

GRAHAM, N. C., THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 18, 1904.

INDIGESTION

VOL. XXX.

"I was troubled with stom-sh trouble. Thedford's Black-Draught did me more good in one week than all the doo-tor's medicine I took in a year."-MRS. SARAH E. SHIRFINLD, Elisteville, Ind.

Thedford's Black Draught quickly invigorates the so-tion of the stomach and ourse even chronic cases of indigestion. If you will take a small done of Thed-ford's Black Draught occa-sionally you will keep your stomach and liver in per-fect condition.

More sickness is caused by constipation than by any other disease. Thedford's Black-Draught not only re-lieves constipation but cures diarrhoen and dysentery and keeps the bowels regular. All druggists sell 35-cent packages.

"Thedford's Black-Draught is the best madi-cins to regulate the bowels I have ever used."- MRS. A. M. GRANT, Encads Ferry, N. C.

CONSTIPATIO

****** DOBSON DID IT

Eph Parks and his family lived in that part of Livingston county traveled on. "He did it, that thar where the farms are red and gully Dobson." And again she relapsed washed, where the cornstalks are thin and sickly looking and burn into silence.

she was asleep.

and the old people their talk. When door. She shouldered the weapon with the strength and sleight of a strong man and started off down the road. She seemed in a hurry,

She passed several persons with ly and looked through the bushes.

In the field, about twenty paces distant, was a man patiently hoeing his corn. She poked the rifle yellow in the sun almost as soon as they are green. He was strong and rugged, this sturdy farmer, with his big, bony hands and nut brown, lean sheeks. At a grindstone at the rear of drn and faded, and the skin looked plistered through the rents. He ested once in awhile and tested the edge of his ax with his thumb. This was Eph's father. A woman almost is old and long past the age of work sat on a stone in a shady spot watching the grinding of the ax ind remarking in a cracked voice the chances for a crop. A tall, angular woman of perhaps forty, though she looked much older, came to the door. Her calico dress was soiled and torn. A pair for she took long strides like a man. of Eph's boots with great patches Her body swayed in tune to her of rawhide and with the heels run step, either from the weight of the over peeped out from under her gun or from habit. tucked up dress. Her face was hard the usual salutation, "Mornin'!" and pinched. The sallow color contrasted strongly with the dark, al-most black blue of her gown, and She looked neither to the left nor to the right. Finally she reached a lane where the hazel bushes skirtwhen the sleeves were rolled to the ed the road. She walked more careelbows her arms were brown. One fully then. She peered into a field bony hand clutched a dishrag, which through an opening, but did not she held against the side of the seem satisfied, for she continued her door as she shaded her eyes with walking. She stopped again short-husband as he worked across the red clay field. The clatter of a horse's hoofs on the hard and gravel washed road through the bushes just as the solwas heard. Her eyes were turned in the direction of the rapidly approaching rider. A half dozen chiltion from his face with his shirt dren, the eldest a boy of ten, came from a gully near by, where they had been playing, also attracted by report, and the man fell over in a the sounds. All moved around to the front of the house. To the surhole in his temple. prise of all, the stranger pulled up at the fence.

the other. She was looking at her

"Eph Parks live here?" he asked. "Yep; that's him over there in the field." answered the woman.

rifle in its resting place and went The stranger dismounted, tied the about her duties. bridle rein to the rail fence and started across the field toward Eph. The children instinctively clustered house. It came nearer. All went and season it with Pepper, Salt, to the door to see who it was. The Cloues, Mace, Nutmeg and Ginger, around their mother and tugged unconsciously at her dress. She wagon stopped before the house. smacked them right and left impul-All knew the driver. It was Bill sively. She was watching the stran-Bucker, the constable. As he climbger. The man finally reached Eph, ed over the fence all in the house and the two had a parley for several started out to meet him. minutes. When they started toward "Mandy, I want yer ter go with the house the stranger had hold of me fur ther shootin' of Dobson." Eph's arm. Eph's parents and his The woman's face was as immovwife and children were all standing able as it had been when she sat at. close together when the pair reached the house. father and mother and the children "Mandy, this 'ere's a gove'ment looked at her fixedly. "All right, Bill; I'll go with yer." ossifer, and he's cum ter take me 'way ter jail fur makin' them dollars. And with this she climbed into the "Twan't no harm nohow-le'stwise vagon. I'm a church member yet." "Zach," she said to the oldest "Hurry up, hurry up," said the tective. "I want to get to the child, "yer go over to yer Aunt Minerva's an' tell her to cum round detective. station in time to catch the night an' look after yer all." The wagon train.' rattled down the road, and the chil-"How long will yer be gone, Eph?" said his wife. His aged pardren and old people looked after it. ents stood with their mouths open. The Doctor Stopped Laughing. They did not understand it at all. "I heard a story of a physician "Doan know," answered Eph as the other day," said a man from the handcuffs were adjusted to his abroad. "He was a physician of Provence, and one morning, stopwrists. Then the men climbed over the ping his gig, he entered into conlescending talk with a tombstone fence. The stranger got on his horse and told Eph to walk along maker. "While the talk went on the in front of him. He also said that any attempt on Eph's part to run tombstone man did not cease to would cost him his life. There was work. He had a chisel in one hand no handshaking, no tears. The men and a mallet in the other. He was carving upon his tombs the words moved off down the scorching hot 'Sacred to the memory of'- and road, leaving the group standing as the rest he would leave blank. it had stood at first, together. The old man and old woman looked at "This proceeding for some reason Mandy appealingly, but Mandy watched her husband and the stranamused the physician. Watching the stonecutter, he laughed heartily. "'Why," said the other, 'do you

one of the children, the chirp of a cricket and the croak of a frog WATER FOR THE STOMACH. were the only sounds which disturbed the almost perfect quiet. Copious Drafts Are Useful to Cleaner

"Twan't no harm nohow," she the System. said to herself. "Ther law ain't no The habits of people in general right to put yer in jail fur makin' money er whisky." And the moon do not seem so bad when one considers the average individual's limitations as to knowledge and thought. The fact is that most people don't know, don't think and Soon she arose and shook herself, hence don't care. Let them read more science, think more sensibly as if to throw off the chill of the and act more seriously; then their night air. She lighted the dip of habits will be more satisfactory. The alimentary receptacle-the tallow and placed it on a chair; then she reached up over the door and stomach or vat in which foods and took a long rifle down from its resting place on a pair of tree forks. She extracted the charge with a liquids are received and mixed-is habitually converted by many perlong rod, wiped the gun clean and sons into a chemical retort of all reloaded it; then she placed it back sorts of drugs and remedies, with where she found it, removed her the view of reaching and relieving the ills of the various organs of the faded calico dress and went to bed. body, from dandruff to corns. The Her loud breathing soon told that writer believes that he can give no more and better reasons for his con-In the morning she performed fidence in the therapeutic value of her household duties as if nothing remedies than most other physihad happened. No word was spoken of Eph except by the oldest boy, cians, but he wishes to emphasize who asked once when "pop 'll be back." No one answered him. The here the transcendent element of common sense in their administra-

sun came out again in all its fiercetion. ness. The children began their play Before and above all things, how ever, what is wanted is a clean gastro intestinal canal, and his claim all were busy Mandy took the old is that water, properly used, is the best agent to effect that cleansing. rifle down from the rack over the On a par with this canal in importance are the eliminative tissues and organs of the system-the kidneys, the mucous membrane and skin. What therapeutic agent, properly used, is better than water? After all the assimilative and eliminative organs and tissues have been thoroughly rinsed with pure soft water, then if it be still necessary to administer a chemical agent one may be selected that will, with these organs and tissues in better condition, work wonders. If you are so foolish as to allow yourself to become foul from head to foot cleanse yourself with water before resorting to chemical aids .- Health. OLD TIME COOKERY.

Some of the Culinary Capers of the Seventeenth Century.

itary laborer straightened up, took In the early days of the sevenoff his hat and wiped the perspirateenth century gastronomy was tru-ly a wonderful science if a little sleeve. She glanced along the barcookery book published in 1638 is rel of the gun. There was a sharp any criterion, says the Chicago Trib-une. The title it bears is "Murrell's furrow. The blood flowed from a Two Books of Cookerie and Carving. Printed for John Marriot, and are Then Mandy replaced the gun on her shoulder. She walked off down the road without a word. When stan's Churchyard in Fleet-street. 1638." she arrived at her home she put the

To bake "red deere" you are directed to "Parboyle it, and presse it, In the afternoon the rumble of a and let it lye at night in Red-Wine road wagon was heard below the and Vinegar; then Larde it Thicke,

It was in a Philadelphia public school that a class in spelling was going over a lesson in words of two syllables. One of the words was Juvenile Reasoning.

"mummy." "Children," said the teacher, "how many of you know the meaning of the word 'mum-my?"" After a long silence one little girl raised her hand. "Well, Maggie?"

"It means yer mother." The teacher pointed out her mistake and explained fully the meaning of the word. Presently the word "poppy" had to be spelled. "Who knows what 'poppy' means?"

asked the teacher. . The same little girl raised her hand, this time brimful of confidence.

"Well, what's the answer, Maggie ?" "It means a man mummy, plied the child .- Philadelphia Public Ledger.

The Dramatic Motive. "How do you figure out the plots of your plays?" inquired the anxious novice.

"Motive is the only key that opens the portals of dramatic action," said the popular dramatist. "And motive is best tested by the query Why?'. See how I have applied the principle in my latest work. Why are the children on the stage? Because the scene is a nursery. Why does the villain come to the nursery? Because he is pursuing the mother. Why is the mother in the nursery? Because she is attending the children ?"

"But why do you have a nursery on the stage at all?" queried the novice. "Why not something else?" "Because," said the popular dramatist proudly - "because I had a commission to write a play with a nursery in it."-New York Times.

an eligible spouse and was offered and accepted a damsel of twenty-seven, whose name was on the the letter a vignette portrait of a favorite ape. Next morning he dis-covered the error, but at the same time received a note from the lady saying: "I accept the husband you offer me. It is true that he is not

GOOD AND BAD MEMORIES. Why Persons Forget'Some Things and

Remember Others.

Good memory is a subject regard, ing which a good deal of nonsense is habitually talked. We often hear people say that they have a good memory for certain things, but a bad one for other things. This I believe to be a delusion. A man's memory may be good or it may be bad, but it cannot well be good for one thing and bad for another thing. It might as well be said that a bottle was good for holding brandy, but bad for holding whisky. In the case of a feeble intellect all its faculties will be feeble-memory, judgment and all the rest-but they will not be feeble for one purpose and vigorous for another purpose and vig-orous for another purpose. The fact is that our memory is in itself equal-ly powerful or feeble for all pures, but we remember best those things which interest us most and so say that we have good memories for such things, while we forget those things which do not interest us, and we say accordingly that we have bad memories for those things. Horace Walpole used to say that his memory was all retentive as to the names of persons and of places, but and won.

that it was absolutely impotent in regard to dates. It has been said of him-by Macaulay, I think-that he could tell you the name of the grandaunt of King Ethelwald, but that he could not tell you whether she lived in the year 500 or in the year 1500. The truth was that he sir? took an interest in names and genealogies, but none in dates. Similar-

Geierstein" Scott apthy says: "I have through life been entitled to adopt old Beattie of Meiklidale's hanged if it isn't the first time in Geierstein" Scott aptly says: "I have through life been entitled answer to his parish minister when all our rows that she's owned up to the latter was eulogizing him with respect to the same faculty. 'No, doctor,' said the honest border laird,

Here is a story apropos of the matrimonial agencies in Paris: One M. X. had applied at an agency for wou were to preach to me for a cou-'I have no command of my memory it would be more to her credit if she looked after her children a little now and then."-Chicago Recordwas not an Adonis, but possessed many different classes of subjects, At the same time he intended to send her a carte de visite of the gen-> ties of history, but as to many more important things." No, it is pretty certain that we have not got good memories for this and bad memories for that in any other sense than that we remember that which interests us and forget | served to walk repeatedly and demure-and started to investigate. They When You Have a Cold.

were there, three of them and the "Didn't he bark?" interrupted the man.

"Not a bark: he was too busy." "Busy! What doing ?"

"Carrying the lantern for the burglars. If you know anybody who wants a good dog send him around."

Hopped and Won.

Some years ago a remarkable wager was made between Captain Machell, a racing celebrity, and another officer who was noted for his activity. Captain Machell bet his fellow officer £10 that he would not hop up a certain flight of stairs "two at a time." The bet was taken; but, as there were forty-one steps in the flight, he found after taking twenty hops that he was left only one step to negotiate and had lost his bet. He accused Captain Machell of sharp practice, but Ma-chell replied, "Well, I'll bet you an-other £10 I do it." The officer, thinking to get back his money, ac-cepted the bet. Captain Machell then hopped up forty steps in twen-ty hops and, hopping back one, finished by going up the last two steps

Willing to Pay.

Magistrate - Well, Mooney, you are accused of beating your wife. What have you to say why you shouldn't pay a fine or have ten

Mooney-Who says I best her, Magistrate-She herself testified to it. Mooney-What! The old lady coming out second best.

Disgraceful.

"Don't you think," asked Mrs. Oldcastle, "that Mrs. Scaddsleigh's embonpoint is rather getting the better of her lately?" "Is it?" her hostess asked. knew she was a steady golf player, but I didn't know she'd took up any of these other games. Josiah thinks

The Mischievens Magpie. Here is an anecdote illustrative of the magpie's love of mischlef and of sport: There was a field wherein clothes were often hung out to dry on post which were let down into deep wooder sockets buried in the ground and were carried away and put under cover when they were not in use. A gravel path ran round the field, and a tame magpie, which had the run of it, was ob-

Frenped an Awful Fate. Mr. H. Haggins, of Melbourne, Fla., writes: "My doctor told me I had Consumption and nothing could be done for me. I was given up to die. The offer of a free trial up to die. The offer of a free trial bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, induced to try it. Results were startling I am now on the road to recovery and owe all to Dr. King's New Discovery. It saved my life." This great cure is guaranteed for all throat and lung discases by the J. C. Simmons Drug Co. Price 50c, and $1.00. Trial bottles free.

bottles free. Somebody refers to cotton as 'Rex." It is certainly leaving enough wrecks on the wreckbound shores of speculation. -Jacksonville Times-Union.

Don't let the noon hour eat up to the other ten.

Corn

must have a sufficient supply of Potash

in order to develop into a crop.

sate for a lack of potash in

RMAN KALI WORKS.

ta. Cu.-Sale Re. 3

fertilisers [for grain and all other crops].

We shall be glad

a send from to may

No amount of Phose

Acid or Nitrogen can con

.

21

The first action when you have cold should be to relieve the lungs. This is best accomplished by the free use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. This Remedy liquenes the tough mucus and causes its ex-pulsion from the air cells of the

The first action when you have

NO. 3

lungs, produces a free expectora-tion, and opens the secretions. A complete cure soon follows. This remedy will cure a severe cold in less time than any other treatment and it leaves the system in a nature and healthy condition. It counted acts any tendency towards pneu monia. For sale by all druggiets.

Mrs. Nurich-I want to get a pair of swell white gloves to wear to ball. Clerk-Yes'm. How long do you want them? Mrs. Nurich -See here, young man, I ain't talking about rentin' 'em. I want to buy 'em.

Another Case of Rhoumatiem Currel b Chamberials's Pain Balm.

Chamberlain's Pain Baim. The efficacy of Chamberlain's Pain Balm in the relief of rheuma-tism is being demonstrated daily. Parker Triplett, of Grigsby, Va., says that Chamberlain's Pain Baim gave him permanent relief from rheumatism in the back when every thing else failed, and he would buy without It. For sale by all drug-pints. gists.

Hez Gudger wants to be minister o Panama. As he is a tar beel he can be depended upon to stick wherever he is put .- Mason Tele graph.

ly in his introduction to "Anne of

"So Distinguished!"

seven, whose name was on the books. The agent, writing to the remember one word of it.' Perhaps lady, told her frankly that M. X. was not an Adonis, but possessed serves them with equal fidelity as to tleman, but by mistake slipped into snatch of verse or trait of charac-precisely handsome, but then he has so distinguished an air."

Driving a Bargain.

summer she would like to buy a

Didn't Come Back.

JEWELER GRAHAM, - - - N. C. Watches, Clocks, Jewelry and Silverware. 1-----ESTABLISHED

-1893-Burlington Insurance

-Agency-INSURANCE IN ALL ITS BRANCHES. 0000

Local agency of Penn Mutual Insurance Company. Best Life Insurance contracts now on the market.

0000 Prompt personal attention to all

JAMES P. ALBRIGHT, Agent.

***********

ADMINISTRATOR'S NOTICE

letters of administration having been is not to the undersigned upon the estate of and Richard, decensed, he hereby notifies percess indebted to said estate to make underse paymint, and all persons holding or before the 20th day of December, 100, the source will be pleaded in bar of their man fer the source will be pleaded in bar of their man fer the source will be pleaded in bar of their the source will be pleaded in bar of their Tan lith day of December, 1908. L. D. RIPPY, Adm'r of David Michael

. S. COOK Attorney-at-Law, GRAHAM. N. C. Office Patterson Building Second Floor. WILL S. LONG. JR. · · · DENTIST . . . OFFICE IN SIMMONS BUILDING BR BRAY BINUM. W. R. BUNUN, Ju BYRUM & BYNUM. hand Con J. BIMER LONG. LONG & LONG

GRAHAM, R. C.

ger disappear in the woods. She stood there in the sun with her head uncovered long after they had moved out of her sight. The old man and woman went back to the rear of the house, and the children finally resumed their playing. Still she stood there, looking The sun continued its traveling and finally dropped behind the woods in which her husband had disappeared. "Yes," she murmured, "that there's Jim Dobson's work. He tole on Eph." She shook her head several times, looked down the road once again and then passed into the house.

She prepared the scanty meal without a word. There was a strange silence in the house, as if a corpse were near. The children were put to bed, and soon the old man and old woman followed. Then Mandy pulled her stool over to the open indow and looked out into the night. She placed her elbows on the sill and rested her chin in her hands. The moon came creeping up from behind a distant hill and abed its soft light over the farm. Still Mandy gazed out into the night. Her face seemed as void of expression as the black oaks in the expression as the black oars in the yard. The cold, hard stare was di-rected toward the road, and there it rested immovably. The hours pass-ed slowly. The moon crept on and on until it was almost directly over on until it was almost dir the house. The loud snoring of the old folks, the occasional cough of laugh?' Because your way of work amuses me,' the physician said. 'Do you always cut upon your head-stones the beginning of the obituary and then wait? "'No,' said the stonecutter, 'not always. When there is some one sick and you are treating him I keep right on.'

Governor Turney's Detail.

Before Tenpessee had seceded Pe ter Turney had organized a brigade and gone to the front. Once, while in winter quarters with a Georgia brigsde, a religious revival broke out among the soldiers. After a few days Turney asked how things were progressing and was informed that twelve Georgians had been converted "And how many Tennessceans? inquired the governor.

"Not one," was the reply. "What, twelve Georgians and no. Tennesseean? Never shall it be said, if I am able to prevent it, that Georgia has excelled Tennessee. Detail eighteen men immediately for baptism."

How She Felt.

Mrs. Black-Sam Johnson don left his wife bout six months ago. Mr. Black-Do she t'ink h nebbah comin' back?

"Wanl, she jest begin bopes."-Smart Set.

Bake it in a deepe Coffin of Rye-Bake it in a deepe Coffin of Rye-paste, with store of Butter; let it in the Boston Herald shows. A wosoake well.

"Leaue a vent-hole in your Pye, and when you draw it out of the Ouen put in melted Butter, Vinegar, Nutmeg, Ginger and a little Sugar; of her stay and was politely shown shake it well together and put it into to a seat. There was no hymn book the Ouen againe, and let it stand however, but the occupant of the pew behind her reached over and the window the night before. Eph's three or foure houres at the least to soake thorowly; when your Ouen is soake thorowly; when your Ouen is placed one in her hands. At the cold take it out and stop the hole close of the service the visitor turnwith Butter." ed and thanked the person, saying as she was to attend that church all

Next is a heading, "Fritters on the Court Fashion :"

"Take the Curds of a Sackeposset hymn book. "Well," said the other the yolkes of sixe Egges and the whites of two of them, fine flower, and make batter; season it with Nutmeg and a little Pepper, put in a little strong ale and warme milke; mingle all together and put them into Larde, neither too hot nor too cold. If your batter swim, it is in good temper." A recipe "to make blancht Man-chet in a Fryingpan" by its substi-tution of "Manchet" or fine bread for meat shows Chaucer's "blankmanger" on its way to become the modern blancmange, though it is the fourteenth and not the seventeenth century form which has survived. The recipe runs:

"Take half-a-dozen Egges, halfe a pinte of sweet Creame, a penny manchet grated, a nulmeg grated, manchet grated, a nutineg grated, two Spoonefuls of Rosewater, two ounces of Sugar, worke all stiffe like a Pudding; then frye it like a Tan-sey in a little Fryingpan that it may be thicke; frye it browne and turne it out upon a plate.

"Cut it in quarters and serve it like a Pudding. Scrape on Sugar."

Mummy Paint.

Ground up mummy makes a brown of a certain rare color that nothing else can give. It is on ac-count of the asphaltum in the mum-a wealthy client $5,000 for a few count of the asphaltum in the mumcount of the asphaltum in the num-my that this is so. The Egyptians wrapped their dead in garments coated with asphaltum of an incom-parably fine and pure quality. This asphaltum as the centuries passed impregnated the tissues of the dead themselves. It turned them into the best paint material in the world. Being exceedingly expensive, it is used only by portrait painters in depicting brown hair.

"Yes," sighed the fair youn thing, "I admit that I like you, but it does not seem to me that we were ever meant for each other. We have not a single taste in common."

Mournfully the young man stud-ied the floor some moments. At last he looked up with the dawn of hope in his eyes. "But, yes," he whispered. "Are you not very fond of onions?" Blushingly she nodded a confes

im I!" he cried rapturously

The old Yankee skill at driving a that which interests us no and Queries.

man visitor at a fashionable resort BIRDS IN THE ARCTIC. on the Maine coast last summer went to the Universalist church in

The Spring Rush That Breaks the Mo the place the first Sunday morning notony of the Year.

The one great break in the mo-notony of the whole year along the arctic coast is the coming of the birds in the spring. The nature of it is almost violent. The last of was amusing herself by deliberately May they begin to arrive. The notes of the first few comers are musical and buoy one with a feeling of messages from home and friends. But the stream of birds rapidly grows, Century.

woman, "I guess you can have that book if you'll give me a pair of black gloves, No. 7." "Very well," said the visitor. The next day she and the few first joyous notes merge into a ceaseless, hideous, distracting din that robs one of his rest and for went to Portsmouth, purchased the No. 7 black gloves for $1.50 and duly received the use of the hymnal a few days becomes unbearable. Swans, cranes, geese, brant, ducks, gulls and terns swoop down upon the coast by thousands. The old in exchange for them on the followbirds are delighted at the sight of the old family nesting ground and the young ones at reaching once more their birthplace, and the thou-"Yassuh," said Unc' Mose, "Lije sands of them are all talking and screaming at the same time. The contrast of the now endless days of sunshine and abundant and animated life with that of the still arctic night is very great.

In a few days, however, each hap-In a few days, however, each hap-py family has settled down in its and he presented to the lodge the trowown little home, and quietude reigns el and mallet with which he laid the supreme through the short summer, and then sgain sets in the long solifirst stone of the cathedral. The goos is still preserved with her unmusical "harp" in Guildhall.-Julian King Coltudinous night. ford in St. Nicholas.

Many interesting things may be learned of the birds that annually visit the arctic coast for the purvisit the arctic coast for the pur-pose of bringing up their families-of their reasons for going there and mud filled chinks. The windows have of the intelligence displayed by them in many ways. They have not the enemies there they have farther woven by the women. Gourds of vari-ous shapes and sizes do duty for dishes, spoons and knives. Chairs and benches south. The fox is very nearly their only foe, and they find so many ways of avoiding it that it would surely are hollowed logs of wood. But the peons get their living easily and enjoy life well. They delight in music and go very hungry were it dependent on birds for food. Little islands in on birds for lood. Latter free from lakes and streams that are free from dancing, and women as well as men are smokers. Cockfighting is a favorite foxes become great nesting places, and the birds swarm to them until on many of them every available space suitable for nesting is pre-empted.—From "Camp Life In Are-tic America," by Andrew J. Stone, short skirt and bodice or an ample frilied low necked garment called a pollera. Even the poorer classes are bedecked with jeweiry. in Scribner's.

A Good Dog.

. Insbriety. Insbriety is called a disease, but is a disease of the will. As with the hys-seric, the insbriate said, "I candot," it koked like "I will not," it is "I cannot The man wanted to sell the dog, but the prospective buyer was sus-picious and finally decided not to uy. The man then told him why will." Its successful treatments to the extent of about 4,000,000 pairs yearly. They are made in Alance and Barriers by machinery and in Lonero by hand. In the last named province 1,700 persons are sugaged in this man-nfacture, and the yearly product is more than half a million pairs. The best are made of maple. In the prov-inces nearly every indy possesses a pair of the floer subots for wearing-out in damp weather. These have mono-grams and other designs carved on the yearne, and they are hept on the floot he was so ancious to sell. "You see," he said, "I bought the dog and trained him myself. I got him so he'd bark if a person stepped inside the gate and thought, of course, I was safe from burglars. Then my wife wanted me to train him to carry bundles, and I did. If you put anything into his mouth it would stay there till some one took ps. and they are hept on the f ty ornamented leather pices astep. The manufacture teres of leather is a regula it away. Well, one night I woke up and heard some one in the next om. I got up, grabbed my gun in France.

ly from the path to a particular point in the field, conveying each time a stone in her bill and then returning without it. A magple seldom continue at any one amusement for any length of time, but this amusement went on so long that the curiosity of the owner was aroused. There must be somestoning it! As each shot told, the toad gave a little hop of distress in the hole deep below, which the magple capped by a big bop of satisfaction and an irresistible "currack" of delight above. -R. Bosworth Smith in Nin

The Goose and Gridiros There existed in London long before the great fire in St. Paul's churchyard a very popular music house called the Miter. Here concerts were held, and the music at these performances had at least the merit of volume and joyous pess. But the great fire laid the bu ing in ruins and banished the music When the place was rebuilt, the new tenant, wishing to ridicule the character of the former business, chose as his sign a goose stroking the bars of a gridiron with her foot and wrote be-low, "The Swan and Harp." At the Goose and Gridiron Sir Christopher Wren presided over the St. Paul's lods

Colombian Natives.

Wooden Skors

Wooden shoes in France are produc to the extent of about 4,000,000 ps yearly. They are made in Alsace a

We manufacture And are prepared to Furnish on short notice All kinds of Rough and dressed Lumber and Building Material wooden shutters, but no glass. Sleep-ing places are bamboo benches with hide thrown over them,<sup>4</sup> or liammocks Sash, Doors, Blinds, moulding, etc. Mantels and scroll work A specialty.

The peasant women are usually bare-footed and barehended, with mantillas for special occasions. Their dress is a little while before you annt old me not to let anything .

GRAHAM, N.C.

Left the Worry to the De

"How about that little bill?"

He who has neither friend not on is without talents, powers or energy and I haven't."--Chi

volves the pr

"That must have been a out a great deal over it?" Justifying His Fee.

Hossfut done got smaht down ter de 'tracted meetin' las' night, an' dey p'intedly 'jected 'im fum de chu'ch, dat what dey do." "Not old Descon Lije?" says the listener. "Yassuh, ole Deacon Lije Hoss fut-yessuh." "Why, I thought he was one of ing Sunday.

take down for him. Wasn't he put # the pillars of the church." "Reckon he war, but he ain't no

"No, suh, not er great deal: Des once seemed to sa'sfy him."-Judge.