To Shippers and Receivers of Freight in North Carolina:
Attention is called to revised tariffs containing rates for the transportation of freight between points in jorth Carolina, effective October 13, 1914. These tariffs are issued in accordance with the decision of the Special Rate Commission, dated August 13, 1914.
All freight tariffs of the Southern Railway Company in conflict with the provisions of this order have canceled or revised to conform to the rates, rules and regulations prescribed by the Special Rate Commission.

to the rates, rules and regulations prescribed by the Special Rate Commission.

Special attention is called to the fact that in the application of this new law many important changes and new conditions are brought about, the knowledge of which is essential to every snipper and receiver of freight in North Carolina. Ordinarily there is but one rate between any two points within the State. Under the new law there will be as many rates between two given points as there are available routes between such points. A new basis for making joint rates with other lines is provided, so the shipper has the right to select the shortest available route. Some of these routes, while physically shorter than others, are longer from the standpoint of efficient service, and the movement of freight via these unusual routes will necessarily require more time than if sent via more efficient routes.

Shippers should in all cases insert in the bill of lading the route over which it is desired that the shipment move. If shipments are tendered to agents of this company and destined to a point on its own line, but without specific routing instructions it will be assumed taht it is the desire of the shipper that the shipment move over the Southern Railway at its lawfully established rate, even thotal lower rate may be in force via another route. For further information apply to the Agent of this Company at this Station, or to the following officers:

BIG COTTON POOL A SUCCESS

The movement to form a big pool of $150,000,000 to loan on cotton warehouse receipts has now been established. The St. Louis and New York bankers have been particularly active in promoting the pool, and along with other promoters deserve the thanks of the country and the South in particular. Our exports to foreign countries have been cut nearly in half, so it portant Announcement.

The Charlotte Semi-Weekly Observer makes the important announcement this week that beginning with January 1st, 1915, payment will be strictly on the cash in advance basis.

This paper is undoubtedly one of the best semi-weekly newspapers in the South, and this announcement this section. At the same time they are making the announcement that from the present date to January 1, they will accerpt subscriptions on the basis of three years for $2.00. In this way they expect to collect all old subscription accounts and bring the present subscription list to the point where it is all paid in advance.

This is an unusual proposition for such a high class paper, and should certainly bring them some fine returns.

It is now sweeping from oeean to oeean, and from Canada to Mexico, and has stiffened the price remarkably, and British capitalists are coming to the aid of the cotton growers, in their great misfortune, for Britain realizes that our cotton gives emembers of Britons as well as to us, and if the South should quit cotton raising and raise other products, as she has been urged to do, the English speaking world would suffer immeasurably.
