THE SHOCK LAST FRIDAY.
The Country is Pretty Generally Shaken Up.

CHARLESTON, October 22.—A severe shock, lasting from 8 to 12 seconds, occurred this morning at 5:25 o'clock. It was accompanied by the usual vibration of the earth and rumbling sounds, sending people out of bed and in many cases into the street. By most it is considered the severest since the great shock of August 31. Beyond the falling of bricks and plastering and damage has been heard of. The shock was also severe at Savannah, Ga.; Orangeburg, S. C., and Waynesboro, Georgia.

LATER.—Another shock occurred at 2:45 p. m., and pronounced by many to be of greater severity than the morning shake, though of shorter duration. It caused considerable commotion on the streets, and many persons quitted their desks.

Another shock occurred here at 7:05 p. m., but of a slighter character than the two preceding ones to-day. The details received to-night from the surrounding territory show that to-day's disturbances were very generally felt throughout this State from the coast up as far as the foot of the Blue Ridge mountains, in Laurens county. The vibrations also extended throughout lower Georgia, including Augusta, Waynesboro and Savannah. The center of disturbances appear to be Charleston and Summerville, from which places the earth waves seem to have radiated in all directions.

COLUMBIA, S. C., October 22.—At 5:25 this morning the people of Columbia were rudely awakened by a heavy earthquake shock, accompanied by loud and sharp detonations, which lasted a full forty seconds. Buildings were shaken, crockery was rattled, and people were terribly frightened, many rushing into the streets in their night clothes. No damage was done, however, beyond the cracking of plastering and chimneys. At 2:40 this afternoon there was another severe shock. It came suddenly without the usual warning tremors. The buildings on Main street were vigorously shaken and the middle of the street was speedily filled with frightened people. No damage was done to property, though light articles were rattled in a lively fashion.

At Chester, when the shock occurred this afternoon, the Court of General Sessions was in session, and the building was so severely shaken that the judge, jury, witnesses and lawyers rushed to the streets. Considerable uneasiness is still felt in this city. The women and children are in many instances prostrated with fear, and it is not likely many persons will disrobe to-night when they retire to rest.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, October 22.—A slight shock of earthquake was felt here at 2:20 this afternoon. The vibrations were from east to west and so slight as to be only in the highest buildings. In some of these, however, the quake was of sufficient force to send the people hurrying into the streets without waiting to don hats or coats. No damage reported.

WILMINGTON, N. C., October 22.—Two distinct shocks of earthquake were felt here this morning about five o'clock. One was quite severe and shook houses and awakened a great many people. No damage.

AUGUSTA, GA., October 22.—Two severe shocks of earthquake were felt here to-day. One at 4:50 a. m. and one at 2:15 p. m.

WASHINGTON, D. C., October 22.—A slight tremor was felt here at 2:50 to-day. No damage done or alarm occasioned.

ATLANTA, GA., October 22.—There was a distinct earthquake shock here this morning about 4 o'clock.

DANVILLE, VA., October 22.—A slight shock of earthquake occurred here at 2:45 o'clock. No damage.

FOOD FRAUDS.

The Shameful Use of Lime and Alum in Cheap Baking Powders.

Many food frauds, such as chicory coffee or watered milk, although they are often a swindle in a commercial sense, are often tolerated because they do not particularly affect the health of the consumer, but when an article like baking powder, which enters largely into the food of every family, and is relied upon for the healthful preparation of almost every meal, is so made as to carry highly injurious, if not rankly poisonous, elements into the bread, the imminent danger of the entire community, it is the duty of the press to denounce the practice in the most emphatic terms.

Among recent important discoveries by the food analysts is that by Prof. Mott, the U. S. Government Chemist, of large amounts of lime and alum in the cheap baking powders. These are, one of the most dangerous, and the other the most useless adulterants yet found in the bread, inferior baking powders. It is a startling fact that of over one hundred different brands of baking powders so far analyzed, comprising all those sold in this vicinity, not one of them, with the single exception of the Royal Baking Powder, was found free from both lime and alum. The chief service of lime is to add weight. It is true that lime, when subjected to heat, gives off a certain amount of carbonic acid gas, but a quick lime is left—a caustic so powerful that it is used by tanners to eat the hair from hides of animals, and in dissecting rooms to more quickly rot the flesh from the bones of dead subjects. A small quantity of dry lime upon the tongue, or in the eye, produces painful effects; how much more serious must these effects be on the delicate membranes of the stomach, intestines and kidneys, more particularly of infants and children, and especially when the lime is taken into the system day after day, and with almost every meal. This is said by physicians to be one of the chief causes of indigestion, dyspepsia, and those painful diseases of the kidneys now so prevalent. Instances of the most serious affections of the latter organs from drinking lime water found in some sections of the West are noted in every medical journal.

Adulteration with lime is quite as much to be dreaded as with alum, which has heretofore received the most emphatic condemnation from every food analyst, physician and chemist, for the reason that, while alum is probably partially dissolved and passed off in gas by the heat of baking, it is impossible to destroy or change the nature of the lime in any degree, so that the entire amount in the baking powder passes, with all its injurious properties, into the stomach. When we state that the chemists have found twelve per cent. or one-eighth of the entire weight of some samples of baking powder analyzed, to be lime, the wickedness of the adulteration will be fully apparent.

Pure baking powders are one of the chief aids to the cook in preparing perfect and wholesome food. While these are to be obtained of well established reputation, like the Royal, of whose purity there has never been and cannot be a question, it is proper to avoid all others.

A Boston whiskey dealer bought a cheap coffin, put a four and seven eights gallon keg of rye whiskey in side, screwed a plate on the lid of the coffin, on which were engraved the name, age and birthplace of the alleged corpse, boxed the coffin as is usual, and shipped it to a town in Maine. There an undertaker took charge of the box and drove ten miles into the country before the coffin was opened and the liquor removed.

Stumps, the farmer, has married a city girl who is trying to learn country ways. She has heard her husband say that he must buy a dog and responds: "Oh, yes, do. Charley buy a setter dog. He can be a watch dog at night and set on the eggs all day; for I can't make the hen's set, though I've held 'em down an hour at a time."—Life.
