HOUSE IN SNARL ON PROHIBITION

ALL ATTEMPTS TO ELIMINATE CERTAIN DRASTIC SECTIONS IN LAW VOTED DOWN.

VIGOROUS PROTESTS ENTERED

In Proposed Bill, Trial By Jury of Persons Charged With Violating the Law Is Denied.

Washington.—Prohibition forces voted down in the house every attempt to eliminate drastic provisions of the general enforcement bill, and while in full and absolute control cut off debate at the word of their leader despite the violent protest of the minority.

When they had reached through the wartime enforcement portion of the three-part bill and got into the constitutional prohibition measure proper, there were only 68 members on the floor and so much confusion that a speaker could not make himself heard.

Before the house got into a snarl, however, the prohibition faction had fought off every attack on their bill.

For a brief moment late in the day the minority—described by the prohibitionists as the "wells"—swung into power, only to be thrown out by a demand for tellers, which meant an accurate count on vote to amend the bill so that a person charged with violating a liquor-selling injunction might obtain a demand a jury trial.

SENATE TO HANDLE THE DAYLIGHT LAW

THE AGRICULTURAL BILL HAS BEEN PASSED BY HOUSE BY UNANIMOUS VOTE.

THE LAW CARRIES $33,900,000

Several Sharp Clashes Marked Debate on Elimination of Rider That Drew the President's Veto.

Washington.—Renewed attempts of house Republican leaders to repeal daylight saving through a rider to the 920 agricultural appropriation bill, were defeated in the house when Republican opponents of repeal joined with the Democrats in voting to eliminate the repeal provision.

Final action on the daylight saving repeal came after a day marked by sharp political clashes in both houses and committees.

The senate, regarded as heavily in favor of repeal now has before it a house bill to repeal the daylight saving law. The senate, it was said by congressional leaders, may pass and send to the president the separate repeal measure.

ANOTHER SERIOUS BRANCH OF NEUTRALITY IS PERPETRATED

Washington.—The most serious of the recently growing list of attacks on Americans in Mexico came to light when the U. S. S. Cheyenne was held up in the Temesi river, on July 6, nine miles east of the city of Tampico, and the sailors were robbed.

Although the sailors were fishing, they were on official duty bringing in food for their ship, and the American flag flying from the boat denoted that it was official business.

In order to finish up terraces properly, some work with the slip scraper is generally required. The top of the terrace should be leveled with the level and rod to see that it conforms to the proper grade.
