Farmer Vanderbilt.

George Vanderbilt has been exloited for years as a bookworm, as connoisseur of the fine arts, as an ntelligent traveler, as a millionaire bachelor, and as the greatest matrimonial catch in America.

With such versatility and so many encomiums called forth by it. any plain ordinary chappie would have been content. .

Not so with George VanCerililt. It was not enough that he should know the value of the different editions of the classics ; that he should have devoted himself to music, to painting and to sculpture until he was familiar with all the products of genius in each field ; or that he should have traveled the whole world around in search of knowledge and pleasure.

Not these, nor the adulation of society, nor the sweet seductiven as of love, nor any other thing that we dudes do most desire and that money can obtain was satisfying to George Vanderbilt.

He tstill had a longing for something else. And so he turned far-mer and bred cattle and pigs and poultry, and took his exhibits to the premiums. Think of his taking sixty-two prizes on poultry alone. And they do tell me that his aggregation of mild eyed cows and squealing pigs and baso profundo bulls is the finest to be found south of the Mason and Dixon line. He also obtained $100 as the prize for the best agricultural display, and, all in all, it looks as though Farmer Vanderbilt had struck his gait at last.

Just keep your eyes open now and see if the chappisettes aren't studying the intricate subjects of agriculture and stock and poultry raising.

I am willing to make a small wager that when Farmer Vanderbilt comes on to New York again he will find the young ladies of the four hundred with such a knowledge of all those things that he will be and everywhere in the evening in- newness of his clothing showed that anazed.-Cholly Knickerbocker in the New York Journal.

DOVER, N. J., Oct. 30 .- Thomas . Edison's success in recovering by electrical means the iron contained in low grade ores is demonstrated at the old Ogden mines, a few miles Raleigh, N. C., and carried off all from here. His plant is capable of producing 1,000 to 1,500 tons daily of almost chemically pure iron. There are 200,000,000 tons of this low grade ore on the land immediately surrounding the plant. from which can be produced 50,000,000 tons of iron. The ore is blasted from the mountain sides, and then by means of steam shovels and miniature railroad cars conveyed to. massive crushers where it is broken up and passed on to other mills, where it is pulverized. The powder is then allowed to fall in close proximity to electro magnets, which deflects the iron to one side and the non metallic matter falls to the other side by gravity. The process is entirely automatic.
