CHARLESTON AGAIN SHOCKED.

Houses Badly Shaken and People Frightened.

CHARLESTON, S. C., Oct. 9.—There have been several shocks of earthquake since midnight, some of them quite severe. The following are the particulars:

Charleston received a black eye today, as indicated in these dispatches last night. The indications yesterday all pointed to a renewal of the seismic disturbances. The renewal of the shakes at Summerville was the worst sign. These, after almost ceasing, began again on Thursday night, and on Friday developed considerable additional force. Last night the atmosphere was dull and oppressive, despite the fact that cool weather has been prevailing, and those who have been observing the disturbance fully expected the shock. The first was felt about 12:35 a. m., but was merely a tremor of the earth. At 1:50 there was a sharp, distinct shock, accompanied by the usual tremble and subterranean noise, lasting from 4 to 5 seconds. At 3:40 a. m. there was a third shock, not as sharp as the preceding one, but sufficiently sharp to throw down loose bricks from unrepaired walls and shake plastering from shattered ceilings all over the city. Many persons were awakened, and in some instances ran out of their houses. The shock cannot fail to have a very depressing effect upon the people here who had hoped that their troubles were about over.

It was so sharp and so distinct that there was no mistaking its character, and it brought to mind almost the faded recollections of the terrible night of August 31st. Nevertheless the streets are crowded this morning, and the people while they talk of it and compare notes, are still going on with the work of repairing with the dogged perseverance that will not be baffled as long as they have ground under their feet.

There have been three slight shocks here since midnight—the first at 1:48, the second about 4, and the third at 5:25 this morning. No damage has been done, and all the shocks were so slight that many persons did not feel them.

THE OCTOBER CROP REPORT.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—The crop report of the department of agriculture for October gives the local estimates of the yield per acre of small grains, with the condition of corn, potatoes, and other late crops. The results corroborate the previous returns of wheat, also confirming the expectations of a slight increase from the first records of the spring, without making any very material addition to the crop aggregate. The average yield upon an area of fully thirty-seven million acres appears to be close to 12 1/2 bushels per acre, making the crop an average of a series of years. The area actually harvested is now the principal object of exact determination. The result will vary little from an increase of 100,000,000 bushels over the crop of last year.

The State averages of the principal States are: New York 17, Pennsylvania 13, Kentucky 11.5, Ohio 15.7, Michigan 16.3, Indiana 15.1, Illinois 13.1, Wisconsin 12.3, Minnesota 12.6, Iowa 12.5, Missouri 12.5, Kansas 11, Nebraska 9.6, Dakota 10.5, California 11.5, Oregon 12.5.

The average yield per acre of oats is 26.6 bushels, making a crop of over 600,000,000 bushels. The Ohio valley averages over 30 bushels per acre; Iowa over 34 bushels, with lower yields in Missouri, Kansas and the Southern States. The eastern States have high yields. The barley crop averages 22.4 bushels per acre, and the product will come nearly up to 60,000,000, bushels. The average yield of the rye crop is 11.8 bushels per acre, and the product is over 26,000,000 bushels. The high temperature of September and the absence of frost have improved the corn crop prospect and made the expectation 22 bushels per acre, and rendered certain a crop of at least 1,950,000,000 bushels. The final averages of the condition of seven States which produce seven-tenths of the crops, are Ohio 90, Indiana 93, Illinois 74, Iowa 78, Missouri 68, Kansas 65, Nebraska 73; the averages of the eastern States are above 90 and those of the Southern States mostly between 80 and 90. The general average is nearly 80, against 65 last year, when the yield was 26.5 bushels. The general average of the October condition of potatoes is 81 against 82 last year, 88 in 1884 and 93 in 1885. The average of New York is 90, Pennsylvania 84, Virginia 93, Ohio 89, Michigan 71, Indiana 87, Illinois 79, Iowa 59, Missouri 72, Kansas 63. The tobacco average of condition is nearly 87 Kentucky 92, Tennessee 90, North Carolina 80, Virginia 77, Maryland 75. Cigar tobacco averages high except in Wisconsin. The promise of buckwheat is for a crop slightly under the average. The condition in New York and Pennsylvania is 87, which is nearly the general average.
