Judge Womack.

This gentleman is not old as a Judge nor as a man. He was appointed to the Judgeship of this District by Gov. Fowle upon the resignation of Judge Gilmer, in the early part of this year.

Judge Womack has made a most favorable impression on all who have attended court. He dispatches business promptly and expeditiously, and yet with no unseemly haste.

In a short while the judicial convention of this district will convene to nominate his successor. And in making its nomination, it should be remembered that Judge Womack quit a large and lucrative law practice to accept the position he now holds, and that it would be only a matter of simply justice to him, if he has discharged the duties of the office acceptably, to nominate him for the position; besides, it would also be an endorsement of the wisdom of our Governor in making the appointment.

The Tariff Bill.

The House of Representatives has passed the McKinley tariff bill by a vote of 161 yeas to 142 nays. Two Republicans voted against it. The discussion was limited to ten days, a striking contrast to the time given to the discussion of the Mills bill, which was three months.

It was the tariff issue that defeated Grover Cleveland in '88, but the people know a good deal more now than they did then, and the same issue that defeated him then will elect him in '92.

The reform received only a temporary check, when boodles won the day for the Republicans in '88. Though the people were promised relief by the victors, it has not come, and nothing has been done to indicate that it will.

The people will not always keep their eyes closed to their own welfare; and however cunningly and plausibly Republican orators and writers may be able to put high tariff doctrines as for the benefit of the farmer and working man, yet they will, by the time another general election is held, know enough to vote more solidly for their own interests than ever before.

The bill has not passed the Senate yet, but that is Republican and can pass it too, if they will to do so.

On to Richmond.

It is with regret that we cannot lay before our readers an extended account of the unveiling of the magnificent equestrian statue to Robert Edward Lee in Richmond last Thursday. To give but a brief account of the occasion, the ceremonies, and all the attendant circumstances of interest, would fill the GLEANER several times. So it is not for want of matter but for want of space that we refrain this week. In our next we shall have considerable. It is about the matchless Lee and will not grow old.

All who attended from these parts are full of praise of the splendid occasion, which was fitting the memory and deeds of the great man. A vast sea of people, old veterans and military companies, from every nook and corner of the South were there to pay tribute to the memory of the Commander-in-Chief of the Confederate armies and great old comrades.

The Democratic State Executive Committee will meet at Raleigh on 10th of June. They will elect a chairman to succeed Judge Spier Whitaker and call the State Convention. Messrs. H. A. London, of Cha. them; J. S. Carr, of Durham; F. N. Strudwick, of Orange; and W. H. Pace, of Wake, are the members of the committee from this (4th) district.

OUR WASHINGTON LETTER.

From our Regular Cor. WASHINGTON, D. C., May 30, '90.

Mr. Plumb has introduced a resolution in the Senate which will enable its members to learn what they are voting for when they pass a tariff bill affecting the interests of most or all of the productions and importations of the United States. The present practice with tariff bills enables a committee inspired by the protected interests to force a bill through Congress without any consideration and which none but an expert can understand.

The resolution directs that the Finance committee report to the Senate in connection with the tariff bill, a statement showing the duties levied under the present law, under the McKinley House bill, and under the bill it shall itself produce, in parallel columns for convenient comparison and examination. The committee is specially instructed that where it shall recommend a levy of duty not now provided for by law, or an increase of rate above that now imposed, to furnish the Senate the reasons therefor in each case, in writing.

Mr. McKinley said his followers sought to gain fame and political capital by making a totally original tariff bill. To do that the rates were altered for every imported article. After four months of labor the change was made. But no reason could be given for a great many, if not most, of the alterations. In making them Mr. McKinley and the committee neither knew nor did they take the trouble to learn, what the rates were under the present law. He acknowledged this repeatedly on the floor of the House of Congress when applied for information. The prime object seemed to be a new and a McKinley high tariff bill. It was presented to the House with no comparative tables, and no reasons were given for the changes made, many of which would destroy flourishing industries, and others raising the tariff where the duties already produce a heavy revenue, and unnecessarily tax the people.

For example what reason was offered for raising the duty on copper, after companies were named in the House who made yearly profits as great as $6,000,000 on an investment of $1,500,000. Or the change made in the duty on iron, which would destroy the iron industry, and others raising the tariff where the duties already produce a heavy revenue, and unnecessarily tax the people.

On consideration of the resolution of the Senate, it was amended to add a column showing the equivalent ad valorem duty, another for cases where tariff is reduced, and the words "where practicable" added to the requirement of giving reasons for alterations. This last amendment is unfortunate as the committee will make their own construction of the word "practicable." But it is to be hoped that there are more in the Senate who favor the idea of Mr. Plumb to force certain manufacturers "to fry their own fat" rather than have the duties higher, and with the frightful example of the House before it, and its increased facilities for information, it is to be hoped that the Senate will produce a tariff bill that will be free of a great deal of the injustice in that one so vainly passed by the House.

Having completed "the greatest effort of his life" Mr. McKinley is now preparing a silver bill. It is conservative in its tendencies and of the general terms as that adopted by the House caucus. He expects to pass it through the House by a special order before the Senate passes a silver bill, which he fears will be for free-coinage.

It is thought that if a conservative firm passed by the House it will have a good effect in deterring the Senate from extreme courses. The Naval appropriation bill has finally passed the Senate, including the provision for three heavily armored vessels at a cost of $4,000,000 each. Quite a spirited discussion preceded the passage of this provision, between Senators in favor of and opposed to a large navy. Mr. Blair wishes to amend by making the provision unavailable until England had been requested by the President to withdraw all her naval forces from American waters, and discontinue her naval stations in both North and South America and adjacent lands, and if the request was not complied with within a year to build a great navy. In reply to a question as to what answer he would expect from England he said that he thought it would be favorable.

The Judiciary Committee of the House of Representatives has decided to report favorably on a resolution proposing a constitutional amendment, granting the right of suffrage to women.

6th Weekly Weather-Crop Bulletin of the N. C. Experiment Station and State Weather Service, for the Week Ending Friday, May 30th, 1890.

The reports of correspondents to the Weekly Weather-Crop Bulletin, issued by the North Carolina Experiment Station and State Weather Service, cooperating with the United States Signal Service, show that there has been a decided excess of rain-fall, but about the normal conditions of temperature and sunshine during the week ending Friday, May 30th, 1890. The following especially heavy weekly rain-falls have been reported: Weldon, Halifax county, 2.88 inches; Southport, Brunswick county, 2.88 inches; Lumberton, Robeson county, 3.07 inches; Wadesboro, Anson county, 3.00 inches; Moore county, 4.00 (estimated); Charlotte, Mecklenburg county, 3.28; Dallas, Gaston county, 3.93. No damage is reported except from a few counties where the overflowing streams damaged low-lying crops. The average rain-fall for the week for the State was 1.85 inches, which is 1 inch above the normal, the general effect upon crops being very favorable. A comparison of the condition and progress of crops during May, 1890, with the corresponding period last year, shows that the season is not only further advanced this year, but the condition of almost all crops is far better, so that with normal weather the season of 1890 is likely to prove a splendid one.

Eastern District. The rain-fall was considerably above the average, except in the extreme northern portion, where it was above the average. The heaviest rain-fall occurred at Lumberton, Robeson county—5.03 inches in one day; and at Southport, Brunswick county—2.87 inches in twelve hours. No damage is reported. The average for the district during the week was 1.70 inches. A few cool nights after the rain were rather unfavorable. Cotton and corn, in fact, nearly all crops are looking unusually well. Farmers are well up with their work. Temperature and sunshine about normal.

Central District. The rain-fall has also been above the normal in this district, average during the week being about 1.75 inches, most of which fell about the 26th to 27th. The usual conditions of temperature and sunshine prevailed, and the week was undoubtedly a splendid one for the farmer, making crops grow rapidly. The season was very favorable for setting out tobacco plants and most farmers have nearly finished this work. Cool nights make cotton and tobacco grow slowly in the northern counties. Wheat and oats continue to improve. Bugs reported to be cutting corn in Johnston and Harnett counties.

Western District. The rainfall was about the usual amount, especially in the lower portions where a heavy rainfall occurred on the 26th in Gaston, Mecklenburg, Cleveland and Rutherford counties. On those two days 3.28 inches fell at Charlotte, Mecklenburg county, and 3.93 inches at Dallas, Gaston county. The overflowing streams in the southern portion damaged low-lying crops. Generally, however, the rains have been very beneficial and crops are doing finely. As before reported, winter oats and wheat will be short. The harvesting of the latter has begun. Red-worms injuring corn reported from lower Mecklenburg county. A few nights were rather cool for cotton but it is doing well.

Railroad Election in Newlin's Township.

The election in Newlin's township, on last Saturday, on the question of subscription to the D. M. P. & E. R. R. resulted in a "dog fall"—there being 51 votes cast in favor of subscription and 51 votes cast against it. R. R. Kings must build their own roads, so says Newlin's township. Whole number of registered voters 235. Sutphin's Mill, June 2, '90.

The Verdict Unanimous.

W. D. Sult, druggist, Bippus, Ind., testifies, "I can recommend Electric Bitters as the very best remedy. Every bottle sold has given relief in every case. One man took six bottles, and was cured of rheumatism of 10 years' standing." Abraham Hare, druggist, Belleville, Ohio, affirms, "The best selling medicine I have ever handled in my 30 years' experience, is Electric Bitters." Thousands of others have added their testimony, so that the verdict is unanimous that Electric Bitters cure all diseases of the liver, kidneys or blood, (only a half dollar a bottle at T. A. Albright's drug store.

For Clerk Superior Court.

In a short while the Democrats of Alamance county will meet in convention for the purpose of naming men, who will be elected this fall to fill places of trust in the county. Before the convention meets I would like to suggest the name of Julius I. Foust for Superior Court Clerk. He is a young man, of respect and excellent young man, capable and trustworthy, and the Democrats of the county will do well to consider him favorably.

A Woman's Discovery.

Another wonderful discovery has been made and that too by a lady in this county. Disease fastened its clutches upon her and for seven years she withstood its severest tests, but her vital organs were undermined and death seemed imminent. For three months she coughed incessantly and could not sleep. She bought of us a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption and was so much relieved on taking first dose that she slept all night and with one bottle has been miraculously cured. Her name is Mrs. Luther L. Cook, of Shelby, N. C. Get a free trial bottle at T. A. Albright's drug store.

He was the drummer of the "Chatham Rifles," the first company from this county to enlist in the Confederate army.

As Others See Us.

Mr. Josephus Daniels, editor of the State Chronicle, on his visit to Graham last week wrote the following concerning our town to his paper: GRAHAM, N. C., May 30, 1890.—This is one of the oldest and most pleasant and delightful hospitable of our North Carolina towns. It has long been the home of a refined and cultivated and industrious people, and its population, though small, is composed of an genial and pleasant a circle of clever men and handsome women as any town in the State. Its streets, the shady, and its homes made attractive by beautiful flowers and well-kept lawns. It is the county-seat of a county which, in material prosperity, has no superior in the State. There are eighteen cotton mills in Alamance county, and all are probably at work, giving employment to labor and giving good returns to the capital invested. In Graham there are three cotton-mill factories; the Onks and the Sidney. They run on full time and have a good and growing sale for their products. The merry hum of the spindles is always to be a pleasant sound, but in North Carolina they sing, to me, a sweeter song than in any other clime. They sing of increasing wealth, of diversified industries, of manufacturing vim, of employment to labor of both the active, bustling life, and of coming great prosperity to the State. The presence of factories makes the farms more productive, and insures a home market for all the products of the farm and dairy.

There is a saying that cotton is king in farming operations. The king products of the farm are eggs and poultry. They sell for more money on the average than all other crops of the county, and there is more profit in raising them. This the Alamance farmer has learned better than the farmers in most sections, because they have a home market at their doors for all their surplus eggs and chickens. The same is true of the products of the dairy, as well as of the field and garden.

Alamance has every element to make it what it is—a rich and growing county. In the extreme north part of the county is a part of the wonderful golden belt where the finest bright tobacco is raised. In the southern part the cultivation of cotton is carried on successfully. In the central part of the county the lands are admirably adapted to stock raising and grazing. The farmers in this county are, in the main, intelligent, industrious and successful. They understand how to run a farm, live at home and board at the same place, and have taken advantage of the gifts of nature. The progress made in the line of improved stock and other ways that betoken intelligent and wise management, serve best to show the excellent qualities and worth of these people.

Milton Advertiser: Some one put out some poison last night, and as a consequence the carcasses of five dogs were found on our streets this morning. —Dr. Robert Dillard, a promising young dentist, a native of this county, who had recently graduated from a college in Chicago, died at the home of his parents near Anderson's Store last week. —Long's mills, situated on Contryline creek about five miles south of Milton, the property of Mr. M. Long, one of our most successful farmers, was destroyed by fire last night. The origin of the fire can't be determined. The property was worth about $4,000, and is a total loss, as Mr. Long carried no insurance on it. The gentlemen who, some weeks ago, began negotiations looking toward getting control of the Connally gold mine have at last secured a lease of the property on satisfactory terms and conditions, and it is now determined whether or not it will pay to work said mine.

A Fact

WORTH knowing is that blood diseases, which all other remedies fail to cure, yield to Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Fresh confirmation of this statement comes to hand daily. Even such deep-seated and stubborn complaints as Rheumatism, Rheumatic Gout, and the like, are thoroughly eradicated by the use of this wonderful alterative.

Mrs. R. Irving Dodge, 110 West 125th street, New York, certifies: "About two years ago, after suffering for nearly two years from rheumatic gout, being able to walk only with great difficulty, and having tried various remedies, including mineral waters, without relief, I saw by an advertisement in a Chicago paper that a man had been relieved of this distressing complaint by taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I then decided to make a trial of this medicine, and took it regularly for eight months. I am pleased to say that it effected a complete cure, and that I have since had no return of the disease."

Mrs. L. A. Stark, Nashville, N. H., writes: "I was three years ago, after long and fruitless treatment, confined to my house six months. I came out of the sickness very much debilitated, with no system, and a general aching in every way. I commenced to use Ayer's Sarsaparilla and began to improve at once, gaining in strength and soon recovering my usual health. I can testify too much in praise of this well-known medicine."

"I have taken a great deal of medicine, but nothing has done me much good as Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I felt its beneficial effects before I had quite finished one bottle, and I can testify truly that it has cured me of the disease I know of." —L. W. Ward, Sr., Woodland, Texas.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla, PREPARED BY Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass. Price 25¢ per bottle, $1.00 for six bottles.

The entire programme was carried out in a manner very creditable, both to the school and the pupils. The music, vocal and instrumental, was good and the declamation, by the young ladies and the orations by the young men were exceptionally good. Friday morning Josephus Daniels, Esq., delivered the address, taking for his subject "Good Citizenship." It was an admirable presentation of the rights, duties, privileges and responsibilities which come to those attaining their majority and becoming American citizens—kings, not subjects. The points presented ought to be instilled into the mind and heart of every young American.

The annual sermon was to have been preached by Rev. W. T. Walker, in the afternoon, but he failed to arrive, and Rev. W. W. Staley, of Suffolk, Va., preached. He preached without notes, and a most excellent sermon it was. He pursued the line of thought of the speaker who addressed the audience in the morning, and with zeal and power he impressed upon his audience the duty of observing the responsibilities resting upon them by divine law and command. With the sermon closed the exercises of this session. It also closed the work of the college at this place. The school will open the next session in its new building at Elon College—on the N. C. R. R. 4 miles west of Burlington. The secretary reported 95 in attendance during the past year.
