What The Records Show

J. D. Kernodle, Clerk of the Superior Court, and Chas. D. Johnston, Register of Deeds, Answer the Unfounded and Untrue Statements Published and Circulated About them in the Matters referred to in the Letters Which Appear Below.

GRAHAM, N. C., OCT. 29, 1914. TO THE CITIZENS OF ALAMANCE COUNTY:

The letter below, correcting the untrue statements made by a correspondent of the State Dispatch, was placed in the hands of Mr. J. Zeb. Waller, editor of that paper, by me Tuesday morning, with request to publish. He had agreed to publish a correction, and it was our understanding that it would be published in the issue of Tuesday, if received Tuesday before noon. Mr. Waller was in Graham and I placed it in his hands. When the Dispatch for Tuesday came out it did not appear, but instead a note that my letter came too late for publication.

This is the treatment received from the Dispatch when a simple matter of righting a wrong and correcting an untrue and false statement concerning a political opponent is at issue; but the same paper held its Tuesday issue of last week over till Thursday evening to get political matter in favor of Republican candidates and adverse to the Democrats.

In my letter I say by the record that the fund for the benefit of the minor was increased at the rate of $2.05 a year before the fund came into my hands. The same record shows that under my administration the fund increased to the advantage of the minor at the rate of a little over $3.68 a year, and this is no reflection on my predecessor.

The figures in my letter were compiled by Messrs. E. S. Parker, Jr., and J. Dolph Long, two as reputable lawyers as are in the State of North Carolina, from the yearly reports of record in the Clerk's office, and that without any suggestion or explanation of them on my part. Anyone who will take a few minutes of time can verify the figures and they will be found to be absolutely correct.

Mr. Waller, the editor, was in Graham Tuesday morning and I invited him to come into the Clerk's office and see the accounts for himself. He declined to come. If he had desired to be absolutely fair, it seems to me that he would have been glad to look at the accounts for himself. Then he could have seen how grossly unjust and untrue were the statements of his anonymous correspondent.

Very respectfully, J. D. KERNODLE.

J. D. KERNODLE'S LETTER TO THE STATE DISPATCH.

GRAHAM, N. C., October 27th, 1914. Editor State Dispatch, Burlington, N. C.

In the issue of your paper dated October 26th, 1914, you published a communication dated at Ossipee and signed "One who knows the facts" which did not state facts and which reflected on me. The truth concerning the matters referred to in that communication are as follows: There was paid into the Clerk's office to G. D. Vincent, Clerk of the Superior Court, on April 8, 1897, $222.41 for a minor named Miss Elvira Harris. Mr. Vincent as Clerk held and administered this sum till May 22, 1899, (he went out of office the first Monday in December, 1898, but pursuant to custom made no settlement of the Receiver's affairs in his hands till the following May Court). Mr. Vincent lent this fund out and collected interest on it, $26.36. He paid fees and allowances as follows: To W. P. Bynum, Jr., Solicitor, $8.00; taxes, $3.50; to A. L. Brooks, Solicitor, $3.50; to G. D. Vincent, C. S. C., $7.30, leaving in his hands $226.51, which he delivered to me as Clerk May 22, 1899.

In these two years Mr. Vincent paid nothing to any person for the benefit of the minor and added to the fund which he had received the sum of $1.10, or increased the fund at the rate of $2.05 a year, and Mr. Vincent, like the honest man that he was, handled the fund exactly as provided by law and took nothing except what belonged to him and paid nothing to others except under the orders of the Court. On May 22, 1899, there came to me as Clerk $226.51, which I kept loaned out until November 2, 1912, when I settled with the minor, who had reached the age of 21, and collected interest thereon to the amount of $177.48. This sum, both principal and interest, I disposed of as follows: Paid Solicitor's allowance, ordered by the Court, for 13 years, $33.25; paid taxes, State, County and Municipal, for 13 years, $40.12; paid expenses by way of postage and recording fees for 13 years, $17.08; paid J. D. Kernodle, Clerk Superior Court, commissions allowed by Court for 13 years, $41.50; paid to Mother and Step-Father for benefit of Minor $54.50. On November 2nd, paid Minor the balance, amounting to $217.51. If you will add up the amounts received by me and the amounts paid out by me you will see that they balance. I want to say that an itemized annual statement has been made of this account to the May Term of the Superior Court of each year, and the account has been passed upon by the Judge, and the allowances and Solicitor's fees fixed by the Judge. There has been no sum charged against this account except those fixed by law, and in the 13 years it has been in my hands as Clerk, I paid for the benefit of the minor $54.50, and then on November 2nd, 1912, paid to the minor and hold her receipt for $217.51, so that there was paid to the minor and for her benefit $272.04 by me.

You may criticize the expense of handling this estate, but the estate was small and the expense is exactly as fixed by law. The correspondent said that only about $10 interest had been paid and that by Mr. Vincent. The facts show $54.50 interest paid and that by me. Your correspondent said the minor became of age in September, 1912, and that the money was held by me until the fall of 1913. If the minor became of age in September, 1912, the settlement was made in no more than 60 days after she reached her majority, as she received for the full amount November 2nd, 1912. I know, she was represented by Mr. Vernon, because her receipt was witnessed by Mr. Vernon, but I know that it is absolutely false to state that it was necessary to procure a lawyer to get this money. People who have business in the Clerk's office frequently employ lawyers to go over the matters and make their settlements, but it has never been necessary to employ a lawyer to get money from the Clerk's office when there was money there due one.

The above facts are shown by the records, and this estate was handled by G. D. Vincent, a Republican Clerk, and me, and both of us handled it as by law provided, and every item concerning the handling of this estate is and has always been a matter of public record, and you or your correspondent could have seen the figures if you had cared to do so before you made unfounded statements concerning the matter.

ALLIED WARSHIPS AID LAND FORCES

Fighting Shifts To French Coast And The Allied Ships Hurl Shells at Germans

THE INVASION OF ENGLAND

Is Believed To Be The Plan Of German Kaiser—Control Of French Coast Necessary

For the first time since the European war began the warships of Great Britain and France are playing an important part in the great struggle. Heretofore their principal duty has been to patrol the sea, protecting their merchantmen and guarding their home coasts. When the great conflict in France was shifted from the frontier to the west coast the cruisers and monitors of the Allied fleets were brought into action and assisted very largely in holding the Germans in check.

With the control of the entire country of Belgium all the way to the coast that the Germans need now to be able to fight the entire Belgian coast in the command of the French coast. In this the allies are stubbornly resisting the Germans. In recent reports from London it is said the British navy played an important part and cooperated with the land forces in repulsing the German armies. It was during this fighting that the entire Belgian army, which has been lost sight of for nearly a week, was found in France fighting side by side with the allies.

There is a belief in the minds of military experts that an attempt on the part of the Germans to attack England would mean a speedy culmination of the war. Though no definite information has been given out it is generally believed that England is thoroughly prepared for an aerial attack by German Zeppelins. Searchlights sweep the sky incessantly during the nights and British airmen stand ready day and night to launch their craft to do battle in mid-air with the invaders.

In view of the fact that the British coast is heavily mined and the great warships of Great Britain are constantly patrolling the North sea and especially the coast of the British Isles it would require a superhuman effort on the part of the Kaiser and his staff to land German soldiers on British soil. Should the German navy endeavor to escort the transports carrying the invading army to England it would precipitate a naval battle between the warships of the nations. This the Germans have so far been careful to avoid.

In the eastern theater of war the fighting has been heavy at all times. A definite idea of the results of this conflict now being waged by the Austro-German armies against the Russians in East Prussia, Galicia, and Russian Poland is impossible because of the conflicting reports that are received daily from Petrograd, Vienna and Berlin. On the same day dispatches will be received from Petrograd telling of the utter rout of the Germans in Russian Poland, the plight of the Austrian armies in Galicia and the success of the Russian armies in East Prussia, while dispatches from Berlin and Vienna will claim great victories against the Russians in the same battles. However, there does not seem to be any important success on the part of either of the armies.
