GLEANINGS HERE AND ELSEWHERE.

—Richmond Fair this week. —The Weldon Fair begins to-morrow. —The Republicans of 1868 are badly on the hack. —Judges Boykin and Gudge were in this city on Saturday. —Senator Ransom's speech at Smithfield on Thursday, is pronounced one of his ablest efforts. —Read Dr. Talmage's sermon of yesterday. You will find it on the 3rd page of this paper. —Messrs. Latham, Alexander & Co.'s estimate makes the cotton crop of this year 6,292,708 bales. —Will W. G. Broadhurst vote the Republican or the Democratic county ticket? Which, William G? —Hon. W. A. Smith speaks in Lenoir county two days next week. He will speak by invitation at Kinston and at LaGrange. —Sheriff Grantham is doing excellent service for the success of the entire Democratic county ticket. A true Democrat, he is, indeed. —The loss of life by the Gulf storm is greater than first reported; 127 are missing at Sabine Pass; 65 were drowned at Bradford, La. —Mr. Wm. E. Graves, of Island Creek township, Duplin county, made 107 gallons of fine syrup on less than 1/2 of an acre of ground. Who can beat it? —Mrs. R. W. Pridden, who has been several weeks on her sick bed, is now Prof. Jas. S. Pridden at King's Mountain, is at home again, much improved in health. —Sampson Superior Court last week added five convicts to the penitentiary force—two of them white men, the Smith Brothers, for horse stealing. Go up for twenty and ten years. —Hon. A. M. Waddell will address our citizens at the Opera House on Thursday night. Col. E. D. Hall, Mayor of Wilmington, will be with us one night during the week before the election. —Mr. Willis Edmondson appears in a new advertisement. He is a conscientious, clever dealer and deserves the most liberal patronage. Read his announcement and give him a share of your trade. —We are requested to announce, that the Rev. Prof. Cesar Andrew Taylor, of New York, will lecture on the past, present and future of the colored race, in the Kornegay Hall, at 8:15 p. m. No charge for admission. All are invited. —Wilson Advance: Mr. C. B. Aycock is doing some excellent work in Wayne county for the Democratic party. He is not a candidate, nor has he ever been one, but he labors earnestly and efficiently in every campaign. We need more of such men in every county. —Phoenix at the Opera House Friday night. The usual reduced rates over the W. & W. Railroad. A special train will come up from Newbern for the accommodation of the people along the line of the A. & N. C. Railroad. The most fashionable and complete of the season is expected. —On the 8th page of this paper appears an attractive advertisement of Mr. Joseph Edwards. He has now in stock the largest assortment of dry goods, clothing, shoes, hats, notions, furniture, etc., he has ever offered in Goldsboro, and having assumed the title as "the champion of low prices," says he will maintain it. —The managers of the colored Fair to be held here on the 24, 25, and 26th of November, are most hopeful of a successful Fair. Simon Sasser, is President, A. M. Smith and Phillip Coley, Vice Presidents, B. S. Stevens, Secretary, and Stephen Daniels, Treasurer. The premium lists in pamphlet form are a credit to their efforts. —We direct attention to the new advertisement of Mr. Asher Edwards in this paper. He carries one of the largest and best selected stocks of general merchandise in Goldsboro, and he offers bargains. Give him a call at his spacious and handsome store on the corner of East-Center and Mulberry streets. —In response to an invitation sent President Cleveland by Mr. Bonitz, on behalf of the Directors of the Eastern Carolina Fair and Stock Association, the President writes his thanks for the courteous invitation and regrets that on account of pressing duties, it will not be in his power to accept any invitation to visit farther South than Richmond this season. —Mrs. Eleazry Newsome, the estimable wife of our old friend Richard Newsome, of Saulton township, died on the 9th inst., aged 64 years. Deceased had been, for many years, a consistent member of the Free Will Baptist church, and in her death a devoted wife, an affectionate mother and a kind neighbor has passed to eternal peace and rest. —Smithfield Herald: A number of people in the county are raising rice this year and we understand they are highly pleased with the yield. Mr. H. M. Johnson, of Rome, has a fine crop. Mr. E. W. Pou planted three acres and the yield was 140 bushels. At 75 cents per bushel, this beats cotton. Farmers say new ground is the best for rice. Surely our farmers ought to raise rice if they can; for it is about the only protected article they can plant successfully. The tariff on rice is 3 cents per pound.

—The Messenger has never more popular with the people than now. This is evidenced by the many kind letters of encouragement each mail brings us, by the constant and steady increase in circulation and by the largest advertising patronage ever accorded unsolicited to a North Carolina newspaper. —The funeral of the late Z. L. M. Peacock, of Great Swamp township, one of Wayne's best and most respected citizens, was preached by Elder J. T. Edgerton on Wednesday. There was present a large concourse of friends who sadly mourn his demise. Mr. Peacock was a brother of our esteemed townsman, Messrs. W. A. J. and David W. Peacock. —The gathering at New Hope on Friday turned out to be a Democratic "love feast." Most gratifying reports come to us from old New Hope. Prejudices and personal dislikes have disappeared and harmony reigns supreme among the gallant New Hope Democracy, and we may listen out for glorious reports from the white men of that staunch old precinct. —Capt. B. H. Bunn, of Nash county, speaks at Elevation, in Johnston, on Wednesday. Col. W. J. Green spoke at Clinton on Tuesday, and at Warsaw on Wednesday. Gen. W. R. Cox and Capt. C. M. Cook are canvassing in behalf of Maj. Graham, and Maj. C. M. Stedman has taken the hustings for Maj. Rowland. That is the way all defeated aspirants for nominations should do. —Battleground: The Primitive Baptists held their Association at Whitaker's on last Saturday, Sunday and Monday, and it was an enjoyable affair to all who could attend. The services were held in the Mayonia Tobacco Warehouse, which is capable of seating 3,000 people. It was crowded to its utmost capacity, and then you could see hundreds sitting in buggies and walking around town. —The New York Times says: The "Phoenix" is a drama that not only pleases the masses, but is full of pith and point for the student of American humor. These days Bohemian with his blood curdling romance for the Weekly Chamberlain's Own is exasperatingly funny. Mr. Nobles, the author of the play, has been liberally endowed by nature with a fund of mingled humor and pathos admirably suited to the requirements of the leading role. —The canvass is getting lively in every section of North Carolina, and some of the ablest statesmen we have, are on the stump—Judge Dan'l G. Fowle, Hon. A. M. Waddell, Senators Mat. W. Ransom, Zeb. B. Vance, Captain Octavius Coke—all are to be heard advocating the principles of the Democratic party, and pleading for good government, such as that party has given since it has been in power, and such as it vouchsafes to the whole people of the State. —When John R. Smith collected taxes for John C. Rhodes, county vouchers sold for 40 and 50 cents in the dollar, and speculators and money changers held high carnival in the court house buying up such vouchers, which were paid over to Edmond Coor, Esq., then county treasurer, in settlement for several terms of office value. Let us not have any more money changers in the court house. The way to prevent it is to keep John R. Smith out of the Sheriff's office. —Wilmington Review: The Democrats of Pender met Friday at Burgaw in County Convention and the following nominations were made: For Sheriff—A. C. Ward. For the House—James F. Moore. For Register—R. N. Bloodworth. There was a big fight over the Clerkship. Mr. W. T. Baunerman, the present incumbent of that office, and one which he has filled most acceptably for several terms, withdrew, and the contest narrowed itself down to the friends of Messrs. James N. Henry, Edwin Fennell and W. M. Hand, with the chances about even. The session was an entirely harmonious one. —"THE PHOENIX." Milton Nobles at the Opera House Friday Night. The appearance of Milton Nobles and his excellent company is always hailed here with appreciation and delight, and he will doubtless receive the largest greeting that has long since been accorded any company, on Friday night next. Few comedians are more popular than Mr. and Mrs. Nobles. The Brooklyn Eagle says: "Plays may come and plays may go but the Phoenix goes on forever—or promises to do so. This immensely successful play is now in its ninth consecutive year and its drawing powers seem to increase with age. The audience that filled the Grand last night, the majority of whom had probably seen the play a half score of times laughed, applauded and laughed again as though each of the old familiar 'points' were being seen or heard for the first time. The play possesses a peculiar charm, whose influence is not confined to any particular class of theater-goers. It reaches all. The terribly realistic fire scene, which terminates the prologue, and the skillfully conceived gambling scene, with its startling denouement, which ends the second act, are thrilling enough to satisfy the most intense craving for sensationalism, while the story of the immortal 'villain' who 'still pursued' the virtuous maiden, is a positive stroke of genius. This scene scene deserves, as it has received, an honorable niche in the temples of American humor. In Moses Solomons, Mr. Nobles created a type of stage Jew, which has since been extensively copied. This character has made the reputation of about a half dozen successful comedians, and a copy of it has made the fortune of at least one. 'Uncle Isaac,' 'Samuel of Posen,' 'Hebrew Friend,' and a dozen others more or less of that ilk, are simply off-shoots of Moses Solomons in 'The Phoenix.' But 'The Phoenix' possesses an inherent dramatic strength and a fund of genuine humor that will give it life and vitality long after its talented author and his feeble imitators have passed from the public eye." The usual reduced rates have been arranged over the Wilmington and Weldon road, and a special train will come up for the occasion from Newbern. —OUR CLOAK DEPARTMENT—Was never more complete—such as New Markets, Circulars, Short Wraps and Walking Jackets. SOL. EINSTEIN & Co. —Job printing done in good style and at lowest rates at the MESSENGER Press Rooms.

THE prospects for a Democratic victory in this county are growing brighter every day. TELEPHONE connection between Borden Bro.'s office and the Oil Mills is being established. DR. B. F. DIXON, Superintendent of the Oxford Orphan Asylum, was in the city on Saturday. IF you have not paid your subscription, or tuition, to the Graded School, be sure to attend to it to-day. MR. EDWARD C. EXTUM, of Wilson county, has been added to the list of Marshals for our approaching Fair. CAPT. J. D. WINSLOW, of Statesville, is in the city on business, and his many friends are pleased to see him. REV. DR. J. B. BOBBITT preached at St. Paul Church yesterday morning. There were no services at night. MRS. W. T. DORTCH and children, who have been spending the summer in Virginia, returned home Saturday evening. SHERIFF GRANTHAM, like the good Democrat that he is, is doing telling service for the Democratic ticket in this campaign. WELDON Fair this week. Special trains will leave here Wednesday, Thursday and Friday mornings, returning in the evening. A TEAM of the Goldsboro Rifles are practicing for the target match to take place the second day of the Fair, Thursday, November 4th. THE largest audience of the season will probably greet Milton Nobles in 'The Phoenix,' at the Opera House, Friday evening of this week. THE Carolina Music House Band will be at the Weldon Fair this week. Prof. R. B. Procter, of Durham, former leader, is with the boys. THE Church Working Society of St. Paul church will give an entertainment next Monday evening. Particulars will appear in our next issue. THERE will be a special train over the Atlantic Road Friday night for the Milton Nobles entertainment, to return immediately after the performance. TICKETS will be sold from Oct. 23d to 26th, inclusive, good to return until Nov. 1st, from this city to the State Fair, at Raleigh, including admission to grounds, at $2.30. THIS being Court week the county canvass is suspended until next Monday, when it will re-open at Saulton. The armistice, however, does not exclude bushwhacking. THE Ladies' Benevolent Society will give their second annual banquet on Tuesday evening, Nov. 10th. A list of committees appointed may be found in another column. THE next re-union of Co. H, First North Carolina Cavalry, will be held in this city on the second Wednesday in August, 1887. So it was decided at the meeting at Kinston last week. REV. THOS. P. HAY, of Aiken, S. C., who has been called to the pastorate of the Presbyterian Church, in this city, occupied the pulpit of that Church yesterday morning and evening. MR. JOS. S. WILSON, who has faithfully served the MESSENGER as assistant foreman of the newspaper department, has gone to Wilmington to accept a position in one of the job offices. Joe has our best wishes for success. MRS. C. W. HARRIS, of Washington, is on a brief visit to Mrs. Wm. A. Allen in this city. Mrs. Harris is the Washington correspondent of several of our most influential State exchanges and she wields a fluent and trenchant pen. MISS JESSIE BROADHURST, of this county, daughter of Capt. J. Broadhurst, is teaching school at Kenansville. With natural ability and the experience acquired at the Tennessee Normal, Miss Jessie will doubtless make an efficient and successful teacher. LITTLE MATTIE, the six months old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willis Edmondson, died Saturday night and was buried Sunday afternoon. May He who said "suffer little children to come unto me," give comfort to the bereaved parents in their sadness and draw them closer to Heaven. Little Mattie's bright and glorious home. THE Trustees of the Graded School will meet at the residence of the chairman to-night, for the purpose of revising the school lists. In this connection we would state that only about one-half of the first payment subscription has as yet been paid in. Only three day's grace remaining. Prof. Alderman must after Thursday dismiss all who have not paid up, unless exempted by the Board. THIS writer is sorry, exceedingly sorry, that a majority of the Directors of the Fair are in favor of permitting games of chance, as they term it, (gambling we call it) upon their grounds. Gambling is contrary to the State law, contrary to moral law, and we believe will prove detrimental to the best interests of the Association. There are some restrictions this year, and these restrictions will be rigidly enforced by the President and Secretary, but it would be far better if the "black legs" were excluded entirely.

THE tramp nuisance approacheth. Friday was a bad day for the foot sore pedestrians in this city. Six of them were arched through the streets in front of Officers Eppes and Carroll, and were shown the Southern limits of the city; one, who had over-loaded with tangle-leg, was lodged in the lock-up, and two were put off the south-bound train. In the State Chronicle we find the following complimentary allusion to a former Goldsboro young lady: "Miss Pattie Mann, daughter of Rev. J. E. Mann, of Greensboro, has opened an Art Studio in Winston. She has recently returned from an Art School in New York where she spent, some time taking lessons. She is a born artist, and deserves to meet with great success. THROUGH the kindness of a friend we were shown an announcement of a thrilling story, to be begun in the National Weekly Story Paper, published in Philadelphia, entitled "The Charleston Earthquake; or, Adrift Amid the Ruins," by Walter F. Jackson, the talented son of Engineer W. H. Jackson, who pulls the throttle of No. 108 on the Wilmington and Weldon Railroad. Timely in every respect and treating in the most graphic and effective manner of a theme that is at present engrossing popular attention, we hope this admirable and dramatic serial will find hosts of readers. With the earthquake that recently overwhelmed Charleston as the centrepiece, the gifted author proceeded to develop a capital story of love, emotion and adventure that will be sure to create a furore in every section of the United States. Everybody who reads that telling success, "Alma, the Wait," should read "The Charleston Earthquake," by the same gifted author. SECOND ANNUAL BANQUET. By the Ladies' Benevolent Society of Goldsboro. The Ladies' Benevolent Society, of this city, have decided to give their second annual banquet on Thursday, Nov. 10th, for the purpose of raising funds for the alleviation of distress among our poor, during the winter.
