 Parker's Tonic kept in a home is a sentinel to keep sickness out. Used discreetly it keeps the blood pure, and the stomach, liver and kidneys in working order. Coughs and colds vanish before it. It builds up the health. "I sell large quantities of Parker's Tonic in my drug store. Among my customers, a doctor, has been prescribing it for the past two years. He was nearly dead himself, and tried every remedy known to his profession, without any relief. After he had used four bottles of Parker's Tonic he began to grow in flesh, and the improvement in his health was absolutely wonderful. He now recommends it to every one."—J. E. FLAMES FLASHED FROM HIS EYES.
How Willie Brough is Said to Have Set Fire to Haystacks.
 A telegram to the New York Herald from San Francisco, Cal., October 17, says: Investigation of the story about Willie Brough, the boy living at Turlock, in the San Joaquin valley, who was supposed by superstitious people to set fire to objects by merely fixing his eyes upon them, exploded that part of it of course. He is evidently overcharged with electricity to a remarkable extent. The snapping of his fingers causes sparks to fly. The postmaster at Turlock has him relate gleefully how he set fire to wall paper by this means. An insurance agent is alleged, had refused to take more risks on property in the neighborhood so long as the boy remained there. The man, however, denies this statement, but confirms the story of the peculiar electric phenomena, and declares himself deeply interested from a scientific point of view.

Popular excitement has been so great since the story of the sinister power of Master Brough was circulated that the father has felt impelled to move away, and has gone to reside on the other side of the San Joaquin river, taking refuge with his family in a cottage in the cotton wood timber, a long way from village or railroad. He denied that his son had caused fires, but admitted he had told him that when lying in bed at night he saw sparks flying about him. Willie is an extremely nervous boy, eleven years old, with a largely developed head.

M. A. Kuhlman, who keeps a school in Mercer county, in which the alarm first began, describes how five fires broke out in one afternoon in different parts of the schoolhouse, being caused by no visible agency. Other scholars were hastily dismissed, but Willie Brough was detained. A few minutes later he fixed his eyes on a hay shed a few yards distant and called the teacher's attention to the fact that smoke issued from the same. Very soon it was in a blaze. The teacher forbade him to come to school any more. He does not believe him guilty of arson, but is inclined to think he is the victim of supernatural agencies. On the previous Sunday eleven mysterious blazes occurred in the house of William's father. One broke out at a corner of the roof, another in some bedding on the middle of the floor and the third charred some grain sacks in the barn. Willie looked at a straw stack nearby, and flames issued out of the top. The mother of the boy is prostrated with excitement and anxiety. Many of the inhabitants of the country around Turlock are spiritualists, and implicitly believe that no natural explanation can account for these occurrences.

WHY THEY MARRIED.
 Postal cards were sent out to married men of a small town in Western New York with the inquiry, "Why did you marry?" We give a few of the responses:
 "That's what I have been trying to find out."
 "Married to get even with her mother, but never have."
 "Because I was too lazy to work."
 "Because Sarah told me that five other young men had proposed to her."
 "The old man thought eight years, courtin' was almost long enough."
 "I was lonesome and melancholy, and wanted some one to make me lively."
 "N. B.—She makes me very lively."
 "I was tired of buying ice cream and candies and going to theaters and church, and wanted a rest. Have saved money."
 "Please don't stir me up."
 "Because I thought she was one among a thousand; now I sometimes think she is a thousand among one."
 "I think it was because I was cross-eyed; now I am afflicted with two pairs of cross eyes daily."
 "Because I did not have the experience I have now."
 "The governor was going to give me his foot, so I took his daughter's hand."
 "I thought it would be cheaper than a breach-of-promise suit."
 "That's the same fool question that my friends and neighbors ask me."
 "Because I had more money than I knew what to do with. Now I have more to do than I have money with."
 "I wanted a companion of the opposite sex. P. S.—She is still opposite."
 "Don't mention it."
 "Had a difficulty unlocking the door at night and wanted somebody to let me in."
 "Boh!"

A VOLCANO'S SUDDEN GROWTH.
 A letter, under date of Apia, October 15th, says that authentic news has reached Samoa to the effect that on the morning of September 10th over one hundred heavy shocks of earthquake occurred on the island of Ninalou, one of the Tonga group, and that from the bottom of the lake, which is two thousand feet deep, a mountain has arisen to the height of three hundred feet above its surface. Also, that this mountain has burst out in flames and thrown out hot stones and sand in such quantities as to destroy two-thirds of the coconut trees on the island. In Samoa light shocks of earthquake occur so frequently now that they no longer cause any alarm.

Oh! ye who teach the ingenious youth of our great nation, let them learn the noble act of self-defense, as Salvation Oil is the specific for burns.
 Little Annie yesterday told us, in her way, what a good medicine Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup is; it had cured her of a very severe cold.
