J., President Willson was formally notified of his renomination for President by the Democracy of the United States. Thousands gathered on the occasion. Mr. Wilson's acceptance speech embodied briefly the accomplishments of the past four years and outlined the future. It is a document worth rereading and studying closely.

This country at large may not concede anything, especially those of a different political faith to President Wilson, on account of the circumvention of the railroad employees' strike that was to be called at seven o'clock last Monday morning. The President tried for days ployees' strike that was to be called at seven o'clock last Monday morning. The President tried for days to adjust the matter between heads of the brotherhoods and of the railroads, and when he could not get them to terms he appealed to Congress and the 8-hour law, which we print in full elsewhere, was passed. An analysis of the vote shows that the President and the Democratic Congress is due full credit for it. It saved in the nick of time the country from a disaster.

Since the first experimental rural postal delivery service was established under Postmaster General Wm. L. Wilson of West Va., on Oct. 1st, 1896; simultaneously on three routes from Charlestown, Uvilla and Halltown, West Virginia, the service is grown to require 42.71s carriers, covering 1,073,099 miles and costing $49,8255,000 in 1915.

At Lewiston, Me., Thursday night ex-President Roosevelt delivered his first speech in behalf of the election of Chas. E. Hughes. His address was devoted largely to an attack on the administration and to criticism of hyphenism. There should be in American citizenship no dual allegiance, he declared. He also attacked the administration's Mexican policy.

The newly designed 10-cent pieces are now being coined at the Philadelphia mint and will soon be in circulation. It is stated that ten million dimes will be turned out within the next four months, and new 25-cent pieces will soon be coined. The new dime bears the figure of a Grecian lady on the obverse side and the bundle of rods and the axe of the Roman lictors on the reverse.

You Know What You Are Taking

When you take Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic because the formula is plainly printed on every bottle showing that it is Iron and Quinine in a tasteless form. No cure, no pay.—50c, adv.
