A Pension for a Burned Heel.

A Kentucky man is to get a pension for a burned heel, but from all the facts which surround the case, it would seem that he is entitled to it.

Stephen A. Harper enlisted early in the war in Company A, Third Kentucky Infantry. Sometime during his service he was attacked with typhoid fever and sent to the hospital. While he lay in bed unconscious of what was going on around him, some attendant thought his feet should be warmed. He went out and got a large stone, and after heating it very hot, put it in bed at the sick man's feet. He had miscalculated the temperature of the stone, and it proved so hot that it set the bed-clothes on fire, and before the fire could be extinguished the left heel of Mr. Harper was burned to a crisp.

The soldier got well of his fever and was afterwards honorably discharged. Along in 1891 it occurred to him that when pensions were being granted so freely, he might just as well get pay for that heel, and made his application in the regular way. The Commissioner of Pensions said they were not paying pensions for burned heels. Assistant Secretary Davis, of the Interior Department, looks at the matter differently and when the case was appealed to him, reversed the decision of the Commissioner, and Harper will get his pension, with back pay until 1891, the date when his application was filed.

Hon. Thomas M. Check, of Orange county, made 223 bushels of wheat from 9 bushels sown, an average of about 25 to 1. He used DIAMOND SOLUBLE BONE. Will use no other.

JOB FOR A PAINTER.

George Explains to His Uncle Fred the Accident That Caused the Demand.
Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Dear Uncle Fred: Paw painted part of our stable day before yesterday. He would a painted it all if it had not been for accident.

When he got about three Boards painted maw come out to see how he was gotten along and when she looked at him she says: "I thot you was agoin to paint the Stable."

Paw was up on a ladder and he stopped and looked at Her like if He did't no what she ment. Then he says:

"Well, ain't I paintin it? If you do not like this Her job, mabey you better take hold and finish it yourself."

"Oh, you're all rite," says maw, "only it seems to me it would Be a little Better if you'd git more paint on the Barn and not quite so much on yourself."

"Hub!" paw growled. "I s'pose you Think that Blame funny, don't you? Why I seen that gag in the papers twenty years ago."

"Oh not that long ago," says maw.

"Why not?" Paw ast.

"Becos you never read the papers then," says maw. "It's only since we Got married and I want to Be sociable or they's somethin you ought to Do around the House that you git so Bizzy readin papers you Don't have no time for anything else."

"That's What thanks a 'fellar gits," Paw says, "for trying to Do things. If you told the truth, How does it Come I'm Up here now?"

Paw was tickled by that shot and he kind of whirled around on one foot to see mawwas off he go in to Take it. But the ladder gave a slide and Down she went with paw hollerin for Maw to ketch the Blame thing.

Maw she jest yelled and run awy, and paw Come Down kersmash on the paint Buck-et, and upset it, and the stuff run all over his neck and nearly smothered him before he could git untangled out of the ladder.

We was all purty scared. But it didn't hurt him much, so when we was ladden him into the house he says to maw: "Well, I hope you are happy now. You couldn't a stayed in the house where you Belonged Because they wasn't nobody in there to make your tongue waggle. I s'pose the only thing you're sorry about is that I didn't git my neck Broke."

Maw she Didn't say a word.

guess she must a Ben pritty full of remorse. They's a Job Here for some painter now. GEORGE.

Wise Men Know

It is folly to build upon a poor foundation, either in architecture or in health. A foundation of sand is insecure, and to deaden symptoms by narcotics or nerve compounds is equally dangerous and deceptive. The true way to build up health is to make your blood pure, rich and nourishing by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Hood's Pills act easily and promptly on the liver and bowels. Cure sick headache.

When in need of a remedy to relieve pain you want the surest, quickest and best, such a one is Rice's Goose Grease Liniment, it relieves all-pain at once, it cures croup, cough and colds as soon as used. For sale and guaranteed by all druggists and general stores. It relieves whooping cough.

A dispatch from Bombay, India says: Recent advices from the scene of the wreck of the Bangalore-My sore railroad near Maddur indicate that 150 people were killed and 1 injured. Seventy persons succeeded in making their escape.

Croup Quickly Cured.

MOUNTAIN GLEN, Ark.—Our children were suffering with croup when we received a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It afforded almost instant relief.—F. A. THORNTON. This celebrated remedy is for sale by T. A. Albright & Co.

The "Bicyclist's Best Friend" is a familiar name for De Witt's Witch Hazel Salve, always ready for emergencies. While a specific for piles, it also instantly relieves and cures cuts, bruises, salt rheum, eczema and all affections of the skin. I never fails. Simmons, the druggist.

I strange condition of affairs exists in Iowa. The State bank at Davenport has closed its doors and the reason assigned for this action is that it could not find borrowers for its large surplus which is lying idle in its vaults.

Southern and Western stock men know a good thing when they see it therefore for scratches, sweeny, ring-born, strains, sprains, bruises, saddle and harness galls and ailments of horses, they use Rice's Goose Grease Liniment, it is good for man as beast. Sold and guaranteed by all druggists and general stores.

"Away With Bastard Politics."

The Topic is as strong for free silver as anyone, but it has no faith in any sort of combination outside of the Democratic party, and it expects to do its fighting for the white metal right in party ranks by striking above the belt. If it never wins a fight till it does so by a combination with traitorous office-seekers, it would always prefer defeat. The man who does not stand square to his convictions but is always scheming for office by all manner of combinations is an enemy to good government. The Democratic party has nothing to be ashamed of in its past history in this State, and if it cannot be restored to power by a straightforward manly fight then let it remain out of power. There is nothing to be gained by a so-called conciliatory policy if that means that the men who are responsible for the pitiable condition of politics at present are to be held to a strict accountability for the part they have taken in bringing about this condition. Away with bastard politics!
