Sunday afternoon near Newman, Ga., terrible retribution came to a negro named Sam Hose. About a week before he had killed, near Palmetto, a respectable farmer named Cranford in the presence of his wife and his little children and then ravished the mother whom he had made a widow. This is horrible and hellish beyond description. No punishment known to the law is adequate to the offense. But the death to which the madened mob subjected the beast was barbarous beyond benighted. He was stripped, chained to a tree, his ears, fingers and other members cut off, brush piled around him, oil poured over all and set on fire. Before he died he implicated a negro preacher named Strickland, who, he said, hired him to kill Cranford. Strickland was lynched Monday night. It's all too horrible and bloodcurdling to relate.

Chairman Jones has represented a majority of the committee, and still does; but his health is in such a condition-he is now at Atlantic City, slowly recovering from his recent serious illness—that his physicians have told him that it will be risking death for him to attempt to do the amount of work he had been doing up to the time he was taken sick. This being the situation, Senator Jones' retirement from the position of chairman of the committee was easy to predict, but it was very small business to try to make it appear that he was to be forced out because he was not this or that, and is calculated to cause a man like Senator Jones to take the bit in his teeth. regardless of his health or the orders of the doctors, and retain the ance with custom, names his successor.
