ANTI-MONOPOLY.

The dread of monopolies is apparently taking a considerable hold on the people of North Carolina, and it all grows out of the recent railroad muddle. Gov Vance, according to the preponderance of public orinion, having come out second best in his contest with Col. An drews, now comes out in a direct appeal to the people. That is just what might have been expected. "Vance is the peoiles' man, and no matter how badly be may be whipped in a contest with an adversary, he can turn to them with confidence that they will not resist his appeal.

The Newberne News, in a recent issue, says : "We predict now that Governor Vance will be called upon to lead a great pepular movement of the people of this State against monopolies, and that in no contest of his life has he shown a vigor and popularity equal to that which now awaits him." So it seems that we are about to engage in an anti-mo nopoly war, led on by Gov. Vance, which is all well enough if that is all of it. If war is to be made or the encroachments of grasping corporations, with a view to the correction of abuses and the making of proper restraints to their power, we are heartily in favor of it; but if a hullabaloo is to be raised for the purpose of assisting any one railroad company at the expense of another; in other words, if there is to be a systematic effort to excito the minds of the people for the purpose of ousting the Richmond and Danville Company from its possession of the Western North Carolina Railroad to put Mr. Best in, we are opposed to it.

As we understand the powers of the State commissioners, they cannot reinstall Mr. Best in the possession of the Western road; they can on y take possesion of the State if the present management have forfeited their contract, and then the people of North Carolina will bave the elephant on their hands again. We hope that nothing will be done inprudendently in this matter.

As we said before, we are in favor of of nations; richer than the golden hills of making proper restrictions on corpora- DeSoto, its wealth, annually repeated is As we said before, we are in favor of tions. The people have rights that railroad companies ought to respect, and it is about time for taking steps to inspire some respect for the rights of the citizens. We are on the side of Gov. Vance or any other man who will make a move in this direction; but we are opposed to lending ourselves to any scheme to advance the interests of one party at the expense of the other.

The Senate meets in extra ression today, and by the time we go to press, have probably organized with a Democratic president pro tem.

Seth M. Carpenter, editor of the New bernian, died last week, and thus is lost another of the lights of North Carolina journalism.

Nelson W. Aldrich has been elected to succeed A. E. Burnside, deceased, as Senator from Rhode Island. He is at present, a member of the House of Representatives.

It is rumored in Washington that there are to be a number of changes among federal officials in North Carolina. Among those who are said to be in danger of losing their official heads, are Collectors Everett and Cannady. There are plenty of patriots who aspire to both positions, and scarcely a Republican can be found in these parts who is not a stalwart.

Guiteau will be tried for the murder f President Garfield in the courts of the District of Columbia. The grand jury found a true bill on last Friday. His brother-in-law, Geo. Scofield, of Chicago, will defend him. It is said that he will riage; so in a measure, he may be considered as consequential as the Czar of Russia.

Atlanta Exposition.

On last Wednesday, the international exhibition was opened at Atlanta in the presence of ten thousand visitors. Gov ernor Vance delivered the address of welcome to the multitude. We would like to give our readers the benefit of all began his speech as follows:

The Spanish soulier DeLeon in the early part of the sixtrenth century, anxionsly sought through the wilds of the Florida peninsula for the fountain that would renew youth, and his no less illustrious countryman DeSoto, cut his way through all this Southern wilder-ness in search of the tabled hills of gold. Both died without finding the object t o atmosphere, fitted to the production of that wondrous plant in whose honor we have assembled to-day. Better than the fonntain of DeLeon, it renews the youth inexhaustible. Through its means the splenders of modern commerce are made to surpass the glories of Carthage, of Tyre and Venice. The world is now interested in its growth from the germ to its maturity, as the Infant Heir of the Blood Royal to the Empire of Trade the interval in the distant city listens for tidings of its coming up, the manufac-turer amid his brick walls and tall chimneys auxiously observes its bloom, the restless speculator gazes upon its young bolls, the mariner with his broad sails flapping idly against his masts, waits for its maturing, and the poor everywhere pray for the gentle shower and the soft sunlight on which it feeds, and rejoice at its safe ingathering. Its growth is the idy his poem of our people; its mature existence is a system of political econo-my. It is the source of the hoarse shout engine; it is the me the soft song of the spindle and the loom. is the pride of our fields, the source of our wealth, the king of our commerce.

To be an Ohio man will not be so the officials and contractore, they not much of a recommendation to office onviction in the public mind which only when President Arthur gets down to a thorough cleaning up will ever re-move. Even if the accused escape conviction upon technicalities, or for lack of legal proof of guilt, the circumstances are so strong that a general doubt of inno-cence will still exist. Since the adjournment of the Supreme Court there has been a vacancy created, caused by the death of Justice Clifford. and Justice Hunt, it is understood, is still incapaciated for service. Justice Field is not expected here for several weeks, and the Court will therefore meet with three members short. There is much anxiety among the bench and the bar on the subject of the filling of the vacancy caused by the death of Justice Clifford. There is no reliable information as to whether President Arthur proposes to send in a nomination for the vacancy at the special session of the Senate, or whether he will wait until the regular session in December, and it is supposed that he may come to some conclusion in the matter during his present stay in New York, after consultation with his triends. The justices of the Supreme Court would be glad if the vacancy should be promptly filled, as it would help very much to lighten their labors; but there are difficuities in the way which the President fully appreciates, and which may possibly induce him to delay making a nomination until December. There will be a great pressure to take the new appointee from the East, as only one active member of the bench, Mr. Justice Bradley, is now from that section, and Justice Clifford was the only member from New England. Bot the claims of the south will also be prebe aided by able counsel. Guiteau will sented and urged with persistency as it has had no representatives on the bench be taken from jail in a bullet proof car- of the Supeme Court since the days of the war: Justice Woods, who was lately appointed although nominally from a southern circuit, had never given up his residence in Ohio, wich State has to-day no less thau four members of the bench . of the Supreme Court. Owing to all the circumstances, including the peculiar division of parties in the Senate, the fill-ing of this vacancy by the President will necessarily be surrounded with more or less embarrassment, and will require the exercise of sound judgment and discretiom. It is said to be President Arthur's intention not to avail himselt of the extra session of the Senate for the appointment of it; but our limited space will only of a new Cabinet but to wait until Conpermit us to make a short extract. He gress meets in December . He thinks, it is said that the Cabinet ministers now in office should remain to make the annual reports on the operations of their respective Departments and that in the mean-time he will have better op-opportunities for ascertaining the current of popular seatiment as to what his Ad-ministration should be. If this report be correct, the President will of course have the benefit of the present Cabinet ministers' reports on the public business in a refrospective sense, and to that extent they may serve him in getting up his own message to Congress. But if short-ly after the meeting of Congress the present Cabinet is to go out, its members can aid him but little in shaping the prospective features of his message. In laying down his policy for the future it would evidently be of advantage to him to have his future constitutional advisers at his elbow.

Doubtless these matters were all determined upon after consultation with his triends during the President's recent visit to New York. But no one here appears authorized to speak by the card. It is still insisted, by those who ought to know what they are talking about, that Mr. Conkling is to be made Secretary of the Treasury and Mr. Blaine retained as Feuretary of State in an effort to harmonrepretary of State in an energy to harmon-ize things. What a happy family that would bel In my opinion no alarming amount of harmony will over be pro-duced in that way. Just think of the possibilities of the situation with Robertson as Collector of New York, and Conk-ling his superior officer at the head of the Treasury Department, while Blaine sat at Conkling's right in Cabinet consul-tations. Ob, no! I guess not.

WASHINGTON, D. C., ? Oct. 7, 1881. $

More than usual interest will centre in the National Capital for some time, as several events of public concern are entering upon the scene. The indictment already found against Guiteau 1s to be tried, and the wretch probably hung; the star route cases have alroady been called into Court for a beginning; the Senate is about to meet in extra session, and the Republican State conventions were held in New York and Maryland, and a tried the notorious safe burglary cases, the Ottman Treasury robery case, hesides Congressmen for murder, torgery and bigamy and sent ex Senators and other former high officials to the Penitentiary Next to the Guiteau trial the people of the country are probably most interested in the star route prosecutions. These cases have been thoroughly exposed throug the press and there is a conviction in the public mind that there was under the direction of Mr. Brady a criminal Cur Water Power.

North Carolina is estimated to have more than three millions horse-power in her streams from the table lands to the sea. This exceeds that of all the steam engines in the United States or Great Britain. The Roanoke river, fity miles above Weldon, develops a torce of over 300-horse power per foot of fall, and there is a fall of one hundred feet from Gaston to Weldon. The Yadkin river, near Salisbury, measures 300 horse power per foot; and taking that part of its course from Wikesboro' to the State line. aggregates 250,000 horse power-equal to ten million spindles.

The Catawba river, near Hickory, has 250 horse power per foot, aggregating, this side of the State line, 185,000 horse Lower.

The Cape Fear aggregates 125,000. The French Broad from Asheville to the State line, in a course of 50 miles, gives not less than 120,000 horse power. The Nolechucky exceeds even that.

Prof. Kerr estimates the water-power of that part of Roanoke river within the State at 70,000 horse power; that of the Yadkin at 225,000, that of the Catawba at 184.000, or enough in the last to turn 7,360,000 spindles; and that of the Cape Fear, Haw and Deep rivers combined at 130,000 horse power, a force sufficient to turn 5,200,000 spindles. Thus far the immense powers waste themselves in almost unheeded call.—Piedmont Air-Line Journal.
