

THE GLEANER.

ISSUED EVERY THURSDAY.

GRAHAM, N. C., AUGUST 16, 1888.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION: One Year, $1.50; Six months, .75; Three months, .50.

RATES OF ADVERTISING: One square (one inch) one time $1.00 for first insertion and fifty cents for each subsequent publication.

J. D. KERNODLE, Editor.

DEMOCRATIC NOMINEES.

FOR PRESIDENT: GROVER CLEVELAND, of New York.

FOR VICE-PRESIDENT: ALLEN G. THURMAN, of Ohio.

FOR GOVERNOR: DANIEL G. FOWLE, of Wake.

FOR LIKT-GOVERNOR: THOMAS M. HOLT, of Alamance.

FOR SECRETARY OF STATE: WILLIAM L. SAUNDERS, of Orange.

FOR TREASURER: DONALD W. BAIN, of Wake.

FOR AUDITOR: GEORGE W. SANDELLIN, of Wayne.

FOR SUPERINTENDENT OF PUBLIC INSTRUCTION: SIDNEY M. FINGER, of Catawba.

FOR ATTORNEY GENERAL: THEODORE F. DAVIDSON, of Buncombe.

FOR SUPREME COURT BENCH: Associate Justice to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Thos. S. Ashe, JOSEPH J. DAVIS, of Franklin.

To serve if Constitutional Amendment is adopted, JAMES E. SHEPHERD, of Beaufort, ALPHONSO C. AVERY, of Burke.

FOR ELECTORS AT LARGE: ALFRED M. WADDELL, of New Hanover, FREDERICK N. STRUDWICK, of Orange.

FOR CONGRESS, 4TH DIST: BENJAMIN H. BUNN, of Nash.

Next Saturday at 10 o'clock, sharp, the Democratic convention will be called to order.

Mr. N. B. Broughton writes a sensible letter to prohibition Democrats. It appears in this issue. Read it.

Let the people come to the convention Saturday and help nominate the men whom they wish to hold the offices. It will be a grand convention. Every democrat should come. Remember too there will be speaking by Hon. B. H. Bunn and others.

Judge Fowle and other candidates on the Democratic State ticket have been canvassing in the extreme western part of the State for some days. Everywhere they have had very large audiences, and Judge Fowle has made a very fine impression and is winning votes for the Democratic ticket.

The republicans party has declared in favor of a high tariff and for the protection of American labor from competition with foreign pauper labor, still Mr. Harrison, the candidate of that party for the presidency, while in the Senate, voted in favor of the whole-sale importation of the Chinese to the Pacific slope.

Whenever a campaign orator jumps up and says that the democratic party is for free trade he tells an outright, willfully and knowingly, if he knows anything at all. But the democratic party is for free trade, for a reduction of the present high tariff, and the people are with the party. The tariff averages now about 47 per cent, and it is only proposed to reduce it to an average of about 40 per cent, which leaves it double the high protection tariff consumed by Mr. Clay. These are facts, but the demagogues are doing their best to keep the people ignorant of them.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

Washington, Aug. 10, '88.

Representative Springer intends pushing his bill, taxing all products of trusts, through the House if possible. Mr. Springer says his bill will bring no revenue to the Government, but will speedily abolish trusts, pools and combinations.

Senators Allison, Hancock and Aldrich deny that they intended going to New York to consult Blaine about the tariff bill, which they are trying to put together. Perhaps the Senators did not intend to go personally to see Mr. Blaine, but they cannot deny that a trusted messenger took a copy of the bill, as far as agreed upon, to him in order to get his opinion upon it.

The funeral of Gen. Sheridan will take place to-morrow morning from St. Matthews church, where his remains have been since yesterday. Cardinal Gibbons will conduct the ceremonies. The body will be escorted to Arlington cemetery, its last resting place, by the military body provided for by Army regulations. Gen. Schofield, who is now the commander of the Army, will be in command.

Secretary Whitney has ordered all the available vessels of the North Atlantic squadron to the Canadian fishing ground, to look after the interests of American fishermen.

Republican and Workingmen's Convention.

Nominations of Candidates, Speaking, &c.

The combination indicated by the above heading, which was looked forward to with considerable anxiety, met here last Saturday, according to announcement. The meeting was called in order in the court house about 12 o'clock. S. A. White was made permanent chairman and T. E. Vincent, secretary, and the business of convention was proceeded with at once.

The workingmen's part of the convention consisted chiefly of the chairman who issued the call. So it seems that bait didn't daw well; but, perhaps the wrong man was managing the hook and line. In point of numbers the convention did right well. The "brother-in-black" was numerous and took his full part, and when it came to voting he held the balance of power. The democrats had their eyes open, so there were about as many of them on hand as there were white republicans.

For the offices the following were nominated, to-wit: For the House of Representatives, John G. Fowler; for Sheriff, Ed. R. Harden; for Register of Deeds, John W. Crawford; for Treasurer, Geo. W. Vestal; for Surveyor Eusebius Patterson; for Coroner, Jas. M. Turner. This is the ticket the combination brought forth, and which, judging from the call for the convention, the workingmen (i. e. the Knights of Labor) are expected to support. But the workingmen will do nothing of the kind. They can't be hoodwinked in that sort of style. Every man on the ticket is a dyed-in-the-wool republican, notwithstanding the first, second and sixth, in the order they are named, are members of the K. of L. In the language of the call, the "workingmen," who have always been Democrats, will not swallow the dose fixed up for them, and they are outspoken to that effect.

Now for the speaking: James B. Mason, republican candidate for Supt. of Pub. Instruction, spoke first. We had heard of him and were on hand to see and hear what wonderful uses he would put the English language to. Not being a short hand reporter we could do nothing but take a sentence now and then and listen to the rest with a feeling of pity for the speaker in his unconscious illiteracy. Jerusalem! What a leader of the Public school interests of the State he would make! Why, his grammar, pronunciation, and composition are simply horrid. We will not quote anything this time.

John Nichols, Congressman from this district and candidate for reelection, who pres as the workingman's candidate, spoke next. He made a very flimsy explanation of his vote on the Mills bill. He voted against it for the protection of labor. How does it protect the laboring man to make him pay exorbitant prices for everything he uses? We don't think he made any voter. He is coming back again, then we will give more space to him and his declinations.

James E. Boyd, the republican candidate for Elector for the State at large, spoke next. He is sharp, knows how to tickle an audience and pumps all the laugh out of a negro and gets especially near to the Alamance negro, many of whom think him about the biggest man that ever lived. Well, he gave us a regular circus time of it. He plastered over the old skeleton with good humor, which takes with the thoughtless, but such speeches as this have no weight with reasoning thinking men. Finally, to brighten the coloring of the convention, a negro hand blowed the horns.

OUR NEW YORK LETTER.

New York, Aug. 11, 1888.

The town has been on a broad grin for a day or two about the Blaine demonstration fiasco. The man from Maine was expected to reach here Wednesday morning at the latest, and great were the preparations made to receive him. Every Blaine within a radius of 200 miles was drafted into service for the occasion. Vigorous drumming had brought a number of visiting clubs from as far West as Kansas City. Uncle Moseybags Morton was given another squeeze and the brass band fireworks men reaped a rich harvest.

On Tuesday a fleet of little steamers cruised about the bay awaiting the new ocean Leviathan, City of New York, with the White Plume flying from the mizen mast. An all night wait for nothing. Wednesday's sun jumped itself above the horizon and settled down to business over the old route. Still no Blaine. Another all day and all night cruise. The delegate from Fargo began to read over his two-day excursion ticket and feel in his pants' pocket for the remains of his four dollars.

A Blaineless Thursday morning. The air was bluer than the sky. The Pungo gentleman's enthusiasm was even more wilted than his solitary collar. His finances were on the ragged edge. Thursday passed without sign or token. Things were getting desperate. The Pungos had folded their gripsacks and embarked for the States. Another report says he will be a candidate for the County Democracy. That may or may not be. Tammany's big chief, Commissioner Croker, comes out this morning and says he does not think the Mayor will "get there" again. This, of course, means that he will not do so.

The next day he did steam up the bay, was met by a tug, made a few speeches and was given a send off in the evening that was quite respectable considering the very trying circumstances.

"Have you heard from Indiana?" was Chairman Bruce's introductory salutation of your correspondent at the National Democratic Headquarters this morning. "And do you think," he continued, "that there could be plainer sailing for Cleveland and Thurman in the Hoosier State after the Indianapolis fiasco?"

Mr. Bruce is not very talkative man, nor is he given to bubbling over of enthusiasm. It makes no matter who calls, however humble he may be. Mr. Bruce in the gravest manner possible solicited his views as to certain details of campaign work. The enthusiastic delegate from way back who has come a long distance to make speeches to the "Howlers" is loaded and primed with that special information which imbues him with the spirit of prophecy with a beautiful reserve fudd of disaster in case his counsels are not heeded.

An inflated rant amounting to genuine genius is displayed by the Chairman in handling such matters. He sends them away so inflated by a sense of their own importance that they feel like having themselves anchored to the pavement lest they should find themselves cogging with Jupiter and Saggiarius or the Siclie Picelade.

The other crank most frequently encountered at Headquarters is the man who wants to make speeches. No one has ever heard of him probably outside of a radius of ten miles of his birth place. This, however, does not deter him from writing to the Committee seventeen pages of foolscap interlined and marked "confidential," offering his services to stump Alaska, or to lead the uncertain Nutmegs in Connecticut, or to rush into the face of Jersey lightning, possibly even to make stump speeches in New York City and thus insure the Empire State to the Democracy. This customer to be sure, is a Patriot with an exceedingly large F. He says as much to himself, but the man of that ilk unfortunately he is unequal to the pecuniary demands of a labor of love. He would like the Committee to advance him say a few hundred dollars for traveling expenses and incidentals. He will try to make any further requisition upon them, though if they should think his services worth $50 or $60 a week, mere bagatelle to what he might pick up by remaining at home, he of course might bring himself to the point of accepting it in the same spirit that a public officers draws his salary.

Some of the speakers who will figure most prominently in this campaign are Representatives Mills, Brockenridge of Kentucky, Macmillan of Tennessee, Sunset Cox, speaker Carlisle and Senators Vance and Vest.

Returning to Indiana, the feeling at Headquarters is that Ex-Governor Porter put us in the worst possible position by his peculiar tactics of flirtation with the Convention. It was generally conceded that his personal popularity would give a great boost to Harrison. The inside history of it all is as plain as a pike-staff. Porter was a warm Gresham man and had nothing in common with the New Judiciary ring which the party, this is his revenge. Even bets were made at some of the fashionable up-town cafes when the news came in, that Cleveland would have 15,000 majority in Harrison's State. "Who is Hovey, Anyhow?" the people are asking, just a few months ago they were asking "who is Harrison?"

THE TALE OF THE TEMENT.

Fast upon the heels of the terrible calamity of twenty people roasted in a tement fire comes the news of an entire family swept away in the burning of another of those human rookeries. This sort of thing is getting to be so common in New York that it hardly excites comment. The true tale of the tement would have to be traced in blood. It shall ever be written in blood. It will touch the chord of human sympathy more powerfully than any fiction that has ever been constructed to harrow human feelings.

One of the most pathetic chapters of this story might, after Hood, be called "The Song of the Shirt." I am reminded of it by the testimony given yesterday before Congressman Ford's Com-

WASHINGTON LETTER.

Washington, Aug. 10, '88.

Representative Springer intends pushing his bill, taxing all products of trusts, through the House if possible. Mr. Springer says his bill will bring no revenue to the Government, but will speedily abolish trusts, pools and combinations.

Senators Allison, Hancock and Aldrich deny that they intended going to New York to consult Blaine about the tariff bill, which they are trying to put together. Perhaps the Senators did not intend to go personally to see Mr. Blaine, but they cannot deny that a trusted messenger took a copy of the bill, as far as agreed upon, to him in order to get his opinion upon it.

The funeral of Gen. Sheridan will take place to-morrow morning from St. Matthews church, where his remains have been since yesterday. Cardinal Gibbons will conduct the ceremonies. The body will be escorted to Arlington cemetery, its last resting place, by the military body provided for by Army regulations. Gen. Schofield, who is now the commander of the Army, will be in command.

Secretary Whitney has ordered all the available vessels of the North Atlantic squadron to the Canadian fishing ground, to look after the interests of American fishermen.

Republican and Workingmen's Convention.

Nominations of Candidates, Speaking, &c.

The combination indicated by the above heading, which was looked forward to with considerable anxiety, met here last Saturday, according to announcement. The meeting was called in order in the court house about 12 o'clock. S. A. White was made permanent chairman and T. E. Vincent, secretary, and the business of convention was proceeded with at once.

The workingmen's part of the convention consisted chiefly of the chairman who issued the call. So it seems that bait didn't daw well; but, perhaps the wrong man was managing the hook and line. In point of numbers the convention did right well. The "brother-in-black" was numerous and took his full part, and when it came to voting he held the balance of power. The democrats had their eyes open, so there were about as many of them on hand as there were white republicans.

For the offices the following were nominated, to-wit: For the House of Representatives, John G. Fowler; for Sheriff, Ed. R. Harden; for Register of Deeds, John W. Crawford; for Treasurer, Geo. W. Vestal; for Surveyor Eusebius Patterson; for Coroner, Jas. M. Turner. This is the ticket the combination brought forth, and which, judging from the call for the convention, the workingmen (i. e. the Knights of Labor) are expected to support. But the workingmen will do nothing of the kind. They can't be hoodwinked in that sort of style. Every man on the ticket is a dyed-in-the-wool republican, notwithstanding the first, second and sixth, in the order they are named, are members of the K. of L. In the language of the call, the "workingmen," who have always been Democrats, will not swallow the dose fixed up for them, and they are outspoken to that effect.

Now for the speaking: James B. Mason, republican candidate for Supt. of Pub. Instruction, spoke first. We had heard of him and were on hand to see and hear what wonderful uses he would put the English language to. Not being a short hand reporter we could do nothing but take a sentence now and then and listen to the rest with a feeling of pity for the speaker in his unconscious illiteracy. Jerusalem! What a leader of the Public school interests of the State he would make! Why, his grammar, pronunciation, and composition are simply horrid. We will not quote anything this time.

John Nichols, Congressman from this district and candidate for reelection, who pres as the workingman's candidate, spoke next. He made a very flimsy explanation of his vote on the Mills bill. He voted against it for the protection of labor. How does it protect the laboring man to make him pay exorbitant prices for everything he uses? We don't think he made any voter. He is coming back again, then we will give more space to him and his declinations.

James E. Boyd, the republican candidate for Elector for the State at large, spoke next. He is sharp, knows how to tickle an audience and pumps all the laugh out of a negro and gets especially near to the Alamance negro, many of whom think him about the biggest man that ever lived. Well, he gave us a regular circus time of it. He plastered over the old skeleton with good humor, which takes with the thoughtless, but such speeches as this have no weight with reasoning thinking men. Finally, to brighten the coloring of the convention, a negro hand blowed the horns.

OUR NEW YORK LETTER.

New York, Aug. 11, 1888.

The town has been on a broad grin for a day or two about the Blaine demonstration fiasco. The man from Maine was expected to reach here Wednesday morning at the latest, and great were the preparations made to receive him. Every Blaine within a radius of 200 miles was drafted into service for the occasion. Vigorous drumming had brought a number of visiting clubs from as far West as Kansas City. Uncle Moseybags Morton was given another squeeze and the brass band fireworks men reaped a rich harvest.

On Tuesday a fleet of little steamers cruised about the bay awaiting the new ocean Leviathan, City of New York, with the White Plume flying from the mizen mast. An all night wait for nothing. Wednesday's sun jumped itself above the horizon and settled down to business over the old route. Still no Blaine. Another all day and all night cruise. The delegate from Fargo began to read over his two-day excursion ticket and feel in his pants' pocket for the remains of his four dollars.

A Blaineless Thursday morning. The air was bluer than the sky. The Pungo gentleman's enthusiasm was even more wilted than his solitary collar. His finances were on the ragged edge. Thursday passed without sign or token. Things were getting desperate. The Pungos had folded their gripsacks and embarked for the States. Another report says he will be a candidate for the County Democracy. That may or may not be. Tammany's big chief, Commissioner Croker, comes out this morning and says he does not think the Mayor will "get there" again. This, of course, means that he will not do so.

The next day he did steam up the bay, was met by a tug, made a few speeches and was given a send off in the evening that was quite respectable considering the very trying circumstances.

"Have you heard from Indiana?" was Chairman Bruce's introductory salutation of your correspondent at the National Democratic Headquarters this morning. "And do you think," he continued, "that there could be plainer sailing for Cleveland and Thurman in the Hoosier State after the Indianapolis fiasco?"

Mr. Bruce is not very talkative man, nor is he given to bubbling over of enthusiasm. It makes no matter who calls, however humble he may be. Mr. Bruce in the gravest manner possible solicited his views as to certain details of campaign work. The enthusiastic delegate from way back who has come a long distance to make speeches to the "Howlers" is loaded and primed with that special information which imbues him with the spirit of prophecy with a beautiful reserve fudd of disaster in case his counsels are not heeded.

An inflated rant amounting to genuine genius is displayed by the Chairman in handling such matters. He sends them away so inflated by a sense of their own importance that they feel like having themselves anchored to the pavement lest they should find themselves cogging with Jupiter and Saggiarius or the Siclie Picelade.

The other crank most frequently encountered at Headquarters is the man who wants to make speeches. No one has ever heard of him probably outside of a radius of ten miles of his birth place. This, however, does not deter him from writing to the Committee seventeen pages of foolscap interlined and marked "confidential," offering his services to stump Alaska, or to lead the uncertain Nutmegs in Connecticut, or to rush into the face of Jersey lightning, possibly even to make stump speeches in New York City and thus insure the Empire State to the Democracy. This customer to be sure, is a Patriot with an exceedingly large F. He says as much to himself, but the man of that ilk unfortunately he is unequal to the pecuniary demands of a labor of love. He would like the Committee to advance him say a few hundred dollars for traveling expenses and incidentals. He will try to make any further requisition upon them, though if they should think his services worth $50 or $60 a week, mere bagatelle to what he might pick up by remaining at home, he of course might bring himself to the point of accepting it in the same spirit that a public officers draws his salary.

Some of the speakers who will figure most prominently in this campaign are Representatives Mills, Brockenridge of Kentucky, Macmillan of Tennessee, Sunset Cox, speaker Carlisle and Senators Vance and Vest.

Returning to Indiana, the feeling at Headquarters is that Ex-Governor Porter put us in the worst possible position by his peculiar tactics of flirtation with the Convention. It was generally conceded that his personal popularity would give a great boost to Harrison. The inside history of it all is as plain as a pike-staff. Porter was a warm Gresham man and had nothing in common with the New Judiciary ring which the party, this is his revenge. Even bets were made at some of the fashionable up-town cafes when the news came in, that Cleveland would have 15,000 majority in Harrison's State. "Who is Hovey, Anyhow?" the people are asking, just a few months ago they were asking "who is Harrison?"

THE TALE OF THE TEMENT.

Fast upon the heels of the terrible calamity of twenty people roasted in a tement fire comes the news of an entire family swept away in the burning of another of those human rookeries. This sort of thing is getting to be so common in New York that it hardly excites comment. The true tale of the tement would have to be traced in blood. It shall ever be written in blood. It will touch the chord of human sympathy more powerfully than any fiction that has ever been constructed to harrow human feelings.

One of the most pathetic chapters of this story might, after Hood, be called "The Song of the Shirt." I am reminded of it by the testimony given yesterday before Congressman Ford's Comvalation has gone, has never been able to control it. There were as many good men in the Republican party in 1868-9 as there are to-day, but they were unable to prevent the excesses to which that party went at that time.

ADVERTISEMENTS.

Mr. Dockery himself says that he came to Raleigh during the session of the legislature when the act authorizing the Special Tax Bonds was passed, and tried to prevent the same, but was unable to do so. As it was then so it is now, the majority of the voters of any party give character to the leaders and control their acts. It is true in this city and elsewhere, so far as I can see, that the best element of the colored people is not able to lead their race. Hence I am afraid for governmental affairs to fall into their hands. Not from any ill-will to them, but from conscientious convictions.

For these reasons I do not favor the organization of the Third Party, and would warn Democrats in North Carolina from participating in the same. We have made rapid strides in this State in educating our people for prohibition, and if we stand by our party we can advance still farther. But if we go into the Third Party, and in so doing weaken the Democratic party and cause its prohibition, we shall do the cause of prohibition lasting harm and bring upon ourselves and posterity great shame, with the possibilities of our being us with hardships grievous indeed.

I have been induced to say this because of my great concern for the cause of prohibition as well as my interest in the success of the Democratic party. Without regard to party I have stood side by side with those of my friends engaged in the Third party movement in former contests to suppress the evil of intemperance, and with all my heart and soul I am ready for service along the same line now and hereafter; but when I am called to go into a movement, the result of which can only be harm to our cause, and possibly place the State of North Carolina in the hands of men that I am unwilling should control it, and also place the nation back in the power of the party that oppressed us for twenty years, and under whose reign so many trusts and combinations were formed to grind the poor and helpless; making the few richer and the many poorer—a party that had so little regard for the over-burdened tax-payers of this county as to declare for free whisky, instead of providing for hungry, motherless, half-clothed bodies and shelterless families. When I am asked to turn my back on the Democratic party, that has stood as the great bulwark to the white people of the South, from the humiliation and degradation to which bitter hatred at the North would have subjected us. When I am asked to do this my answer for myself and all whom I can influence is, No.

I call upon my brethren of the Temperance cause in North Carolina who are considering this matter or who have thought of joining the Third party to stop—look ahead—see the danger of such a course. And then let us stand by the Democratic party and contend for prohibition as we have been doing.

A severe storm visited Cedar Fork station, Durham county, on Tuesday, the 7th inst., doing considerable damage. A man named Wm. Burgess was killed instantly by lightning and another named Colman Page, who was standing by his side, was badly stunned, the skin being burned on the back of his neck. He may possibly recover.

Get rid of that tired feeling as quick as possible. Take Hood's Sarsaparilla, which gives strength, a good appetite, and health.

ADVERTISEMENTS.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER Absolutely Pure.

This powder never varies. A marvel of purity, strength and wholesomeness. It does not contain the ordinary kinds and cannot be sold in competition with the multitude of low test, short weight alum or phosphate powders. Sold only in cans. ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 106 Wall St., N. Y. No 24 1y

ADVERTISEMENTS.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER Absolutely Pure.

This powder never varies. A marvel of purity, strength and wholesomeness. It does not contain the ordinary kinds and cannot be sold in competition with the multitude of low test, short weight alum or phosphate powders. Sold only in cans. ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 106 Wall St., N. Y. No 24 1y

ADVERTISEMENTS.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER Absolutely Pure.

This powder never varies. A marvel of purity, strength and wholesomeness. It does not contain the ordinary kinds and cannot be sold in competition with the multitude of low test, short weight alum or phosphate powders. Sold only in cans. ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 106 Wall St., N. Y. No 24 1y

ADVERTISEMENTS.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER Absolutely Pure.

This powder never varies. A marvel of purity, strength and wholesomeness. It does not contain the ordinary kinds and cannot be sold in competition with the multitude of low test, short weight alum or phosphate powders. Sold only in cans. ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 106 Wall St., N. Y. No 24 1y

ADVERTISEMENTS.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER Absolutely Pure.

This powder never varies. A marvel of purity, strength and wholesomeness. It does not contain the ordinary kinds and cannot be sold in competition with the multitude of low test, short weight alum or phosphate powders. Sold only in cans. ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 106 Wall St., N. Y. No 24 1y

ADVERTISEMENTS.

The importance of purifying the blood cannot be overestimated, for without pure blood you cannot enjoy good health. As this season nearly every one needs a good medicine to purify, vitalize, and enrich the blood, and we ask you to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. It strengthens and builds up the system, creates an appetite, and tones the digestion, while it eradicates disease. The peculiar combination, proportion, and preparation of the vegetable remedies used give to Hood's Sarsaparilla peculiar curative powers. It is a Peculiar Medicine, and is worthy your confidence. Hood's Sarsaparilla is sold by all druggists. Prepared by C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.

100 Doses One Dollar

ADVERTISEMENTS.

In the Superior Court.

Summons for relief. Special proceedings. J. L. Scott, Jr., Pub. Adm'r, as Adm'r of Malinda McLean, VS. Cyrus Woody, Samuel Woody, William Woody, and others, children of Malinda Woody, dec'd, who married Hugh Woody, and heirs at law of Malinda McLean, State of North Carolina, to the Sheriff of Alamance County, Greeting:

You are hereby commanded to summon Cyrus Woody, Samuel Woody, William Woody and others, children of Malinda and Hugh Woody, and heirs at law of Malinda McLean, the Defendants named, if they be found within your county, to appear at the office of the Clerk of the Superior Court for the county of Alamance on Monday, the 5th day of October, 1888, and answer the complaint which will be deposited in the office of said Clerk on or before said day. And let the said Defendants take notice that if they fail to answer the said complaint within that time the Plaintiff will apply to the court for the relief demanded in the complaint. Herein fail not of this summons make due return.

Given under my hand and seal of said court this 11th day of August, 1888. A. TATE, C. S. C. Aug. 15-00

ADVERTISEMENTS.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER Absolutely Pure.

This powder never varies. A marvel of purity, strength and wholesomeness. It does not contain the ordinary kinds and cannot be sold in competition with the multitude of low test, short weight alum or phosphate powders. Sold only in cans. ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 106 Wall St., N. Y. No 24 1y

ADVERTISEMENTS.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER Absolutely Pure.

This powder never varies. A marvel of purity, strength and wholesomeness. It does not contain the ordinary kinds and cannot be sold in competition with the multitude of low test, short weight alum or phosphate powders. Sold only in cans. ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 106 Wall St., N. Y. No 24 1y

ADVERTISEMENTS.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER Absolutely Pure.

This powder never varies. A marvel of purity, strength and wholesomeness. It does not contain the ordinary kinds and cannot be sold in competition with the multitude of low test, short weight alum or phosphate powders. Sold only in cans. ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 106 Wall St., N. Y. No 24 1y

ADVERTISEMENTS.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER Absolutely Pure.

This powder never varies. A marvel of purity, strength and wholesomeness. It does not contain the ordinary kinds and cannot be sold in competition with the multitude of low test, short weight alum or phosphate powders. Sold only in cans. ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 106 Wall St., N. Y. No 24 1y

ADVERTISEMENTS.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER Absolutely Pure.

This powder never varies. A marvel of purity, strength and wholesomeness. It does not contain the ordinary kinds and cannot be sold in competition with the multitude of low test, short weight alum or phosphate powders. Sold only in cans. ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 106 Wall St., N. Y. No 24 1y

ADVERTISEMENTS.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER Absolutely Pure.

This powder never varies. A marvel of purity, strength and wholesomeness. It does not contain the ordinary kinds and cannot be sold in competition with the multitude of low test, short weight alum or phosphate powders. Sold only in cans. ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 106 Wall St., N. Y. No 24 1y