

Health About Gone

Many thousands of women suffering from womanly trouble, have been benefited by the use of Cardui, the woman's tonic, according to letters we receive, similar to this one from Mrs. Z. V. Spell, of Hayne, N. C. "I could not stand on my feet, and just suffered terribly," she says. "As my suffering was so great, and he had tried other remedies, Dr. — had us get Cardui. . . I began improving, and it cured me. I know, and my doctor knows, what Cardui did for me, for my nerves and health were about gone."

TAKE

CARDUI

The Woman's Tonic

She writes further: "I am in splendid health . . . can do my work. I feel I owe it to Cardui, for I was in dreadful condition." If you are nervous, run-down and weak, or suffer from headache, backache, etc., every month, try Cardui. Thousands of women praise this medicine for the good it has done them, and many physicians who have used Cardui successfully with their women patients, for years, endorse this medicine. Think what it means to be in splendid health, like Mrs. Spell. Give Cardui a trial.

PRESIDENT STANDS FIRM FOR ACTION

PRINCIPLES AGREED UPON AT TIME OF ARMISTICE APPEAR TO BE AT STAKE. OUR DELEGATION MAY QUIT

Many Exaggerated Reports Are Current, Any or All of Which Are Plausible Under Circumstances.

Paris.—The peace conference has apparently reached the turning point between definite and speedy results and further prolonged delay. The indications were toward action, but no doubts began to appear as to whether the desired results could be accomplished within a fortnight, as Premier Lloyd George and Colonel House have predicted.

The council of four was to have met at the "white house," where the President is still confined to bed. It developed, however, that Premier Lloyd George has been affected in a similar manner as the President, which has confined him also to his bed.

It was then determined to have the council meet at Mr. Lloyd George's residence, so as to be near him, and here the session began with Premier Clemenceau, Premier Orlando, Colonel House and all the financial experts present.

Extreme tension was evident as a result of discussions, and it is believed throughout the conference that another critical stage has been reached. One of the most responsible authorities associated with President Wilson said that he would not be surprised if American participation was brought to an early close if the delays over details were carried much further.

The President was described by one who saw him during the day as standing firm in his determination to make no further concessions. He insists that the principles which were definitely agreed upon at the time of the armistice are at stake. There is little doubt that the President's stand has been made known to the other members of the council, but since his illness he has not personally conferred with any of them, excepting Colonel House.

The existing tension led to many reports of decisive action which the American delegation was said to be about to take. These reports were more or less exaggerated, yet all seemed plausible in view of the President's determined attitude.

LATE NEWS FROM BAVARIA IS INTERESTING WURTEMBERG

Berlin.—The news of the situation in Bavaria is being followed with keen interest in Wurttemberg and it is considered significant that the meeting of the Wurttemberg national assembly has been indefinitely postponed.

The students of Munich university declared the senate deposed and its administration transferred to a council of the Munich and professors.

PROMISE OF QUICK ACTION IS GIVEN

PRACTICALLY ALL OBSTACLES TO AGREEMENT ON TREATY HAVE BEEN OVERCOME.

PRESIDENT IS A SICK MAN

Utmost Care is Necessary to Prevent What is Now a Bad Cold From Becoming Something Worse.

Paris.—Reassuring news from President Wilson's bedside was sent to the peace delegates, although the news indicated that the President's condition was such as to make it advisable that he remain in his room.

Study of the case has caused Rear Admiral Grayson, the President's physician, to reach the conclusion that the President is not suffering from influenza, but that the severity of the cold is such that the patient will require careful watching.

The illness of President Wilson has caused numerous wild rumors to circulate in the city, and not even the delegates themselves are immune. Colonel House had heard that the president was really down with influenza, and in numerous conferences with the representatives of the great powers he has outlined the needs of his country and told of the steps that must be taken immediately if Belgium is to be restored.

A member of the Belgian peace delegation told the Associated Press today that, short of all its diplomatic niceties, what King Albert told the council might be summarized thus: "The time of promises has passed if Belgium is to live, the council must act."

The Associated Press is able to state that three questions of vital importance to the restoration of Belgium, financially, economically and politically, were discussed. The first question was the immediate advance to Belgium of about ten billion francs, the second the exportation to Belgium from England and the United States of raw materials and the third the cessation of the L'Escaut river and the Lemberg peninsula.

NORTH CAROLINA WANTS HER OWN REGIMENTS TO PARADE

Columbia, S. C.—Approval was expressed by officers and men of the 119th infantry, formerly a North Carolina national guard regiment, when it was announced that a movement had been started at Charlotte to have the regiment parade in some North Carolina city before being mustered out, so that the people of the state can see their heroes of the Hindenburg battle in line of march. Gratification was expressed that Charlotte had seen committees to Washington to try to arrange the matter with the war department.

BRIGADIER GENERAL FAISON COMMANDER AT CAMP JACKSON

Columbia, S. C.—Brig. Gen. Samson L. Faison, commander of the famous Sixtieth brigade of the Thirtieth division, and acting commander of the Thirtieth division since General Lewis was ordered to general headquarters, has been designated as commander of Camp Jackson, according to announcements made here.

The doughy Tar Heel, who made a splendid record in France, has arrived here from Charleston.

ALLIED ARMY IN RUSSIA IN PERILOUS POSITION?

Paris.—The situation in the Archangel region in northern Russia has been forcibly brought to the attention of the peace conference by the publication in Paris of the British statement that the troops in the Murmansk and Archangel districts were in danger of extermination unless they were speedily reinforced. Brigadier General W. P. Richardson, U. S. A., is on his way to take command of the American forces in North Russia.

GERMANS GROWING BOLDER EVERY DAY AT COBLENZ

Coblenz.—One finds here that the Germans grow bolder every day; their complaints adopted by the American army together with a number of minor incidents have served to confirm the impression that the Germans are returning to the arrogance and insolence familiar enough to us before the war, but hardly fitting to a people whose territory is occupied by the enemy.

SECRETARY OF COL. HOUSE HAS DIED OF PNEUMONIA

Troy, N. Y.—Donald Frary, of Berlin, N. Y., secretary to Col. Edward M. House at the peace conference and an instructor in history at Yale University, is dead in Paris of pneumonia, according to a message received by his father.

Mr. Frary accompanied the American delegation to Paris and among other duties was assigned to keep President Wilson in touch with the situation in Bulgaria.

THOSE TRIUMPHAL GERMAN HELMETS

Eighty-five thousand German helmets, captured by allied troops in Coblenz, are to be awarded as prizes by federal district committees in the Victory Liberty Loan campaign. They will be given to Victory note salesmen making the best selling records and school children writing the best essays on the loan. In the picture shown above, taken on the Treasury steps in Washington, are shown Frank R. Wilson, director of publicity (left), and Lewis B. Franklin, director of War Loan Organization (right). Wilson created a panic in the helmet market by buying the entire 85,000 shipment from the War Department for $1. It cost the German government more than that amount to manufacture each one of the helmets.

These helmets were a special supply held in reserve for a triumphal entry into Paris. Eventually they arrived there by freight.

It's Auto Ho! For Columbus, O. Gas Car Caravanning Popular

By automobile caravan to Columbus—that is the word that has gone to Methodism of the United States and to much of the automobile world outside of Methodism as the excursion proper for the early summer of 1919.

It all started back during the war. In the interval it has gained such an impetus that there is no stopping it. The proposition of getting a large throng to Columbus, O., for the Methodist Centenary celebration June 20 to July 13, was put up to H. B. Dickson, organizing secretary, some two years ago. With the government trying to discourage railway travel, he hit upon the idea of bringing as many thousands as possible to Columbus in automobiles. He made a canvass of the Methodist church and found more than 75,000 persons owning automobiles within a touring distance of Columbus. He also made arrangements for parking and tenting in all desirable areas within 25 miles of the Ohio capital.

To facilitate these tourists the centenary is issuing 100,000 automobile maps, distributed gratis throughout the United States. F. W. Briggs of Boston, a man of national reputation in the handling of touring parties, was installed at celebration headquarters to give his entire time and attention to routing parties through the most desirable sections of the country, advising them of accommodations en route and of what they might expect on arrival.

Methodist auto owners were quick to grasp the possibilities of reaching the big celebration by machine. W. H. Cable at Council Bluffs was the first man to organize a considerable party. He reported 50 cars and a party of 200 which will start early in June from Iowa to Columbus.

Dr. E. M. Antrim of Springfield, Ill., was a little later in organizing, but topped his competitor by enlisting 1,000 automobiles for the trip. City council of Columbus has placed all the city parks at the disposal of celebration tour parties. Director of Public Safety Thatcher has assured protection to any number of automobiles that may come. Arrangements have been made to rent tents and sites to those who come to Columbus desiring to camp out.

Most of the parks in Columbus are provided with elaborate shelter houses which not only contain rest rooms and toilet facilities, but in most instances community kitchens, which will be available to those who employ the parks as camping grounds. All of them have heat, light and water, without money and without price to all who come to the big celebration.

"First come will be first served," says Mr. Dickson, "and if everyone will do like Rev. J. E. Thompson of Winston-Salem, N. C., we will have no trouble." Mr. Thompson enjoys the distinction of being the first person to register for the celebration. The registration fee is $5 for individuals and $10 for a family. This includes admission to the celebration from beginning to end and the assistance of the Centenary celebration bureau in securing location. "It is important that people register early," says Mr. Dickson, "because, no matter how carefully we organize, it will not be possible to take care of an eleventh-hour rush in the manner we should like to. The people who register early will have all the advantages."

A large force is already engaged in cataloguing registrations as they reach the Columbus office.

America's Immortals

Most striking instances of personal bravery were not in official reports are disclosed by the war department's records of the awards of the Distinguished Service Cross to members of the American Expeditionary forces. Following are a few of the official reports that have been selected by General Pershing's own staff as presenting most striking instances of gallantry on the part of American soldiers under fire:

SAMUEL WOODFILL,
First Lieutenant, Company M, 60th Infantry.

Three acts of conspicuous daring in one day near Cuneil, France, October 12, 1918, won the Distinguished Service Cross for Lieut. Woodfill. While he was leading his company against the enemy his line came under heavy machine gun fire, which threatened to hold up the advance. Followed by two soldiers at twenty-five yards, this officer went out ahead of his first line toward a machine gun nest and worked his way around its flank, leaving the two soldiers in front. When he got within ten yards of the gun it ceased firing and four of the enemy appeared, three of whom were shot by Lieut. Woodfill. The fourth, an officer, rushed at Lieut. Woodfill, who attempted to club the officer with his rifle. After a hand-to-hand struggle, Lieut. Woodfill killed the officer with his pistol. His company then continued to advance until shortly afterward another machine gun nest was encountered. Calling his men to follow, Lieut. Woodfill rushed ahead of his line in the face of heavy fire from the nest, and when several of the enemy appeared above the nest he jumped into the pit when two other members of the crew and silencing the gun. A few minutes later this officer, for the third time, demonstrated conspicuous daring by charging another machine gun position, killing five men in one machine gun pit with his rifle. He then drew his revolver and started to jump into the pit when two other gunners only a few yards away turned their gun on him. Falling to kill them with his revolver, he grabbed a pick lying near by and killed both of them. Inspired by the exceptional courage displayed by this officer, his men pressed on to their objective under a severe shell and machine gun fire. Lieut. Woodfill is married and lives at 107 Alexandria Pike, Fort Thomas, Ky.

GEORGE H. MALLON,
Captain, 132nd Infantry.

Capt. Mallon was decorated for intrepidity beyond the call of duty in the Bois de Forges, France, September 28, 1918. Becoming separated from the balance of his company because of a fog, Capt. Mallon, with nine soldiers, pushed forward and attacked nine hostile machine guns, capturing all of them without the loss of a man. Continuing on through the woods, he led his men in attacking a battery of 450 mm. howitzers which were in action, rushing the position and capturing the battery and its crew. In this encounter Capt. Mallon personally attacked one of the enemy with his fists. Later when the party came upon two more machine guns, this officer sent men to the flanks, while he rushed forward directly in the face of the fire and silenced the guns, being the first one of the party to reach the nest. The exceptional gallantry and determination displayed by Capt. Mallon resulted in the capture of 100 prisoners, eleven machine guns, four 450 mm. howitzers and one anti-aircraft gun. Capt. Mallon's home address is 1831 Hallock street, Kansas City, Mo.

WILLIAM R. PECK,
Sergeant, Company C, 354th Infantry.

Sergt. Peck (deceased) received the Distinguished Service Cross for conspicuous gallantry in action near Rezonville November 1, 1918. He was advancing with his company across an open field when enemy guns opened fire on them from two sides. The attention of the platoon commander was directed to the gun on his direct front, while the enemy of the right was leveling his gun upon him. Seeing the predicament of his commander, Sergt. Peck threw himself against the officer, pushing him into a shell hole, but exposing himself to the fire, which instantly killed him. His home was in Washburn, Wis.

HAROLD W. ROBERTS,
Corporal, Company A, 344th Battalion, Tank Corps.

For deliberately going to his death to save a companion in the Montrebeau woods, France, October 1918, Corp. Roberts was awarded the Distinguished Service Cross. Corp. Roberts, a tank driver, was moving his tank into a clump of bushes to afford protection to another tank which had been disabled. The tank slid into a shell hole, ten feet deep, filled with water, and was immediately submerged. Knowing that only one of the two men in the tank could escape, Corp. Roberts said to the gunner, "Well, only one of us can get out, and out you go," whereupon he pushed his companion through the back door of the tank and was himself drowned. Corp. Roberts' home address was 5 Market street, San Francisco, Cal.

ALAN LOUIS EGGERS,
Sergeant, M. G. Co., 107th Infantry.

Unusual bravery displayed in aiding comrades in distress near Catolot, France, September 29, 1918, won the Distinguished Service Cross for Sergt. Eggers. Becoming separated from their platoons by a smoke barrage, Sergt. Eggers, Sergt. John G. Latham and Corporal Thomas E. O'Shea took cover in a shell hole well within the enemy's lines. Upon hearing a call for help from an American tank, which had become disabled, thirty yards from them, the three soldiers left their shelter and started toward the tank, under heavy fire from German machine guns and trench mortars. In crossing the fire-swept area, Corp. O'Shea was mortally wounded but his companions, undeterred, proceeded to the tank, rescued a wounded officer, and assisted two soldiers to cover in the sap of a nearby trench. Sergt. Eggers and Sergt. Latham then returned to the tank in the face of the violent fire, dismounted a Hotchkiss gun and took it back to where the wounded men were, keeping off the enemy all day by the effective use of the gun, and later bringing it, with the wounded men, back to our lines under cover of darkness. Sergt. Eggers' home is at 162 Summit avenue, Summit, N. J.

J. HUNTER WICKERSHAM,
Second Lieutenant, 253rd Infantry.

For conspicuous gallantry, resulting in his death, near Limey, France, September 12, 1918, Lieut. Wickersham was awarded the Distinguished Service Cross. Advancing with his platoon during the St. Mihiel offensive, Lieut. Wickersham was severely wounded in four places by the bursting of a high explosive shell. Before receiving any aid for himself, he dressed the wounds of his orderly, who was wounded at the same time. He then ordered and accompanied the further advance of his platoon, although weakened by the loss of blood. His right hand and arm being disabled by wounds, he continued to fire his revolver with his left hand until, exhausted by the loss of blood, he fell and died from his wounds before aid could be administered. Lieut. Wickersham's home address was 3416 Colfax boulevard, Denver, Colo.

MARCELLUS H. CHILES,
Captain, 356th Infantry.

Capt. Chiles was decorated for conspicuous bravery in action, which resulted in his death near Le Champy Bas, France, November 3, 1918. When his battalion, of which he had just taken command, was halted by machine gun fire from the front and left flank, Capt. Chiles picked up the rifle of a dead soldier and, calling on his men to follow, led the advance across a stream waist deep, in the face of the machine gun fire. Upon reaching the opposite bank, this gallant officer was seriously wounded in the abdomen. Lieut. Chiles refused to permit himself to be evacuated, made complete arrangements for turning over his command to the next senior officer, and under the inspiration of his fearless leadership his battalion reached its objective. Capt. Chiles died shortly after reaching the hospital. His home was at 2815 West Thirty-seventh street, Denver, Colo.

ROY W. REEVES,
Corporal, 96th Company, Sixth Marines.

Corp. Reeves, whose home is with his mother, Mrs. J. W. Reeves, 3789 Chamour avenue, East San Diego, Cal., was decorated for an act of conspicuous intrepidity in action with the enemy near Blanc Mont, France, October 3, 1918. During a stiffly contested hand-to-hand struggle, he saw a grenade fall in the midst of his comrades. Without hesitation he rushed forward and picked it up, hurling it from the trench. The grenade exploded a few yards from his hand, wounding him severely, but his act averted injury to all of his comrades.

EARL J. CHEEVERS,
Sergeant, Headquarters Co., 132nd Infantry.

Sergeant Cheevers received the Distinguished Service Cross for extraordinary heroism in action near Bois de Forges, France, September 28, 1918. While engaged in maintaining a line of communication, Sergeant Cheevers saw four of the enemy enter a dugout during an attack. Armed with only a pistol, he followed. Upon reaching the dugout he ordered the men to come out. When they refused, he entered and routed out and captured twelve prisoners.

RAY C. DICKOP,
First Lieutenant, 127th Infantry.

Lieut. Dickop (deceased) was decorated for extraordinary heroism in action in the attack on Fismes, France, in August of 1918. On reaching Chelles farm, he was shot in the head, body and legs. Although fatally wounded, when orders came for another assault he gave the command "charge" to his company and led the assault until he fell dead. Miss Lena Schiller, his aunt, lives at West Bend, Wis.

New Yorkers awake one morning to find in their breakfast headlines the news that a zealous park employee had discovered signs of disintegration on the surface of the city's most treasured antique—Cleopatra's Needle. Photographs revealed that the monolith was peeling, large pieces of sandstone having fallen from the tall shaft, carrying with them part of the prized hieroglyphs.

London's twin sister of Cleopatra's Needle was reported as resting comfortably and enduringly on the banks of the Thames, and the rival port wondered whether a preparation would be found to stay the attacks of their harsher climate.
