JUST ONE WORD that word is Tutt's. MEANS HEALTH.

Are you constipated? Troubled with indigestion? Sick headache?

PROFESSIONAL CARDS

Attorney-at-Law

BURLINGTON, N. C.

STILLARS BUILDING.

... DENTIST ...

LONG & LONG,

Attorneys and Counselors at Law

GRAHAM, N. 7.

J. S. COOK

Attorney-at-Law.

Office Petterson Building

BYNUM & BYNUM,

Attorneys and Counselors at La

GAKENSBOBO, N U.

PACIFIC COAST

Sample Copy. :: 12 -11 11 11 11

Sunset Travel Club

16 Flood Building, San Francisco, Cal.

Indigestion Dŷspepsia

Kodo

When your stomach cannot properly agest food, of itself, it needs a little sistance—and this assistance is readly supplied by Kodol. Kodol assist the somach, by temporarily digesting all the hot benefited—the droggiss will as some return your money. Don't besitate any write will sell you Kodol on these terms he don't bottle contains Fo times as made as he hot bettle. Kodol is prepared at the horacries of E. C. DeWitt & Uc., Chicago

Our Guarantee, Get a dollar bet

Graham Drng Co.

SALE

Of Valuable Real Estate at

Inter and by virtue of the power of sale also seed of trust from Moses A. Aktinson at his wife Minnis Alberta Aktinson. It for the power of the Minnis Alberta Aktinson, to keep the power of the list at the following a feet of the sale of the following th

Monday, July 19, 1909,

East Therese conter of the state of the conter of the content o

Elon College.

For full particulars address

DREGON

18 of the many thous-

SUNSET

MAGAZINE

has instituted a new department, whose special work it is to put within the

J. ELMER LONG.

IACOB A. LONG.

ANY of these symptoms and many others make te inaction of the LIVER You Need years. Only some people said that, however. Others knew it to be simply fashionable wedding. Not that the turtledoves do not coo high society.

In this case the skeptical ones soon DONALD GULLEY were not suited to each other.

DR. WILL S. LONG, JR. Both were full of opinion, and both were stubborn. Both were extravagant. Both felt the loss of personal freedom. Feeling thus, it was easy to find fault, and fault finding soon led to Graham. - - - North Carolina more serious things.

OFFICE IN SIMMONS BUILDING They declared an armed truce for another three months, and then each decided that separation was inevitable. Still, husbands and wives cannot very well separate without some reasonable excuse to give to their friends.

Marjory couldn't think of one, and Livingston was in the same predicament. Both bent their minds to the problem, and, as they had plenty of ime, they did it faithfully.

On the same day and almost at the GRAHAM, - - - - N. C.

C. A. HALL, ATTOENEY AND COUNSELLOR-AT-LAW, GRAHAM, N. C. Office in the Bank of Alamance Bulding, up stairs. IOHN GRAY BYNUM. W. P. BYNUM, JR

the whole story of their lovemaking. Practice regularly in the courts of Ala Aug. 2, 94 ly FREE TRIP to the "Why, of course," thought Marjory. "Easiest thing in the world," thought it, though it was not here and had Livingston. It didn't so happen that been feloniously opened by her. To her both husband and wife called for the services of the same agency, but the three tears rolled down on her pretty ARE YOU ONE investigators began to work at about little nose. the same time. And while they were investigating there was a continuation ands who want to explore this Won-derland ? ? ? ?

wife. It was the calm before the storm. at times, many times during each day, they seemed to have reached the point where they appreciated each other.

cared that the couple wouldn't separate after all, and thus another choice reach of every one an opportunity to see the FAR WEST. Write for

After about four weeks an official looking letter was delivered to the hus bend at his club. He had been waitglanced only carelessly at the supererfotion. His first surprise came a moment later, when he saw the words "Dear Medam" swimming before his eyes. Now, he was not a "dear madam." Yet he went right on and read that was base.

"We find that your husband was known to have a very bad temper as far back as twenty years ago," wrote the investigator. "People who know him best are a unit in agreeing that he days, he nearly throw a dish at his cook and would have inflicted serious injury had he made good his threat, as Somach, by temporarily digesting all of the food in the stomach, so that the stomach may rest and recuperate. "We have not been able to prove, but love. "We have it from his ex-valet that be arose several times at midnight to wander around his room or smoke lawyer to work up." Livingston Perry felt rather flat when he had read so far. It struck ing character.

"Smokes fifteen cent cigars, dripks the most expensive wines, pays his thub dues, owes no cab hire and mafortunately has not even a tailor over six months old. Still, this might be shown to prove extravagance," was the next thrilling remark. Then he whistled. He had at last struck an exciting paragraph. It was: "A few weeks ago he was seen in his slub soring earnestly over a work on toxicology. We are sure that in this disterribly strong point. Your lawyer whether to laugh or swear when he bered that he had tried to read soubt that a court can be found that will give you a divorce on the grounds

SOME PRIVATE INQUIRIES.

By MARIE DELOGOFF. Copyrighted, 1998, by Associated Literary Press,

There were compliments, congratulations and showers of rice and slippers when Livingston Perry and Marjory Manners were wed. Some people actually said it was a love match and that the honeymoon would last for when a fashionable wedding takes place, but they must coo very gently and cut it as short as possible. It is not good form for Oupld to frolic in had reason to sny, "I told you so!" There were various little-things that brought it about, but the principal one was that after three months of extremely conventional politeness Mr. and Mrs. Perry discovered that they same hour a bright thought struck this unhappy couple simultaneously. It was to hire somebody to investigate and find the valid excuses that were

They had known each other for a year and a half previous to marriage, but, after all, that was nothing. Formality had prevented each one from even knowing what relatives the other had, outside of Marjory's matchmaking mamma and Livingston's rather indifferent father. Her hand had been kissed, a declaration of love made, the engagement announced, and that was

There must have been something in the life of each to give the other the advantage sought for. The way to discover it was through a private inquiry agency-"Inquiries made, the past investigated; secret, honorable, experienced agents, terms reasonable."

of the truce between husband and

They were so placid and pliable that

Some of their dearest friends almos subject for brilliant conversation would be lost to society.

ing for just such a letter, and he was so anxious to see its contents that he private inquiry report to the end. He couldn't help it, though he felt that he is very selfish by nature and hopelessly tenacious of his opinions.

"His overbearing disposition," continued the report, "has alienated many friends and several relatives. In one instance, during his bachelorhood there is every reason to believe be might have done.

still strongly suspect, that you are not the first nor even the second nor third woman he has loved or pretended to cignrettes, as if greatly worried. This should be a strong point for a good him that, as seen by others, he was hardly what could be called an excit-

Livingston Perry did not know remembered that he had tried to read the book to oblige the author, his college friend Dr. Grayson.

"We have, dear madem," coded the report, "made our investigation in the most thorough manner and have not a we have furnished if they are proper-ly elaborated. Your check for $300 will greatly oblige." Livingston Perry thrust the precious document into his pocket and decided makes illumination cheap and conventhat he was indignant and justly in- tent in Brazil. The pyrophore is a surprise she felt a jealous pang.

caught her breath as she read on:

"We have made a faithful investigation of your wife's career for the last ten years and have got one of the finest cases we ever-worked up. Nothing whatever is lacking to make it complete. We can furnish you with proofs of her flirtation at the age of fifteen with a schoolfellow "At sixteen she is said to have been infatuated with her music teacher. At seventeen she announced that she would marry a foreign title or never web, as we can prove by witnesses. "From her eighteenth year," continued the report, "she has been noted for extravagances. Some of her bats cost $100, and she bought one lest week that cost $75. "As early as her sixth year her terrible temper appeared. At that age she is known to have threatened to set fire to the house. It can be shown by three different servants that she once tried to send the butler to buy a gun, although she was barely seven then." The investigator then leaped lightly from her childhood to her girlbood again and wrote: "She has repeatedly been heard to say that no husband could rule her and that she would have her way about things or make things red hot for a mile square. She has also been heard to say that all bullying husbands should be drowned.

"When you first came on the scene and began paying your addresses to her she pronounced you a ninny. The butier will make affidavit to this. It was her mother that brought about the match. She told the daughter that she could run away afterward if she didn't like your antics. Her maid will make two or more affidavits to this.

"We have also learned the important fact that she looked a long while into gunsmith's window only a month ago, and there was a dangerous gleam in her eyes as she turned away. This point has a value that any keen lawyer will see at once. Any judge will charge the jury that this is a highly significant circumstance."

When Mrs. Perry had reached the end of this report she spread it out on the table without trying to conceal surprise and indignation one, two, room and placed the letter in her

"And, Livingston, what does this mean?" she demanded as she pointed to the sheets on the table.

Five minutes were spent in exchang ing and reading reports.

Then Livingston Perry said: "Marjory, I'm going out to horsewhip the coundrel who slandered you this way I owe it to myself as your husband! "I wish I were a man as big and strong as you," responded Marjory. "Why?" demanded Mr. Perry, taken aback. "Because-because," said she, "I'd like to do the same thing to the man who made the report about you." And people are still commenting on how long that honeymoon has lasted and saying that neither could have done better by looking the whole world

Webster's Presence of Mind. Once when Daniel Webster was addressing a political meeting in Fancuil hall the standing multitude within the hall, pressed by those who were en deavoring to enter from without, began to sway to and fro, a solid mass of human bodies, as helpless to counteract the movement as if Peneul ball were being rocked by an earthquake. The orator was in the midst of a stirring appeal, urging the necessity of individual exertion and un finching patriotism to avert the daugers that threatened the political party whose principles be espoused. when he perceived the terrible swaying of the packed assembly and the imminent danger that might ensue Webster stopped short in the middle of a sentence, advanced to the edge of the platform, extended his arm in an authoritative attitude and, in a torian voice of command, cried but, "Let each men stand firm?" The effect was instantaneous. Each man stood firm, the great, heaving mass of bumanity regained its equilibrium. and, save the long breath of relief that fined the air, perfect stillness ensued that we call saif government!" An Old Lerch Tree. Italy can boast of a larch tree the age of which is estimated to be 2,000 rears. It is situated on the northern fank of Mont Chetip in the direction of the buts of Pian Veni, above Cour mayeur, a few steps from the foot that skirts the limits of the mendowland. Due allowance being made for the extreme slowness with which the larch grows, for the sittende above sea level (1,650 meters) at which it is rooted and for its northerly exposure in the near neighborhood of the ent is barely five months every

The Word "Kid." "Kid" is merely a focose substitution for "lamb," used for a young child, and is very old. Charles Reads and Dickens used "kid" in this sense, and Virgil's phrase "Its capeline" has been freely busplated "Go ft, my kiddles."

year, this venerable larch, untone tilke by woodman's ax and thunder bolt cannot be less than 2,000 years

A living light, called the pyrophore, censed. But as be walked slowly monster firefly, an inch and a half homeward he felt an emotion that, curi- long. With one it is possible to read ously enough, was much more sorrow fine print, and three will light a room. than anger-sorrow that Marjory should The Brazillan peasant, when he travwish to get rid of him. He quite for erses by night the pertions forest got for the moment that he wished to paths of his country, fastens to each shoe a pyrophore. Thus illuminated. The official envelope that was left at he has no difficulty in avoiding poisonthe house the very same day was ous snakes, pitfalls and wild beasts. plainly driected to Mr. Livingston Perry. Now, Marjory Perry had no ex- hair or her corsage a pyrophore incuse whatever to open it, for she saw cased in white tulle. The effect is as plainly how it was addressed. But of a great luminous pearl or opal. she opened it nevertheless, and to her When a pyrophore's light goes out it is not necessary to fill him up with She hesitated over it for helf an oil, to drop a coin in him or to throw hour, but finally decided to inspect the him away, but a moment's ducking in contents. It began "Dear Sir." She cold water suffices. Thereafter his real life in France in the last century. three little lanterns, one on the breast | This is the trugic story: and two on the back, emit again as bright a radiance as ever. The pyrophore, as all nature students know, is called vulgarly cuengo, but scientifically the name is Coleopter serricorn stermose elaterides. - Cinciunati En-

in the Presence of Death.

Some years ago a Swansea vesse was caught in a terrible gale, says an English paper. The captain had his wife on board, and when the wind was still rising he told her to go down below and sleep, for all was well. He remained on the bridge till the mate came up and said: "We've done all we can. Hadn't you better tell the chaps to get out the boats?" Yes, yes, my lad, if you think so, said the captain, who knew the only choice left was whether to go down with the ship or in a small boat, which couldn't live ten seconds in that sea, The engineers came up with the new that the fires were all out.

"Very well, my lads," said the captain quietly. "Save yourselves if you can.'

"Won't you fetch the wife on deck str?" asked one of the men. "No," was the calm reply. "Let her sleep, poor girl! I am going down to bedside of his sleeping wife, he went down with the ship. A Man of Resources. A young man gental of face and cor rect in attire arose from his seat in a well patronized cafe an evening or have a smoke." And, smoking by the two ago, raised high a dollar bill and addressed those present. "Gentlemen," he said, "I have here a dollar bill. It is a good bill, open to inspection by all. I want to raffle it off, and I will esteem it a favor if fifteen gentlemen will come in. Ten cents a chance-10 cents for a dollar bill. It's dirt cheap. Who will come in, please? I'll esteem it a favor, as I said, and there's the chance for a real bargain.'

Fifteen men good naturedly chipped in 10 cepts each, drew small squares of paper from a hat, and the winner pocketed the bill, with a laugh.

"Thank you, gentlemen," said the raffler, with a Chesterfieldian bow. "That dollar was of no use to me. But now that I've sold it for a dollar and "Marjory, what does this mean?" de-manded Livingston as he entered the Thank you. Good night."—New York Globe.

Old College Ways.

Students at St. Andrews university two centuries ago paid nothing for their rooms, but £3 10s. per quarter enabled them to dine at the high table. For $5 11s. 1d. poorer men could get through the whole session-just six months. Brenkfast was served at 7 a. m. and consisted of an oatmeal loaf and half a pint of beer. For supper each had half a twopenny loaf and i pint of beer. At the high table poultry, broth and beef were served, and at the second a pleatiful supply of broth and beef. Herrings and flounders sometimes graced the board. Beer there was in abundance, and the colleges in those good old days had their brew house, a perquisite of the porter, who was permitted to sell ale to the students.-London Antiquary.

Just a Mistake. During one of the banquets of the church congress in London a certain bishop had as his left hand companion a clergyman who was completely bald. During dessert the baldheaded vicar dropped his napkin and stooped to pick it up. At this moment the bishop, who was talking to his right hand peighbor, felt a slight touch on his left arm. He turned and, beholding the vicar's pate on a level with his elbow, said: "No, thank you, no melda I will take some pineapple. Line Carrying Rockets. The first line carrying rockets were invented in 1820 by an Englishman named Trengrouse and were soon after adopted by the Massachusetts Humane society for use at its stations where they proved very successful though today brass cannons are exclusively used for throwing lines to Pretty Weary. Weary (lying under apple tree)-Say, mister, kin I have one of dem apples? Parmer-Why, them apples won't be ripe for four months yit. Weary-Ob, dat's all right. I sin't in no burry. I'll wait.-Life.

Then He Was Fired. Father-I cannot give you my daugh ter, my dear sir. I am mighty particular in such things. Suitor-Oh, pahaw! Now, I am not in the least no.-Meggendorfer Blatter.

Different Ways. Hewitt-I bave been pinched noney lately.

Jewitt-Well, women have differen ways of getting it. My wife kisses me when she wants any.

$100-Dr. E. Detchnn's Anti-Dinretic may be worth to you more than $100 if you have a child who soils bedding from incontinence of water during sleep. Cures old and young alike, It arrests the trouble at once. $1. Sold by Graham Drug Co.

THE PROPERTY OF THE

The Tragic Career of Picaud, a Cobbler of Paris.

Thrown Into Jall by Secret Enemier He Was Left a Fortune by a Fellow Prisoner-Released, His Scheme of Vengeance Brought Him Death.

HIS RISE TO GREAT WEALTH.

That romantic creation of the brain of Alexandre Dumas, "The Count of Monte Cristo," had a counterpart in In 1807, when Napoleon was at the height of his power, Francois Picaud was a sturdy young journeyman cobbler of Paris, full of health and antmal spirits and happy in the love of Marguerite Vigoureux, a young girl of his own station in life. On the eve of his marriage hidden enemies denounced him to the imperial government as a spy. He was cast into prison, where he remained, forgotten by the world, for seven years,

Among his fellow prisoners was vealthy Milanese priest, who treated bim like a son and bequeathed to him 7.000,000 francs on deposit in the Bank of Amsterdam. Furthermore, this ecclesiastic told Picaud the secret of hiding place in Italy where were con realed towels to the value of 1,200,000 francs and specie amounting to three

When the empire was overthrown in 1814 Picaud was one of a vast number of political prisoners throughout France who were given their freedom He proceeded to gather the priest's treasure and to plan vengeance upon his enemies. Who they were he did not know.

Disguised as an Italian priest, he succeeded by bribing the least guilty of the conspirators and discovering the entire story of his undoing. The leader in the plot he learned was one Loupain, who had married Marguerite Vigoureux, prospered and become the proprietor of one of the handsomess cafes in Paris.

Picaud went to the capital and under a suitable disguise obtained work as a waiter in Loupain's establishment Fellow servants there were Guilbern Solari and Gervais Chaubard, who with Loupain, had denounced Picaud in 1807. The pretended waiter was not long in bringing his vengeance to a consummation. Chaubard was the first victim of his wrath. His body, pierced by a knife, was found on one of the bridges over the Seine. Loupain was disgraced, reduced to penury and finally stabbed to death in the Tuileries gardens. Solari was poisoned and died in frightful convulsions.

But speedy retribution overtook the implacable avenger. One night Picaud was seized, bound and borne to an abandoned quarry. In the darkness a terrible voice said:

"Picaud, what name are you passing under now? Are you still the priest Baldini or the waiter Prosper? You wished for revenge. You have sold yourself to the powers of hell. Ten years you have given to the pursuit of three wretches you should have spared. Me you dragged down to perdition. The diamond by which you bribed me was my destruction. I killed him who cheated me. I was arrested, condemn ed to the galleys and escaped only after years of torture. My one though has been vengeance on the priest Baldini. You are in my power. Do you know me? I am Antoine Allut. How much will you pay for bread and water?"

"I have no money," grouned Plcaud "You have stateen millions. These are my conditions: I will give you something to eat twice a day, but for each meal you must pay me 25,000

However, the cupidity of the prison er proved stronger than his hunger. He underwent terrible suffering without any signs of yielding until his captor, goaded to fury at the prolonged obstinacy, threw himself upon Picand and stabbed him to death.-Book-

A Thackeray Story.

A correspondent of London Notes and Queries contributes this anecdots of Thackersy:

Thackeray once desired to succeed Cardwell as M. P. for the city of Oxford and when returning from his canvasa said: "What do you think, Cardwell! Not one of your constituents ever heard of me and my writings." He prefaced "constituents" strongish adjective.

Strange, if true. They must have been starving in the midst of plenty.

A Straight Tip. Johnnie (to new visit my grandina, are you? Grandmother -Yes, Johnnie. I'm your grandma on your father's side. Johnnie-Well, you're on the wrong side, you'll find out!-Philadelphia Bulletin.

Horrible. "That was an awful disaster. There was only one survivor. Isn't that ter "Fearful. What a bore be'll be?"-Cleveland Lender.

"Do you believe in the superhuman?" "I used to, but I don't any more." "Why?" "I married him."-Chicago Recor-

No man knows the weight of another man's burden,-Pliny.

Death For a Kiss." The rules and regulations which viron unmarried girls in France are exceptionally strict when compared with those of England and America On the other hand, compared with the social laws of Spain, I think those of France are favorable to the jeune file. I have personal knowledge of a case in which a young Spanish girl shot her-self because she had been kissed by a young man and because, in conse life had been made unbearable by resistives. - Paris Letter in Lond

Witchgraft. "The sixteenth and seventeenth cen turies," said John Fiske, "were the flourishing ages of the witchcraft delusion. Witchcraft in the early ages was considered one of the greatest of ertines, as much so as murder, robbers or any other serious offense against the law, and the belief in it was shared by the whole human race until the lat ter part of the seventeenth century. "In England in 1664 two wome were tried before Sir Matthew Hale charged with bewitching several girls and a baby, and they were put to death, for at that time the evidence seemed perfectly rational. In 1615 in Genoa 500 people were burned to death on the charge of witchcraft. It was the proud boast of a noted executioner in northern Italy at this time that in fifteen years be had assisted in burn ing 900 persons charged with sorcery In Scotland between 1560 and 1600 average of 200 a year. The last exe

Crime and the Telephone. From the beginning to the end of a transaction in crime the telephone comes into use, serving both sides with equal fidelity, says a writer in Appleton's Magazine. The thief uses it to determine which house he may safely rob. The man next door sees the burglar and calls up the police. The police arrive, catch the burglar take him to inil. The thief telephones a lawyer to defend him. The lawyer telephones for the bondsman to ball out his client, and the banker telephones the sheriff that the bondsman's check is good. When the day of trial comes the clerk of the court, being a kind gentleman, telephones to the burgiar's lawyer; the sheriff telephones witnesses to be present. When the burglar is convicted and sentenced the sheriff uses long distance to tell the warden of the penitentiary when his prisoner will be delivered. After that the telephone line is kept hot by influential politicians petitioning the governor for a pardon.

An Embarrassing Moment. The author of "Collections and Rec ollections" relates a personal experience of having said a "thing one would rather have left unsaid." Even after the lapse of twenty years, he adds the recollection of the sensations of the moment turns him hot with cha-

A remarkably pompous clergyman, diocesan inspector of schools, once showed me a theme on a Scriptura subject written by a girl who was trying to pass from the rank of a pupil teacher to the rank of schoolmistress The theme was full of absurd mis takes, over which the inspector laugh ed uproariously.

"Well, what do you think of that?" he inquired when I handed back the

"Oh," said I in perfectly good faith, "the mistakes are bad enough, but the writing is far worse. It really is s "The writing? What, my writing?" said the inspector.

theme out myself." The Bread and Pipe Baker. The lecturer at the cooking school sometimes enlivened her remarks with "The eighteenth century baker," she said, "was a pipe cleaner as well, just as the barber a little earlier was a surgeon. Everybody in those days smoked clay pipes, provided, the same as cups or spoons, by the coffee bouses. Well, each morning a waiter carried his master's stock of pipes-some hundred perhaps-to the nearest bakery The baker would boil them out, then dip them in liquid lime, then bake them dry. They came out of the over as sweet and white as new."-New Orleans Times-Democrat.

A Popular Dye. A small boy was one day sent for pennyworth of indigo dye. He stopped to play marbles on the way and quite forgot what he was sent for. As he was determined to get it, he went into the chemist's shop and said to the as sistant: "What have people been dyeing with intely, please?"

"Influenza," was the answer. "Ab! That must be it," said the boy "Please give me a penn'orth"-Londor Illustrated Bits.

Saves Trouble. "Why don't you come in occasional ly between drinks," demanded the wife, "and see the play?" "I don't need to," replied the bibulou

"The bartender is familia with the plot, imitates the actors and also knows a lot of gossip about their personal and family affairs."-Philadel phia Bulletin. Enlightened.

We all make blunders. I thought once I was a square peg when I was really a round one." "How did you find out your mistake?" "I got into a bole."-Boston Transcript.

The Drummer. "I sometimes think," remarked the regular petron, "that the snare drummer should be the best musician in "He usually is," said the drummer. Chicago Tribune, Nothing. Jenkins declares that where he was in Switzerland the mercury often dropped to zero at night."

"That's nothing." "What's nothing?"

Anthem Titles

A certain Edinburgh organist, who "posts up" his Sunday service lists at the church door, had recently a very practical illustration of the risks that may attend the shortening of anthem titles. The late Dr. E. J. Hopkins of the City temple wrote an anthem, "I Will Wash My Hands In Innocency." The organist in his haste no doubt set this down as "I Will Wash-Hop elen Rowland in Washington Heraid. To a woman, love is the bread of life; to a man, just the jam on the bread.

Reflections of a Bachelor Girl.

Somehow the moment a man has surrendered the key of his heart to a woman he begins to think about changing the lock.

Flattery is the counterfeit coin n which most men expect to pay for real kisses. Don't try to kill a man's love by starving it out, overfeed it and it will soon die of indiges-Why does a woman Spend two. hours curling her hair and deco-8,000 people were put to death, ar cution for witchcraft in England took just to see a man to tell him that they never can be anyting but place in 1712, in Scotland in 1722, in Germany in 1749 and in Spain in 1781." platonic friends." The man who pretends to laugh at love and to scorn women is ike the small boy who whistles ; and telephone for the Black Maria to he is just beginning to love or his last tete-a-tete with the woman he has just ceased loving.

If a man would stick to his are signals of warning, wife as he does to his favorite Take Taraxacum Combrand of tobacco, divorce would soon become obsolete.

their love. for a woman who can stand on a the woman who shatters the pedestal and stands alone. Why is it that when a man has done anything particularly inhuman he always remarks, "Oh, well, I am only human!" A man's heart is hardened by the water of a woman's tears, but softened by the sun of her smile. Ever since the Lord made Adam present of Eve, man has looked upon woman as a sort of cotillion favor put here for his amusement is the perfectly round kind they usually marry.

One reason there are so many unhappy society marriages is because in society most people marry for position rather than for disposition.

Love is the sugar that takes the bitter taste out of life. The most delightful part of a all the time. kiss is the moment just before taking.

A Stroke of Fortune.

Youth's Companion

It was a murky day in August, NEWS & OBSERVER PUB. CO., and the old sea captains were talking of a schooner which had been struck by lightning a few days before, and adding their contributions to nautical fictions. thinly disguised as fact. "How about the Emma S., Capt. Ell! asked the privileged listener at last. "Wasn't she struck once?" "She was, sir," and Capt. El fixed his gaze on a crack in the ceiling of the old wharf office. 'She was, indeed, off the Cape, home'ard bound, she was,"

"I'd like to hear the particulars," said the young man, and all the captains moved in their seats and fixed their eyes on the crack which held the gaze of Capt. EII.

" 'Taint much to tell, only what might happen to any vessel under similar circumstances, said Caps, Eli. "A bolt struck THE OBSERVERthe deek amidship and bored a hole right down through the bottom of the schooner biggs a man'

"The water come rushing inand o' course the Emma S. would have foundered if a second bolt hadn't come and struck my foreto' fallamast, cut it off near the top, turned it end for end and drove it right into the hole; plugging it up an' making it water tight.

"Twas a clear case o' what folks call the ravages an' repairs o' nature." said Capt. Ell, as he removed his gaze from the erack and let it rest thoughtfully on the ingenuous face of the only landsman in the company.

"For ten years I couldn't ride a horse without being in torture from piles," writes L. S. Napier, of Rugless, Ky., "when al! doetors and other remedies failed. Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured me." Infalliable for Piles, Burus, Scalds, Cuts, Boils, Fever-Sores, Eczema, Salt Rheum, Corns, 25c Guaranteed by Graham Drug Co.

When in Greenshoro Come to see us.

rating herself with baby ribbons, in the dark—because he is afraid.

It is difficult to tell which most embarrasses a man, his first tete-a-tete with a woman whom

This time of the year pound now. It may ave you a spell of fe-When two people begin to ana- ver. It will regulate lyze their emotions they vivisect your bowels, set your liver right, and cure A man-begins by looking around your indigestion.

A good Tonic. pedestal-and ends by marrying An honest medicine

MEBANE,

N. C.

ARE YOU TO DATE

If you are not the News AN" Men say they admire a woman OBERVER is. Subscribe for it at who is "perfectly square, but it once and it will keep you abreast of the times.

> Full Associated Press dispatches. All the news-foreign, domestic, national, state and local Daily News and Observer $7 per year, 3.50 for 6 mos. Weekly North Carolinian $1 per year, 50c for 6 mos. RALEIGH, N. C.

The North Carolinian and THE ALAMANCE GLEANE'S will be sent for one year for Two Dollars. Cash in advance. Apply at THE GLEANER office. Graham, N. C.

North Carolina's Foremost Kewspaper. The Charlotte Observer

Every Day in the Year.

CALDWELL & TOMPKINS, Publishers: J. P. CALDWELL, Editor.

$8.00 Per Year.

Receives the largest telegraphic news service delivered to any paper between Washington and Atlanta. and its special service is the greatest ever handled by a North Carolina paper.

HE SUNDAY OBSERVER-

Consists of 16 or more pages and is to a large extent made up of original matter. Send for Sample Copies.

> Address, THE OBSERVER, CHARLOTTE, N. C.

