DIED.

Departed this life October 24th, Julian Christian, infant son of Beverly B and Haltie I., Wooten, aged 14 months and 23 days. Death has entered our home and taken our brightest jewel, our darling babe. He was too good, too pure to stay on earth. God thought best to take him to heaven to be with the angels. But oh! how hard to part with him, to see him passing away, never to be seen on earth again; never to hear him call papa and mamma again; never fold him in our arms any more. None but a mother's heart can know the sorrow of parting with her baby in death. He was born in the land of flowers, and we called him our little "orange blossom," but he is fairer, more beautiful now than all the flowers of earth.

Wherefore should I make any moan Now my darling child is dead? He to paradise is fled. I shall go to him, but he Never can return to me.

God forbids his longer stay, God recalls the precious loan. God hath taken him away From my bosom to his own. Surely what he wills is best, Happy in his will I rest.

And thus we-his fond parents-have another link in the chain to draw us on and upward to the beautiful home of the soul. MOTHER.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. Civil Craddock, was born in Wayne counly, N. C., December 17, 1801, and died at her residence in High Sampson, September 11. 1886, aged 84 years 8 months and 24 days. She married Mr. J. Craddock, September 26, 1820, and moved to this county; she was reared by highland Scotch parents, and was strictly pious from her earliest girlhood days; the grace of God sanctified and made to shine with added lustre her naturally amiable disposition and she was united with the Free-Will Baptist Church at quite an early age. Being non-sectarian in her religious views, she loved all the congregation of the Presbyterian the result of her marriage, seven of whom Church, at a meeting held just after the morning service.
