THE GREAT Unfailing Specific For

SIMMONS' LIVER REGULATOR

THE SYMPTOMS OF LIVER COMPLAINT are uneasiness and pain in the side, sometimes pain in the shoulder, and is mistaken for rheumatism; the Stomach is affected with loss of appetite and sickness; bowels, in general, constive, sometimes alternating with lax; the head is troubled with pain and dull, heavy sensation of having left undone something which ought to have been done; often complaining of weakness, debility and low spirits. Sometimes many of the above symptoms attend the disease and at other times very few of them.
The Liver is generally the organ most involved.

REGULATE THE LIVER AND PREVENT Dyspepsia, Constipation, Jaundice, Bilious Attacks, Chills and Fever, Headache, Colic, Depression of Spirits, Nausea, Stomach, Heartburn, Biliousness, etc.

TONIC, ALTERNATIVE AND CATHARTIC!
Simmons' Liver Regulator, purely vegetable, is the medicine generally used in the South to arouse the torpid Liver to healthy action.

It acts with extraordinary power and efficiency on the LIVER and KIDNEYS!

The action of the Regulator is free from nausea or griping. It is most effective in starting the secretions of the Liver, causing the bile to act as a cathartic. When there is an excess of bile in the Stomach, the Regulator is an active purge; after the removal of the bile it will regulate the bowels and impart vigor and health to the whole system.

Rheumatism

Neuralgia, Sprains, Pain in the Back and Side.
There is nothing more painful than these diseases; but the pain can be removed and the disease cured by use of Perry Davis' Pain Killer.

This remedy is not a cheap Benzine or Petroleum product that must be kept from fire or heat to avoid danger of explosion, nor is it an untried experiment that may do more harm than good.

Pain Killer has been in use for forty years, and the universal testimony from all parts of the world is, it never fails. It not only effects a permanent cure, but it relieves pain almost instantaneously.
Being a purely vegetable remedy, it is safe in the hands of the most inexperienced.

The record of cures by the use of PAIN KILLER, would fill volumes. The following extracts from letters received show what those who have tried it think:

Edgar Cady, Oronotona, Minn., says:
"About a year since my wife became subject to violent rheumatism of the stomach. Our doctor was to the PAIN KILLER, which speedily relieved her."
Charles Powell writes from the Sailors' Home, London:
"I had been afflicted three years with neuralgia and violent rheumatism of the stomach. The doctor of Westminster Hospital gave up my case in despair. I tried the PAIN KILLER, and it gave me immediate relief. I have regained my usual occupation."
G. H. Walworth, Saco, Me., writes:
"I experienced immediate relief from pain in the side by the use of your PAIN KILLER." Mr. Burditt writes:
"I have used your PAIN KILLER for rheumatism, and have received great benefit."
Mr. Burditt writes:
"I have used your PAIN KILLER for rheumatism,
and have received great benefit."
Mr. Burditt writes:
"I have used your PAIN KILLER for rheumatism,
and have received great benefit." All druggists keep PAIN KILLER. Its price is so low that it is within the reach of all, and it will save many times its cost in doctors' bills. 25c., 50c. and $1.00 a bottle.

The Cattle of Holland.

The Dutch farmers have long been famous as butter and cheese-makers, and the dairy cattle of Holland—especially of North Holland and Friesland—have been regarded on the continent of Europe as the best dairy cattle of the world. They have been carefully bred according to practical rules—not according to our English or Anglo-American ideas altogether—but so that we have a remarkable result before us, in the best bred of Dutch cattle of the present day.
The cows are black and white, of the largest size, "big as Shorthorns," and admirably well formed as milk producers.
The Dutch cow usually has a capacious paunch, a large udder and teats, great branching, tortuous milk-veins, an "escutcheon" of the most favorable promise, and a general preponderance of the digestive and lactiferous parts over the other portions of the body. Their milk is moderately rich, yielding excellent butter, but while this has not so positive and delicious a flavor, not so good color as that of Channel Island cows, yet it is firm, and has the reputation of keeping better than the butter of any other of the pure breeds. For cheese making, however, the milk has no superior. This is supposed to be owing to the fact that the butter globules are, though not large, of a very uniform size, and are easily mixed thorowly with the milk before and at the time of coagulation, or curd-forming. This gives the cheese a uniformity of richness in all its parts, which is inherent in the intimate texture of the curd, and which does not depend upon subsequent mixtures. Like other large breeds, these cows require abundant food, generally rolling or level land, and do best on rich alluvial meadows like those of their native "Holland," as Waring calls it. In this respect they are like the Shorthorns, with which noted race one has a natural inclination to compare them.

Mason and Dixon's Line.

The term Mason and Dixon's line is applied to the parallel of latitude 39 degrees 43 minutes 26.3 seconds north, which separates Pennsylvania from Maryland, drawn by Charles Mason and Jeremiah Dixon, two distinguished English mathematicians and astronomers.
As the northern limits (with the exception of small portions of Delaware and Virginia), of the original slave state, it was prominently mentioned in the controversies concerning slavery. It begins at the northeast corner of Maryland and runs due west. The years from 1681 to 1768 were marked by constant disension, and conflict between the rival proprietaries of Pennsylvania and Maryland and their partisans, on the subject of their common boundary, and the vicinity of this line was the theatre of riot, invasion, and bloodshed. Mason and Dixon arrived in Philadelphia in November 1763, and commenced their work in December. It was continued to a point 244 miles from the Delaware River, and within thirty-six miles of the whole distance of the run, where they were compelled to stop operation in consequence of the opposition of the Indians.
They returned to Philadelphia, and were discharged on Dec. 26, 1767. At the end of every fifth mile on the line a stone was planted, graven with the arms of the Penn family on the side and of Lord Baltimore on the other. The intermediate miles were marked with smaller stones having P, on one side and M, on the other. In 1782 Col. Alexander McLear and Joseph Neville of Virginia ran the remaining part of the line. In 1849 the former surveys were revised, and found correct in all important parts.

Fifty-eight million dollars is the estimated value of finger rings of this country actually worn, and still there are people mean enough to go hacking and cobbling because they do not want to invest 25 cents for a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup.

A Homely Connecticut Girl.
"Twas a dull, heavy evening; the light of the dozen gas jets along the streets only served to make the haze and fog visible. The clock just tinkled forth the hour of nine, and, with the usual ra-marks, that 'twas time honest folks was abed,' old McFunniggle trudged off up stairs, followed by the aged partner of his sorrows and searcher for his joys.
"Don't you young folks set up (ill the morning paper comes, this time," shouted above the banister.
"No—no—," replied a sweet voice from the parlor; "we won't will we?" said she in an undertone.
"Not if I know it," was the reply. "If the old folks are going to be as sour as this I guess I'll skip now," and he reached for his hat.
"See here!" and the girl's eyes gleamed with earnestness; "you're the first fellow I've had, and you've got to put down that hat and sit up and count me in good shape. I'm homely, I know, but I can build better bread, from a bosom shirt hanger, knit a pair of stockings quicker, and make $1.37 go further than any girl in the village. Them's my recommendations."
"That suits me exactly," and the hat flew into the corner, and that evening the details of the wedding were all arranged. He depended on a girl as smart as that to get the best of the old folks.
It is useless to groan with rheumatism when a bottle of St. Jacobs Oil will cure it, as everybody knows. Columbus

If half what the papers say about Mahoneizing the South should turn out to be true the Southern Democrats are a shabby set. They are represented as being so stupid and forgetful and ignorant as to be ready to rush into the outstanding Radical stalwart arms at the bidding of such poor creatures as Billy Mahone. Time will show how much of truth there is in such speculations. We will say this, that a strong, honest Democrat with a good political record as to State Rights, local self-government and the tariff, can carry the very States that are threatened, according to the veracious papers, with a Mahone movement in 1884. Virginia, North Carolina, Georgia, Tennessee and Texas can be relied upon in 1884 for a Democratic majority if the right man is chosen —one the people know they can trust.
Just put that in your pipe and smoke it.

A WOMAN'S EXPERIENCE.—Mothers and Daughters should feel alarmed when weariness constantly oppresses them.
"If I am fretful from exhaustion of vital powers and the color is fading from my face, Parker's Ginger Tonic, gives quick relief. It builds me up and drives away pain with wonderful certainty."—Buffalo lady.

A man let an old pistol go off in Reideville. The ball went through a negro boy's skull, and killed him of course. It was all an accident; but such accidents frequently happen from handling pistols; yet thousands of people who have no imaginable use for them, keep them lying around loose just because it is nice to own a pistol.
