WINTER NOT TO STOP DRIVE IN FLANDERS

WASHINGTON EXPERTS DO NOT EXPECT GOLD TO STOP OPERATIONS.

ENEMIES TO GET NO REST

Weekly Review of War Operations—Allies Have Men and Material to Overcome Natural Obstacles—U. S. Troops Take Part in Battle.

Washington—Military experts here do not expect winter to halt the great allied drive against the Germans in Flanders. Secretary Baker's weekly review of war operations discloses the belief of the war department that potency of material and men will enable the British and French commanders to triumph over natural obstacles and continue forcing the enemy backward without waiting for spring.

The review touches for the first time upon the American expeditionary forces in France, declaring the men, after three months intensive training, are in efficient fighting trim and splendid physical condition.

In dwelling upon the importance of the battle of Flanders and its effect upon the morale of the Germans, the war secretary declares it apparent that the German high command planned the recent expedition against the Russians in the Riga sector in order to bolster up morale and meet impending internal difficulties. By extending her lines in the east, he adds, Germany has merely added to the length of her line of communications and increased confidence in the final allied victory.

The review covering the week ending October 20, follows:

"Our men in France, after three months intensive training are in splendid physical condition and efficient fighting trim. They have readily become acclimated to the climate and now feel at home in the war zone.

"Our troops have met with the most warm-hearted and enthusiastic reception on the part of the armies and people of France.

"The health of our men overseas is reported as excellent.

"The week just closed has been one of relative quiet on all fronts.

Bad Weather Prevails.

"Bad weather already prevails along the western front, wintry conditions will soon set in and the terrain will become increasingly difficult for attacking troops. Nevertheless, the potency of allied material and men, the accumulation of the technical means of combat, and the preparations which have been going on for many months will make it possible for the British and French commanders to triumph over natural obstacles, and with few short intervals we may expect the offensive to press forward.

"It is not anticipated that the allies will go into winter quarters this year.

"The full importance of the battle in Flanders is beginning to be revealed. In order to appreciate the real significance of this engagement and the effect it has had on the morale of the German army and the German people, we must consider briefly the German attacks in the Riga sector, including the capture of Oesel, Dago, and other minor islands of the Finnish gulf.

"While no attempt should be made to belittle the importance of the positions gained by the enemy, we cannot fail to record that it is apparent that the Germans undertook this expedition with a view to bolstering up the morale of the country, more particularly in order to be able to meet the impending internal difficulties which threaten to culminate in a renewed cabinet crisis in the near future.

Anything for a Victory.

"The German higher command has invariably picked out a weakened objective, in order to be able to record a success which should be of political rather than military value. The assaults on the Finnish coast in the hands of the enemy in no way offset the recent allied victories in Flanders.

TO PROSECUTE WAR UNTIL VICTORY IS ACHIEVED

London—Premier Lloyd George and the chancellor of the exchequer, Andrew Bonar Law, were the principal speakers at an imposing demonstration in Albert hall to inaugurate the autumn campaign for national economy. The premier declared that the magnitude of the enthusiasm gathered in the fourth year of the war was the best proof of the determination of this country to prosecute the war until victory was achieved.

WILL NOT BUY MEXICAN SILVER

Washington—Negotiations under which this government had agreed to purchase 6,000,000 Mexican silver pesos from the Mexican government, to be melted and coined into subsidiary silver, were declared off. Mexican representatives were understood to have signified their acquiescence in the arrangement, but acting under instructions from Mexico City they presented new phases, which resulted in the withdrawal by the United States of its offer. The necessity for such a purchase has passed.

MRS. SMITH RECOMMENDS CHAMBERLAIN'S TABLETS

"I had more or less stomach trouble for eight or ten years," writes Mrs. G. H. Smith, Brewster, N. Y. "After suffering from attacks of indigestion and heaviness after eating, one or two of Chamberlain's Tablets have always relieved me. I have also found them at the most reliable medicine we have used."

CHAMBERLAIN'S COUGH REMEDY THE MOST RELIABLE

After many year's experience in the use of it and other cough medicines, there are many who prefer Chamberlain's to any other. Mrs. A. C. Kirtwin, Greenville, Ill., writes "Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has been used in my mother's home and mine for years, and we always found it a quick cure for colds and bronchial troubles. We find it to be the most reliable cough medicine we have used."

SHOTS DAMAGE U. S. BOAT

AMERICAN TORPEDOBOAT DESTROYER ATTACKED SOMEWHERE IN WAR ZONE.

Although Millions of Miles Have Been Covered This is First American Warship to Be Damaged—Expect Naval Battle in Baltic.

Although American torpedo boat destroyers have covered nearly a million miles since the United States entered the war, crossing the ocean, conveying vessels and chasing submarines, only recently has a German submarine succeeded in damaging one of them.

The attack occurred somewhere within the war zone, but though the destroyer was badly damaged, she was able to make port. One man, a gunner's mate, was killed, being blown into the sea by the force of the explosion of the torpedo. Five other men were wounded.

The Germans are entirely in possession of the island of Oesel, at the head of the Gulf of Riga, and the Russian forces still there are cut off from communication with Petrograd. Small naval engagements continue in adjacent waters. Perna, an important gulf port north of Riga and due east of Oesel island, has been bombed by German naval airships.

GERMAN AGENTS MAKING EFFORT TO DEFEAT LOAN

Organized Propaganda in All Parts of the Country.

Washington.—Pro-German agents in the United States, according to reports to the treasury department, have directed their energies toward defeating the Liberty Loan. Their organized propaganda has borne fruit, from Minnesota to Texas, it is asserted, in scattered localities where weak efforts have been made not openly, but by indirect methods to discourage subscriptions.

Official recognition of the propaganda against the loan was voiced today by Colonel Herbert M. Lord, representing the war department, at the war risk insurance conference at which the details of the new sailors' and soldiers' insurance law are being explained to officers and enlisted men from the various cantonments.

"There has been an organized effort," said Colonel Lord, who was chairman of the meeting, "to discourage and defeat the loan."

This effort he added, has been made by "seeking to misrepresent the patriotism of the new national army." An official account of the proceedings of the conference, which was behind closed doors, issued by the treasury department, reads as follows:

"In convincing retort of the slander, which was to the effect that the men of the new national army opposed the war, Colonel Lord announced that subscriptions from the army for the loan already aggregate $26,000,000 and that some of the subscriptions were written in foreign languages.

"The announcement caused great enthusiasm among the delegates from the army and navy, marine corps and coast guard (attending the conference), 500 of whom swarmed up to the platform following the address and signed war insurance applications, all of which, except forty, were for the maximum of $10,000."

Value of Vegetable Garden.

A vegetable garden never hurt the looks of any lot. It doesn't take a denner to raise over a 30 by 40 foot plot of growing lettuce, ripening tomatoes or starchy potato plants—not in these days of high prices. Indeed, if a piece of ground has demonstrated its productiveness, it is more saleable than ever when put on the market.—Wisconsin State Journal.

CITY SHOULD KNOW ITSELF

One That Has All Necessary Information at Fingers' End Makes Impression Upon Inquirer.

There are many ways in which a central organization can be of service to a city in industrial development. An industrial commissioner, a man of vision and intelligence, with experience in the problems that confront manufacturers, can make a survey of a city with reference to industrial advantages and have them ready for every inquirer.

The prospective manufacturer likes to do business with a city that knows itself, just as the individual likes to trade with the man that knows his stock. There are so many details that enter into industry, so many points of information about location, switching and traffic facilities, raw materials, and related industries, that it requires exhaustive study of the whole field to make a creditable presentation of the city's advantages to the inquirer from the outside. The city that has all these facts at its fingers' end, and can present them convincingly, is in better position than the one where only a smattering of essential facts are known.

The importance of a careful survey of related manufacturing groups should not be underestimated. Now more than ever before the manufacturer looks for a place where his unfinished material can be delivered in any volume on short notice and at a minimum of cost. Or it may be that he wants a city which has developed a line related to his own, so that he can get the benefit of its prestige in that line. Here, again, we see the importance of knowing our city and its industrial possibilities thoroughly, and that is the function of the industrial department of a chamber of commerce.

BETTER CITY AN INVESTMENT

Improvements in Streets and Buildings Pay Returns Just as in Any Private Business.

Mr. MacFarland, president of the American Civic association, takes the practical business view when he says that city betterments are nothing less than paying investments. The streets belong to the people. Their widening, the building of new streets to accommodate increasing traffic, is simply a business expansion that will pay a return as does any private business upon new capital put into it.

The same thing is true of housing. No city is rich enough to afford housing conditions that mitigate against the welfare of any part of its population, says the Kansas City Star. The man of small means, as Mr. MacFarland says—the man who must have a low rental—is the basis of industrial prosperity. Low rental dwellings are necessary, but it does not follow that low rental dwellings should be lacking in the sanitary conveniences that are essential to public health. The owner of rental dwellings who neglects to maintain them in proper condition is interfering with the city's business and prosperity. The city's business demands laws regulating housing in conformity with the best interests of that business, and those laws should be rigidly enforced.

PROTECTION FOR YOUNG PIGS

Fender Arranged Around Sides of Farrowing Pens Prevents Sow From Crushing Little Ones.

This type of fender is used by hundreds of hog raisers in the corn belt, and gives excellent results in a majority of cases. It consists of a two and one half inch wide board, one and one half inch deep, and is placed about eight inches from the floor, or just high enough so that in case a sow lies down while her young are between her and the wall they can slip under the fender and avoid being crushed by the weight of the sow.—Orange Judd Farmer.

WORLD SHORTAGE OF STOCK

Speedy Ending of War Would Not Change Present Basis of Prices—Tax is Protection.

There is every reason to believe that the present level of prices for live stock will continue for some time. Here is a world shortage of stock, a speedy ending of the present war would not change the basis of prices until a normal supply of stock is raised. The 10 per cent import duty on stock, meats, hides and wool will serve as protection against shipments from other countries where labor is cheaper.

ENGLAND'S CAST-IRON SHEEP

Herdwicks Are Noted for Their Mutton and Wool—Able to Stand Exposure and Hardships.

FARM STOCK

WATERING STOCK IN SUMMER

As Springs and Streams Dry Up It is Highly Essential to Furnish Abundant Water Supply.

Animals need more water during hot weather than they do during the winter. There is a greater loss of water from their bodies in the processes of heat regulation, digestion, etc., consequently they drink more if they have it. As the natural sources, such as streams and springs dry up in the summer, it is highly essential that particular attention be given to furnishing a plentiful supply of fresh water during the heated period.

Fresh and cool water supplied in ample amounts will serve the very useful purpose of eliminating many of the digestive disturbances often complained of by feeders. Unless the digestive agencies are properly functioning the best results can be by no means realized. And since water, which is one of the most abundant elements we have, serves such a useful purpose it should be given serious consideration particularly at this time of the year, when the dry, hot weather will soon come. The man who has a never-failing spring in his pasture is indeed lucky, but with a good deep well equipped with a wind pump or better still a pump run by a gasoline engine one need have little worry over the needs of his stock for water, so long as he sees that their drinking troughs are always full.

COLT ATTENTION IN SUMMER

Young Animal Should Be Placed in Dark Stall During Day—Encourage It to Eat Grain.

The colt should be left in a cool, dark stall during the day if the mare is worked, asserts Dr. C. W. McCampbell, associate professor of animal husbandry in the Kansas state agricultural college.

For the first few weeks the mare should be brought to the barn in the middle of the forenoon and the middle of the afternoon and the colt allowed to suckle. The colt should be left with the mare at night. Encourage it to eat as soon as possible—preferably crushed oats with bran. If oats are not available a ration consisting of four parts of corn, three of bran, and one of linseed meal by weight may be substituted.

Let the colt have clover or alfalfa hay as soon as he will eat it. See to it that he has access to clean, pure water at all times. If the mare and foal are running in the pasture a creep feed should be made where the colt can have access to grain.

AT BAY IN THE MOON SOUND

GORDON OF GERMAN WARCRRAFT BARS EGRESS TO GULFS OF FINLAND AND RIGA.

One Russian Battleship of the Old Type is Sent Down and Several Others Are Damaged by the Superior Ships and German Guns.

Apparently contingents of the Russian fleet—in all about 20 warships of various classes—are bottled up in Moon sound, with a cordon of German warcraft barring their egress northward back into the Gulf of Finland or to the south into the Gulf of Riga.

Brave, but outclassed by reason of superior gun range and heavy tonnage, the Russians gave battle to the Germans and attempted to force back the enemy armada off Oesel island. Standing far outside the shell zone of the Russian guns, the German dreadnaughts sank the battleship Blava—a relic of the days before the Russo-Japanese war—and so badly damaged other units that the Russian flotilla was forced to seek refuge in Moon sound—lying between Moon island and the Esthonia coast.

Immediately seeing their advantage the Germans, according to the latest German official communication began intensive operations against Moon island, hammering its eastern shore batteries until they were silenced and also attacking the Russian guns on the mainland, putting them out of action. Moon island was captured and the Russians took refuge inside Moon sound.

Thereupon the Germans threw warships to the eastern part of Kassar bay, lying to the north of Moon island, apparently closing the passage to the south in the Gulf of Riga.

Already the Germans have attempted to attack from the north into Moon sound, but the Russian guns have held them back successfully. Among the German warships attacking the old line vessels of the Russian fleet were at least two dreadnaughts of the Great Kururuter type—Russians displacing 25,000 tons, as against 15,516 tons for the Blava. A majority of the crew of the Blava was saved by Russian torpedo boats when the vessel took its final plunge.

SENATOR HUSTINGS DIES FROM ACCIDENTAL SHOT

Accident Occurred While Brothers Were Hunt at Rush Lake, Wisconsin, Duck Hunting.

Milwaukee, Wis.—United States Senator Paul O. Hastings, of Wisconsin, died at a farm house near Rush Lake, Wis., as the result of wounds accidentally inflicted upon him with a shotgun by his brother, Gustave, while hunting ducks.

Senator Hastings recently returned to his home at Mayville after the close of the extra session of Congress, where he was one of the leading supporters of the administration war program.

With his brother he had gone on a hunting expedition to Rush Lake and the two were in a boat when the accident occurred. He had sighted a flock of ducks and called for his brother to fire and at the discharge of the shotgun he rose slightly, relieving the full charge of the gun in his back. He was rushed to the farm house, where all efforts to save his life were unavailing.

ZEPPELINS SHOT DOWN IN FRANCE

FOUR CAPTURED WERE RETURNING FROM A BOMBING RAID OVER ENGLAND.

AIRMEN BURIED UNDER CRAFT

Airplane's Superiority Over Dirigible Is Again Proclaimed by French—No Bombs Were Dropped by Raiders in France.

Paris.—Although at first it was believed that the visit of the Zeppelin fleet to France was an independent raid and the first step toward carrying out the threat made in a German wireless message which said it had been decided to destroy Paris in reprisal for French air raids on German towns, it now is generally believed that these eight Zeppelins, four of which were destroyed or captured, were returning from England and had lost their bearings owing to fog and probably had lost touch with their wireless communications.

The log book of the Zeppelin which landed intact shows that she had been to England and prisoners from three other airships confirm this. One of the men captured said it was the lack of gasoline that forced his Zeppelin to descend. The raid is widely proclaimed by French observers as being definite proof of the superiority of the airships over the Zeppelins. The day of Zeppelins for bombardment on expert said, is over. The sudden resumption of the use of the German dirigibles is explained by the theory that the raiding Zeppelins belonged to a new type which lately had been reported to be in the course of construction at Lake Constance.

Of the four Zeppelins lost, two were destroyed and two were forced to descend. The two disabled airships, one riddled by aviators and anti-air dirigible posts, descended in the Saone valley and were forced to land in the neighborhood of Sistrion, in Baso-Alpes. The crews, after setting fire to the airships, attempted to flee, but were taken prisoners.

London.—Reuter's correspondent at British headquarters in France telegraphs that the four Zeppelins brought down in France were airships that had taken part in the raid on England.

It is believed, adds the correspondent, that the fifth Zeppelin was destroyed at Bourbourg les Bains. (This probably refers to the Zeppelin brought down at Rambervillers, near the Alsatian border).

There were 11 Zeppelins in the original group that appeared over French territory, Reuter's correspondent telegraphed later, and they scattered over various parts of the country when attacked after a general warning was sent out. They dropped no bombs in France.
