An action was brought in the courts last year to determine whether an extension of time could be given for the construction of this railroad and retain the effect iveness of the subscriptions voted by various townships. The con-tract between the railroad Company and the townships voting subscriptions was that the road should be built and in operation in a specified time, or the subscriptions would become inoperative and not binding. The Supreme Court held that the railroad woold have to abide by its contract. Hence the road has been rechartered and the Legislature, the question of bonds will be voted on again, and we have it upon good authority that if Alamance wishes to share in the benefits of such a road as proposed that the townships will again have to vote the bonds: that the road will certainly be built. If built through Alamance the county will be immeasurably benefitted hence it behoves the people of Alamance to interest themselves and work for it. It is a great oppor-

Judge James E. Boyd, United States District Judge for the West-ern District of North Carolina, was states District of North Carolina, was 70 years old Sunday. Under the law he is now entitled to retire on full pay. But so far as is known he has not expressed any intention. He is still in vigorous health and is not of that temperament that would enjoy or crave a life of idleness or inactivity. He is a 'Republican and there are a number of prominent Democratic lawyers in his district who would like to try for the position, which pays $6,500 a year. Judge Boyd was born in Alamance and made his home here until about the year 1882.

City and his State

Measured in years the death of Jas. W. Murray was untimely, Measured in uchievement, he had already lived his "three score and ten." And his tragic passing seems a fitting close to his attenuous life. Not a genius nor a giant, given by birth neither position nor power, he marshalled his resources and ashieved for himself a worthy place in the esteem and confidence of his fellowmen. Institute of his purpose, sustained by indomitable will, calmly superior to criticisms or opposition, he was the architect and builder of his

If you feel bilious, headachy, constipated and all knocked out, just go to your druggist and get a 50c bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone, which is a harmless vegetable substitute for dangerous calomel. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't start your liver and straighten you up better and quicker than nasty calomel, and without making you sick, you just go and get your money back.

If you take calomel today you'll be sick and nauseated tomorrow; besodes it may salivate you, while if you take Dodson's Liver Tone you will wake up feeling great, full of ambition and ready for work or play.
