The entire Turkish fleet is now in the hands of the allies, the British admiralty announces. The warships after surrendering were interned in the Golden Horn at Constantinople. The former German cruiser Goeben was among the surrendered vessels.

The new Turkish government is proceeding against the young Turk party of Enver Pasha. In reviewing the question of whether Germany is able to pay war damages and the war expenditures incurred by the allies, the London Daily Mail declares that the estimated allied expenditures of twenty-five billion dollars are less than one-seventh of the main German assets in sight. Joseph V. Stilson, secretary of Kova, a Lithuanian language newspaper, was sentenced in the federal court at Philadelphia to serve three years in the Atlanta, Ga., penitentiary. He was found guilty of conspiracy to violate the espionage act and with obstructing recruiting.

The decision of the war labor board announced in Washington Friday, granting in part the demands of the Atlanta union street carmen for higher wages, and the reinstatement of men discharged, but giving the company the right to prohibit the wearing of the union button while on duty, was received by the workers with disappointment and dissatisfaction. President Arkwright of the company says the increase in wages will wreck the company.

Incidents of serious gravity occurred within the last few days in a prison camp in Saxony, where allied prisoners are confined, the Echo de Paris declares. The allied governments are reported to have decided to act energetically in that connection.

Speaking at Bootle, England, Andrew Bonar Law, the chancellor of the exchequer, confirmed the statement that the British government had decided to press the allies as strongly as possible that the surrender of former Emperor William should be demanded, and that he should stand his trial.

The army program of eighty divisions in France by June 30, 1918, was embarked upon with complete confidence that Germany could and would be defeated during 1919 if the project was carried out, General March, chief of staff, declares in his annual report to Secretary Baker, made public in Washington. That conviction was based on a comprehensive study of the whole war situation ordered by General March immediately after he assumed his duties at the head of the army last March.

The British foreign minister, Bal-

The last stores of coal for public use in this city are drawing to an end and, if owing to lack of coal, Vienna goes to darkness and by inability to keep up train service, is cut off from the rest of Europe, the maintenance of order becomes problematic. The authorities are vigilant, but strong apprehensions are felt.

PEACE CONFERENCE EARLY IN JANUARY

DELIBERATIONS EXPECTED TO CONTINUE OVER PERIOD OF FOUR MONTHS.

President Has Not, So Far, Approved of Anything Done at Supreme War Council at London.

Paris.—The opening of the peace conference at Paris has been set for the first week in January. It is expected that the peace deliberations will last about four months. Unless unforeseen obstacles arise the belief prevails in well-informed quarters that final action will be reached toward the early part of May.

President Wilson will be informed by wireless of the plans for the assembling of the interrelated conference and the meeting of the peace conference. He will also be advised concerning the recent gathering of the supreme war council at London. In the meantime, reports that the President has approved of anything done at the supreme council are premature.

The plans concerning the peace meetings are the result of Colonel Edward M. House's long talks with Premier Clemenceau, following a conference with Baron Sonnino, the Italian foreign minister, and the Earl of Derby, British ambassador to France.

There are many factors in this delay. While it appears there is no reason for fearing an outbreak of bolshevism in Germany, there is abundant reason to suspect the present regime is unstable and at the mercy of any absolute coup d'etat.

Large figures shown in Burleson's annual report. Washington.—Telephone and telegraph lines of the country, now under government control, should be government owned at the conclusion of peace and the expiration of the provisions of the act under which the utilities are now controlled, Postmaster General Burleson declares in his annual report made public.

Operations of the postoffice department for the fiscal year ending last June 30, resulted in a surplus of receipts over expenses of $19,979,798, according to the report. Approximately $44,500,000 additional was paid over to the treasury from the increased postal charges imposed for war purposes. Total revenues of the department from all sources during the year are given as $288,975,962, against $228,726,115 for the 1917 fiscal year. Total expenditures are reported at $234,833,728, against $219,838,718 in 1917. Disregarding the increased postal rates effective November 2, under the war tax bill, the actual increase in postal service business during the year is placed at 4.47 per cent, while expenditures increased 1.56 per cent.

Mr. Burleson, for the first time, officially reports upon the use of airplanes for transmission of mail, and government-owned trucks for the operation of rural parcel post routes, disclosing plans for wide extension of both facilities. He also renews his previously made recommendation that postmasters now appointed by the competitive civil service examinations.

BUSINESS INTERESTS APPEAL FOR GOVERNMENT RELEASE

The French government, it is indicated, is resolved to demand reparation for this act of the Germans.
