Decrease in Mortality From Pellagra

It is gratifying that the death ate from pellagra dropped very considerably in 1916. In 1915, says the State Board of Health, there were 831 deaths in North Carolina from pellagra; in 1916

this number was decreased to 467.
According to statistics furnished by the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, "In recent years pellagra has very rapidly increased in importance as a cause of death. In 1911 the number of deaths in the company's experience was only 277; in 1915 this number had increased to 650. Dur-ing this period the rate had increased from 3.6 per hundred thousand exposed persons to 6.7. In 1916 the number of deaths dropped to 368, and the rate to 3.6 per 100,000, exactly the same as in 1911. Comparing the same hams as in 1911. Comparing the year 1915 with 1916, there was a decrease of 46 per cent. in the rate. This drop is observed in many of the southern districts where the company does business. In the Atlanta district, for example, the number of deaths fell from 50-in 1915 to 28 in 1916; in the Columous district, from 73 to 26; in Augusta, from 28 to 12; in Charlotte,

Summer Hygiene Hints.

What we eat, what we drink, mental rule for healthful living in summer is to keep clean, inside and out. A bath every day is just about as essential as breakfast or any other meal

The average person should drink more water in the summer than in the colder months of the year, to supplement nature's efforts to wash the body through the pores. Drink cool, but not ice water. The greatest danger from ice water is its excessive use. To persons who are overheated or who work in high temperatures, ice water may be dangerous. It may produce congestion, better known

All kinds of excesses should be avoided in summer. It goes with-out saying that over-indulgence in alcoholic drinks should be shunned, summer and winter. This is not advised alone from the temperance viewpoint, but as well from that of the highest physical Lesson II.-Third Quarter, For July 8, 1917.

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES

1-27-Memory Verses, 1, 2-Golder Text, Heb. xi, 6-Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

This is a hard lesson about a de perately bad man, one of the very vorst of the kings of Judah, of wh worst of the kings of Judah, of whom it is said, "This is that king Ahaz" (verse 22). Manasseh may have been worse in some respects, but he repented, while of this man we read of no rependance. There were always some who feared God, a Godly remnant, and the sixteen years of this man's reign must have been a heartbreaking time for them, but no doubt a time of humiliation and uncessing prayer to God.

for them; but no doubt a time of humiliation and unceasing prayer to God, and in due time deliverance came, as we shall see in our next lesson.

Days of trial are always times of faith and patience on the part of God's people, and the terrible days still before us, of which we are having already some foretastes, will give great opportunity for the manifestation of such graces (Heb. vi. 12, 15; Rev. xiii, 10). All life's story as well as all the 10). All life's story as well as all the Bible story is either a manifestation of God or the devil, and so it will be until a king shall reign in righteousness and peace and the devil be shut up in the pit for a thousand years. It is written of Ahaz that he did not right in the sight of the Lord, but walked in the ways of the kings of Israel, and they, without exception, walked in the steps of Jeroboam, son of Nebat, who nade Israel to sin. What Ahaz did that was wrong and what Anaz do that was wrong and desperately-sinful is quite fully recorded in our lesson chapter and in II Kings xvi. He burned incense to other gods not only in Jerusalem, but in all the cities of Judah and on the hills and under every green tree. He burn-ed his children in the fire like the heathen whom the Lord had cast out. He leaned on the king of Assyria and worshiped the gods of the kings of Syria. He had an altar made like one Guns and competent gunners on merchant ships are a great convenience.

"Peace without annexation or indemnities" is a Russian slogan made in Germany.

If "it" fails the money you didn't put into it won't be worth anything to you, for both you and your money will eventually belong mighty because he prepared his ways before the Lord his God (xxvii, 6), and he had a good son, as we shall see in our next lesson.

These things are a great perplexity. just as similar things are in our own times. But there is rest in the Lord, and in Him alone, and in the fact that He cannot fail nor be discouraged (isa. xiii, 4). The Lord brought Judah low because of Ahaz and because they had forgotten the Lord God of their fa-thers (verses 6, 19), but they did not repent nor turn to Him again. Isatah and Micah were the Lord's messengers in those days, as we learn from the first verse of each of these prophecies, and the Lord sent Isaiah with a special message to Ahaz, telling him that if he would turn to the Lord the pur pose of the Syrians against him would not stand nor come to pass and that he might be quiet and not be afraid of them, but find if he would not believe be would not be established. On that occasion isaiah was to take with him his son, Shearjashub, whose name sig-nifies the remnant shall return, for, as we said earlier in this lesson, there is always a godly remnant, and it seem-said, "Ask thee a sign of the Lord thy God; ask it either in the depth or in the height above," and Ahaz said, "I will not ask; neither will I tempt the Lord (Isa. vil, 10-12). He had pro-voked the Lord seemingly beyond all not tempt the Lord. If he meant to say, I will labor and farmerss, that an organized protest to Washington is being planned.

But I will not ask the Lord for any planned being planned.

Now hear this wonderful message from the Lord to such a man representing the house of David and at such a time: "The Lord Himself sliall give you a sign. Behold, a virgin shall conceive and bear a son and shall call His name Immanuel" (Isa. vii, 13, 14). THURSDAY. JULY 92 1817 We cannot but think of the first as surance of the great deliverer being made to the devil himself (Gen. iii 14, 15), and we know that when the devil shall come to the time of his very worst opposition to and defiance of God then shall He who in the full-ness of time was really born of a vir-gin come in His glory to overthrow all His enemies and set up His king.

When the devil incarnate, the con when the devil incarnate, the com-ing antichrist, shall have gathered the kings of the earth and their armies against Him who is coming on the white horse, the Lamb shall overcome them for He is King of kings and them, for He is King of kings and Lord of lords (Rev. xvii, 14; xix, 19). That will be the morning of the Sun of Righteousness of which David spake in his last words, but there will be no morning for such as Ahaz, whe have no use for God or His word (II Sam xiti, 3-5; Isa viii, 20, R. V.). The glorious assurances of Isalah is and xi and xii surely cry aloud to us.

Wilmington Star. They say North Carolina is slow

Yes, North Carolina is slow and yet, somehow, she usually manages to reach the front in time for the crucial moment.

In February, 1776, the people of Wilmington, N. C., were only seven years ahead of the rest of the colonies; perhaps they should have seen their duty sooner. And ncidentally, it is the fault of none but ourselves that the whole world does not give due credit to this wonderful, open, armed resistance to the infamous Stamp Act, seven years in advance of the Boston Tea Party. On the 20th of May, 1775, the people of Mecklenburg county, in North Carolina, were only a year ahead of the rest of the country. Perhaps they should have set the country they are the country.

Lieutentant Richmond Pearson Hobson and Lientenant Victor Blue might talk on the subject; and some of the comrades of Worth Bagley, the first officer to fall in that war, might also have something to say. Only two weeks ago the first shot against Germany was fired, and, according to official report, it sent a submarine down. That shot was fired by James A. Good-
