Congress does not know of ignoring the great support of the League of Nations and League of Nations receiving by leading newspapers. Among the list of newspapers are the following: Worcester, Mass. Post, Springfield, Mass. Globe, Utica, N. Y. Observer, New York World, Dr. Goods Economist, Pittsburg Post, St. Louis Star, Danbury, Ind. Independent, Kansas City Post, Atlanta Journal, S. L. Post Dispatch, San Francisco Call and many others from all parts of the country of equally wide influence. They are confined to no nation and are of all political complexion. The people want the matter settled—the welfare of the country demands it.

A big strike began Monday in the large steel manufacturing centers. The claims as to the magnitude of the number of strikers is conflicting. The strikers claim that the number who have quit aggregate 342,000. Many of the largest steel plants in the Pittsburgh and other centers are affected. The U. S. Senate Labor Committee will begin at once an investigation of the nation-wide steel strike and learn what conditions led to it. It is a serious business for such an army of workers to quit all at once and halt the prosecution of a business so essential as the steel business.

State Fair October 20-25

The State Fair and Peace Jubilee will be held in Raleigh Oct. 20-25. A big feature will be the United States Government exhibits of the War, Navy, and Commerce departments, and the Bureau of Mines, under charge of Federal experts. These will show almost every known portable device used on land and sea, including models of submarines, chasers, battleships, destroyers and other craft, in crushing kaiserism, with many of the trophies brought home by our valiant soldiers.

Son of Gen. Carr Dead

Mr. A. Marvin Carr, second son of Gen. Julian S. Carr of Durham, died in New York Monday afternoon. He had been in poor health for the past year. Gen. Carr and J. B. Carr, Jr., were with him at the time of his death. Mr. Carr was 1st vice-president and sales manager of the Durham Hosiery Mills, and is survived by a widow and two children, his father, two sisters and three brothers.

Clean-Up Week Forces Being Marshaled

Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 16—Each annual recurrence of Spring and Fall seasons brings its recurrence of clean-up campaign for the State and nation, and North Carolina has by her past records of observance won an especially high place among the States. This clean-up week falls on October 6-11, with fire prevention day October 9, and forces are being marshaled by Insurance Commissioner and Fire Marshal Jas. R. Young, for a drive for clean-up week observance that will invade not only every county and every community in the State but every home and every place of business and manufacturing plant.

In this work which must be done during the next thirty days to insure this thorough observance of clean-up week observance, Commissioner Young is to have co-operation of organizations and individuals in every locality. State Departments of Education, Health and Agriculture and others will give aid, county and town authorities will have an active and most responsible part in the work and the schools, Safety Leagues, the Women's Clubs, Chambers of Commerce, Rotary Clubs and others, are to get in the campaign. Indeed there are coming from many quarters of the State assurances from ministers and other church workers that the church will give every possible aid, in many instances pastors appealing to their congregations from the pulpit with special sermons or otherwise to take advantage of this clean-up movement, the old saying, "Cleanliness is next to godliness," being ample warrant for every possible effort in this direction by the religious forces of the State.

The newspapers are always depended upon for a large share in this conservation movement, which means so much for life health and property conservation and community beautification. Indeed they are a factor for promoting the public well being that never fails and is more effective as the editors and reporter workers realize and utilize their almost unlimited possibilities of public up-lift as opportunities develop. Altogether, North Carolina this season is sure to have a clean-up campaign that will cover the State.

O. W. Webster, a deputy United States marshal, and Wm. Smydydy, a former city detective, were killed and a negro bystander was wounded in an exchange of shots between Webster and Smydydy in Memphis.

Recovery of 98 additional bodies along the North shore of Nueces bay at Corpus Christi, Texas, brought the known dead as the result of the storm to nearly 400 and caused fears that the total death toll might reach double that number.

TRAINING FOR BUSINESS AT STATE UNIVERSITY.

Disabled Soldiers to be Given Training—Football Squad Training.

Cor. of The Gleaner.
Chapel Hill, Sept. 16. Convicted that the business training of former times is inadequate to meet the changed conditions of the present, the University of North Carolina has announced a new school of commerce designed to give a general grounding in the fundamentals of business and at the same time a practical preparation for those who expect to engage in any of the great lines of industry. The four years' course leading to the degree of Bachelor of Science in Commerce will consist of two years' work broadly similar to the first two years in the college of liberal arts, and the last two years will be technical and practical.

Lectures by North Carolina business leaders and by department experts from Washington have been arranged. In addition a system of apprenticeship will be provided whereby students in the school will have the opportunity in the summer between their junior and senior years to work in the office of business men throughout the State, and the University has already received word from several well known business men in North Carolina that their offices may be used for this purpose.

President H. W. Chase has accepted a position on the staff of the Federal Board for Vocational Training, which has sent a number of disabled soldiers to the University. Uncle Sam's proposition to those unable to take up their former work because of their disability shall receive training with no cost to themselves to overcome their difficulties. Those who have dependents will be paid by the Federal Board while they are receiving training. The University is making arrangements to receive all disabled men allotted to it who can satisfy the entrance requirements. Those who have come heretofore have been students in law or medicine.

Although the University does not open until Sept. 30th, forty members of the football squad have arrived at Chapel Hill, and are practicing twice daily under the direction of Head Coach Thomas Campbell and his assistants. The first game is with Rutgers College, Oct. 4th, followed a week later by a game with Yale. Football relations with A. & E. College will be resumed when the two State institutions meet in Raleigh Thursday of Fair Week, Oct. 23, and for the first time the Virginia game will be played in Chapel Hill Thanksgiving Day. Seven letter men from the 1916 team are back and the prospects are bright for a successful season. As the one year residence rule is in effect, the coaches will have to depend on the Freshman teams of 1916 and 1917 and on the informal S. A. T. C. team of last year.

STATE AND COUNTY COUNCIL MADE PERMANENT INSTITUTION.

Over 300 Officials From 76 Counties Attended—Governor Explains Revaluation Act

Cor. of The Gleaner.
Chapel Hill, Sept. 23.—The State and County Council, which has been in session at the University of North Carolina, Sept. 15-19, was attended by more than three hundred officials and their volunteer allies from 76 counties. Described by Governor Bickett, who presided, as destined to prove of inestimable value to the State, the Council, in response to a widely voiced demand, has been made a permanent institution, and a committee was appointed by the Governor to make plans for next year's meeting. This committee consists of Dr. E. C. Branson, Chairman, A. T. Allen, Mrs. Clarence W. Johnson, W. C. Jones, and Dr. F. M. Register.

Problems of public education, public health, taxation, highways and public welfare, most of which have arisen because of the new public welfare laws and the new officials charged with carrying them into effect, were thrashed out during four days of discussion. After every speaker the meeting was thrown open and questions were asked, views exchanged, and experiences described.

Governor Bickett, in addition to presiding at most of the discussions, explained the revaluation act for it. "An act to make the tax books of North Carolina speak the truth," was the title he gave to the law. "North Carolinians have never told the truth about their taxes because they have never been allowed to," the Governor said, "but they are telling the truth now, and the moral effect will be tremendous. Under this revaluation act and the proposed income tax North Carolina will be able to take notable strides in public welfare."

The system of procedure in the new juvenile courts was thoroughly examined by Judge Charles N. Feidelson of the Children's Court of Savannah, by R. F. Basley, Secretary State Board of Public Welfare, by Mrs. Clarence W. Johnson, Director of the Child Welfare Division of the State Board of Public Welfare, and by A. S. McFarlane, County Superintendent of Public Welfare in Forsyth county, a promoter in this work in North Carolina. The largest and most advanced group at the Council was the group Superintendents of Public Welfare, and they perfect an organization of their own by electing R. F. Basley President, A. S. McFarlane, Vice President, and Mrs. Blanche B. Carr, Secretary and Treasurer.

Mr. Frank Page, Chairman of the State Highway Commission, told the Council that 85 trucks had already been received from the Federal Government for road building purposes, and there would be available a total of $1,500,000 worth of road building machinery from the Federal Government.

The Soybean Now an Important State Crop.

West Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 22.—North Carolina produced during 1918 about one-half of all the soybeans grown for seed in the United States. This is a remarkable showing, and one of which the farmers should be very proud. It was only a few years ago that Mr. C. B. Williams of the North Carolina Extension Service began his intensive campaign for the growth of soybeans in this State. During recent years reports which have been made to him show that the crop has found its way into all sections of North Carolina, and wherever it has been given a fair showing, has amply demonstrated its worth.

One of the good things about this bean is that a large proportion of the plant generally finds its way back into the soil, in this way building up the fertility and making the crop yields thereafter much more profitable. No leguminous crop, states Mr. Williams, will greatly improve the soil unless a large part of the plant is returned to the soil. Many farmers, however, are under the impression that simply by growing the crop their soil is made more fertile. Because of the habits of growth of the soybeans, and the fact that it is generally used for seed, a large percentage of this plant is always plowed under.

Mr. Williams finds that about two-thirds of the crop produced in North Carolina during 1918 went back into the soil for its improvement. In most cases the seed were harvested before the plant was turned under. This same thing should be done this year, states Mr. Williams, and a good amount of soybean seed should be saved in order to have on hand an ample supply for the increased acreage which will be planted, not only in this State, but in many of the other States, in 1920.

People Believe The Editor.

An exchange says: "A lawyer in a court room may call a man a liar, scoundrel, villain, or thief, and no one makes complaint when court adjourns. If a newspaper prints such a reflection on a man's character there is a libel suit or a dead editor. This is owing to the fact that the people believe what an editor says."

Mr. Dodson, the "Liver Tonic" Man, Tells the Treachery of Calomel.
Calomel loses you a day! You know what calomel is. It's mercury—poison! Calomel is dangerous. It crashes into your blood like dynamite, cramping and sickening you. Calomel attacks the bowels and should never be put into your system. When you feel bilious, sluggish, constipated and all knocked out and believe you need a dose of dangerous calomel, just remember that your druggist sells for a few cents a large bottle of Dodson's Liver Tonic, which is entirely vegetable and pleasant to take and is a perfect substitute for calomel. It is guaranteed to start your bowels without stirring you up, and out.

DELCO-LIGHT was designed and built by men who were raised in farm homes—who experienced the discomforts and inconveniences of farm life—and who set out deliberately years ago to develop an electric plant that would provide city advantages for rural communities.

They were the same men whose engineering talent had made DELCO Starting, Lighting and Ignition Equipment for automobiles the standard of the world—

They knew electricity—and they knew the needs and limitations of farm life—

They knew that an electric plant to give service in a farm home must be simple, so that it would not get out of order and require complicated repairs—

It must be easily operated and require little attention—

It must be very economical in operation—

It must be built to stand hard usage and it must last indefinitely—

Adequate Rates For Fraternal Insurance.

Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 21.—The action recently taken by the Fraternal Congress of America in declaring for adequate rates for fraternal insurance is heartily commended by State Insurance Commissioner James H. Young, who has been zealously insisting on this course with request to all the fraternal orders doing fraternal benefit business in the State, it having been clearly demonstrated in the cases of numbers of the Orders that their rates are so inadequate that the obligations as to benefits promised just cannot be met on sound business basis. Here is the action taken by the National Fraternal Congress of America, that is commended by the Commissioner.

"It is a crime to permit the issuance of certificates upon inadequate rates. Societies have had ample time to prepare for a final adjustment in this matter, and there can be no reasonable objection to a provision that all new business, at least, should be written on adequate rates. In cases where readjustments are made and the old business of the Society is permitted to remain upon inadequate rates, the law should distinctly provide for the segregation of funds accumulated by the payments of those paying adequate rates."
