller, late the clever agent of the Atlantic road at Kinston, has accepted service on the W. & W. railroad, and is assigned as the agent at Fayetteville. Miss Mamie Hatchett, who has been editing The Southern Women at Henderson, takes charge of the Orphan's Friend, the organ of the Oxford Orphan Asylum. A large crowd attended the speaking at Selma on Friday. The speeches of Maj. John W. Graham and of Capt. Swift Galloway are highly complimentary. Both won friends.

Mr. R. L. Hollowell, of this county, a competent instructor and graduate of Earlham College, Indiana, has taken charge of the academy at Wilson's Mill, in Johnston county.

The extensive furniture house of Fuchler & Kern appear in a new advertisement. The firm carries one of the largest and most select stocks of furniture and house furnishing goods in North Carolina.

The clever house of Messrs. Mat. L. Lee & Co., announce that they are ready for a big fall trade, and solicit patronage. Merchants and farmers in need of supplies will do well to read their new advertisement.

Thirty seven new subscribers last week. Sixteen of these from Brunswick county. We are aiming for 10,000, and if our friends will aid us, we have no fear of not making our goal ere another year shall roll past us.

Messrs. Whitehurst & Owen, of Richmond, one of the largest manufacturers of doors, sash, and other building materials in the South, are enjoying a large patronage from North Carolina. See their advertisement in this paper.

As one of the several new features soon to be added to the MESSENGER, we take pleasure in announcing that we have arranged to publish weekly, in the issue following the close of its delivery, the sermons of the eminent Dr. Talmage, of Brooklyn.

Read the new advertisement of Mr. John Murphrey. In addition to an extensive stock of candies and confectioneries generally, he has secured the services of a competent baker and offers to supply families with bread. Mr. Chas. B. Murphrey has charge of the establishment.

Our new cylinder book press has arrived and is to be put in position for work during the present week. It is a press intended for book and poster work and has a capacity of 3,000 impressions per hour. This will give us the most complete press-room facilities of any office in North Carolina.

The second annual reunion of the members of Company H., First North Carolina Cavalry, will be held at Kinston on the second Wednesday in October next. Every surviving member is cordially invited and urged to attend. H. J. SAUTS, Capt. A. B. HOLLOWELL, O. S.

The Republicans on Saturday nominated Mr. Hugh Humphrey for constable of Goldsboro township. Mr. W. R. Parker, an old veteran in the sheriff's office, was nominated for the same position by the Democrats, but it is said, will decline the nomination. In that case we are told that the present incumbent, Mr. Jesse Benton, will run as an independent candidate against Mr. Humphrey.

Elizabeth City Skinner. The speech of Hon. Thomas G. Skinner at Camden Monday is referred to as the grandest effort of his life, and this is saying a great deal. Another exodus from Nag's Head this week. There are now but few people at our favorite resort and the season of '86 is about at an end. While we, in this section, can't boast of abundant crops this year, we have no cause for complaint.

And now we are to have the Tennessee style in county politics, but instead of "All and Bob" here we shall witness the contest of "Caleb and Giles." The Kornegay brothers opposing each other for the House of Representatives—Caleb as the Democratic nominee and Giles the Republican. Caleb will have the satisfaction of knowing that he is the candidate of the white men of Wayne county.

We direct attention to the new advertisement of Mr. C. G. Perkins. He has recently returned from the northern markets, and is now opening a large and well selected stock of general merchandise. Mr. Perkins is one of our oldest, reliable and most enterprising business men, and by fair and clever dealing he has established for himself a prominent trade, all of which he deserves. His millinery department is again under the supervision of Miss Bordley, of Baltimore, a competent and experienced milliner.

Raleigh News-Observer: At Smithfield Thursday evening there was an interesting political speaking, Maj. Graham and Maj. W. A. Smith spoke on the democratic side. Maj. Smith's speech was characteristic and he paid his respects to Mr. Nichols in a very amusing way. Mr. Nichols spoke for an hour.

We have received another interesting letter from Hon. Thomas R. Jernigan, of Japan, which will appear next week. The same mail brings us the intelligence that "a young American citizen," and a Tar-heel at that, has applied for registration at the United States Consulate in Hiogo, Japan, in the person of a fine baby boy. Mr. and Mrs. Jernigan have the MESSENGER'S sincerest congratulations.

Raleigh News-Observer: The Mott wing of the party will not give countenance to this rump concern by acknowledging its action in any respect, and the ticket put up must necessarily fall short of an election by more than fifty thousand votes. Under these circumstances it is quite ridiculous to ask gentlemen to allow the use of their names, and we hardly think that Messrs. Blynum, Baxton and Albertson will give their assent.

The Penn Mutual Life Insurance Company, of Philadelphia, is one of the most liberal and best institutions of the kind we know of. An advertisement of the company appears in this paper. We are pleased to learn that Mr. E. Lieberman, the clever and courteous State agent of the Penn Mutual, who has been here for several days, has designated Capt. R. P. Howell as the local agent of that excellent institution, which we can cheerfully endorse to all in search of reliable life insurance.

The signal service weather reports on Saturday show that a storm of moderate intensity was then prevailing in the Gulf of Mexico and causing strong easterly winds at the stations in that district. Heavy rains were reported from Texas, Louisiana, Alabama and Florida. In the other sections from which reports were received fair weather prevailed. The storm seemed to be moving northeastward. Telegraph wires south and west of Galvestone are down. The barometer at Shreveport, La., at 10 p. m., had fallen to 29.85, and at New Orleans to 29.98. The lowest barometer reported was at Palestine, Texas, where it registered 29.74.

THE REPUBLICANS. Nomination of County and Legislative Ticket.

The Republican County Convention was held at the court house Saturday afternoon.

Mr. W. S. O'B. Robinson took the chair, and announced that the Executive Committee of the county had agreed upon the following ticket, subject to the action of the convention, viz:

For Sheriff—John R. Smith. For Register of Deeds—Wm. A. Deans. For Coroner—Dr. Roger A. Smith. For Surveyor—N. P. Edgerton. For Treasurer—N. G. Holland.

For the House of Representatives—C. H. Brogden and Giles Kornegay. This "cut and dried" ticket was endorsed by acclamation.

The Chair stated that it had been suggested that the Convention take some action in reference to nomination of the Senate.

Geo. T. Wasson said that Duplin gave a large Democratic majority, and that there would be no hope of electing a nominee for the Senate. Mr. W. F. Kornegay, the Democratic nominee, was known to them all as a high-toned, Christian gentleman, and he (Wasson) saw no use in the Republicans bringing out a man just to run around and "bedevil and harass" Mr. Kornegay.

It was moved and carried that the chair appoint a committee of five to confer with a committee from Duplin county in reference to nominations for the Senate.

On motion, J. F. Dobson was elected Chairman of the County Executive Committee for the ensuing two years.

Calls were made for Robinson, who responded with a few "W. S. O'B.'s." Tyler-Smith then got the floor, and held it until he was twice or three times requested to desist. Tyler wants to be a candidate for the Senate.

The chair announced the following as the committee to confer with the Duplin committee, viz: L. W. Humphrey, J. K. Smith, G. T. Wasson, J. F. Dobson and E. B. Jordan.

This ended the work of putting up a ticket for the Democrats to knock down.

NEXT ENTERTAINMENT. At the Opera House on Monday Night Next.

An excellent comedy company will have the boards of the Opera House on Monday night of next week—when Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Ogden, supported by a strong cast, will appear before the footlights. The company was in Charlotte on Thursday last, and the Observer says:

"Charlotte's new play house, the Academy of Music, was formally opened last night, with the appearance before the lights of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Ogden's comedy company. A very fair audience was present, the house being comfortably filled. Three plays or comedies were presented, the first a dramatic lesson in one act, entitled "A Happy Pair," by Mr. and Mrs. Ogden, and in which they acted their part well. There was a vein of keen humor running throughout the play that could not have failed to be appreciated. The curtain was next rung up on "The Sweethearts," a drama by W. S. Gilbert, in which Mr. Ogden appeared as "Sir Henry Spreadbrow," and Miss Henrietta Floyd as "Miss Jennie Northcott," a character which was well-sustained by the charming young actress. The last play "Bamboozling," called out all the entire strength of the company and was presented with spirit. Altogether, the audience was well pleased, and the Ogden will be greeted by another large house to-night."

Centered Kid Gloves, 5 buttons, $1.50. Foster Kid Gloves, 5 hooks, $1.00. Ladies Kid Button Books, $2.50. C. P. Corset, Thomson Co. Corset, $2.50. Bone Women Corsets, $2.00. Bone Women Corsets, Easy Hip and Abdominal Corsets, at M. E. CASTEX & CO'S.

THE GREAT SHOCK—Has knocked the bottom out of prices in Dry Goods, Clothing, &c., at Sol. EINSTEIN & Co's.

GOLDSBORO JOTTINGS.

Personal Mention and Items of Interest at Home.

DRY and dusty.

THE Hebrew New Year begins Wednesday evening.

AND the Democrats have John R. Smith to beat again.

THE Superior court adjourned on Thursday of last week.

Mrs. S. H. DENMARK has returned from a visit to Wilson.

REV. J. W. JONES, of Beaufort, was in the city on Friday last.

Mrs. J. W. LAMB is on a visit to relatives in Duplin county.

MR. AND MRS. C. B. AYCOCK are visiting relatives in Wilson.

FIVE dollars to Charleston and return on Saturday's excursion.

Mrs. W. T. HARRISON left Saturday to visit relatives in Salisbary, N. C.

MISS MARY (Tom) HILL has returned from a visit to her brother, at Salisbury.

ABOUT one thousand bales of cotton have already been brought to this market.

MR. J. NEWTON GREEN has returned from a visit to his old home in Putnam, Conn.

MASTER COLLIER GRISWOLD has a position in the store of Messrs. H. Weil & Bros.

THE latest out—the Republican county ticket. Let Democrats resolve to keep them out.

MR. W. M. P. LANE, representative of Talbot & Sons, is on a visit to his family in this city.

IF we remember correctly, Wiggins predicted a great storm a year or two ago that failed to occur.

REV. A. L. PHILLIPS, of Wilmington Presbytery, officiated at the Presbyterian church yesterday.

READ the fall announcements of our merchants and then go and see how low they will sell you goods.

IT is thought that Mr. Wm. A. Deans will not accept the Republican nomination for Register of Deeds.

A SPECIAL meeting of the Goldsboro Rifles to-night at their armory. Every member is requested to be present.

MR. RICH. M. NELSON, of Selma, Ala., was in this city yesterday, on a brief visit to his father, Rev. C. J. Nelson.

THE protracted meeting at the Methodist church closed Friday night of last week, after having been in progress about two weeks.

MR. BEN STRAUSS, who spent several months in Washington city, has returned and is filling a position at Messrs. H. Weil & Bros.

REV. THOS. DIXON, the new pastor of the Baptist church, who is on a visit to his brother in Baltimore, will return to the city early in October.

THOSE who have not yet paid their subscriptions to the fund for the relief of the earthquake sufferers are requested to pay the same to J. B. Whitaker Jr., to-day.

AMONG the attractions at our approaching Fair will be competitive target practice by as many teams as may be induced to come. A gold badge will be awarded the successful team.

THE sermons preached last week by Rev. Mr. Hoge, of Wilmington, at the Presbyterian church, are spoken of in very high terms by competent judges. "Just the kind of sermons to do good," says one gentleman.

MASTER FRANK WIGGS left Saturday night to take a position as operator in the Western Union Telegraph Office at Savannah, Ga. Frank is a bright boy, deserving of success, and has our best wishes for prosperity in his new home.

MR. ROBERT D. JOHNSTON, the well-known and clever merchant tailor of Winston, who has an extensive patronage in this section, announces that he will be in Goldsboro on Thursday and Friday of this week, prepared to serve his friends and patrons. See notice in this paper.

THE Florence Bindley company, which was to have appeared at the Opera House on Saturday next, did not care to come in conflict with the circus, and hence has cancelled date. An excellent attraction, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Ogden's comedy, will, however, have the Opera House on Monday following.

LET the authorities keep a sharp lookout next Saturday for the tricksters and gamblers that sometimes come along with a circus. The law forbids gambling and it should not be tolerated in a law-abiding community. We call upon you, Mr. Sheriff, and you, Mr. Mayor, and you, Messrs. Police-men, to exercise most vigilant efforts to have the law strictly enforced.

We see that the Republican State Convention nominated our fellow citizen, Mr. W. S. O'B. Robinson, for Superior Court Judge from the Eighth District. W. S. O'B. is a clever gentleman, a good lawyer, and has done hard service for his party, and deserves the recognition at the hands of the Republicans, although it be an empty compliment. That is to say, Will and the balance of the ticket will get left by handsome Democratic majorities.

THE Graded School opened Thursday, with about 400 pupils, under favorable circumstances. The attendance this session promises to be as large as that of last year. This is gratifying to the staunch friends of this excellent institution and the fact that the school this year is founded not upon forced taxation, but upon the voluntary subscription of its citizens, is a high compliment to its efficiency and demonstrates the appreciation of our people for popular education. It is true that we were somewhat discouraged at one time by the tardiness of some in coming to the rescue of this institution, whose suspension would have been a public calamity, but we are gratified to know that the prospects are now bright for a successful school of at least nine months' duration.

THE audience at the Opera House on Thursday night, to witness "The Flash Light" by the Marion Booth party, was not as large as it should have been, but thoroughly appreciated the play. The play itself is quite enjoyable but Miss Booth's part does not seem to have afforded her sufficient opportunity for displaying her excellent talents. She acquitted herself with much credit. Mr. Jas. O. Barrows is one of the best comedians that has ever appeared before the footlights in this city. He made a decided hit. Miss Marion Fleming rendered her part in a charming manner. Indeed, the support as a whole is far above the average, and the company deserves a large patronage. It is to be regretted that the singing, of which the programme promised a good deal, had to be excluded for want of proper music, the Opera House management being unable to find some one who could play the accompaniment. The company will in all probability return here during the season when this omission will be made good, and we promise Miss Booth a large audience.

THE audience at the Opera House on Thursday night, to witness "The Flash Light" by the Marion Booth party, was not as large as it should have been, but thoroughly appreciated the play. The play itself is quite enjoyable but Miss Booth's part does not seem to have afforded her sufficient opportunity for displaying her excellent talents. She acquitted herself with much credit. Mr. Jas. O. Barrows is one of the best comedians that has ever appeared before the footlights in this city. He made a decided hit. Miss Marion Fleming rendered her part in a charming manner. Indeed, the support as a whole is far above the average, and the company deserves a large patronage. It is to be regretted that the singing, of which the programme promised a good deal, had to be excluded for want of proper music, the Opera House management being unable to find some one who could play the accompaniment. The company will in all probability return here during the season when this omission will be made good, and we promise Miss Booth a large audience.

THE audience at the Opera House on Thursday night, to witness "The Flash Light" by the Marion Booth party, was not as large as it should have been, but thoroughly appreciated the play. The play itself is quite enjoyable but Miss Booth's part does not seem to have afforded her sufficient opportunity for displaying her excellent talents. She acquitted herself with much credit. Mr. Jas. O. Barrows is one of the best comedians that has ever appeared before the footlights in this city. He made a decided hit. Miss Marion Fleming rendered her part in a charming manner. Indeed, the support as a whole is far above the average, and the company deserves a large patronage. It is to be regretted that the singing, of which the programme promised a good deal, had to be excluded for want of proper music, the Opera House management being unable to find some one who could play the accompaniment. The company will in all probability return here during the season when this omission will be made good, and we promise Miss Booth a large audience.

THE audience at the Opera House on Thursday night, to witness "The Flash Light" by the Marion Booth party, was not as large as it should have been, but thoroughly appreciated the play. The play itself is quite enjoyable but Miss Booth's part does not seem to have afforded her sufficient opportunity for displaying her excellent talents. She acquitted herself with much credit. Mr. Jas. O. Barrows is one of the best comedians that has ever appeared before the footlights in this city. He made a decided hit. Miss Marion Fleming rendered her part in a charming manner. Indeed, the support as a whole is far above the average, and the company deserves a large patronage. It is to be regretted that the singing, of which the programme promised a good deal, had to be excluded for want of proper music, the Opera House management being unable to find some one who could play the accompaniment. The company will in all probability return here during the season when this omission will be made good, and we promise Miss Booth a large audience.

THE audience at the Opera House on Thursday night, to witness "The Flash Light" by the Marion Booth party, was not as large as it should have been, but thoroughly appreciated the play. The play itself is quite enjoyable but Miss Booth's part does not seem to have afforded her sufficient opportunity for displaying her excellent talents. She acquitted herself with much credit. Mr. Jas. O. Barrows is one of the best comedians that has ever appeared before the footlights in this city. He made a decided hit. Miss Marion Fleming rendered her part in a charming manner. Indeed, the support as a whole is far above the average, and the company deserves a large patronage. It is to be regretted that the singing, of which the programme promised a good deal, had to be excluded for want of proper music, the Opera House management being unable to find some one who could play the accompaniment. The company will in all probability return here during the season when this omission will be made good, and we promise Miss Booth a large audience.

THE audience at the Opera House on Thursday night, to witness "The Flash Light" by the Marion Booth party, was not as large as it should have been, but thoroughly appreciated the play. The play itself is quite enjoyable but Miss Booth's part does not seem to have afforded her sufficient opportunity for displaying her excellent talents. She acquitted herself with much credit. Mr. Jas. O. Barrows is one of the best comedians that has ever appeared before the footlights in this city. He made a decided hit. Miss Marion Fleming rendered her part in a charming manner. Indeed, the support as a whole is far above the average, and the company deserves a large patronage. It is to be regretted that the singing, of which the programme promised a good deal, had to be excluded for want of proper music, the Opera House management being unable to find some one who could play the accompaniment. The company will in all probability return here during the season when this omission will be made good, and we promise Miss Booth a large audience.

THE audience at the Opera House on Thursday night, to witness "The Flash Light" by the Marion Booth party, was not as large as it should have been, but thoroughly appreciated the play. The play itself is quite enjoyable but Miss Booth's part does not seem to have afforded her sufficient opportunity for displaying her excellent talents. She acquitted herself with much credit. Mr. Jas. O. Barrows is one of the best comedians that has ever appeared before the footlights in this city. He made a decided hit. Miss Marion Fleming rendered her part in a charming manner. Indeed, the support as a whole is far above the average, and the company deserves a large patronage. It is to be regretted that the singing, of which the programme promised a good deal, had to be excluded for want of proper music, the Opera House management being unable to find some one who could play the accompaniment. The company will in all probability return here during the season when this omission will be made good, and we promise Miss Booth a large audience.

THE audience at the Opera House on Thursday night, to witness "The Flash Light" by the Marion Booth party, was not as large as it should have been, but thoroughly appreciated the play. The play itself is quite enjoyable but Miss Booth's part does not seem to have afforded her sufficient opportunity for displaying her excellent talents. She acquitted herself with much credit. Mr. Jas. O. Barrows is one of the best comedians that has ever appeared before the footlights in this city. He made a decided hit. Miss Marion Fleming rendered her part in a charming manner. Indeed, the support as a whole is far above the average, and the company deserves a large patronage. It is to be regretted that the singing, of which the programme promised a good deal, had to be excluded for want of proper music, the Opera House management being unable to find some one who could play the accompaniment. The company will in all probability return here during the season when this omission will be made good, and we promise Miss Booth a large audience.

THE audience at the Opera House on Thursday night, to witness "The Flash Light" by the Marion Booth party, was not as large as it should have been, but thoroughly appreciated the play. The play itself is quite enjoyable but Miss Booth's part does not seem to have afforded her sufficient opportunity for displaying her excellent talents. She acquitted herself with much credit. Mr. Jas. O. Barrows is one of the best comedians that has ever appeared before the footlights in this city. He made a decided hit. Miss Marion Fleming rendered her part in a charming manner. Indeed, the support as a whole is far above the average, and the company deserves a large patronage. It is to be regretted that the singing, of which the programme promised a good deal, had to be excluded for want of proper music, the Opera House management being unable to find some one who could play the accompaniment. The company will in all probability return here during the season when this omission will be made good, and we promise Miss Booth a large audience.

THE audience at the Opera House on Thursday night, to witness "The Flash Light" by the Marion Booth party, was not as large as it should have been, but thoroughly appreciated the play. The play itself is quite enjoyable but Miss Booth's part does not seem to have afforded her sufficient opportunity for displaying her excellent talents. She acquitted herself with much credit. Mr. Jas. O. Barrows is one of the best comedians that has ever appeared before the footlights in this city. He made a decided hit. Miss Marion Fleming rendered her part in a charming manner. Indeed, the support as a whole is far above the average, and the company deserves a large patronage. It is to be regretted that the singing, of which the programme promised a good deal, had to be excluded for want of proper music, the Opera House management being unable to find some one who could play the accompaniment. The company will in all probability return here during the season when this omission will be made good, and we promise Miss Booth a large audience.

THE audience at the Opera House on Thursday night, to witness "The Flash Light" by the Marion Booth party, was not as large as it should have been, but thoroughly appreciated the play. The play itself is quite enjoyable but Miss Booth's part does not seem to have afforded her sufficient opportunity for displaying her excellent talents. She acquitted herself with much credit. Mr. Jas. O. Barrows is one of the best comedians that has ever appeared before the footlights in this city. He made a decided hit. Miss Marion Fleming rendered her part in a charming manner. Indeed, the support as a whole is far above the average, and the company deserves a large patronage. It is to be regretted that the singing, of which the programme promised a good deal, had to be excluded for want of proper music, the Opera House management being unable to find some one who could play the accompaniment. The company will in all probability return here during the season when this omission will be made good, and we promise Miss Booth a large audience.

THE audience at the Opera House on Thursday night, to witness "The Flash Light" by the Marion Booth party, was not as large as it should have been, but thoroughly appreciated the play. The play itself is quite enjoyable but Miss Booth's part does not seem to have afforded her sufficient opportunity for displaying her excellent talents. She acquitted herself with much credit. Mr. Jas. O. Barrows is one of the best comedians that has ever appeared before the footlights in this city. He made a decided hit. Miss Marion Fleming rendered her part in a charming manner. Indeed, the support as a whole is far above the average, and the company deserves a large patronage. It is to be regretted that the singing, of which the programme promised a good deal, had to be excluded for want of proper music, the Opera House management being unable to find some one who could play the accompaniment. The company will in all probability return here during the season when this omission will be made good, and we promise Miss Booth a large audience.

THE audience at the Opera House on Thursday night, to witness "The Flash Light" by the Marion Booth party, was not as large as it should have been, but thoroughly appreciated the play. The play itself is quite enjoyable but Miss Booth's part does not seem to have afforded her sufficient opportunity for displaying her excellent talents. She acquitted herself with much credit. Mr. Jas. O. Barrows is one of the best comedians that has ever appeared before the footlights in this city. He made a decided hit. Miss Marion Fleming rendered her part in a charming manner. Indeed, the support as a whole is far above the average, and the company deserves a large patronage. It is to be regretted that the singing, of which the programme promised a good deal, had to be excluded for want of proper music, the Opera House management being unable to find some one who could play the accompaniment. The company will in all probability return here during the season when this omission will be made good, and we promise Miss Booth a large audience.

THE audience at the Opera House on Thursday night, to witness "The Flash Light" by the Marion Booth party, was not as large as it should have been, but thoroughly appreciated the play. The play itself is quite enjoyable but Miss Booth's part does not seem to have afforded her sufficient opportunity for displaying her excellent talents. She acquitted herself with much credit. Mr. Jas. O. Barrows is one of the best comedians that has ever appeared before the footlights in this city. He made a decided hit. Miss Marion Fleming rendered her part in a charming manner. Indeed, the support as a whole is far above the average, and the company deserves a large patronage. It is to be regretted that the singing, of which the programme promised a good deal, had to be excluded for want of proper music, the Opera House management being unable to find some one who could play the accompaniment. The company will in all probability return here during the season when this omission will be made good, and we promise Miss Booth a large audience.

THE audience at the Opera House on Thursday night, to witness "The Flash Light" by the Marion Booth party, was not as large as it should have been, but thoroughly appreciated the play. The play itself is quite enjoyable but Miss Booth's part does not seem to have afforded her sufficient opportunity for displaying her excellent talents. She acquitted herself with much credit. Mr. Jas. O. Barrows is one of the best comedians that has ever appeared before the footlights in this city. He made a decided hit. Miss Marion Fleming rendered her part in a charming manner. Indeed, the support as a whole is far above the average, and the company deserves a large patronage. It is to be regretted that the singing, of which the programme promised a good deal, had to be excluded for want of proper music, the Opera House management being unable to find some one who could play the accompaniment. The company will in all probability return here during the season when this omission will be made good, and we promise Miss Booth a large audience.

THE audience at the Opera House on Thursday night, to witness "The Flash Light" by the Marion Booth party, was not as large as it should have been, but thoroughly appreciated the play. The play itself is quite enjoyable but Miss Booth's part does not seem to have afforded her sufficient opportunity for displaying her excellent talents. She acquitted herself with much credit. Mr. Jas. O. Barrows is one of the best comedians that has ever appeared before the footlights in this city. He made a decided hit. Miss Marion Fleming rendered her part in a charming manner. Indeed, the support as a whole is far above the average, and the company deserves a large patronage. It is to be regretted that the singing, of which the programme promised a good deal, had to be excluded for want of proper music, the Opera House management being unable to find some one who could play the accompaniment. The company will in all probability return here during the season when this omission will be made good, and we promise Miss Booth a large audience.

THE audience at the Opera House on Thursday night, to witness "The Flash Light" by the Marion Booth party, was not as large as it should have been, but thoroughly appreciated the play. The play itself is quite enjoyable but Miss Booth's part does not seem to have afforded her sufficient opportunity for displaying her excellent talents. She acquitted herself with much credit. Mr. Jas. O. Barrows is one of the best comedians that has ever appeared before the footlights in this city. He made a decided hit. Miss Marion Fleming rendered her part in a charming manner. Indeed, the support as a whole is far above the average, and the company deserves a large patronage. It is to be regretted that the singing, of which the programme promised a good deal, had to be excluded for want of proper music, the Opera House management being unable to find some one who could play the accompaniment. The company will in all probability return here during the season when this omission will be made good, and we promise Miss Booth a large audience.

THE audience at the Opera House on Thursday night, to witness "The Flash Light" by the Marion Booth party, was not as large as it should have been, but thoroughly appreciated the play. The play itself is quite enjoyable but Miss Booth's part does not seem to have afforded her sufficient opportunity for displaying her excellent talents. She acquitted herself with much credit. Mr. Jas. O. Barrows is one of the best comedians that has ever appeared before the footlights in this city. He made a decided hit. Miss Marion Fleming rendered her part in a charming manner. Indeed, the support as a whole is far above the average, and the company deserves a large patronage. It is to be regretted that the singing, of which the programme promised a good deal, had to be excluded for want of proper music, the Opera House management being unable to find some one who could play the accompaniment. The company will in all probability return here during the season when this omission will be made good, and we promise Miss Booth a large audience.

THE audience at the Opera House on Thursday night, to witness "The Flash Light" by the Marion Booth party, was not as large as it should have been, but thoroughly appreciated the play. The play itself is quite enjoyable but Miss Booth's part does not seem to have afforded her sufficient opportunity for displaying her excellent talents. She acquitted herself with much credit. Mr. Jas. O. Barrows is one of the best comedians that has ever appeared before the footlights in this city. He made a decided hit. Miss Marion Fleming rendered her part in a charming manner. Indeed, the support as a whole is far above the average, and the company deserves a large patronage. It is to be regretted that the singing, of which the programme promised a good deal, had to be excluded for want of proper music, the Opera House management being unable to find some one who could play the accompaniment. The company will in all probability return here during the season when this omission will be made good, and we promise Miss Booth a large audience.

THE audience at the Opera House on Thursday night, to witness "The Flash Light" by the Marion Booth party, was not as large as it should have been, but thoroughly appreciated the play. The play itself is quite enjoyable but Miss Booth's part does not seem to have afforded her sufficient opportunity for displaying her excellent talents. She acquitted herself with much credit. Mr. Jas. O. Barrows is one of the best comedians that has ever appeared before the footlights in this city. He made a decided hit. Miss Marion Fleming rendered her part in a charming manner. Indeed, the support as a whole is far above the average, and the company deserves a large patronage. It is to be regretted that the singing, of which the programme promised a good deal, had to be excluded for want of proper music, the Opera House management being unable to find some one who could play the accompaniment. The company will in all probability return here during the season when this omission will be made good, and we promise Miss Booth a large audience.

THE audience at the Opera House on Thursday night, to witness "The Flash Light" by the Marion Booth party, was not as large as it should have been, but thoroughly appreciated the play. The play itself is quite enjoyable but Miss Booth's part does not seem to have afforded her sufficient opportunity for displaying her excellent talents. She acquitted herself with much credit. Mr. Jas. O. Barrows is one of the best comedians that has ever appeared before the footlights in this city. He made a decided hit. Miss Marion Fleming rendered her part in a charming manner. Indeed, the support as a whole is far above the average, and the company deserves a large patronage. It is to be regretted that the singing, of which the programme promised a good deal, had to be excluded for want of proper music, the Opera House management being unable to find some one who could play the accompaniment. The company will in all probability return here during the season when this omission will be made good, and we promise Miss Booth a large audience.

THE audience at the Opera House on Thursday night, to witness "The Flash Light" by the Marion Booth party, was not as large as it should have been, but thoroughly appreciated the play. The play itself is quite enjoyable but Miss Booth's part does not seem to have afforded her sufficient opportunity for displaying her excellent talents. She acquitted herself with much credit. Mr. Jas. O. Barrows is one of the best comedians that has ever appeared before the footlights in this city. He made a decided hit. Miss Marion Fleming rendered her part in a charming manner. Indeed, the support as a whole is far above the average, and the company deserves a large patronage. It is to be regretted that the singing, of which the programme promised a good deal, had to be excluded for want of proper music, the Opera House management being unable to find some one who could play the accompaniment. The company will in all probability return here during the season when this omission will be made good, and we promise Miss Booth a large audience.

THE audience at the Opera House on Thursday night, to witness "The Flash Light" by the Marion Booth party, was not as large as it should have been, but thoroughly appreciated the play. The play itself is quite enjoyable but Miss Booth's part does not seem to have afforded her sufficient opportunity for displaying her excellent talents. She acquitted herself with much credit. Mr. Jas. O. Barrows is one of the best comedians that has ever appeared before the footlights in this city. He made a decided hit. Miss Marion Fleming rendered her part in a charming manner. Indeed, the support as a whole is far above the average, and the company deserves a large patronage. It is to be regretted that the singing, of which the programme promised a good deal, had to be excluded for want of proper music, the Opera House management being unable to find some one who could play the accompaniment. The company will in all probability return here during the season when this omission will be made good, and we promise Miss Booth a large audience.

THE audience at the Opera House on Thursday night, to witness "The Flash Light" by the Marion Booth party, was not as large as it should have been, but thoroughly appreciated the play. The play itself is quite enjoyable but Miss Booth's part does not seem to have afforded her sufficient opportunity for displaying her excellent talents. She acquitted herself with much credit. Mr. Jas. O. Barrows is one of the best comedians that has ever appeared before the footlights in this city. He made a decided hit. Miss Marion Fleming rendered her part in a charming manner. Indeed, the support as a whole is far above the average, and the company deserves a large patronage. It is to be regretted that the singing, of which the programme promised a good deal, had to be excluded for want of proper music, the Opera House management being unable to find some one who could play the accompaniment. The company will in all probability return here during the season when this omission will be made good, and we promise Miss Booth a large audience.

THE audience at the Opera House on Thursday night, to witness "The Flash Light" by the Marion Booth party, was not as large as it should have been, but thoroughly appreciated the play. The play itself is quite enjoyable but Miss Booth's part does not seem to have afforded her sufficient opportunity for displaying her excellent talents. She acquitted herself with much credit. Mr. Jas. O. Barrows is one of the best comedians that has ever appeared before the footlights in this city. He made a decided hit. Miss Marion Fleming rendered her part in a charming manner. Indeed, the support as a whole is far above the average