J. D. KERNODLE, Editor.

DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

For President, GROVER CLEVELAND, of New York.

For Vice-President, THOS. A. HENDRICKS, of Indiana.

FOR GOVERNOR: ALFRED M. SCALES, OF GUILFORD.

FOR LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR: CHARLES M. STEDMAN, OF NEW HANOVER.

FOR SECRETARY OF STATE: WILLIAM L. SAUNDERS, OF NEW HANOVER.

FOR AUDITOR: WILLIAM P. ROBERTS, OF GATES.

FOR TREASURER: DONALD W. BAIN, OF WAKE.

FOR ATTORNEY GENERAL: THEO. F. DAVIDSON, OF BUNCOMBE.

FOR ASSOCIATE JUSTICE OF SUP. COURT: AUGUSTUS S. MERRIMON, OF WAKE.

FOR CONGRESS - FOURTH DISTRICT: WILLIAM R. COX, OF WAKE.

The convention of the Democratic party, for Alamance county, will be held on Saturday, the 30th of August.

The North Carolina Press Association will meet in Raleigh on the 7th of October and visit the State Exposition in a body on the 8th by special invitation.

Raleigh had a big ratification meeting on Tuesday evening of last week. Excellent speeches were made by Gen. Scales, Gen. Cox, Hon. D. G. Fowle and others.

Among the officers of the National Democratic convention held in Chicago on 8th, F. E. Shober, Esq., was one of the Vice-Presidents and E. J. Hale, of the Fayetteville Observer, one of the secretaries.

The cholera is raging in France. A number of deaths have occurred in Paris. Last Sunday night there were 28 deaths at Toulon and 26 at Marseilles. It is feared that it will spread all over Europe. Precautions are being taken to prevent its spread to the shores of America.

John Kelly is not having things all his own way in Tammany Hall just now. An organization has been formed within the organization to hold off any bolt on the part of Kelly. Promises have been secured from one-half of the committee on organization to support Cleveland and Hendricks, and they will go to any extreme to prevent Kelly's bolting.

The platform adopted by the Chicago convention appears in full on our first page. Though a trifle long, it is a splendid declaration of Democratic principles. It shows a striking contrast between what Republicans have really done and their professions. It embodies grand principles that all fair-minded men may unite upon. It points to victory.

James G. Blaine, the Republican nominee for President, has written his letter of acceptance. It is a plausible and ingeniously written document. It seems to have been the intention of the writer to make a campaign paper of it, rather than a mere letter of acceptance. He adroitly attempts to cover up the bad record of his party, indeed the whole letter is an apology for its many sins.

Will not Alamance do something yet toward making an exhibit at the State Exposition? It is not too late. Alamance is one of the wealthiest and most progressive counties in the State, and not to make any effort to be represented at the Exposition is a reproach. Look where she stands in manufactories, products of corn, wheat, tobacco, &c., fruits, minerals, timbers, water-powers, &c. Delay no longer in this matter.

The Democratic State executive committee announce that Gen. Scales will commence the canvass at Newton on 2nd of August, and Dr. York has been invited to meet him. We imagine it will be rather an up-hill business for York to make a Republican speech up in that country where he is so well known, for nearly as a Democrat; and where his record on the Western N. C. Railroad is not looked upon with favor.

"Brick" Pomeroy will commence the publication of the United States Democrat in New York City about the first week in August. It will cost fifty cents during the campaign, and after the election it will be continued as a first-class, high-toned National Democratic weekly illustrated newspaper. Mark M. Pomeroy is a sure enough "brick," and he will wield a powerful pen for the success of the Democratic party. He speaks the truth, when he says that those who have had control of the government for the past twenty-four years have "ruled to rule, and ruined to rule."

The nomination of Cleveland and Hendricks has been received with as much enthusiasm and genuine unanimity all over the country as any party could desire for its ticket. The prospects are fairer than have dawned upon the Democratic ticket for twenty-four years. The assurances of success are very cheerful,—approach certainty as much as can be foretold thus early in the campaign. Diligent work is all that is needed. If the field is maintained just as it is now, a Democratic President will certainly be inaugurated on the 4th of next March; that such will be the case is almost a foregone conclusion.

An expedition under Lieut. Greely for making explorations in the Arctic regions started out in the Spring of 1881, and after establishing their station in August of the same year, nothing more was heard of the party till the 22nd of last June. The party or colony numbered twenty-five, all of whom perished from starvation but six. They penetrated into the icy regions to 83 degrees and 31 minutes North latitude the farthest point ever reached. The colony suffered great privations owing to the failure of parties sent out for relief, and hence the deaths occurred.

Capt. Soley rescued those that remained of the party. The News-Observer speaks of him as follows: "This rescue will bring great fame to Capt. Schley, whose fine management accomplished it. He is a Marylander; entered Annapolis in 1856 and remained in the Federal service. As we remember he was a thin, hard, dried-up youngster taking but an ordinary stand in his class but much given to out-door exercises, thus giving promise of that energy which has now linked his name with a most notable achievement."

Fast Speakers. The present average of speaking in the United States Senate, says a Washington letter, about one hundred and fifty words a minute, though there are several who utter two hundred. Among the fastest speakers at present are Senators Beck, Hawley, Plump and Morgan. Beck leads the list. Senator George, of Mississippi, is perhaps the slowest. Daniel Webster was a very slow talker, and he would not average over one hundred words to a minute. Henry Clay spoke much faster, rolling out about one hundred and fifty words to the minute. Calhoun was also slow until he became roused up with enthusiasm of his subject, when his words would flow more rapidly.—Wil Review.

York in the Past. "The more you do for the d—d negroes, the less grateful they are," said Dr. Tyre York (in substance) to this writer and in the presence of a party of gentlemen composing the legislative committee while here on an inspection to the Eastern Insane Asylum, a few years ago. Dr. York was a State Senator and one of said committee. The remark was called forth gratuitously while the Dr. was admiring and praising the magnificences of the State of North Carolina and its Democratic administration in providing the Eastern Insane Asylum for negro insane. George M. Rose, Esq., of Fayetteville, Capt. J. D. Stanford, of Duplin, and others were present at the time. Now this same Dr. York expects this ungrateful negro race to be grateful enough to vote for him to be Governor of North Carolina! Will they do it? Of course they will.—Goldboro Messenger.

Mr. J. M. Lamb, of Sunnyside Nursery, expects this season to harvest about 125,000 bulbs on 4 or 5 acres. Sets planted this spring will with favorable seasons make blooming bulbs by Fall, when they are dug, dried and assorted in 3 sizes and kept carefully from the frost until next Spring, when they are ready for market. If the purchaser plants carefully he will have beauty and fragrance to reward him. After blooming once the bulbs never bloom again and are only useful for the sets which grow around each bulb. The cost of cultivation is probably four or five times greater than that of corn or cotton, or about the same as that of onions. Mr. Lamb sold last season 12,000 bulbs, and has now a contract for 90,000.—Fayetteville Observer.

The Tennessee Press Association. On Monday twenty members of this association passed on their way to Morehead, where they will be the guests of the Atlantic hotel. Mr. Alexander Summers, of Knoxville, heads the party, which will spend some days at the seaside. It is the first visit of the association to North Carolina, and it is to be hoped that it will be enjoyed, especially by people whose State has no coast and who have to go far from home to see salt-water. During the stay of the editors at the Atlantic hotel Mr. Raney will give a ball in their honor.

Washington Letter.

(From our Regular Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., JULY 19th, '84. In the week that has passed since the National Convention has adjourned, there has been opportunity to consider its work and estimate the strength of the ticket nominated. It is pretty good evidence that no mistake has been made to find that satisfaction increases daily and that if the convention were to be held over again no change would be made. There is a happy and confident feeling among the Democrats at the Capitol. Washington is an excellent place to judge the pulse of the nation, because people and politicians of all classes are constantly coming here and the changes in public sentiment are carefully watched by the office holding population. So far there does not appear to be a solitary crumb of comfort for this class, and they are pretty generally making up their minds that a day of judgment for them is close at hand. They have been pinning considerable faith to John Kelly, but present advices indicate that he could not save them if he would for according to all accounts the revolt among Republicans, even in the interior counties of New York, is greater than the greatest strength Kelly could under any circumstances command. Furthermore Kelly won't bolt.

It is interesting to talk with these excited office holders, and see how nervous they are. It makes them the more wretched because there is so little ground upon which to attack the Democratic ticket and platform, while their own are so effectively assailed. Gov. Cleveland's limited experience in office-holding is about the only argument advanced. The sum total of his public service is as Mayor of Buffalo and Governor of New York, says a local Blaine organ. But what rubbish and cant that all is! Take the Presidents forced upon the country for the last sixteen years, and how many of them has had as much qualifying experience? Gen Grant had absolutely no knowledge of the civil service or of business, yet they gave him two terms and wanted him for a third. Mr. Hayes who was the smallest man intellectually and backbonedly ever placed in such a position, had simply been Governor of Ohio. Yet notwithstanding the great crime by which he was smuggled into the office, his administration was the cleanest the Republican party has given the country. Then there is Chester A. Arthur whose sole public experience before he became President had been as a ward politician, and collector of the port of New York. Yet Republican journals and Republican Conventions have been for some time past holding him up as a model President.

So the experience argument fails. Any man who has capacity and administrative ability, and above all firmness and honesty of character and purpose can creditably fill the office of President. Governor Cleveland has all these qualifications and he has been Mayor of the city of Buffalo, where he studied and mastered the great and trying question of municipal government, under circumstances of difficulties. He has also filled with honor to himself and satisfaction to the people the office of Governor of the largest State in the Union—a position the executive requirements of which are second only to those of the Presidency. The trouble with the Republican candidate is that he has had too much "experience" and is too well known. If he were a clean man, fresh from the people, and clear of his political record as well as entangling and disgraceful associations of his debauched career, his chances of election would not be so utterly hopeless as they are today.

The Capital is very quiet now, but it is very delightful. With such weather as we are now having, there is little need to seek refuge in summer resorts. Few Congressmen or Senators have remained since the adjournment, however. The President is at the Soldiers Home cottage, but is expected to go on a cruise in the Dispatch shortly. Four month's provisions have been stowed away in the vessel, which looks much as though Arthur intended to spend a very cool summer—out of the way of Mr. Blaine's howlers. Gen. Logan is still here. The Congressional campaign committees of both parties have opened their headquarters, and will be sent out to send out campaign documents having special reference to the Congressional elections. A big Cleveland and Hendricks ratification meeting is to be held here next week, which will make the office-holders quake in their boots. Gen. Butler was here Wednesday and Thursday, and called at the White House. There is considerable curiosity to know what Butler is driving at, but the prevailing opinion among well informed Democrats is that he is ready for Blaine and Logan as much as Brady and Dorsey and Elkins are. He is masquerading in Democratic councils to do as much harm as he can to Mr. Blaine's opponent.

The Mormons in Forsyth. Two Mormon missionaries are now in this county, disseminating their Mormonish doctrine among our people. They preached on Sunday last Pfafftown. We understand the crowd in attendance was not large, and it is to be hoped, for the good of our people, and for that religion that is "pure and undefiled," that they attended out of curiosity. We have heard of no converts so far, and for the good reputation of Forsyth we hope we shall not hear of any.—Winston Leader.

A fatal railroad accident occurred Thursday on the Western North Carolina Railroad, by which three persons lost their lives and several others were injured. While a force of hands were at work at a point near Scott's creek, the boiler construction train exploded, killing Engineer Warner, his fireman and a convict belonging to one of the gangs at work on the road. At the time of the explosion the engine was off the track, and the persons killed and injured were engaged in getting it on again. The cause of the explosion is unknown. Says the Charlotte Observer.

Tilden was opposed by Tammany in 1876; carried New York by 32,000 votes. Hancock was supported by Tammany in 1880; beaten in New York by 31,000 votes.

POLITICAL POINTS.

There is more discussion in the Republican ranks in this county than there has been in many. Its day is past in Lenoir county. The edict has gone forth from the people.—Kinston Free Press.

I heartily endorse the National platform and candidate. The platform is in accord with my repeatedly expressed conviction on the tariff, and was cordially commended by me before it was reported and adopted.—Sam'l J. Rowland.

The New York Herald has Cleveland and Hendricks at its mast head and is giving them an enthusiastic support. This is a compliment which no other candidates have ever received from this well known and influential journal.—Wilson Advance.

To those who believe in signs and omens and the like, it may be regarded as a singular coincidence that both Cleveland and Blaine were nominated on Friday, which is held by the superstitious to be an unlucky day. The political observers interpret the coincidence as signifying that Blaine will bring bad luck to his party and that Cleveland will bring bad luck to Blaine.

Winston claims the first Cleveland Club in the state. At 2 o'clock last Friday, it was organized with over 200 members, by electing Mr. M. W. Norflee, Chairman, and E. A. Oldham and J. A. Robinson, Secretary. At night over 500 people assembled in the Opera House to ratify the nomination. Enthusiastic speeches were made by R. B. Kerner, E. A. Oldham, J. S. Grogan, J. F. Young and others. The Military Company, Cornet Band and Fire Company, were out in full force.—Kernersville News.

As a straw indicating how things are in New York city we quote from a statement by Mr. Jeroleman, who lives in the 13th district. He said he had conversed with fifteen or twenty of his neighbors, and had felt gratified to learn that all the Republicans in the block where he lived, which usually gave a majority of 75 to 100 for the Republican ticket, would this year vote for Cleveland. He had also conversed with laboring men and found the statement that they were opposed to Cleveland to be incorrect.—News-Observer.

The feeling in favor Cleveland and Hendricks among the members of the Produce exchange is very strong, as the Herald has already shown. Yesterday afternoon the first steps were taken toward the formation of a Cleveland and Hendricks battery. In a short time about fifty volunteers were secured, and it is predicted that within a few days a membership of several hundred will be obtained. A number of Republicans who have repudiated the Blaine nomination will join the ranks. The club will wear a neat uniform and be ready to take part in the first large parade of the campaign.—N. Y. Herald.

Our local has given an extended account of the ratification meeting held here on Tuesday night. It was indeed an occasion worthy of Raleigh and gave an excellent send off to the campaign. The speeches were all admirable and were appreciated by the crowd that had assembled to participate in the demonstration. It was the first opportunity our people here have had to hear Gen. Scales, and notwithstanding the high expectations that were naturally entertained in regard to his powers on the stump, he surpassed them. He put himself at once en rapport with his audience and displayed vigor of thought, felicity of expression and that natural and unstudied action in harmony with the sentiment he was expressing, which is the basis of true oratory. Our people were greatly pleased with their candidate for Governor, and we may be pardoned for saying that General Scales was greatly gratified by the result of his visit to Raleigh.—News-Observer.

Steve Elkins, who is said to know more about the star route matters than any other person, and who is the chief manager of Blaine's campaign, has been talking about the plans of his committee. He thinks the vote of Indiana "is largely a question of finance," which means "soap and laughter." He thinks there is a fair chance of uniting the Readjusters and straight Republicans in Virginia, "which would make easy a similar fusion in North Carolina." And that shows what Steve Elkins knows about it. He counts on "a similar fusion in North Carolina."—A fusion of what? The revenue ring has already captured the Republican party and turned it over body and soul to Dr. Tyre York. It will be very easy for Dr. York to lose it, but we see no chance for him to fuse it with anything. Certainly he can't fuse it with the Democratic party.

Elkins may know something of the star route matters, and about "soap," but he is not well posted on North Carolina politics.—News-Observer.

Governor Cleveland in an interview with a New York Herald man made the following statement: But to say that I have ever failed to embrace every opportunity offered me to elevate the condition and subserve the real interest of the workingman and to protect him in all his rights is false. This, however, is but evidence of the readiness of some persons to make careless statements when engaged in a struggle, and of others to accept such statements as facts instead of ascertaining the truth from the record. Understand me: I do not profess to be infallible on this or any other question, but I do claim that no sincere and honest workingman can examine my record and find in it anything which tends to show a lack of sympathy with and care for the true interests of those who labor. I am sometimes afraid that at least a few of those who pose as friends of the workingmen do not keep themselves fully informed as to what is done for them by way of legislation. As an illustration I see it stated in the papers as coming from one who professes to be especially the friend of workingmen, and claiming to be a leader among them, that I vetoed a bill preventing contract labor by children in the reformatories and institutions of the State. In point of fact, this bill was promptly signed by me, and no other measure touching this question has been presented to me.
