Parker's Tonic kept in a home is a sentinel to keep sickness out. Used discreetly it keeps the blood pure, and the stomach, liver and kidneys in working order. Coughs and colds vanish before it. It builds up the health.
"I sell large quantities of Parker's Tonic in my drug store. Among my customers, a doctor, has been prescribing it for the past two years. He was nearly dead himself, and tried every remedy known to his profession, without any relief. After he had used four bottles of Parker's Tonic he began to grow in flesh, and the improvement in his health was absolutely wonderful. He now recommends it to every one."—J. E. NEWS FROM EURUS.

Editor Messenger:—However evident it may appear from this our first letter from Eurus—the name we shall be pleased to call our beautiful and thriving little town of Eastern Carolina—that some deeds here are unpleasant, nevertheless you must remember this is only one side of life, and that we, too, are not void of enjoyment. Do not think either that we are lauding ourselves too much, but so far as enterprise in farming, merchandising, educational institutions, in fact all most every branch of industry, and establishments of all kinds is concerned, we believe that our town and vicinity are inferior to but few in the land. Among the many other improvements we do not mention is the recent erection of eleven brick buildings which makes us feel a little proud. But tribulation will come, as I said to myself this morning while in the photograph gallery. A true specimen of the African, not very much unlike negro "doodle," (if you will allow me to use the expression, appeared on the floor, and said with peculiar air: "Is dis har de place you take types? I want mine took cheap as yo can." Judging from actions, I imagine that his calculations were somewhat upset when he was found reeling down the stairway measuring three steps at a bound while the photographer was "numerously" bringing, with repeated intervals, the bromastick in contact with the woolly head of the fast disappearing body.

"I think I can justify myself," said Tom Wiggins, a fair complected, self-possessed member of the dark race as he appeared at the Mayor's quarters Saturday before Officer Warren. He was accused of diminishing the number of teeth of a small black boy with a violent blow. Perhaps he was very much disappointed when the officer, after hearing the evidence, remarked with a natural but grim look: "This manner of extracting teeth appears from circumstances to be somewhat disagreeable to the patient. Besides it was an imposition of human nature to go to so much trouble without getting the consent of the subject; and, as you are practicing such without being able to show license from a medical institution, we shall dismiss the court on your relieving your pocket of $1 and costs.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so, send at once and get a bottle of Mrs. Winslow's SOOTHING SYRUP FOR CHILDREN'S TEETHING. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhoea, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. Mrs. Winslow's SOOTHING SYRUP FOR CHILDREN'S TEETHING is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female nurses and physicians in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price 25 cents a bottle. feb25-1y7

BAFFLES THE DOCTORS.

The Joints of a Man's Body Turn Into Solid Bone.
A physician of Elmira, N. Y., recently visited Jonathan Bass, of Cambria, Niagara county, whose case is believed to be without a parallel in medical records. Mr. Bass is 55 years of age. In the summer of 1848 he was seized with a sharp pain in the bottom of his right foot. No cause for it could be discovered. The foot and leg became greatly swollen and during the next nine years, all the joints in his body became slowly ankylosed, or grown into solid bone. In 1857 he was placed on an invalid's bed and has never been removed from it. So completely consolidated are all his joints, including the spine, that he may be lifted by the placing of a hand under his head and one under his heels, his weight being but 75 pounds. The bones of the fingers of the right hand, of the entire left hand and of the toes of both feet have been entirely absorbed, and the flesh of the fingers and toes hangs down like fringe. Mr. Bass' jaws are tightly locked, but he manages to eat the heartiest meals without mastication and without suffering inconvenience. Fork and other meat is cut in thin strips, which he draws into his mouth by sucking through the narrow opening between his upper and lower teeth. He eats the fattest meat. Since 1869 he has been totally blind. His heart is five inches lower than the usual position of that organ, but is perfectly sound, as are all of the invalid's vital parts. The nails on his fingers have grown to nearly a foot in length. Mr. Bass is a man of more than average intelligence, and keeps himself posted on all questions of the day. He converses with ease, and is lively and cheerful. His constitutional health is so good that physicians agree that he will live beyond the allotted time of the most active man.
